BOARD REFUSES TO PAY DETECTIVE BURNS' BILL

NOT ORDERED BY COUNTY SAY FREEHOLDERS.

Dangerous Condition of Mullica River Bridge Demands Early Action—Members Want Big Span Built As Soon As Possible.

Numerous important transactions took place Wednesday last at the regular February meeting of the Atlantic County Board of Chosen Freeholders, held in the Memorial Hall, Atlantic City, the session lasting beyond the usual hour and being marked by frequent spirited arguments. One of the most important of these was the matter of the payment of a bill rendered by the William J. Burns Detective Agency, of New York City, for $5,700, approved by Justice Samuel Kalisch and Charles S. Moore, Special State Attorney, for services rendered in the famous "Concrete Walk Plant" in Atlantic City.

This bill was handed in by Mr. Moore to the Finance Committee. The latter, however, refused to pass on it and Chairman William Black brought it before the Board, by presenting the statement. Then followed a lively discussion. Some of the members declared it extortionate, as Burns charged $100 a day and expenses for his own services and large amounts for his operatives. Others took the view that neither the Board nor any of the County officials had authorized the expense and that it should be paid by those who ordered Burns to do the work. The discussion resulted in an overwhelming vote against payment of the claim, only two members, Black and Kessler, voting for payment, and the bill was referred back to the Finance Committee for investigation.

That the members of the Boards of Atlantic and Burlington would likely be criminally responsible if any accident occured at the Mullica River bridge by reason of its neglected and dangerous condition was the opinion of Solicitor E. A. Higbee, following a report by Chairman John P. Ashmead of the Bridge Committee, that the bridge was in very bad condition. Mr. Ashmead will arrange an early meeting with the Burlington County officials in order that the bridge may be repaired as soon as possible.

Chairman Ashmead also reported that the Committee had conferred with the Cape May County Board and with State Commissioner Stephens relative to the Somers Point-Beesley's Point Bridge, but before a definite report could be made it would be necessary to have soundings made across the Bay. The Board by resolution ordered these soundings made, in conjunction with the State and the Cape May County Board, and at the next meeting the Committee will be ready to report fully on the nature and probable cost of the structure.

A suggestion by Freeholder Ernest Shackleford that action be held up on this bridge in order to permit the Ocean City people to build their bridge first met with distinct disapproval, the members seeming determined in their efforts to have the County bridge built as soon as possible.

Resolutions of sympathy were adopted by the Board on the death of the late County Collector Levi C. Albertson, and an engrossed copy ordered sent to the family.

No action was taken on the Shore Road Question, though the matter came in for considerable discussion. The road is not in fit condition to be finally approved, but repairs cannot be made until warm weather and some members were of the opinion that the contracts should be paid, withholding a sufficient sum to guarantee the repairs. Action was deferred until the next meeting.

Re-advertisement for bids for insurance on all the County buildings and the County Automobiles was ordered and the insurance will be awarded to the lowest responsible bidders.

County Collector E. L. Johnson was authorized to advance sufficient cash from time to time to Sheriff Ingersoll to pay witness fees, etc. The Board also voted to pay a bill contracted by the Sheriff for auto hire in serving summons.

A letter directed to Director Cyrus F. Osgood from the State Road Commissioner was read, recommending the reappointment of County Road Supervisor Japeet Price, who, the Commissioner stated, "is one of the best, if not the best, in the State." Inasmuch as the Supervisor's term has not expired no action was taken.

The Bell Telephone ordinance was to have come up for first reading, but changes having been made action was deferred until a new ordinance was drafted and submitted to the members. The Company wants a fifty year franchise, but the Board seems to think twenty-five years long enough. Free telephone service for all County business will be provided for in the ordinance.

The Building Committee was authorized to advertise for an adding machine and to secure a typewriter and check protector for the County Collector's office, also to secure additional bookcases for the law library at the Court House.

Once more the project of a County tuberculosis hospital was broached, but no one was inclined to take action, although the statute makes the erection of such an institution mandatory. Inasmuch as other counties have started to contest the constitutionality of the law, the members seemed inclined to await the outcome of the controversy.

A resolution looking toward the construction of a County boulevard across the meadows from Absecon to Atlantic City was introduced by Freeholder Fraley Doughty, but no action was taken. Freeholder Kessler of Absecon also presented a communication along the same line which was received and filed.

On report of Chairman A. B. Smith of the Almshouse Committee that the County Almshouse is overcrowded, the Committee was ordered to take such steps as may be necessary to secure an addition to the building and report at the next meeting.

