THE ATLANTIC MONITOR.

THE CONSTITUTION AND THE LAWS.

VOLUME 7—NO. 7. EGG HARBOR CITY, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1867. WHOLE NUMBER 234.

THE ATLANTIC MONITOR,
PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY,
AT EGG HARBOR CITY, N. J.

$2.00 per Annum,
INVARIABLY IN ADVANCE.

ADVERTISING.—Ten lines or less, one insertion, Seventy Cents; one month, Two Dollars; Quarterly advertisements, Four Dollars per square.

Legal advertising at the rates allowed by law.

Yearly advertisements may be changed quarterly without additional charge.

Marriages, 25 cents. Double inserted free, but remarks charged advertising rates.

SPECIAL NOTICES, ten cents a line for each insertion.

Transient, foreign and legal advertisements must be paid in advance.

 All communications and advertisements should be received by Thursday morning, and addressed to the Editor, Egg Harbor City, Atlantic county, New Jersey.

Printing of every description, such as Cards, Circulars, Bill "Heads, Programmes, Pamphlets, Blanks, Handbills, etc., neatly and promptly executed, and at reasonable rates.

L. C. BRINK, Editor and Publisher.

Dr. De La Roche's
CELEBRATED
FRENCH BITTERS.
An Aromatic Stimulant and Tonic.

Highly Invigorating in Nervous Debility, very Generous to the Stomach and Palate,

A rare Remedy for Dyspepsia, Heartburn, Habitual Costiveness, Headache, Loss of Appetite, Nightsweats, Hoarseness, Weakness of the Limbs, Coldness of the Extremities.

General Debility, &c., &c.

THEY are the best TONIC known for the prevention and cure of

FEVER AND AGUE,

and all diseases that proceed from a debilitated or atonic condition of the Stomach. As an after dinner tonic they are unrivalled. They are without an equal, and should be found in every family.

These Bitters have performed wonderful things in the Hospitals, and effected cures that appear to be almost miraculous.

The formula for their preparation has been submitted to eminent Physicians and Chemists, who have invariably pronounced it thoroughly scientific, and better adapted for the cure of the Diseases for which it is intended than any Medicine now in use.

PREPARED BY

STEVENSON & ADAMS,

SOLE PROPRIETORS,

No. 107 Arch street, Philadelphia,

F. DARE, Wholesale and Retail Agent, Bridgeton N. J., for sale by Druggists and Storekeepers generally. (aug. 29, '67-3m

SAVE YOUR MONEY
BY BUYING
DR. McLEAN'S LIQUID GAS which is now offered for Sale, Wholesale and Retail, by
M. C. LUSTENS,
At the China Store,
COMMERCE ST., NEAR THE BRIDGE,
BRIDGETON, N. J.

THIS LIQUID GAS is the best article for illuminating purposes ever discovered, as will be seen by the following:

CHEAPEST & SAFEST,

and will burn in the ordinary Kerosene Lamp.

It possesses all the properties of Gas, although it is manufactured in a fluid form, hence the name LIQUID GAS. 1t3

FREE FROM SMOKE OR SMELL,

requires little or no trimming, and has no offensive odor, like that arising from the burning of Kerosene Oil.

It is Warranted Non-Explosive, is perfectly free from Grease or Dirt of any kind, and is

50 CENTS PER GALLON.

Will be on Exhibition at the Store every evening EP Call and examine for yourself.

Aug. 29, 67-3m.

E. T. KENNEDY,
Opposite E. Davis & Son's Hotel,
BRIDGETON, N. J.,

WOULD RESPECTFULLY INFORM THE Citizens of Bridgeton and surrounding country that he has taken the STORE lately occupied by Stewart & Kennedy, and now offers a choicest Assortment of

PURE DRUGS,
MEDICINES AND CHEMICALS,
Paints, Oils and Dye Stuffs,

PURE WHITE LEAD,
SNOW WHITE ZINC,
COLORED PAINTS, Dry and in Oil,
LINSEED OIL,
MACHINERY OILS
AND VARNISHES
with a general assortment
PERFUMERY
FANCY ARTICLES,
FINE HAIR & TOOTH BRUSHES,
FINE TOILET SOAPS,

and all the Patent Medicines of the day

PURE WINES & LIQUORS
FOR MEDICINAL PURPOSES ONLY
September 26, '67.-tf

WOOD NEWS FOR ALL

HAVING purchased the Jewelry Establishment formerly William H. Thompson's,

Opposite E. Davis & Son's Hotel,

I am prepared to sell all goods in my line at greatly reduced prices. I have had in an entire new stock of goods of all kinds, at prices that will enable me to sell all goods at greatly reduced prices.

REPAIRING A SPECIALITY.

Importer and Dealer in fine English, Swiss and American Watches, Plain Gold Hunting Cases, Stations, Scarf Pins, Rings, Spectacles, Locket, Chains, Ear Rings, Key, Pens, Jewelry, Fine Plated Ware, Silver, Plated Ware of styles at Lewis's, opposite David's Hotel.

Call Silverware, Castors, Ice Pitchers, Butter Coolers, Tea Spoons, Table Spoons, Fine Plated Forks, Mustard Spoons, Salt Spoons, Sugar Shells, Dessert Spoons, Cream Ladles, Pie, a good assortment of Silver Watches, Lever, Lever, Lever, Lever, Lever, David's Hotel.

N. B.—Hair Jewelry of all kinds made to order. Old silver and gold fresh plates taken in exchange for goods. E. M. LEWIS.

27-1y

WANTED,
EXPERIENCED CANVASSERS to sell a new Flag-not-slipple engraving

Washington and his Generals, on great or mother-of-pearl paper. Possessed by every patriot within the Great Plenty extended in this country. Most prominent in the picture is the imposing figure of the Commander-in-chief, and in groups around him are thirty-five of his officers in White Marble! was larger than life.

Price—Artists Proof, $10; India Proof, $3; Plain, $2.

EP Canvassers wanted. Send for circulars, &c. Address, WM. FULTON & CO.,
94 Broad street, Newark, N. J.

Aug. 3, 67-1m

POETRY.

"OCTOBER."

Solemn, yet beautiful to view,
Month of my heart! thou dawnest here.
With sad and faded leaves to strew
The incoming of the winds drear.
A blue and cloudless sky is thine,
And tree of purple cloude agree,
Mingling every autumn tint.

I look to Nature and behold
My life's dim outlines rudely round,
In hues of crimson, gold and red,
The years dead bosom on the ground;
And sighing with the sighing leaf,
While their low pinings murmur by,
How much like them my hopes have erred
Of life and human destiny.

When Spring's delightsome moments shone,
They came in zephyrs from the west;
Yet soon the whirlwind rudely blew,
They stirred the blue lake's glassy breast,
Wrecking everything within its track!
They lingered in the forest shade;
But changed and withered, they lost
In storm, over mountain, glen, and glade.

How like those tempests of the heart
Which stirred in youthful life's prime
Rife as the hazelnut's downy nest,
And transient as a fresh dream of time!
They stir the heaves to that bright stream,
Whirly-pools where her fairest twines,
Till grief's hot alight around it blows
The Pleasure's lip is made reigns.

Alas! for Time, and Death, and Care,
Which glass down on earth's fair day dings,
Like clouds in Autumn's gusty air,
Which hide the sunshine of the skies,
The dreams that each successive year
Scattered behind its flight over prize,
At last like withered leaves appear,
And sleep in darkness, cidedly side.

