POETRY.

AWAITING THE DAWN.

I lay from my pillow wearily
Looking through the darkness dreary,
And I thought of the years that had passed away
Since I was a child so merry.

And I thought of the hopes that had been mine,
But all of them proved delusive,
And the days of the future looked dreary and long,
And the present was sad and elusive.

And I thought of the many changes
That had come to me since childhood,
And the days of sorrow and days of joy
That had made me a woman moody.

But the days of childhood were happy days,
And I wished I were there again,
Where I could not feel the sorrow and pain
That I now must bear as a woman

THE POOR MAN'S HOPE.

The most a poor man can hope for in this world is, the possession of means to provide for the wants of himself and family. If he is an affectionate, and dutiful husband and father, his first concern is for those who look up to him as their natural provider and protector; and the anxiety of his life is, to guard them against privation and want. To him, certainty of employment, good wages, and the necessaries of life obtained at a reasonable rate, are high above all other considerations; and all else should be subordinate to those three essentials, which make up the great sum and purpose of his existence! Every policy or measure that is thrown in the way of, or conflicts with, this incentive to all his toils and struggles, is placing a stubborn obstacle in his track, to keep him down lower in the social scale, and render him powerless to do his duty as the head of a family.

The poorest living man has a republican freedom, as notorious, like the sea-wind an influence in the framing of all laws; and, in the exercise of the elective franchise he cannot be too careful in the choice of men and measures. The man who "sweats for bread," above all others, should come to the ballot box with a clear appreciation of the effects of his vote, and give it to that cause which is best calculated to lessen and reward his labor. He should contrast his present chances of supporting his family under the present ruling power with those which he experienced in the past under different rulers. To reach an impartial decision in his own mind he must first divest himself of all partisan feeling, uproot every political attachment, and sit in judgement over his self and children. He must ask himself the following questions before he votes and he will vote right.

We need not point to the cost of living before the war, and that which now opposes everything here. The enormous cost of them has felt it—keenly felt it; and yet not the remotest necessity can be plead for the present exhorbitant prices of food, clothing, rent, &c., &c. Labor is higher, and the products have been abundant, a broad area of land has been cultivated, new discoveries of mineral wealth have been made, and new agencies of prosperity have multiplied.—Then why is it that the necessaries of life are still held at war prices, and taxes increased instead of lessened? Why is it that with these stubborn facts before you, we ask an honest, frank answer to this question. If this condition of things has not but forced upon us by business prostration, monitary panics, or crop failures,—then we must abandon our search for natural causes and turn to the unnatural—politics.

The only intelligible difficulties with which poor men encounter, can be traced to the extreme measures of the radical policy.—The cost of fostering in idleness a large population of freedmen, the enormous weight of Bureau office and subordinates, the increase of Congressional salaries, the extravagance of every department of Government, the unchecked issue of paper money, and the consequent means for forestalling and speculation which a surplus of paper money creates.

We will frankly say why the system of taxation inaugurated during the war is still kept up; and can we hope for a change under radical rule? Will the party which fastened these burdens upon us relieve us from them? When we know that all this extravagance and reckless waste of money is practised to maintain themselves in power, can we reasonably expect them to reform abuse upon which their hopes of power rest? No—poor men may toil and starve—pay $24 per barrel for flour, 25 cts per lb. for meat, $1.50 for tea, 45 cts. for coffee, and clothing and rent in proportion, but what of that? They are only working men, and the politicians squandering the fruits of their labor feel secure while their process and demagogue flatter and keep in the traces their poor deluded dupes.

One word more on these facts, and we shall leave workingmen to their own reflections. You all know what the price of gold was before the recent elections in four States. You also know what it is now. The moment the radicals triumphed, gold went up to 153; and though it may fluctuate a little, mark our word for it—the same party obtain a victory in the coming elections, gold will go up to 170. Why? Because stock-gamblers, gold speculators and forestalling capitalists will have a free hand—loose open paper currency, and the poor get no specie payment rendered more remote.

If the democratic vote was passed through the mint—that of 1812 and the Mexican War—did any such result follow afterwards? Was the harsh oppression and extortion which followed the close of the latter war, anything like what you are now forced to bear—and you will see that the Democracy never stayed the Government hand in its just reliefs to the poor man. You have had no experiment of a change. You have had no chance to test the Democracy. Therefore, all you have to go by, are the results of the past, and the experience of the present. Which of these will you rely upon? Which will you take as a guide in your vote? Which will you trust? Which are most deserving?—Which are entitled to my best affections? Which have conscientiously assured me of the motives before he votes and he will vote right.

CASTING THE FIRST STONE.

The Sixth Jersey Republican, of last week, commented on our presentation to its readers of the 30,000 lie, in a following the name of Slapp" and "as usual we cast lots in a man of his stamp"—"as a mustachioed corporal with the sympathies of the late rebel sympathizer,"—and "not a teetotaller."—There is neither fact nor argument in the article, and every assertion made is based upon the unfounded malice of the editor. Now, all who know Mr. Slapp, can testify to the zeal and devotion to the Union during the late rebellion. They also know him to be a true friend, an ardent supporter of the war, and a warm friend of the soldiers. He is the very reverse of all the editor asserts.