South Jersey Educators To Make State Pamphlet.

Supt. W. H. Conners, of Buena Vista Township, and Mr. Alfred Chalmers, President of the Board of Education of that township, have been selected by the State Department of Education to prepare the Sweet Potato Pamphlet to be used in teaching practical agriculture in the schools throughout the State. Mr. Chalmers, who is one of the best authorities on sweet potato culture in the State and perhaps in the country will furnish the facts. Prof. Conners, who is well-known throughout the State as an editor and writer, and founder and editor of the N. J. School News, will arrange the material pedagogically for its practical uses in the grades.

Another Road to May's Landing.

The proposed State road from Pennsgrove to Atlantic City, as outlined in Commissioner Steven's office, would improve the highway from Pennsgrove through Sharptown and Woodstown, and from the latter place direct to Elmer, via Pole Tavern, and from Elmer to Malaga, where it would connect with improved road to May's Landing and the seashore.

Lodge Has New Regalia.

MAGILL JURY DISAGREED.

Conflicting Testimony Kept Twelve Out Twenty-three Hours.

After struggling all night and most of the following day with a mass of conflicting testimony, the jury in the trial of Charles W. Magill for manslaughter in the death of William Leech was discharged Wednesday afternoon last by Judge E. A. Higbee, before whom the case was tried.

The jury comprised the following talesmen: Edward Burton, Egg Harbor Township; William Staiger and Henry L. Hoist, Atlantic City; Watson S. Vansant and John K. Johnson, Port Republic City; Charles D. Thompson, Mulford T. Sharp, and Elmer S. Weaver, Pleasantville; Charles Ball, Hamilton Township; Theodore Smith, Egg Harbor Township; Henry F. Breder, Egg Harbor City; Curtis Somers, Linwood.

Acting County Physician Wescott was placed on the stand and he described the result of his post-mortem. He stated he had found a fracture of the skull, a cut on the lower lip, lacerations of the brain and extensive cerebral hemorrhage on the left side of the head. The latter was evidently the cause of death as it was pressing on the brain. From the appearance of the injuries the man must have fallen and struck the back of his head on the pavement.

Witnesses for the State testified that Magill struck Leech three times, the last blow felling the victim to the pavement.

Magill was placed on the stand and made a good witness for himself. He said he was standing on the sidewalk and Leech approached him and called him a repeater. "If you say that again I'll slap your face," replied Magill. Leech then emphasized it with a vile oath. "He then approached me in a threatening attitude and raised his hands as if to strike. I threw up my hands to ward off the blow and struck Leech, who fell to the sidewalk. As he fell I tried to catch him, but failed. I lifted him up and assisted in carrying him into Clark's drug store. I had no intention of injuring him and only acted in self defense."

TO SURVEY MAIN STREET

County Will Assume Maintenance of Municipal Highway and Relieve Township Taxpayers of Unfair Expense.

At the meeting of the Board of Freeholders held Wednesday last in Atlantic City, a resolution introduced by Freeholder Ira T. B. Smith, of Hamilton Township, was unanimously adopted, calling for a survey of Main Street through May's Landing from the bridge over Babcock's Creek to Baker's corner, so the county may assume the burden of maintaining this much-used highway and relieve the taxpayers of Hamilton Township of considerable expense.

The road money expended by the County is largely made up of funds secured through auto licenses, while the money used by the Township for road purposes is taken directly out of the pockets of local taxpayers, so the maintenance of the road by the County will place the burden where it properly belongs.

Freeholder Smith conferred with the Township Committee at their meeting Saturday evening last and submitted the resolution to be introduced, which met with the approval of the members of the Committee.

May's Landing is now the centre of four big County boulevards and will soon be the centre of five and possibly more. All of them now come to a dead end at the municipality and when the Freeholders take over the maintenance of the road it will establish an unbroken system of highways throughout the County.

Since auto travel has increased the maintenance of Main Street has often vexed the Township officials, who found themselves called upon to use a large portion of the money voted for road maintenance to keep the avenue in decent repair. With this burden off their hands, they will be able to devote the entire Township road appropriation to the improvement of other avenues in the municipality which have long needed attention.

Vineland Route Chosen.

State Road Commissioner Stevens has announced that the new State highway to be constructed between Bridgeton and May's Landing is to be built by way of Vineland, says a Bridgeton paper, which adds: Cumberland County has awaited the decision of the Commissioner patiently for a couple of months and while the verdict does not meet the approval of the road workers in this city, the fact that the Vineland route was chosen is not a surprise, as it was practically admitted by Mr. Stevens in a letter to a resident of Millville that both the proposed new roads, the one from Bridgeton to Cape May Court House and the one from Bridgeton to May's Landing would not pass Millville. Therefore, since the Court House route had been decided to be built by way of the Bridgeton-Millville Turnpike, people in Bridgeton who worked ceaselessly for the other road also began to lose confidence and feared that the Commissioner would do the very thing that he did do.

OLD MAPS FIGURE IN SUIT.

Priceless Documents Two Centuries Old Used In Fight For Land.

Title to land along South River dating back nearly 200 years is involved in a complicated litigation in which testimony was taken last week before Vice-Chancellor Lewis. The suit was brought by heirs of the late Mary Walker, of Freehold, who claim that they have been defrauded out of a large tract of land in the vicinity of South River. Eldon R. Walker, of Trenton, represents the complainant.

Eighteen years ago Mrs. Walker, with other heirs of John P. Walker, executed a deed to Anderson Bourgeois, conveying the tract in question, which according to representations alleged to have been made by Bourgeois, consisted of 450 acres. Subsequently, the complainant's assert, it was found that the deed conveyed title to more than 2,000 acres, but no effort was made to have it set aside.

Some years ago Mrs. Walker entered into an agreement of sale with the Garfield Land Company to dispose of about 2,000 acres of land, known as the Steelman tract. After paying $1,000 of the purchase price of $10,000, the land company discovered that the deed to Bourgeois included 626 acres of the land supposed to be in the Steelman tract. Mrs. Walker then attempted to set aside the Bourgeois deed as fraudulent, but died before the litigation was terminated.

An explanation of part of the uncertainty regarding the property was brought to light when testimony was given regarding the methods resorted to when grants of land were made by the King in this State. Not infrequently the grant would specify the conveyances of "1000 acres more or less, bounded and described as follows." Following this would be a description of the boundaries of the property granted which frequently would include several times the approximate amount supposed to be conveyed. This was done so frequently that in many instances the actual boundaries of the King's grants overlapped one another, thus creating disputes and confusion in the subsequent disposal of property.

During the trial, original maps and surveys, some of which were made long before the Revolution, were produced. In some instances, these maps, which are almost priceless, are the only authority to the title of large tracts of land in the State.

TINKERING WITH GAME LAWS.

More Changes Urged In Batch of Bills Before Legislature.

A bill has been introduced in the Senate to limit the open season for quail, rabbit, squirrel, English or ring-neck pheasant, grouse, prairie chicken, Hungarian partridge from November 15 to December 15 of each year. The penalty for violation is $20. Another bill has been introduced in the Senate making an open season for wood-duck between November 1 and the first day of March following.

Assembly Bill No. 42, intends to place flickers in the list of game birds and establish an open season when they may be killed, during the months of September and October. The same bill shortens the killing season for shore birds, making the open season from July 15 to December 31. This would prohibit Spring shooting when the birds stop on their migrations to the North to nest, but would make the season open when they return South in the late Summer. There is some talk of making a Federal law which will protect these migrators in all states through which they pass. Some other fish and game bills introduced in the Legislature are:

Licensing persons desiring to propagate pheasants, ducks and deer; Authorizes fish and game commissioners to sell, exchange or otherwise dispose of fish or fish eggs, game birds or animals from the State preserve; Authorizes complaints under fish and game acts to be made by any commissioner or protector upon information and belief; Makes it illegal to fish through or under ice in salt or fresh water, except for eels; Makes it illegal to sell or offer for sale any parts of squirrels or wild deer.

Muskrats and skunks will receive protection under the provisions of a bill which passed the Assembly. It makes the open season for skunks, muskrats, raccoon or otter from November 15 to March 15 following. For muskrats from November 15 to April 1 following. The muskrat, to take advantage of the closed season, must not, during the closed season, damage any canal banks or dams. If he does so, he may be shot.

Katzenbach Will Run.

At a dinner given in his honor in Tuesday evening last, Frank S. Katzenbach, Jr., former Mayor of Trenton, announced himself as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor. "I see no alternative," he said, "in view of the number of requests I have had to enter the fight, but now to declare my willingness to enter the party primaries for the nomination for Governor." There will doubtless be several candidates for the nomination, but it is now expected that the real race will be between Mr. Katzenbach and Mayor Wittpenn, of Jersey City, the latter being favored by Governor Wilson.

STATE ENGINEER HERE TO APPROVE NEW ROAD

WENT OVER SURVEY WITH COUNTY OFFICIALS.

Found Conditions Satisfactory and Early Start of Work Is Anticipated—Will Open Fertile Region Along Great Egg Harbor River.

Inspection of the route surveyed for the new boulevard along the Great Egg Harbor River from May's Landing to Somers' Point City was made yesterday by Assistant State Engineer Wickes, accompanied by Chairman George Jeffers of the Road Committee, County Engineer Estell D. Rightmire, Road Supervisor Japhet Price and Judge E. A. Higbee, Solicitor of the Board. The party made the detour over the route as closely as possible with a machine and it is said that Engineer Wickes expressed general satisfaction at the course as laid out by Engineer Rightmire. He will render his report immediately to the State Department and the return of the survey with the approval of the State Commissioner in time to take action at the next meeting of the Board of Freeholders is anticipated.

The road will leave Sugar Hill by way of the "back road" as it is now known, coming out on the present main road at the Union Cemetery. There will be a number of changes in the old road in order to lessen curves and make travel safer. The Board of Freeholders is anxious to get the road constructed as soon as possible, as it will not only open up the fertile agricultural region along the river but will establish a link with the proposed Bay Bridge and thus form a direct highway between the Capitals of Atlantic and Cape May Counties.

SENTENCES AGAIN DEFERRED.

Councilmen Involved In Concrete Walk Case Still In Suspense.

Further postponement of sentence in the matter of sentencing former members of the Atlantic City Council convicted for participation in the concrete walk conspiracy was made Tuesday last by Justice Samuel Kalisch, on request of Attorney General Edmund Wilson, and March 14 was set as the next date. The Attorney General said there were other indictments in some of the cases that should be disposed of and that he desired to make further investigations before moving for sentence.

A big batch of indictments numbering more than a half-hundred were handed to Justice Kalisch Tuesday by the Grand Jury, the Court impounding the true bills. The Jurors were instructed not to adjourn finally but to hold themselves in readiness if the Court deemed it best to convene them at any time.

Thomas Elton, one of the detectives who aided in the Burns' investigations in Atlantic City, who pleaded guilty to signing the names of Justice Kalisch and Attorney General Wilson to bills aggregating about $500, was saved from a State Prison term, to which he was first sentenced, by his physical condition. Ever since his incarceration two months ago Elton has failed in health and he fell unconscious Tuesday when sentenced to State Prison. After several pleas for clemency Justice Kalisch changed the sentence to four months in the County Jail. Elton asserts that he did not intend to do wrong in signing the names as he had been accustomed to placing the same signatures on other papers. It was a fact that the money was due him.

Harvey Thomas, editor of the "Atlantic City Review," was fined $50 on a charge of libel to which he pleaded guilty.

WILL IMPROVE RURAL ROAD.

Clarktown Residents and Mail Carrier Wait On Committee.

A delegation of Clarktown residents and U. S. Mail Carrier Roy E. Beach waited on the Township Committee Saturday evening last and calling attention of the officials to the deplorable condition of the road in that district asked the Committee's attention to its early improvement. The Committee promised to give prompt attention to the matter and made an inspection of the conditions the next day in order to determine what is to be done.

The Committee was also waited upon by a delegation from Reliance Hose Company, who requested that an insurance of $1,000 be placed on the fire fighting apparatus and that they be authorized to have snow cleared away from fireplugs in case of bad storms. Their requests were granted.

Purchase of a small two-horse road scraper was determined on by the Committee during the meeting, as the large scraper is unwieldy and expensive to operate. The Committee also took up the matter of improvements to the light service and transacted other business, including the payment of bills.

MAY'S LANDING, FEBRUARY 15, 1913.

Atlantic County's road supervisor, Japhet Price, is paid a high tribute by State Road Commissioner Stephens, who says that Price "is one of the best, if not the best, road supervisors in the State." Mr. Price has a thorough knowledge of road work, keeps in touch with developments in good road experiments and devotes his whole attention to the work, and the Commissioner's expression of respect is well deserved.

Residents in many sections of the Township are clamoring for more improvements on the Township roads and their demand is justified. Happily the road appropriation is increased this year and more work can be done in the rural districts. Specific complaints should be made to the Township Committee in time to permit the members to so apportion the road funds that the greatest good may be done to the greatest number.

CHEERFULNESS.

Give us, O give us, the man who sings at his work! