CIVIL COURT ISSUES HEARD BY JUDGE COLE

TRIALS WILL BE RESUMED
TUESDAY NEXT.

Detective Denied Pay For Hunting
Divorce Evidence—Two Women
Injured In Road Accident Are Awarded Damages.

Trials of issues listed in the Atlantic County Civil Court were started Tuesday last before Judge Clarence L. Cole, who will endeavor to clear the calendar as rapidly as possible. Work in this Court will be resumed Tuesday next and the Court has warned lawyers to have their cases ready when called or they will be laid over for another term.

Three judgments, one for $50, one for $400 and one for $150, were returned by Judge Tuesday against William Byers, a County resident, held responsible for the injury of Mrs. J. L. Behler, and Mrs. John P. Lehner, and "contributory injury" to Lehner through the loss of his wife's services. The defendant refused to present any defense, and the cases were given to the jury solely on the evidence of the plaintiff. Byers, it was shown, had, while driving along the road near Pomona, on November 12 last, struck a wagon in which Mrs. Behler and Mr. and Mrs. Lehner were riding. All were thrown out and only the two ladies were injured, Mrs. Lehner the more seriously of the two.

Action by Mrs. Harriet M. Kennard, a single woman, against Harper B. Kennard, a well-known photographer, was non-suited Wednesday by Judge Cole in Circuit Court. Mrs. Kennard had sued Kennard for damages, alleging that it was through negligence on his part that she sustained injuries last summer which incapacitated her for months. Mrs. Kennard, through her attorney, Judge John J. Crandall, claimed that during August last she had gone to the Exposition Building on the Boardwalk and had walked through the arcade leading to the main hall. She was attracted by the array of photographs that Smith had hanging along the wall, and had been so intent on them that she failed to see the opening to a steep flight of steps, leading to the cellar of the place. Down these she plunged, and in the fall her arm was broken and she sustained other injuries.

Mrs. Kennard sued Smith, claiming he should have had some warning sign or other protection across the trapdoor opening. Elmer Chandler, representing Smith, proved that the photographer not only did not own the premises, but that at the time he was only one of many that used the cellar for storage purposes.

Because the letter of the contract, which specified that he was "to get evidence sufficient to obtain a divorce upon" had not been carried out, Harry A. Foster, a local private detective, suffered the loss of his suit against Mrs. Lottie V. Laws, before Judge Cole Wednesday last. Foster had sued for $500 for services rendered, but Judge Cole ordered a non-suit when it was shown that the detective had not carried out his contract.

Last summer Foster was retained by Mrs. Laws to gather evidence of supposed wrong-doing by her husband, on which evidence she was to seek a divorce. In the contract it was specified that the detective was to be paid when "evidence on which a divorce was obtainable" was produced. Later the couple "made-up" and Foster's work went for naught.

Because the contention purely on the letter of the contract, and interpreting it to be that the work agreed to be done by Foster had not been completed, there never having been a divorce, or ground for one, through the detective's efforts, Judge Cole ordered the non-suit.

The question as to the proper size of a hotel kitchen area to trouble a jury Thursday in the trial of a damage suit brought by Hannah Littman against the American Hotel and Garden at Atlantic City. The case was on trial all day, being carried over to next Tuesday by Judge Cole. It was shown that Mrs. Littman had rented the place from the American Hotel and Garden, but after entering into tenancy discovered that it was altogether unfit, the place being so small, and the kitchen being too small and inconvenient. It is claimed that Mrs. Littman had to go elsewhere and expended money in getting another place suitable for her purpose of keeping boarders.

The Vice Grand's appointments for Right Supporter, Andrew Gillespie and Left Supporter, Herman Mueller, were also installed.

Members of the lodge look forward to a prosperous new term and are confident that the one hundred mark in membership will be reached. There was a big attendance at the meeting for installation, and it is noteworthy that during the entire last term attendance has been steadily increasing.

Steam Pipe Burst at Mill.

One of the most "lucky accidents" that ever happened at the cotton mill took place last Saturday afternoon, when a boiler blew off a steam pipe in the card room, instantly filling the big room with suffocating vapors. It was lucky in that it happened after working hours, when the employees were absent, for if it had occurred during working hours the chances are that some one would have been injured, if not by the explosion by the unavoidable rush for doors and windows.

School Meeting Postponed.

The meeting in the interest of High School pupils called to-day at Pleasantville, which was postponed until a later date, which will shortly be announced by County Superintendent H. M. Cressman, Dr. Calvin H. Kendall, of Trenton, who is desirous of attending the meeting, was unable to be present this week.

CONCERT CLOSE AT HAND.

Splendid Program To Be Rendered by Symphony Orchestra.

One of the greatest treats ever afforded music lovers of Atlantic County will be two concerts in the Apollo Theatre on the evenings of January 22 and 23, by the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra. At the two concerts the Orchestra will be heard under the brilliant new leader, Leopold Stokowski, with two distinguished soloists from the Orchestra, Mr. Thaddeus Rich, violinist, and Mr. Herman Sandby, cellist.

Mr. Rich, the Concertmaster of the Orchestra, and the first violinist, as is well known, has been making a great impression for himself this year than ever before, and it is the particular desire of the Atlantic Committee, as well as of the Orchestra Management, that the full resources of the Orchestra shall not only be displayed through the conductor and Orchestra, but through the solo work of Mr. Rich, and also of Mr. Sandby, since these two artists have always been prime favorites in Philadelphia and everywhere the Orchestra goes on tour. Mr. Rich was to have been heard in Atlantic City last year, but conditions arose which made it impossible for him to appear, and at the first concert last year the soloist was a well-known soloist, hence Atlantic City will hear Rich and Sandby with the Orchestra this year for the first time.

The program next Thursday evening will be as follows:

1. Ludwig van Beethoven—Symphony No. 5 in C Minor, Op. 67.
2. Johannes Brahms—Two Hungarian Dances.
3. Henri Wieniawski—Concerto in D Minor, for Violin and Orchestra, Op. 2.
4. Allegro Moderato.
5. (a) A. Zingari.
6. Amilcare Ponchielli—Ballet Music from "Gioconda."
7. Richard Wagner—Introduction to Act 3 "Lohengrin."

DIED IN CALIFORNIA.

Former Master Mechanic of Mill Will Be Buried To-day.

Death claimed John S. Albertson, a former resident, on Wednesday of last week in a hospital at Pasadena, California, where he had been taken a day or two before following a stroke of paralysis. Details of his demise are unnecessary. The remains were shipped this week and will reach Camden today, whence after services at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Earl C. Sheffer, 1411 Princess Street, they will be taken to Gloucester for interment. A delegation from Unity Lodge No. 9, F. & A. M., of this place, of which deceased was a Past Master, will attend the services, together with a delegation from Camden Lodge No. 15.

For a period of about ten years, between 1880 and 1885, Albertson was master mechanic at the cotton mill here and he will be remembered by many employees who worked there at the time, as well as by older residents. After leaving the mill little was heard of him and he was almost forgotten, a telegram from the Maudsle Relief Board of Los Angeles being the first tidings heard from him in many years.

MANY PROFESS CONVERSION.

Spirited Revival Meetings In Progress
At First M. E. Church.

Spirited evangelistic services, in charge of the pastor, the Rev. John W. Lynch, are in progress at the M. E. Church and more than twenty have already professed conversion. The altar has been brightly lit by church members and converts and the pastor looks for such a revival as has not been known here in many years. The meetings will be continued every night during the coming week, except Saturday, and all are welcome.

Pastor Lynch is in full charge of the services and is greatly assisted by many willing workers. A feature of the meetings has been the use of a new song book, replete with splendid church hymns, the music being enjoyed in by several instrumental players. An urgent invitation is extended to the public to attend the services during the coming week.

Well Merited Commend.

It hardly requires newspaper comment to commend the people that Judge Joseph A. Higgs occupied the position of Supreme Court Justice at May's Landing on Tuesday with infinite grace and ability.

As a matter of fact, Atlantic County may be compelled to wait a long time before it secures another Common Pleas Judge as able, as fair, as just, as loving as Judge Higgs. He is a man who has done genuine good on the bench and permitted none to none.

Judge Higgs is of the old-fashioned sort that tempers justice with mercy, and after all that is the kind of justice that we all admire down deep in our hearts and the kind that we shall come back to sooner or later.—Atlantic City Daily Press.

CONFER ON BAY BRIDGE

Atlantic and Cape May County
Freeholders to Hold Joint Session to Discuss Project of Span From Somers' to Beezley's Point.

With a view to having helpful legislation passed during the present session and of further discussing plans and specifications, the Bridge Committee of the Atlantic and Cape May County Boards of Freeholders will hold a joint meeting Tuesday next at Cape May Court House to discuss the project of a bridge over the Great Egg Harbor Bay from Somers' Point to Beezley's Point, which will connect the Shore Boulevard in this County with the new boulevard Cape May has built to Beezley's Point and form a link in the State Boulevard system.

Under the laws as it now stands, the State can only pay one-fifth of the cost, but inasmuch as the bridge will be primarily a State proposition the two counties involved between the Legislature should enact a measure appropriating at least one-half of the cost, which would have one-fourth to be paid by each of the counties. The cost has been variously estimated at from $350,000 to $500,000.

The Atlantic County members will proceed to Ocean City where they will be met by the Cape May County representatives in automobiles and escorted to Cape May. The members of the Atlantic County Bridge Committee are: John P. Ashmead, Alfred B. Smith, Charles Hart, John K. Johnson, Ira T. B. Smith, James Clark and John Hunselman. The Committee will report at the regular February meeting of the Board, to be held Wednesday, February 12, at Memorial Hall, Atlantic City.

Mr. Truempy expects to return to May's Landing within a few months in order to establish a wall paper factory, a project he has had in view for several years, and he believes he can bring it about if proper support is given by local business men. ## Only Place For Swearing.

Young men, don't swear. There is no reason for it outside the printing office, where it is useful when the paper is behind time, and it comes handy in proof-reading and is indispensable when ink works backward and the press begins to buck. It is sometimes brought into use when the foreman is mad, and it has been known to entirely remove that third feeling of the editor when he looks over the paper after it is printed, outside the printing office it is a very filthy habit, a filthy habit.

Founded at the head of tide-water on the banks of the Great Egg Harbor River, May's Landing has enjoyed from the first the reputation of being the most beautiful, most healthful place of residence in the section of New Jersey. Its magnificent oak trees have become famous, and beautiful Lake Lenape is scarcely less well-known. Inducements to manufacturers are exceptionally good. ## MAKING FRIENDS.

Blessed are they who have the gift of making friends, for it is one of God's best gifts. It involves many things, but above all the power of going out of one's self and seeing and appreciating whatever is noble and loving in another.

Hell, Hull and Halifax.

Halifax, supposed to be the most wealthy and prosperous town in the north of England in proportion to size, formerly possessed a curious notoriety. A class of thieves' "litany" ran, "From Hell, Hull and Halifax deliver us." This arose from the fact that Halifax at one time could inflict summary punishment upon anybody within a radius of nine miles who had committed a felony, especially by stealing cloth. The culprits were tried by a jury of four freeholders and if found guilty, as generally happened, were executed with a kind of guillotine at a spot still shown in Gildart lane—London Chronicle.

The Adirondack Lakes.

One of the most striking phenomena of the Adirondack region is the carrying power of the human voice in still weather upon the lakes great and small. Persons ashore easily hear the ordinary conversation of others who are so far off upon the lake as to be indistinguishable, and as a great many Adirondack visitors habitually violate the law forbidding the slaughter of deer all such offenders are extremely careful not even to whisper a word that might betray their guilt when roving upon the lakes.

Lava.

Lava may be blown into opaque but then of glassy transparency, and the harder sort makes a beautiful green glass of half the weight and double the strength of ordinary glass. But it is not always the same. Every volcano pours out its own special brand of molten mixture, disagreeable to walk on, but sometimes yielding precious products, as pumice stone. Lava, like all things, decomposes under the touch of time, as the fertile plains of Sicily testify.

Cockfighting Among the Greeks.

The sport of cockfighting seems to have originated with the Thendolites of Greece. When he was leading an army against the Persians, he noted two cocks in a desperate battle. To stimulate the courage of his soldiers, he pointed out the bravery of birds, and having won his battle with the Persians, he ordered that an annual cock fight should be held to celebrate his victory. In England the records show that the first cockfight took place in 1191.

The Jester.

He that will lose his friend for a jest deserves to die a beggar by the bargain. Such he the jests he that they may not bring the credit of his friend and make not jests so long that thou becomest one. Fuller.

Modern Cannon.

In modern high velocity cannon the pressure of the gases at the moment of firing generates tremendous heat. It is estimated that this heat runs as high as 8,000 degrees and even 12,000 degrees.

Two Orders.

Blink (the wholesaler). Well, how many orders did you get yesterday? Gink (the salesman). I got two orders. In one shop. Blink. What were they? Gink. One was to get out and the other was to stay out.

The Boss Abroad.

"You didn't go boss this year?" "No, it was the cock's turn this time."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Curious French Market.

There is a curious old market near Paris in which everything is sold at secondhand. Working girls can fit themselves out there from head to foot. As a writer says: Mind can sell her old felt hat and buy a straw one, exchange her old dress for a new one and, if she likes, buy a steak and a salad for her dinner, a paper bag of fried potatoes, sweets and some flowers for her window. Democracy is king here, and no more attention is paid to the millionaire who is looking for something marvelous which he may pick up cheap than to the man with a wooden leg who wants a new boot in exchange for a dozen sardines, five gloves and a stocking.

Why Eyes Get Red.

The eyeball contains a high percentage of blood, and why, therefore, is it white? The answer is that the blood vessels which supply its surface are so exceedingly minute that usually they do not admit the little red corpuscles to which the ordinary red appearance of the blood is due. Blood without these corpuscles is colorless or, at most, of the faintest yellow tint. But occasionally when the eye is irritated or when there is any slight or considerable derangement of the system certain of the little vessels enlarge sufficiently to allow the corpuscles to enter, thereby producing the well known red streaks or inflamed appearance of the eyeball.

Only One King Buried in Iceland.

In Iceland it is the boast of the native that "only one king is buried here." That was King Roelof of Norway, who, according to the sagas, "Helm-skjöldur," whom King Olaf the Holy "shipped," with the significant hint that he need not be in any hurry to return to his native land. Roelof, who was a shrewd, peacefully minded monarch, took the hint, went to sea and a thousand odd years ago set tied down to farming "at a little stand behind, Gullskjöldur, where were but few serving folk, and there he dwelt and on the fourth winter got the illness which brought him to his bane. So, it is said, he is the only king that rests in Iceland."

The Life Story of a Bow.

To get the full flavor of this anecdote, which occurs in Watt's "Edinburgh and the Lothians," you must know Edinburgh's Cowgate and its curious buildings. It happened to Dr. Guthrie, after whom a street in the neighborhood, including part of the House Wynd and College Wynd, is named. Dr. Guthrie had climbed to the summit of a tall "land" one day on a charitable visit. When he entered the room he perceived a row, of which the family seemed very proud. "However did you get that great animal up stairs?" asked the doctor, pointing after his climb. "Ay, but it never was down," was the laconic and conclusive reply.

Expert Dyers.

The Tyrians, it is claimed, were the most expert dyers of ancient times. The fabrics dyed with the famous Tyrian purple did not assume their proper color until after two days' exposure to the light and air. During this time they passed through a gradation of shades of yellow, green, blue, violet and red, which the dyers understood how to arrest and fix at any moment.

An Effective Lecture.

"Have a drink, old man?" "I've stopped. Every time I drink my wife gives me a lecture." "Have a smoke then?" "I've stopped smoking too. Same old lecture." "Why you are completely reformed. Your wife ought to take that lecture on the professional circuit."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

Mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.