We have no objections to Mr. Moore's taking the field as a "teetotaller," or temperance man. We all know that he is as strong a fanatic on this question as he is upon that of negro suffrage; but this is no excuse for the editor's mean and false insinuations against the moral character of Mr. Slapp, who is noted throughout the county as a upright citizen in the community in which he lives. The most inveterate radical in Salem County would not have the hardihood to assert to the contrary.

As to being "a man of no ability," the truth or falsity of this charge can easily be tested if Mr. Moore dares to accept Mr. Slapp's challenge to discuss the questions of the day before the people. Mr. Slape's record as prosecutor of the pleas of Salem County, is one which reflects credit upon the New Jersey bar, and we think the editor of the Republican has yet ventured to question his ability for any position. We dare Mr. Moore to meet Mr. Slapp, however, that the people may judge of their respective qualifications. In such an event Mr. Moore would get a "slap" that he would remember to his dying day.

The charge of "utility," the editor should "lie low," instead of telling a low lie for the great objection to Mr. Moore, is that he is a mere tool in the hands of others, and that he could not have conferred a greater public favor than by supplying this great want.—Daton Journal.

The Atlantic Cable.

THE TARIFF TO BE REDUCED 50 PER CENT.
NEW YORK, Oct 26, 1866
Mr. D. H. Craig, General Agent New York Associated Press:

Dear Sir—It gives me pleasure to inform you, and through you the public, that on and after the first day of November the rate for cipher messages passing through the Atlantic Cable will be reduced fifty per cent.

Very truly, your friend,
CYRUS W. FIELD.

The Rebellion of Portland.—Since the great fire in Portland on the 4th of July last, there have been nearly 700 buildings erected on the burned district. The total contributions received for the benefit of the sufferers have been $488,000.—The Portland Press says, with regard to the report that Quebec had been generous in sending contributions, that not a dollar has come to the sufferers from as extensive a city in Canada as Portland from that city.

What is a "Traitor"?

—Well, it is difficult to say. The Radicals have been the lexicographers in the country for some years and they never very much meddled on the subject. Three years ago, "traitor" was a name for opposed the President. A traitor now is a man who sustains the President.

The question is therefore very much mixed.

A TRAITOR LOOSE.

Wendell Phillips, in a recent speech in Tremont Temple, Boston, not only denounced the impeachment of President Johnson, but demands and calls for the dismissal of General Grant. Statement and generals who utter constitutional treason commit an unpardonable sin in the estimation of the leading radicals; and those who render the best service to the country are sure to be denounced the victims of their malice. General McClellan saved the Capitol and the Nation at Antietam—for this he was sacrificed. Gen. Grant finished the work begun by McClellan, and for this he must fall. President Johnson, in a civil capacity, is bending every effort to consummate or perfect what was commenced by the war—a true and lasting peace—

H. H. Lloyd & Co's
NEW OFFICIAL
MAP of NEW JERSEY,
THE larger part of half a counties has already been published. The Map of New Jersey, by Thomas F. Gordon, was published in Trenton, Mercer, as it was at the time, the great prosperity and increase of its State have long demanded. Now, New Map is greatly was this need fully met, by an act of the Legislature, passed March 31, 1865, a complete Official and Geological survey was ordered. It was commenced and continued for many years, and the causes of expense beyond the estimates discovered the Legislature, and it was suspended. It is to be lamented, Dr. William Mitchell, who was at the head of the Geological Department, did not live to see the results of his years of labor. Prof. Cook, State Geologist, has completed the work, and, following as it does the purpose, and the aid of private capital and enterprise for the preparation and issue of the present splendid Statistics, he the publication of which he devoted the latter part of his life. He just lived to see it completed, and left the returns to be divided from it as a legacy to his family.
It is now presented to the citizens of our State, and to the public as the best State map ever issued of any State in the Union.
THE TOPOGRAPHY
will be found very complete. The roads, hills, school-houses, railroads, canals being carefully exacted; the Coast was received the special care of Dr. Mitchell. It gives the exact position of the whole State, and its numerous improvements of all kinds.
THE COAST
is taken from Prof. Bache's admirable coast survey, with the roads on the bay, ocean and river borders revised by actual measurement by oxen and distance. The soundings and channels are most carefully marked in detail.
PLANS of the county-seats and principal towns on a large scale are given in the margin.
THE CLIMATOLOGY,
furnished by the lamented Prof. Gardner, author of "American Climatology," will be found of peculiar interest. The number of rains and snows and the falling in different sections, is indicated by shading and figures. The average temperature for summer, winter, and the year is also indicated by lines passing through the State. With so vast an array of minute heat of 72 degrees is a line commencing at Cape May, and running south and west, to a point in Lambertville. In winter the mean cold 32 degrees, and runs from Philadelphia to Sandy Hook. While for the year, Philadelphia is the same average, 52 degrees, and runs through the centre. Various zones are at once to the eye as a general view.
RARE BIRDS shows the time at each point in the State when it is noted at Trenton.
A DIAGRAM
shows, by spaces, the comparative numbers of various Religious Denominations.
THE ILLUSTRATIONS, showing various classes of trees, and splendid steel border, make it in effect and finish the best Map made State map yet issued, and well worthy of the State.
THE COST
has necessarily been considerable, but it is issued in a large size. As a SPACE WORK, completed by the charge of large expenses, it presents such a strong claim to the patronage of our citizens, and it is with confidence that we present it to the public.
The price is uniformly SIX DOLLARS, although the actual manufacturing expenses has been nearly double. Those who subscribe at once can obtain copies early and at a much higher price.
We will only have subscription and sole to non-subscribers are declined.
The following letter from Gov. Parker was received by the Publishers:

CERTIFICATES:
BRIDGETON, April 2, 1866.
Mr. C. O. ADAMS:—DEAR SIR:—This is to certify that I was so much afflicted with Dyspepsia when I received your Bitters, in April, 1865, that I considered my days nearly numbered. I was so much reduced that I could hardly walk across the room, having tried all the known remedies, and one box of your Anti-Dyspeptic Bitters, and one box of your Camphorated Ointment, I am happy to say I am a sound man, as far as health is concerned, and can eat almost any thing with impunity, and feel, as I have not for many years. I have written this unsolicited testimonial, in order that I may have it in my power to say to any one afflicted with Dyspepsia, that I have found a remedy that will cure. Yours, &c.,

Mr. C. O. ADAMS:—DEAR SIR:—This is to certify that I was so much afflicted with Dyspepsia and Costiveness, that I was induced to purchase one dollar box which you will please send to me by express. I have used the contents of the box, and am happy to say I have found relief. I feel as though I can eat almost any thing with impunity, and feel, as I have not for many years. I have written this unsolicited testimonial, in order that you may have it in your power to say to any one afflicted with Dyspepsia, that I have found a remedy that will cure. Yours, &c.,

Canning Establishment.
THE Subscriber would inform the public that he has established himself in the business of Canning Fruits, Vegetables, &c., at the old stand, Bridgeton, N. J., and is now prepared to receive all kinds of Fruits and Vegetables in their season. There were years together that I have failed to have time after canning breakfast, been compelled to throw it off, and that I was unable, by many, every successful bathing wind from my stomach, while at times I was troubled with heart-burn, and the food I ate would sour on my stomach, causing me to have sick spirit, and all the symptoms of Dyspepsia known only to those who are afflicted with the terrible disease. In December, 1865, I was induced to try one bottle of your celebrated Bitters, to my astonishment I found almost immediate relief, and by the use of one bottle and a half I am now happy to say I am a sound man, as far as health is concerned, and can eat almost any thing with impunity, and feel, as I have not for many years. I have written this unsolicited testimonial, in order that you may have it in your power to say to any one afflicted with Dyspepsia, that I have found a remedy that will cure.

MILLVILLE, N. J., Nov. 10, 1865.
Mr. C. O. ADAMS:—DEAR SIR:—This is to certify that Adams' Camphorated Ointment has been an important article to me and my family for the past few years. I have been subject to Dyspepsia for years, and have tried almost every thing that I could procure, and the ointment, one or two applications of which relieved me from pain. In the year 1865, my wife was taken very ill so much so that I was physically unable to wait on her, and was the cause of considerable fear that she would die. I sent to Bridgeton, distance from my residence of 12 miles, and applied it, when received immediate relief; from one box of the Ointment she was restored to health.

WM. KNABE &
Celebrated Gold Medal
PIANO-FORTES,
J. BAUER & CO., AGENTS.
WAREROOMS,
650 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.
99 Clark St. and Crosby's Opera House,
Washington St., Chicago, Illinois.
Read the following commendatory letters addressed to Messrs. Gallaher & Schmidt, Artists.
Wm. Knabe & Co.—Gentlemen:
I have great pleasure in assuring that I have used your Grand Piano-Forte, which you sent me on trial, during my recent concerts; among the great number of Pianos which I have had occasion to use in the course of my professional career, I have never met with one which in every respect could compare with yours, and I shall always be happy to recommend it to my friends.
Yours, &c., IVAN MORAWSKI.
Wm. Knabe & Co.—Gentlemen:
I have much pleasure in expressing to you my entire satisfaction with the Piano-Forte which you have furnished me for my concerts. Its rich, sympathetic quality of tone, its easy and elastic touch, and its great power and volume, combine to render it a most valuable instrument for the artist, and a delightful one for the amateur, and I shall gladly recommend it to my friends.
Yours, &c., CARL WOLFSOHN.
Wm. Knabe & Co.—Gentlemen:
Your Opera Piano-Forte is unexcelled in its singing tone of pure musical quality, its easy and elastic touch, its power and volume, and its great durability. I have pleasure in recommending it to my friends.
Yours, &c., CARL ZERRAHN.
Wm. Knabe & Co.—Gentlemen:
I have carefully examined your New Scale Grand and Square Piano-Fortes, and find that they are Musical Director of The Italian Opera.
Wm. Knabe & Co.—Gentlemen:
I have carefully examined your new
