Mrs. Christine Ruders.

This afternoon a procession, such as never before was witnessed in this part of the state, will invade Hammonton, encircle the Lake, and return to Camden, in honor of the completion of White Horse Pike—not a pike, but one of the finest boulevards in the United States.

The procession will arrive in front of Palace Theatre about 2.30 p. m. At that point the key to the town will be presented by Miss Hammonton.

Committees will meet at Victor Hall at one o'clock, and their lady assistants at 1.30.

Mr. Culshaw invites the ladies, chosen by the various towns, to be his guests.

They will be met by Miss Hilda Sorden as Miss Atlantic County, with Misses Ruth and Marjorie Wencot as sides, and Miss Florence Picken as Miss Hammonton, with Misses Louise Parkhurst and Grace Pinto as sides. About thirty beauties, including those named, will be received by the committee.

Residences and business places along the line will be appropriately decorated in honor of the event.

On account of the supper, at six o'clock, in Camden, there will be little time for speeches along the line of parade.

Everyone is asked to turn out with their cars, and make the event as big as possible.

Armistice Night, Next Saturday.

Men, women and children, everybody, have one big, noisy time. A parade and snake dance will start from School Park at 8 o'clock. The Moon Band, Legion and everybody in line. Have the bells ringing and the whistles blowing. Don't let the memory of this wonderful event, which meant so much to each and every one, be forgotten. We urge you to join us in the celebration.

E. A. Gannon, Pres. 136, Armistice Night Committee.

The Hallowe'en Parade

To say that it was a howling success might be misleading; but it was a success, proving very enjoyable to the thousands of participants and spectators. Perhaps there were not so many floats in line, but they made up for it in costumed individuals and groups.

The block dance was missed. It could not be planned, owing to the condition of the cross streets.

To the committee, I. I. Hearing, Howard Taylor, and Dr. C. J. Waas, belongs the credit for their untiring efforts and wisdom shown. They, on the other hand, wish to thank the business men and judges or their part, also the State Police.

A complete list of cash donations and prizes, also expenses, will be published next week. Winners receiving cards requesting them to call at Hearing's for prizes should do so at once.

Forget-Me-Not Day
This city is to participate in the great national movement of Saturday, November 3, when "Forget-me-Not-Day" is to be observed throughout the United States.

Arrangements are rapidly being completed for the sale of the little forget-me-nots by the girls and women of the city, on the streets and in the public centers of the community, on November 4; and a great force of sales-people will be out on the streets on that day, to distribute the little flowers to the citizens. The entire proceeds of "Forget-Me-Not Day" are to be used for the relief and welfare of the nation's wounded and disabled veterans of the world war, assisting their national legislative activities, establishing clubhouse quarters and summer camps, and for general advancement of the men who were wounded and crippled during the late war; so that they may be aided in their fight to regain their places in civilian life.

Mrs. H. K. Spear is chairman of the "Forget-Me-Not Day" committee in this city, being assisted by several competent helpers. The Hammonton Trust Co. is Treasurer of the committee, and donations to the "Forget-Me-Not Day" campaign can be made direct to the bank by mail or in person.

The "Forget-Me-Not Day" for the Disabled Veterans of the World War, will start Tuesday, October
31st and continue until Saturday November 4th. This plan is taken on account of the "Road Opening" to be held November 4th.

Forget-me-nots will be on sale in public places.

have given their best for you."

APPEALS TO THE VOTERS

Raritan, New Jersey.—Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen issued the following statement on the eve of the election:

"I make my appeal to the voters of the state for re-election to the senate on two grounds: defending the fair name of New Jersey; and insuring the prosperity of its people.

"I stand for upholding the constitution in all its provisions; Governor Edwards stands for the nullification of the Eighteenth Amendment, with its attendant disregard of law and order.

"I stand for the Republican protective tariff which is restoring to the nation its lost prosperity. Governor Edwards would destroy the tariff and once more plunge the nation into the chaos of depression and unemployment."