THE NUMBER SEVEN.—This number is frequently used in the writings of the Bible. On the 7th day of the week God ended his work.

In the 7th month Noah's ark touched the land.

In 7 days rain was sent on the earth.

Abraham pleaded 7 times for Sodom.

Jacob served 7 years for Rachel; and yet 7 more.

Jacob mourned 7 days for Joseph.

Jacob was pursued a 7 days' journey by Laban.

In plenty of 7 years and a famine of 7 years were foretold in Pharoah's dream, by 7 fat and 7 lean beasts, and 7 ears of full and 7 ears of blasted corn.

On the 7th day of the 7th month the children of Israel fasted 7 days, and remained 7 days in tents.

Every 7th year the land rested.

Every 7th year all bondmen were set free.

Every 7th year the law was read to the people.

In the destruction of Jericho, 7 priests bore 7 trumpets 7 days; on the 7th day they surrounded the walls 7 times; and at the end of the 7th round the walls fell.

Solomon was 7 years building the temple, and feasted 7 days at its dedication.

In the tabernacle were 7 lamps.

The golden candlestick had 7 branches.

Naaman washed 7 times in Jordan.

Job's friends sat with him 7 days and 7 nights, and offered 7 bullocks and 7 rams as an atonement.

Our Saviour spoke 7 times from the cross, on which he hung 7 hours, and after his resurrection appeared 7 times.

In the Revelation there are 7 epistles, containing 7 times 7 words.

In the Revelations we read of 7 churches, 7 candlesticks, 7 stars, 7 trumpets, 7 plagues, 7 thunders, 7 vials, 7 angels, and a 7 headed monster.

SOUL ANNEXY.—Ah! if one could go through all his soul, hall by hall, chamber by chamber, story by story, and have invest the mansion in, how it gets out of repair on every side, and how many vermin are perpetually seeking to make lodgement in it, methinks, he might afford to have as much care and thought for his soul as he does for her house, whose work begins with every day and never ends; and who, with brush and broom, and scrubbing and scouring, incessantly searches, searches, searches. And yet, some shingle is off, some glass is broken, some door is open, the walls need partitions, here and there are webs with their victims on them, and dust and dirt are everywhere. You cannot leave the house in order; and when that house is this wonderous house of the soul, with trooping thoughts and feelings that are army ever equalled for numbers, is there no occasion for apprehension on account of that? And very would it that a soiled and ill-kept room right of Christ, is one that should keep him waited up, not by a vulgar fear, but that solitary apprehension which goes by love.

THE TALMUDISTS.

ABRAHAM AND SARAH.—The Talmudists state that Abraham, in ordering the Egypt, brought with him a chest. At the customs-house the officers exacted duties. Abraham would readily have paid the duties, but stored they would not open the chest. They that insisted on the duties demanded, which Abraham consented to pay; but then they thought by his ready acquiescence that it might be gold, which would be duty free for gold. They now suspect it might be silk. Abraham was willing to pay for silk or cotton, if they insisted; but he consented to pay as if the chest contained the most valuable of things. It was then resolved to open and examine the chest; and, behold, as soon as the chest was opened, that great lustre of human beauty broke out which made such a sensation in the land of Egypt—it was Sarah herself! The jealous Abraham, to conceal her beauty, had locked her up in this chest.

A SWEET TEMPER.—No trait of character is more valuable in a woman than a sweet temper. Home can never be happy without it. It is like the flowers that spring up in our pathway, refreshing and cheering us. Let a man go home weary and worn by the toils of the day and how soothing is a word dictated by a good disposed! It is sunshine falling on his heart. He is happy, and the cares of life are forgotten. A sweet temper has a soothing influence over the mind of a whole family. Where it is found children love to be at home, are more happy and love their dwelling there. Study, then, to acquire and retain a sweet temper. It is more valuable than gold, more than beauty; and to the close of life it retains all its freshness and power.

"He whose honor freedom makes it his virtue to speak when he thinks, makes it his necessity to think what is good."

May a sweetly-fashioned mouth has been figured and made sacred by the fiery tongue of scandal within it.

Whisky is the key with which many obtain entrance into our prisons and alms houses.

They who refuse forgiveness, break the bridge over which they must pass.

Avoid borrowing and lending.

MARRIAGE LIBRATIONS;
OR
TURNING THE TABLES.

The last dying cadences of a delicious-by dreamy waltz, across whose varied notes Colonel of Beethoven had poured out its music of enjoyment, the mazurka, the second, fill the ball-room of the fashionable Washington hotel; there was the stir and murmur of enjoyment, and the disappearance of yawns of weary "wall flowers" that filled in the wake of every brilliant waltz. Kate Elwyn stood in the recess of a window, playing carelessly with the faded jessamines and tube roses of her bouquet, while her flashing black eyes ran rapidly and rapidly from one place to another, evidently in quest of some familiar countenance which, they could not discover.

There were few more beautiful faces than her own, even in that festive crowd, where half the belles in the Union had brought their diamonds and bright eyes to dazzle the trying ordeal of the lamplighters of the land. Rather brunette in the medium size, with the fragile delicacy of a fairy, her complexion led the unsuspicious to the belief that you look for only in children, while her heavy bands of golden hair lay over her somewhat low forehead, shading into deep amber. Very dark blue eyes, translucent as a sapphire of the first water, and a little crimson mouth, with a slight upward curve, gave additional piquancy to her face, and altogether she was as perfect a specimen of the radiant beauty of which we often see, out of a picture gallery, or a novel.

Suddenly her cheeks bloomed into roses and her whole countenance kindled as a tall and rather elegantly-looking gentleman languidly sauntered toward her.

"Charley, I thought you never come coming!"

"I've only been down in the supper-room for a few minutes, my dear. Sorry you've missed me. Anything I can do for you?"

"Yes—do get my shawl and fan, and we go up stairs. It's after one o'clock, and I'm completely tired out."

"Couldn't my dear," said Mr. Elwyn, breaking a moss rose bud from his wife's bouquet and fastening it jauntily into the button-hole of his coat. "I'm engaged for three waltzes and a quadrille. Miss Raymond would be very disappointed if I should leave her."

Kate's lips curled haughtily, and a deeper shade of crimson stole into her cheek.

"Jealous, eh? Jealous of my husband, putting her height lightly. "Well, Kate, that's a little too silly of you. Don't you know that at a place like this a man is supposed to be at his wife's disposal, especially to the ladies? Pray, my dear, don't become absurd and ridiculous so soon."

"Charley, I thought you loved me, lovingly, your wife's wishes and convenience are secondary to Miss Raymond's will."

"Pshaw! Nonsense! Because my wife has invaded your peace, my love?" said Mr. Elwyn. "Upon my word, I have always Job's patience and a little more commonly severe.

"Charles," said Kate, quickly, and without heeding the careless sarcasm of his tone, "at an every of this round of senseless gayety, I shall be at Mount Vernon with the ladies of Washington. Will you take me home?"

"Why, Kate! after all your anxiety to pass a fashionable winter in the gay society and political life! You have been longing more ever since you were married, to indulge you with a sight of Mount Vernon."

"I know it, Charles," she meekly answered, trying to suppress the tears that will rise in her eyes—"but I have at I learned the folly of seeking real pleasure in anywhere but in the quiet home—home. My taste for gayety is entirely satisfied, and you can't imagine how homesick I wish and pray sometimes for the little ones again. When will you take me home, Charles?"

"Why, Kate, perhaps, my love—or the week after, if you positively insist upon it."

"O, Charles, why not go home now? I impatiently, Kate, I am positively engaged for every day this week for dinners and evenings in the neighborhood of the city."

"Well, Kate, I'm sorry, but I'm engaged for three days. I knew nothing of these arrangements."

"Sorry, dear, I suppose not," said Mr. Elwyn, lazily. "Did you imagine I was going to come and ask your permission every time I wanted to drive out with a lady or smoke a cigar with two or three gentlemen?"

Kate's lip quivered and the tears gathered in her eyes. Charles Elwyn looked after her with a slightly supercilious smile in his eyes and a half smile on his lip.

"She's jealous, so I'll be mutilated—that's the plan. "What the—I'm a pretty fellow! Well, let her pout at most it her pleasure of things."

It should that have cost her a few moments' affection, just when he was wholly engrossed by the thought of his wife's delightful company, or his wife's delightful company, the golden hair all unbroken from hair-pin and twisted comb, and the dimpled shoulders and arms, and the rose-tinted cheek in relief. Well, perhaps it would have done him good, perhaps not. It is not always the best for a man to have the full extent of his power over that miserable little creature, his wife—it is astonishing how much it spoils her disposition and temper. There is one blessed avenue of relief always open to the womankind, however—a good cry! It was wonderful how Kate Elwyn felt for when she wiped away the shower of tears and brushed back the lovely rippling from her forehead.

"What shall I do?" she murmured to herself, dropping her handkerchief in resentment, and trying to be her burning eyes. "what shall I do? Oh, I wish I had never come away from home—it is a hard, hard, hard, for dancing my dear little babes in the care of cold hirelings! I was so happy in the little home, and now I am in the detestable whirlpool of fashion!"

She burst into fresh floods of tears, as she muttered the last words in a low tone.

"It was cruel of him to speak in that cold, cutting way to me," she sobbed.—"Have I lost all the regard he used to feel for me? Oh, I'm sure he would not have spoken to me so, for the world! Kate Elwyn felt bitterness of heart.

She sank involuntarily back, as if some rude hand had struck her, as Miss Raymond's clear metallic laugh suddenly floated up audibly through the closed door of her room. And then she set her compressed lips together, with a look that spoke the liquid depths of her wet blue eyes.

The gilded minute hand of the ormolu Parisian clock on the mantel had traveled nearly twice around the circle of numbered figures, before Kate Elwyn lifted her face from the bunches of velvet roses in the carpet. What was she pondering on?

"Sitting up, eh, Kate? Why, I thought you were tired to death," said Mr. Elwyn as he entered the room, and his wife had drawn her back with welcomed him, with a bright, careless smile.

"Yes, I've been so much interested in that delightful book," explain—"I do wish I knew where I—Sorry you have disturbed you."

She has got over her sobs amazingly quick, was the husband's internal comment as he kicked gently aside the book and half confusedly his lavender neckties.

"Oh, thank you, Mr. Elwyn, I've had such a charming ride!"

And Aurora Raymond sprang lightly from the carriage, on the flying glowed Mr. Elwyn on Mr. Elwyn's arm, the office holding up the folds of her violet velvet mantle. He laid her hand gallantly, as she tripped up the hotel steps, all smiles and dimples.

"I wonder if Kate would like a turn round darkness sparkling before dim? he said to himself, consulting his gold watch.

"Up and up—poor little thing!

"Up sprang up stairs, two steps at a time, and burst into his wife's room.

"Put on your bonnet, pass, and we'll have a ride," he exclaimed. "Hallo! she isn't here—what in the mischief does this mean?

"No, she was not there—neither was her blue velvet hat with white ostrich plume, nor the magnificent Cashmere shawl that had been sent over from India for her wedding present just five years ago—and Mr. Elwyn stood looking vacantly at the room, feeling much inclined to get into a passion.

"Do you know where my wife is?" he asked Mrs. Atwater, the opposite lady, half her time at the hotel windows and the other half in catechising the servants, and who consequently, knew all that was to be known concerning people's out goings and in comings, generally.

"Just driven off in Colonel Warrington's barouche—been gone ever since morning—very pretty woman, Mrs. Elwyn—very promiscuous.

"Gallivanting!" Elwyn's brow contracted, as he turned from the window. "Ordered a carriage and drove out in that sort of way without so much as saying a word to me—I wish to a Kate! Colonel Warrington a puppy, and I'm sure of it now!"

He went down and dismissed his equipage, then returned to the drawing-room, as restless as the Wandering Jew. After one or two moody turns across the long apartment, he threw himself down in the window recess. Even Aurora Raymond's pretty lisping chatter could not interest him long.

"Would Kate never come?" he thought, as he looked for the fortieth time at his watch.

She came at last, just in time to run up stairs, dash off her bonnet and shawl, and smiling and lovely, with her hair blown about by the fresh wind, and her eyes sparkling radiantly. Elwyn—yes, in the manner that he was—could have knocked Col. Warrington down for the involuntary sigh of admiration with which he looked after his fair companion.

Precisely Miss Kate required, in a tone, indeed, of the softest deference, she alighted up by the flash of emeralds at her throat, and frosted green mosses dropping from her hair.

"Why have you put on that odious green dress?" asked Elwyn, catching at some slight pretext as an escape valve for his ill humor. "You know how much I dislike green."

"O, well," said Kate, nonchalantly, "you are so bilgetty, Charles. What difference does it possibly make to you whether I wear green or yellow? It is entirely a by-gone fashion, and I wore it to please nobody—not another's whitena, a la Darby' and Joan."

"Well, Kate," Elwyn started at his wife in speechless astonishment. What did it mean? She had always been the humblest slave to his slightest wish and pleasure, and she looked smilingly set him at defiance. What evil spirit had possession of her?

The same scene was acted all the evening—never sought his approval by the little thy glances of appeal or the questioning look, which, before, had been so dear to him. No—she chatted away, heartlessly self-reliant, the center of a hundred admirers. Mr. Elwyn was ready to rush out of the room in a transport of exasperation.

"Come, go to congratulate you on your treasure of a wife, sir," said Col. Warrington, as he drew up beside him, "she was a beauty, but I never appreciated her claims to be called a wife."

Elwyn stared speechlessly at the polite gentleman, and actually surprised at the unfeigned exception of his little second-hand.

"Now what I might have expected, he muttered to himself, glancing nervously at his wife, who was in a dance with a dashing young fellow, who was a perfect Adonis in the eyes of a jealous husband.

"Well, I'm sorry, I'm sorry, I'm sorry, I'm sorry," he muttered, as he saw the young man and his wife in the dance, and the young man was whispering something in her ear, and she was blushing and laughing, and looking up at him with a look of—

"Well, what's to prevent me from driving you home? asked Mr. Elwyn, anxiously.

"Why, I'm very sorry, but I shall leave early. I've promised to go to Mr. Raymond's carriage. He is so delightfully attentive, and I like him so much.

"The darkness you do," groaned Elwyn, in a low, plaintive and growing dull.

"Well I'll tell you what I can do, if you pleased, suggested Kate, innocently.

"Miss Raymond would like to go, I'm no doubt or Mrs. Raymond, and she can be no objection to an extra carriage in the party, so that—

"Hey Miss Raymond and Mrs. Raymond, ejaculated the poor husband.

"Why, of course, my dear, said Kate. "Only you see, it is quite impossible for me to break my promise to Mr. Garnett.

Mr. Elwyn's brow was by no means improved when he stood on the hotel steps and watched the merry party drive off, their gay laughter and brilliant trappings contrasting the severe moonlight, like a mockery of his own gloomy reflections. He had never felt so unhappy, so lonely and forlorn in the whole course of his life.

"Dear me!" what a beautiful evening for a ride! Aurora Raymond, looking sweetly up from a volume of Poems, as Mr. Elwyn, recentered the drawing-room, looking not unlike a man who had just had a nightmare.

"Indeed, I should think it was a beautiful night," said Mr. Elwyn, with a sigh, as he pulled from her shawl fan. "We have passed such a nice moonlight party!"

"Well, what's to prevent us from driving you home? asked Mr. Elwyn, anxiously.

"Why, I'm very sorry, but I shall leave early. I've promised to go to Mr. Raymond's carriage. He is so delightfully attentive, and I like him so much.

"The darkness you do," groaned Elwyn, in a low, plaintive and growing dull.

"Well I'll tell you what I can do, if you pleased, suggested Kate, innocently.

"Miss Raymond would like to go, I'm no doubt or Mrs. Raymond, and she can be no objection to an extra carriage in the party, so that—

"Hey Miss Raymond and Mrs. Raymond, ejaculated the poor husband.

"Why, of course, my dear, said Kate. "Only,

THE DEMOCRAT.

EGG HARBOR CITY, OCTOBER, 19, 1867.

ATLANTIC COUNTY DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

The Democratic and Conservative electors of the county of Atlantic are invited to meet Delegates to meet their fellow citizens in several townships and Cities in said County, in County Convention, to be held at the Court House in May's Landing, on SATURDAY, the 26th day of OCTOBER, 1867, at 12 o'clock noon, to select a candidate for Sheriff, Coroner, County Surveyor, and one member of the House of Assembly, and three Freeholders, to be supported at the ensuing election.

B. R. SOMERS,
Chairman last Convention.

The following is the number of delegates each township is entitled to:

Hamilton township, 3; Weymouth township 1; Galloway township, 5; Egg Harbor City, 2; Atlantic City, 2; Town of Hammonton 1; Buena Vista township 2.

HOPE FOR THE MILLIONS.

We had scarcely time last week to allude to the glorious results in Pennsylvania, Ohio, and other States. A people's cast down for seven years greeted the glad tidings with a joy that could find no words to express it; for it brought hopes of deliverance from the chains that bound the masses to a fanatical, Giddy-faced, and intolerance, which has had no parallel in the history of this country. In that seven years of political enslavement, the democracy have manfully struggled to cast off the fetters forged by radicalism, and though beaten down—imprisoned, banished, muzzled, their presses destroyed by mobs, and taxed to excess to support the very tyranny visited upon them—still they kept their organization intact, and never ceased to labor for the restoration of that charter of our liberties, the Constitution.

But, "when the gods would destroy, they first make mad," and we must thank the insanity of the radicals, as an efficient aid in working out the revolution which Pleased them. We venture to assert that no party was ever guilty of such reckless abuse of power, such unscrupulous usurpation, or such glaring proscription. Few men no longer express their opinions in whisper, for to stray go to "see operas" to be dragged forth before morning by spies and informers, to be forwarded to Fortress, without knowing upon what charge they were arrested. But we will not cast a gloom upon jubilant hearts by rehearsing the causes which have produced this change, and lead to the fearful condemnation of those oppressors upon the rights of the people. We have time to that agony of quiet which the righteous verdict of an outraged people has inflicted upon them.

Everywhere is "echoes gone." Ohio secures a Democratic Legislature, and a Senator in Place of Mr. Wade in 1869, for in this State the members hold their office two years. Indiana gives us large gains,—so does Iowa,—and Connecticut puts the cheerful upon her last fall's victory, by a gain of some twenty towns in the late Town Elections. Here is a gain of nearly 100,000 votes—here is hope for the million. There is joy in the land, because it is the precursor of a glorious victory next year, when a fanatical Congress will be silenced by the moral power of numbers, and many of their most unscrupulous cohorts.

Is this revolution stop here? No—the tide is ahead, doing its perfect work. Look where there are no standing armies to bay of bayonets to over-shadow the ballot-box, the democratic gains are to be hailed precedent—overwhelming. We say let the people shout, and give vent to the joy of the present and the exhilarating hope of the future; for the emotions inspired by this triumph of right over wrong, is only second to that which was felt when a warchaint of Philadelphia, at the close of the revolution sung out in the still night—"great 2 o'clock, and Cornwallis has surrendered!" It was freedom for the white people then—it is freedom for the white people now.

A lesson is taught in this result, too, which will add stability to republican institutions wherever they exist. It will silence all predictions against, and remove all doubt of their durability, for it proves that "the people can always be trusted." Yet it also teaches us that the longer we tamely submit to the wrongs, the more difficult it becomes to right them.

We congratulate the democracy and conservative men who aided in achieving this great and glorious victory. Fall in Jerseymen! and send the ranks of traitors are to gallantly redeeming the country from the thraldom of radicalism. Make this a whole man's State by a majority that will stand as a rebuke to the presumption of such as now oppose us in all coming time. As far as New Jersey is concerned, give them a thunder on the 5th of November, and give cheer for cheer, when the shout of victory rings along the shores of the Hudson.

BURGLARIES.—A band of burglars are said to be operating in Camden county and various section of South Jersey. A day or two since, while the family of Mr. Hill, residing near Bridgeton, were absent, their house was entered and robbed of two hundred dollars in money.

☞ The first petroleum in Russian America has been established by the Department. It is called "Sitka," and John H. Kinghead is the postmaster. The mail matter to "Sitka" will be sent by vessels from San Francisco.

DELAYED.—In consequence of some difficulty in obtaining the right to necessary funds along the line of the Camden Horse Care Railroad, the work on the said road has not yet been commenced.

☞ Connecticut, California, Montana, Kentucky, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Indiana and Ohio, all spew negro suffrage out of their mouths. Now for New York and New Jersey!

☞ Monroe was unanimous—Democratic majority 5,400. Total time, 16,11 hours.

☞ The Delaware Bay Railroad people are extending their road to Fort Mifflin, and making arrangements to build a new depot.

COAL AND LUMBER YARD.—It is with pleasure that we announce the establishment of a coal and lumber Yard in this City—a convenience very much needed. In view of the improvements going on, and projected in this City all vicinity. Mr. B. T. Kramer will keep a supply of all coal on hand, and every variety of lumber will be furnished to order. Our citizens will thus be relieved of the expense and loss of time incident to travel to and from Philadelphia, whenever they require one or both of these articles on large or small quantities. We look upon this enterprise as one that will give an impetus to building, and as affording the most valuable facilities for improvements. Mr. Kramer deserves great praise for embarking in this business, as it will relieve our citizens from that condition of dependence upon other places for a supply, which has long been felt, and which has proved no trifling drawback to our progress. We hope he will receive encouragement proportionate to his investment: and we also hope that none will so far forget their duty, as to go elsewhere for their coal and lumber, when it is placed so convenient at their own doors. Mr. Kramer has made arrangements for a supply on such terms as will enable him to dispose of both articles as cheap, if not cheaper, than they can be furnished in Philadelphia or Camden. Therefore save both rail road fare and freight by patronizing him. Dest of home instead of abroad.

AN UNUSUAL ATTRACTION.—Whitby & Co.'s great "Consolidated Show" is coming! It is a grand combination of Circuses and Menageries—holding one of the most splendid attractions that ever met the public eye. The animals comprise a very extensive collection of the best Zoological specimens, including the largest and noblest Elephant ever exhibited—the letter Baby, unweaned and only 25 inches high. Also Lions, Tigers, leopards, Zebras, and others of the animal kingdom, down to the diminutive monkey—forming a collection from Africa, Asia, and America. There will be four shows, with these a variety of rare birds, and the whole will present an amount of attraction. Prof. Forepaugh will show the mastery of man over these savage animals, by a thrilling performance, in which lions, tigers, leopards and panthers will mingle.

The Circus Troupe consists of 40 principal artists, including six ladies, who will perform some of the most daring feats of equestrianism ever witnessed. The Consolidated Show is a collection of the "stars" performers of several companies, and visitors cannot fail to enjoy an evening of rational and entertaining amusement. The Clowns Pete Conklin and Charles Morgan are ready witts, and none can escape the contagion of laughter when they are together. It is a treat to assert that no exhibition of this character to be found in the larger cities can surpass it for zoological rarity, or for talent of a high order in the equestrian department.

The Show will exhibit in Hammonton on Monday, the 28th inst., Egg Harbor City, the 29th, Absecon, the 30th, and Tuckahoe, 31st. Be sure to attend, and take the little ones with you.

For the DEMOCRAT.

BY LEVI BECKER.

When Pennsylvania cast her vote,
The rads began to shiver,
And looked around for a boat
To take them up Salt River.

They met and talked the matter over—
Then come to this conclusion
If we go alone we'll run ashore,
And will get a mighty confusion!

When nagher Charley stopped to think,
And said: come stop and hear me,
We'll all go in and take a drink
With Democratic Howling.

He will tell us what to do,
For he is a lively creature,
He said go get a darky crew,
And take a great big steamer.

The Harrisburg man then silence broke,
And said white I have brether,
I can build my self a boat—
But sail it up Salt River.

The Marble-man said that we'll do—
I've stuff as good as tomber,
I dig me out a canoe canoe,
And paddle up Salt River.

The bosses, then, who work in wood,
Said we'll join our names together,
And build a boat to do some good,—
To Tree in up Salt River.

Thereupon, Sunbury parson said in tears,
Don't smoke the boat too slowber,
As she must be our home for years,
From the 5th of next November.

Absecon, October 14, 1867.

News from St. Louis

Editors Democrat:

Dear Sirs: As the time for hop-picking approaches, I beg leave to offer through the medium of your valuable paper, a few suggestions to growers on the subject of picking and preparing their hops for market.

No particular branch of hop culture is of more importance than the manner in which the vine is stripped of its fruit. In England and Germany, growers take special attractions that ever met the public eye. The animals comprise a very extensive collection of the best Zoological specimens, including the largest and noblest Elephant ever exhibited—the letter Baby, unweaned and only 25 inches high. Also Lions, Tigers, leopards, Zebras, and others of the animal kingdom, down to the diminutive monkey—forming a collection from Africa, Asia, and America. There will be four shows, with these a variety of rare birds, and the whole will present an amount of attraction. Prof. Forepaugh will show the mastery of man over these savage animals, by a thrilling performance, in which lions, tigers, leopards and panthers will mingle.

The Circus Troupe consists of 40 principal artists, including six ladies, who will perform some of the most daring feats of equestrianism ever witnessed. The Consolidated Show is a collection of the "stars" performers of several companies, and visitors cannot fail to enjoy an evening of rational and entertaining amusement. The Clowns Pete Conklin and Charles Morgan are ready witts, and none can escape the contagion of laughter when they are together. It is a treat to assert that no exhibition of this character to be found in the larger cities can surpass it for zoological rarity, or for talent of a high order in the equestrian department.

The Show will exhibit in Hammonton on Monday, the 28th inst., Egg Harbor City, the 29th, Absecon, the 30th, and Tuckahoe, 31st. Be sure to attend, and take the little ones with you.

Hops—How to Secure Them, and How to Dispose of Them.

ELTON, C. J., Oct. 16, 1867.

EDITOR ATLANTIC DEMOCRAT.

DEAR SIR: As everything pertaining to the successful growing of hops will be interesting to your readers, I take the liberty to send you the accompanying article, that I well studied and carried out, will help to place the hop in a more prominent position than it now occupies. I am decidedly of the opinion that growing hops in Atlantic county will not only pay, but when well understood, will be startling in profit. Other crops shall give way, or trucking, let every owner of land have at least an acre or more put out to hops. I will hazard the prediction that the time is not far distant when South Jersey will be as noted for its Hop Yards, as it is now for the Strawberry and Grape. I can see no good reason why we should be importers, when mild old climate are so well adapted for their production at home. Let us awake to this subject, and through the press, or by public meetings, or both, so agitate this matter till an interest is awakened that will lead to vigorous and successful action.

Yours, &c.,
CHAS. S. TOMSON.

Editors Home Sentinel:

Dear Sirs: As the time for hop-picking approaches, I beg leave to offer through the medium of your valuable paper, a few suggestions to growers on the subject of picking and preparing their hops for market.

No particular branch of hop culture is of more importance than the manner in which the vine is stripped of its fruit. In England and Germany, growers take special attention to the subject of picking well.

We have no better proof of the advantages to be gained by clean picking, than the fact that foreign hops always command a higher price in our markets than hops of native growth. This increased value of foreign hops is attributed by the dealers to their greater cleanness, and not to any superiority in the hop itself, as our native hops are equal in every other respect to that of no other country.

There is good reason why we should not be able to compete with foreign growers in producing as good hops as they, and yet with proper consideration on the part of extremists, who have been threatening measures that disturbed the public mind, and kept well disposed citizens in alarm for the stability of the Government and security of our financial interests.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, OCT. 15.—The Department is prepared to give Five-twenty bonds of 1862 in exchange for Seven-thirty bonds, interest to be charged on the bonds and allowed on the notes up to the time of delivery. The notes to be forwarded by the Assistant Treasurer at New York, or to the Department, at the option of the holders; the bonds to be returned at the risk and expense of the parties.

HUGH MCCULLOCH,
Sect. of the Treasury.

☞ The Cleveland, Ohio, Herald, says the negro suffrage amendment in that State was defeated by the mechanics and young men. Very likely. The working classes everywhere, who have been taught to contrast with the selfish schemes of the radical leaders, are opposed to their miserable doctrines; and so are the young men who have an interest in the future of the country will not aid in measures which can result only in political demoralization and ruin.

☞ On Tuesday evening of last week, between 7 and eight o'clock, as Mrs. Caroline Stevenson was going to her home in the upper part of Lambertville, some one came behind her grasped her on the shoulder and struck her in the side. Her screams brought some person to the spot: and she was assisted home. An examination showed the wound was not deep, but a very sharp knife having struck a bone. What object the assassin could have had, it is hard to conjecture.

☞ The Supreme Court of Maine decreed eighteen divorce cases at its last session in one county.

Special Notices.

DYSPEPSIA

There is no disease which experience has so amply proved to be curable by

PERUVIAN SYRUP,

It restores the blood of the Pneumatic from a state of impurity and inflammation, to perfect health.

Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Fever and Ague, Debility, Nervous Affections, Neuralgia, Headache, Diseases of the Skin, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scurvy, Ringworm, Mercurial Diseases, Female Weakness, Diseases of the Urinary Organs, Nervous Irritability, Sleeplessness, Sick Headache, Nervous Prostration, Nervous Headache, Neuralgia, Diseases of the Kidneys, Dropsy, Gravel, Diabetes, Diseases of the Bladder, Affinity and Regular Gleetings.

Dr. J. P. DIX-SMITH, Proprietor,
No. 36 Dey Street, New York.

Sold by all Druggists.

Scrofula—Consumption.

In Lung Scrofula, or Pulmonary Consumption, the greatest Remedy ever discovered in the world, is Dr. Jayne's Alterative Expectorant. It is recommended in Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, Spitting of Blood, Night Sweats, Loss of Flesh, and all the usual symptoms of Consumption. Sold by all Druggists. Price 25 cents and $1 per bottle.

FROM WASHINGTON.

THE SUPPOSED 7-30 BONDS WORTH TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS WORTH OF THEM REDEEMED.

It is the opinion of experts connected with the Treasury Department that the counterfeit plate of the seven-thirty issuing Department, was not made in Philadelphia. Decidedly in their genuineness was first excited by the duplicate numbers, when by a close inspection with the aid of a microscope and a comparison of the gesture with the counterfeit, their true character was discovered. About seventy thousand dollars worth of the spurious bonds were previously redeemed at the Treasury; but the government, it is said, will lose nothing by this transaction, as it has the receipts of the various parties presenting them. The Chief of the Loan branch Mr. Andrews, to-day refused to furnish information on this subject, saying he did not feel at liberty to do so unless a recent order of the Secretary with regard to furnishing information to persons not connected with the department. It is understood, however, that a report of all the facts will be made to the Secretary, when application will be made to him for a copy for its publication.

Notwithstanding the repeated reminders given by the Secretary of the Treasury and Mr. Spinner to sub-treasurers and banks, the latter still persists in paying coupons when presented for redemption, in such a manner as to punch out the numbers. This carelessness occasions considerable trouble to the department, and coupons so cancelled are invariable returned to the persons who sent them.

NEW YORK INVESTMENT.

Quite a formidable opposition to the appointment of General McClintock as Secretary of War sprung up to-day, and it is probable that McClintock will not be further considered in connection with the War Department.

GENERAL GRANT

is day in conversation of the elections of last Tuesday, said he was placed with the result, because it would stay anxiety about a conflict of arms and prevent the necessity of a military occupation of the South.

INNERVED AND DELICATE CONSTITUTIONS, Impaired by Disease, Dissipation or Exposure, Take no other preparation but the celebrated Hostetter's Stomach Bitters and enjoy the benefit of it. Sleep well, eat heartily, feel cheerful, and enjoy life. Sold by all Druggists and Dealers everywhere.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU is the specific for Diseases of the Urinary Organs, whether existing in Male or Female, whether arising from Imprudence, Habits of Dissipation, or Exposure. Our Pleasant Blood and Nerve Purifier, HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA, Established upwards of 18 years, prepared by H. T. HELMBOLD, Druggist, 594 Broadway, New York, and 104 South 10th Street, Philadelphia, Pa. Feb. 23, 1867—ly

FREE TO EVERYBODY

A Large 8 pp. Circular, giving information of the greatest importance to the young, the middle aged, or those contemplating Matrimony, Sent free, in a sealed envelope, on receipt of a stamp. Address, Dr. JOHN SCOTT, No. 112 Nassau St., New York.

Hop—How to Secure Them, and How to Dispose of Them.

ELTON, C. J., Oct. 16, 1867.

EDITOR ATLANTIC DEMOCRAT.

DEAR SIR: As everything pertaining to the successful growing of hops will be interesting to your readers, I take the liberty to send you the accompanying article, that I well studied and carried out, will help to place the hop in a more prominent position than it now occupies. I am decidedly of the opinion that growing hops in Atlantic county will not only pay, but when well understood, will be startling in profit. Other crops shall give way, or trucking, let every owner of land have at least an acre or more put out to hops. I will hazard the prediction that the time is not far distant when South Jersey will be as noted for its Hop Yards, as it is now for the Strawberry and Grape. I can see no good reason why we should be importers, when mild old climate are so well adapted for their production at home. Let us awake to this subject, and through the press, or by public meetings, or both, so agitate this matter till an interest is awakened that will lead to vigorous and successful action.

Yours, &c.,
CHAS. S. TOMSON.

Editors Home Sentinel:

Dear Sirs: As the time for hop-picking approaches, I beg leave to offer through the medium of your valuable paper, a few suggestions to growers on the subject of picking and preparing their hops for market.

No particular branch of hop culture is of more importance than the manner in which the vine is stripped of its fruit. In England and Germany, growers take special attention to the subject of picking well.

We have no better proof of the advantages to be gained by clean picking, than the fact that foreign hops always command a higher price in our markets than hops of native growth. This increased value of foreign hops is attributed by the dealers to their greater cleanness, and not to any superiority in the hop itself, as our native hops are equal in every other respect to that of no other country.

There is good reason why we should not be able to compete with foreign growers in producing as good hops as they, and yet with proper consideration on the part of extremists, who have been threatening measures that disturbed the public mind, and kept well disposed citizens in alarm for the stability of the Government and security of our financial interests.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, OCT. 15.—The Department is prepared to give Five-twenty bonds of 1862 in exchange for Seven-thirty bonds, interest to be charged on the bonds and allowed on the notes up to the time of delivery. The notes to be forwarded by the Assistant Treasurer at New York, or to the Department, at the option of the holders; the bonds to be returned at the risk and expense of the parties.

HUGH MCCULLOCH,
Sect. of the Treasury.

☞ The Cleveland, Ohio, Herald, says the negro suffrage amendment in that State was defeated by the mechanics and young men. Very likely. The working classes everywhere, who have been taught to contrast with the selfish schemes of the radical leaders, are opposed to their miserable doctrines; and so are the young men who have an interest in the future of the country will not aid in measures which can result only in political demoralization and ruin.

☞ On Tuesday evening of last week, between 7 and eight o'clock, as Mrs. Caroline Stevenson was going to her home in the upper part of Lambertville, some one came behind her grasped her on the shoulder and struck her in the side. Her screams brought some person to the spot: and she was assisted home. An examination showed the wound was not deep, but a very sharp knife having struck a bone. What object the assassin could have had, it is hard to conjecture.

☞ The Supreme Court of Maine decreed eighteen divorce cases at its last session in one county.

WHITBY & CO'S CONSOLIDATED SHOWS CIRCUSES —AND— MENAGERIES!

The Largest Exhibition in the World! With a Model of Complete MENAGERIE and a Consolidation of the leading Talent embraced in CIRCUSES, Presenting more Rare and Costly Animals, Equestrians and Equestriennes and more Varied and Novel Performances than any other Exhibition in Existence.

ZOOLOGICAL SPECIMENS! Have been lately imported. Among the Attractions THE BABY ELEPHANT, "BELPHINE," THE BABY ELEPHANT, Being the only Elephant born in captivity, and the Parent, with its mother, will be performed in the ring at each Exhibition.

PROF. FOREPAUGH, The Daring Animal Performer, who will exhibit his Lions, Tigers, Panthers, Leopards, Bears, Hyenas, Jaguars, Leopards, Panthers, Lions, Tigers

SCUDDER & COOK'S

PLANING MILL AND SASH FACTORY.

Doors, Windows, Sashes, Blinds, Shutters.

SASH DOORS AND PANELS MADE TO ORDER.

Also, Turning, Scroll Work, Moulding, Flooring, Siding, always on hand or furnished to Order.

BOARDS and PLANK of all thicknesses, Yellow and White Pine, always on hand.

PEACH BOXES always on hand or made to Order.

Corner of Front and Plum streets, Camden, N. J.

July 11th, 1887-1y

TO ALL TILLERS OF THE SOIL!

MOORE'S

LASTING OSTREUM

FERTILIZER.

J. K. MOORE,

Sole Manufacturer and Proprietor,

WILLIAMTILE, N. J.

FOR ORANGE CLOVER, WHEAT, RYE, CORN, OATS, POTATOES, AND EVERY KIND OF FRUIT.

IT HAS DRIVEN OUT THE FOLLOWING:

Strawberries, Raspberries, Blackberries, and Fruit of every Description.

The Proprietor having increased facilities for manufacturing his LASTING FERTILIZER, is now in a position to offer sale to all farmers and truckers, and to all who desire large returns from their Farms and Gardens. It has only to be tried to be appreciated, and it is not only proof in its action, but lasting, as its name indicates. The great reputation for this

VALUABLE FERTILIZER,

has grown to such extent, that it is now used in raising nine-tenths of the Strawberries, Raspberries, and Vegetables, for the Philadelphia and New York markets, and which should not be confounded with the cheap, Worthless Fertilizers, sold at $25 and the various other Fertilizers from $20 to $50 per ton, this can be had for the actual cost of

$20 PER TON:

And we think there cannot be produced any Fertilizer or Phosphate more lasting or beneficial to the soil. It is now being used by some best Farmers, Truckers and second Milleville, and is satisfied with the results attending its use.

Farmers, Consult Your Interest!!

Manufacturer Sole Agent for the Sale of

FERTILIZER

Also all respectfully refer to the following Gentlemen, who have used the Fertilizer for the last three years, and will testify to its value, and will take pleasure in answering any inquiries addressed to J. K. Moore, Williamtile, N. J., and with the best of fertilizing results:

[illegible]

All orders or inquiries addressed to J. K. Moore, Williamtile, N. J., will receive prompt attention.

DRY GOODS!

DRY-GOODS

At Garrison & Woodruff's,

[illegible]

FALL DRESS GOODS.

MOHAIRS

[illegible]

DOMESTICS.

SPEER'S PURE WINES,

AND

Vineyards, N. J., and Los Angeles, Cal.

SPEER'S PORT GRAPE WINE.

[illegible] Port Grape Wine [illegible] recommended for their purity, as invaluable tonic and sacramental wine, excellent for families, as a fine, wholesome wine, and [illegible]

SPEER & CO'S

P. J.

CALIFORNIA PORT AND SHERRY WINES,

from the Celebrated Vineyards planted by the early Mission Fathers at Los Angeles. These are delicious Table Wines, with a rich body, fine flavor and delicate bouquet, unsurpassed by the wines of Cadiz and Oporto. [illegible]

[illegible] CATAWBA, CONCORD, CURRANT and other GRAPE and FRUIT WINES.

Depositories: Branch of the Vineyards, [illegible] Agent, 23 Broadway, opposite City Hall Park, N. Y.

[illegible] Wine Company, [illegible] SPEER, 23 Broadway, opposite City Hall Park, N. Y.

[illegible] Brooklyn, E. D., N. Y.

Notice to Farmers.

The subscribers [illegible]

AGRICULTURAL

Implements & Machinery,

FERTILIZERS,

[illegible]

Guano,

Super Phosphate of Lime,

Ammoniated Fertilizer,

Bower's Complete Manure

Land Plaster

Cancerine

[illegible]

Hay and Straw Cutters

[illegible]

FARMERS HARDWARE

[illegible]

GREAT BARGAINS

IN

MEN'S & BOYS' WEAR,

AT

GROSSCUP'S.

Ready-Made Clothing

Down to old prices,

At Grosscup's.

Also, the largest stock of

FINE CLOTHS,

CASSIMERES,

and VESTS.

HATS AND CAPS

CHEAP AT GROSSCUP'S

[illegible]

Commerce St., Bridgeton, N. J.

LEHIGH AND SCHUYLKILL

COAL.

[illegible]

Oyster Baskets

Corn Shellers

For M[illegible]

COMPLETE MANURE

[illegible]

HENRY BOWER.

[illegible]

SUPER-PHOSPHATE OF LIME,

Ammoniated Potash.

[illegible]

Claypoole & Anderson,

MANUFACTURERS AND DEALERS IN

STOVES,

[illegible] Water, Tea and Coffee Urns, Hot Tin Ware, Brushes, Wooden Ware, Tinsel Sets, Fire Irons, and a complete assortment of [illegible]

Patented New England Cooking

PEERLESS.

[illegible] Burning Cook and Parlor Stoves.

SPEAR'S

THE BARLEY SHEAF.

A UNIVERSAL FAVORITE

[illegible] FAVORITE COOKING STOVE FOR WOOD.

THE IRON CLAD.

[illegible]

QUAKER CITY.

[illegible] STEWART'S celebrated [illegible]

THE MORNING GLORY, THE ORIENTAL and [illegible]

GLASS FRUIT JARS AND TIN FRUIT CANS.

[illegible]

Also Stock and Spices [illegible]

[illegible] Tin Ware, Japanned Tin Ware, Stoves and Ranges [illegible]

Universal Cog-wheel Wringer.

[illegible]

Tin-Roofing, Guttering & Spouting [illegible]

DOLE & NELSON.

[illegible] Wholesale and Retail.

MAXIMILIAN PLAYED OUT.

LIBERALS VICTORIOUS.

BLAINE CHEERING NEWS—HILL IS THAT

DUNN & MAULL

Hoots, Boots, Shoes, Wall Paper Window Shades [illegible] and bring them within the reach of all. We are now selling cheap for cash.

[illegible] Cash Dealers.

[illegible] Shoes a specialty.

[illegible]

WALL PAPER! WALL PAPER!

[illegible]

SHAMROCK SHADES ONLY!

Paints, Oils, Varnishes, &c. &c.

Sole Agent for Sale of Machine and Harness Oil, warranted equal to Castor Machine Oil, and very [illegible] and a good Article.

[illegible]

DUNN & MAULL.

[illegible]

EDWARDS & LAWRENCE.

EXCELSIOR

[illegible]

DOLE & NELSON

DEALERS IN

STOVE AND TIN WARE.

Commerce street, East of the Bridge,

BRIDGETON, N. J.

THE EXCELSIOR COOK STOVE

Still standing at the head of the list of Cook Stoves in the market. Universally liked by all that use them.

Having the largest Oven and Flues, and the regular Premium Baker which insures the finest bread, biscuits and being so arranged that the Wash Boiler will fit over or lengthwise with the Stove, which together with the other improvements make it the Most Desirable Stove in the Market!

We also keep the following well-known stoves:

WILLIAMSON,

CAVERLY,

CONTINENTAL,

GREAT TOM,

ORIENTAL,

ORIENTAL and others.

Persons will find it full and well assortment of the latest and best styles of

PARLOR, DINING ROOM, OR HALL STOVES.

Repairs of all kind.

Also the BRILLIANT RADIATOR

which [illegible] for heating and also [illegible] quarters.

Will keep lot and great second stock of

GLASS FRUIT JARS.

Also, the Self-Sealing Tin Fruit Cans, of our own manufacture, the best in the market.

[illegible] Tin Ware, Japanned Tin Ware, Stoves and Ranges [illegible]

We keep on hand a large assortment of Refrigerators, Water Coolers, Lawns, Wooden Ware, Tin Ware and the Universal Cog-wheel Wringer.

[illegible]

Tin-Roofing, Guttering & Spouting [illegible]

DOLE & NELSON.

Successors to Weaver & Dole.

May 9, 1887

FOUTZ'S

Horse and Cattle Powders.

[illegible]

WILLIAM J. SHARP'S

IMPROVED BILLIARD TABLES,

WITH

PATENT CUSHIONS

will known to be superior to any now in use.

Manufactory, 43 Mercer street, N. Y.

Twenty years ago, William J. Sharp commenced his Billiard Table business, and having made a number of valuable improvements, for guarantees a Table which for durability of work, mechanical construction, scientific principles and elegance of appearance, will [illegible]

[illegible] Patent Cushions have been [illegible] and retain the same which Sharp's tables have acquired.

Slate, Cues and Trimmings, [illegible] and are prepared to supply Billiard Tables [illegible] patronage solicited.

[illegible] W. J. SHARP.

[illegible]

---

628 HOOP SKIRTS. 628

WILLIAM T. HOPKINS.

[illegible] Street, Philadelphia.

[illegible] Hoop Skirts, we offer for [illegible] and the full [illegible] Hoop Skirts, which for elegance of finish, mechanical construction, scientific principles and elegance of appearance, will [illegible]

[illegible] Patent Cushions have been [illegible] and retain the same which Sharp's tables have acquired.

Slate, Cues and Trimmings, [illegible] and are prepared to supply Billiard Tables [illegible] patronage solicited.

[illegible] W. J. SHARP.

[illegible]

LEATHER! LEATHER!

THE SUBSCRIBER HAVING

ENLARGED FACILITIES

FOR THE

MANUFACTURE OF LEATHER,

[illegible] now respectfully invite the attention of the

Leather Dealing Public

TO

FINISHED LEATHER,

consisting of the following kinds, viz:

Harness Bridle, Skirting,

Belt Thong or Lace,

Buff, Waxed, Italian,

and Wax Upper Leather

Wax Calf Skins, Spanish Sole,

Hemlock Sole, Slaughter Sole,

and Skirting Leather.

Together with a general assortment of

MOROCCO, LININGS,

HARDWARE AND SHOE FINDINGS,

which will be sold at the

LOWEST RATES FOR CASH.

Also a large lot of

PLASTERING HAIR

for sale very low FOR CASH.

JACOB KIENZLE,

FAYETTE ST., BRIDGETON, N. J.

[illegible]

WANTED! WANTED!

[illegible] Hides, Calf and Sheep Skins, Skins [illegible] for which the highest CASH PRICE will be paid at any time.

JACOB KIENZLE

FAYETTE STREET, Bridgeton, N. J.

HENRY FREDERICKS

KEEPS CONSTANTLY ON HAND

Sash, Doors, Blinds, Shutters,

WOOD MOULDINGS,

HOTBED SASH

AND

Hardware of Every Description.

THE subscriber takes this method of informing Builders and the public generally that he has

REMOVED TO HIS NEW STORE,

In Federal Street, one door below Third,

Adjoining Reed & Bro.'s Paper Store, being the largest Store in Camden, and having always on hand by far the largest and best assorted stock of any other establishment in [illegible]

[illegible]

Scroll Sawing,

Brackets, Glass, Oils,

Paints, Putty, Brushes, &c

HARDWARE,

Housekeeping & Farming Implements,

Plow Castings, Nails, Tools, Cutlery, Britannia and Hollow Ware, and all kinds of Silver Plated Ware, Wholesale and Retail.

All of my goods being purchased for cash, and having the advantage of several years in the business, I flatter myself fully able to furnish as good an article, at as short a notice, and on better terms than any other establishment in this part of the country. Please give me a call before purchasing elsewhere.

[illegible]

HENRY FREDERICKS.

[illegible] Federal and Third

CAMDEN, N. J.

WILLIAM J. SHARP'S

IMPROVED BILLIARD TABLES,

WITH

PATENT CUSHIONS

will known to be superior to any now in use.

Manufactory, 43 Mercer street, N. Y.

Twenty years ago, William J. Sharp commenced his Billiard Table business, and having made a number of valuable improvements, for guarantees a Table which for durability of work, mechanical construction, scientific principles and elegance of appearance, will [illegible]

[illegible] Patent Cushions have been [illegible] and retain the same which Sharp's tables have acquired.

Slate, Cues and Trimmings, [illegible] and are prepared to supply Billiard Tables [illegible] patronage solicited.

[illegible] W. J. SHARP.

[illegible]

TRAVELERS' GUIDE.

FOR NEW YORK.

[illegible]

The Camden and Amboy and Philadelphia and Trenton Railroad Lines.

From Philadelphia to New York,

AND WAY PLACES.

FROM WALNUT STREET WHARF [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] Fare, $2.25.

At 8 a.m., 2, and 5 p.m. for Mount Holly, Evansville, Pemberton, Birmingham, and Vincentown, and at 5.0 p.m. for Mount Holly only.

At 6 a.m. and 5 p.m., for Freehold.

At 6, 8 and 10 a.m., 2 and 4 p.m., for Trenton.

At 6 and 10 a.m., 1.2, 4, 5.0 and 11.30 p.m. for Bordentown, Burlington, Beverly and Delanco.

At 6 and 10 a.m., 1.2, 4, 5.0 and 11.30 p.m. for Florence.

At 6 and 10 a.m., 1, 4, 5, 6 and 11.30 p.m., for Big Water, Riverside, Riverton, and Palmyra.

At 6 and 10 a.m., 1, 5.0 and 11.30 p.m., for Fort Hower.

The 1 and 11.30 p.m. lines leave Market Street Ferry, upper side.

LINES FROM KENSINGTON DEPOT,

WILL LEAVE AS FOLLOWS:

At 11 a.m., 3 and 12 p.m. (night) via Kensington and Jersey City New York Express lines, fare, 25 cts.

At 8.10-15 and 11 a.m., 2.30, 3.30, 4.30, 5 and 12 p.m. for Bristol and Trenton.

At 8 and 10.15 a.m., 2.30, 5 and 12 p.m. for Morrisville and Tullytown.

At 8 and 10.15 a.m., 2.30, 4.30, 5 and 12 p.m. for Langhorne.

At 8 and 10.15 a.m., 2.30, 5 and 12 p.m. for Delaware.

At 7.20 and 10.15 a.m., 2.30, 4, 5.6 and 12 p.m. for Lansdale, Hatfield, Colmar, Souderton, Telford, Woxsonington, Bridesburg and Frankford, and at [illegible] for Holmesburg and Intermediate stations.

Belvidere Delaware Railroad,

For the Delaware River Valley, Northern Pennsylvania and the State and the Great Lakes.

Date change Sundays excepted, from Kensington Depot, as follows:

At 8 a.m. for Niagara Falls, Buffalo, Dansville, Canandaigua, Elmira, Ithaca, Owego, Binghamton, Oswego, Syracuse, Utica, Rome, Watertown, Oswego, Syracuse, Utica, Rome, Watertown, Oswego, Syracuse, Utica, Rome, Watertown