Trenton, N. J.—Democratic dismay marks the closing days of the state campaign. Reports from every part of the state are that Governor Edwards' campaign has amazed and disgusted the great mass of the members of his party and has filled the minds of his political managers with the gloomiest forebodings of defeat.

His constant and emphatic iteration of his contempt for the Eighteenth Amendment, his indulgence in the grossest personalities, and his untimely glorification of the trite joys of "wine, women and song" have alienated from him the sympathy and support of self-respecting Democrats, and especially the women, who regard his convivial oratory as a direct affront.

New Jersey Democrats who have a pride in their party regard a campaign such as Governor Edwards has made as putting them and their party in a false light before the entire country, and as damaging to Democratic prestige and fortunes. Men and women of this culture, who comprise the greater bulk of the New Jersey Democracy, were known to have shown their disapproval and disgust of the Governor's "wine, women and song" speech at Jersey City by leaving the hall while the Governor was speaking.

Campaign Displeases Democrats. Nor has the Governor's plan of campaign been any more pleasing to those in his party who have a genuine disagreement with the wisdom of the Eighteenth Amendment. For they realize that Senator Frelinghuysen has placed him at a tactical disadvantage in the questions with which he has mercilessly bombarded Edwards since his single-planked platform of constitutional nullification. In demanding that he answer whether the present widespread denance of law and order which has made New Jersey the paradise of bootleggers is the Governor's fulfillment of his promise to make New Jersey "as wet as the Atlantic Ocean."

Aside from the insincerity of a campaign based on such promises, New Jersey Democrats are perturbed by Governor Edwards' course in utterly ignoring economic questions in his campaign. His single-reference to this phase has been his repeated promise to do all in his power to destroy the present tariff act if elected to the Senate. His Democratic advisers regard this not only as a serious error in view of the remarkable revival of industry in the state immediately following on the operation of the tariff act, but as another evidence of insincerity on the Governor's part.

Frelinghuysen Makes Friends. Senator Frelinghuysen's brilliant campaign has been in marked contrast to the ineptitude of his opponent. At every meeting in his statewide tour Senator Frelinghuysen has been received by great throngs of the voters. At two large mass meetings in Jersey City on October 18 he demanded that Governor Edwards discuss national issues and stop trying to deceive the people regarding the issue of wet or dry.

Governor Edwards' platform is not complete," the Senator said on October 23. "It should include the present drunk." Referring in his speech at Trenton October 24 to the Governor's election promise to make the state as wet as the Atlantic Ocean, Senator Frelinghuysen said: "New Jersey, and particularly Hudson County, is a paradise for saloonkeepers and bootleggers. In this condition the fulfillment of Governor Edwards' promise or does it represent his incapacity as chief executive to obtain enforcement of the laws of the state and nation?"

Proclamation of Mayor.

Whereas, the Town Council of the Town of Hammonton has adopted an ordinance to provide for the better protection of public health and property, by regulating the disposition of waste paper, ashes, tin cans and other rubbish; and

Whereas, the Town Council has determined upon the 12th Street gravel pit as a suitable place for the burning of waste paper, and for the dumping of rubbish, and has provided for a suitable incinerating cage in which to burn waste paper and other rubbish that may be burned, and has fixed the time when said place shall be open for burning and dumping purposes, at from 9 a. m. to 11.30 a. m. and from 1 p. m. to 4.30 p. m. on every Monday and Friday, under the supervision of an employee of the Town;

Now Therefore, I, Thomas C. Elvins, Mayor, do hereby proclaim the provisions which have been made by the Town Council for the burning of waste paper, etc., and the dumping of rubbish, and do most earnestly urge that the Townspeople cheerfully, regularly and without compulsion avail themselves of the opportunity afforded; to the end that our town may become a cleaner, safer and more healthful community in which to live.

RUNYON OUTLINES HIGHWAY POLICY

Change From Gov. Edge's Board to the Edwards' Body Imposes Extra Tax Burden of $1,500,000.

REPEAL REIMBURSEMENT ACT

Republican Candidate Promises That,
If Elected, He Will Use All the Many Resources of the Governor's Office to Discard Present Practices.

The controversy in New Jersey between defenders of closed paving specifications and advocates of open bidding continues to rage, with the latter charging that the present system costs an excess of $2,000,000 a mile. New Jersey has paid its high as $2.46 a square yard for the same material as was furnished in Pennsylvania for $1.05 a square yard. Names have been mentioned, and denials have followed, to prove that Job H. Lippincott has been a "patronage broker" for Governor Edwards, in selecting members of the State Highway Commission.

The change from Governor Edge's highway board to the Edwards' body has meant an extra burden upon the taxpayers of more than $1,500,000, according to an exhibit offered by critics of the present administration. A re-statement of the discussion is the assertion that approaches to the proposed new Perth Amboy Bridge were assessed at $60,000 by state appraisers, and were subsequently bought for $230,000 without condemnation proceedings.

Still another charge is that the contract for a temporary bridge on the Lincoln Highway over the Hackensack River was awarded to Highway Commissioner John Ferris, of Jersey City, the same day the latter resigned. This contract already has cost the state $300,000 and was given without bidding on a 10 per cent cost plus basis.

A $500,000 Architect Charles L. Hanson was about to be engaged as the architect on the Perth Amboy Bridge job at a 6 per cent rate, or an estimated reimbursement of over $200,000, when Highway Commissioner George L. Paddock, of Newark, successfully remonstrated. Hudson finally took the place at $36,000 for two years. Commissioner Paddock for some time has been the lone militant minority in the board.

Another charge is that the Seabrook Farms in Deerfield Township, Cumberland County, which are owned by Highway Commissioner Charles P. Seabrook, have been criss-crossed by roads constructed at state expense. In Deerfield Township, where Seabrook has a 3,200-acre place, $387,000 has been expended, while the adjacent township of Greenwich has had but $4,089.65 of state work.

Five gravel roads built across the Seabrook farm cost $30,000, of which the state paid 75 per cent. A concrete road there represented $48,803.27, of which the state paid 40 per cent and Cumberland County and Deerfield Township the balance. Skirting the Seabrook farm for about eight miles, $304,770.69 worth of new road was laid by Cumberland County, with the state agreeing to reimburse it. Another pike, which ran along the western line of the Seabrook farm, meant an outlay of $21,240.23.

Most of the contracts in Deerfield Township and thereabouts have been handled by the Tri-State Construction Company. The officers of the Tri-State company at the time the bulk of the paving was done, were also associate stockholders with Seabrook in the Seabrook Farms Company. Albert R. McAllister, a former Assessor and one of this group, has been pointed out as the drafter of the clause in the so-called hope rule act of 1919 for counties, whereby closed specifications were authorized.

"Extra" Add to Cost In 1921, patented paving companies secured contracts from the state amounting to $4,923,823 for nearly twenty-three miles at an average cost of $85,830 a mile. They did not bill at that figure, "extra" being added up to $86,034. Forty-three and three-fourths miles of concrete roads were authorized at $2,571,976, or an average of $59,734 a mile, and there were no "extras."

Contract records for 1922 showed an average per mile for twenty-two and a half miles of patented pavement of $80,671, against an average of $87,210 a mile for eighty miles of concrete. New Jersey has paid up to $102,000 a mile for all important stretches of patented highway in Middlesex County.

In Pennsylvania, where a "clean-out" of the road department was forced by a Philadelphia newspaper's exposure of $4,000,000 in the average cost is from $75,000 to $78,000 a mile for the same material as runs to $102,000 in New Jersey.

payments for rates construction of counties, for which the latter will be later reimbursed by the state.

William N. Runyon, the Republican nominee for Governor, in a detailed statement on his highway policy, has called for the repeal of the reimbursement act; for a highway commission of three to replace Governor Edwards' board of eight and for open bidding. Senator William B. Barry, of Newark, sponsor in 1920 and in 1921 of open bidding bills, has testified that Mr. Runyon, then a Senator from Union County, always was numbered among the sincere supporters of the proposed reform. Mr. Runyon has promised that, if elected, he will use all the many resources and the prestige of the Governor's office to compel a discontinuance of present practices.

Burton Disproved North Jersey dailies recently cited the State Highway Commission's own records to approve a defense issued by George L. Burton, of Middlesex County, president of the highway board. It was brought out by the newspapers that the only patented road laid by the Edge board was a five-mile highway put down as an experiment at the insistence of George K. Blakeslee, who was Mr. Edwards' campaign manager in 1919, and who was in constant warfare with his colleagues on the Edge board over patented material.

Mr. Burton, in discussing the work of the two boards, also gave the Edge board credit for roads actually completed and to the Edwards commission credited roads not only finished but for which contracts have been issued. The defense of the Edwards board by Judge Silzer, the Democratic gubernatorial nominee, was based on the Burton table, it appeared. Mr. Burton and Judge Silzer are associated in Middlesex County politics.

Job H. Lippincott, a former police commissioner in Jersey City, whose name is heard so often in Jersey, is an officer and the chief legislative agent of the patented paving companies. He has dealt, along with R. W. Turner, having offered Dr. Charles F. Kraemer, of Newark, an appointment by Governor Edwards to the State Highway Commission. Another denial is from Governor Edwards, in reference to the published charge that notes for $600,000 furnished the Edwards campaign in 1919 by the late Highway Commissioner Blakeslee, were taken over after Blakeslee's death by someone acting for a paving company.

Federal Aid Lost Besides the $28,000 a mile New Jersey taxpayers believe they are losing, there is $15,000 of federal aid withheld from roads built under so-called closed specifications. "It takes no special gift of prophecy to foresee the collapse of a road-building program which inflicts such gross wrongs upon the taxpayers," editorially said the Philadelphia North American on October 9. "No other state in the Union could so ill afford to suspend highway improvement as New Jersey. The great farming industry, specializing in fruits and vegetables, must have good roads in order to market its perishable products successfully.

"The coast resorts, representing colossal investments, are largely dependent for their popularity upon the maintenance of the automobile highways that give distant visitors access to the great national playground. These arteries of travel are also used by multitudes of tourists going southward or up into New York and New England, a traffic from which the state derives substantial benefit. Its roads, therefore, constitute one of New Jersey's most valuable assets, and toleration of a system which makes their cost excessive and threatens their development, inflicts grave injury upon the state.

"The issue now before the voters of New Jersey is clean-cut. The system was established after Governor Edwards' dissolved the Republican highway commissioners who would not recognize the war-eulie monopoly, and replaced them with Democrats who put into effect the closed specifications and thereby made compulsory excessive prices. It would be utterly folly to believe that the way to eradicate the system would be to perpetuate the power of the politicians who devised it and have profited by it.

"The taxpayers of New Jersey, however, can easily rid the state of the entire system by voting the Republican ticket at the forthcoming election. That party is unequivocally pledged to establish honest and efficient methods in road work, and its candidate for Governor is a proven champion integrity and courage guarantee fulfillment of the policy."

LONG DISTANCE CALL SAVES WOMAN'S LIFE

A long distance call from Rochester, N. Y., on September 4th saved the life of Mrs. Lillian Shepard, of Collins, N. Y. Several days before September 4th, Mrs. Shepard wrote for some time feeling ill, informing her that her time had expired, the only person who would be dead. Upon receipt of this information, he immediately called the Chicago office by long distance telephone, and explained the situation. The police rushed to Mrs. Shepard's home and found her unconscious from the effects of gas. She was removed at once to a hospital, where it is said that owing to the quick action on the part of the police, as well as the phone operators, her life will probably be saved.
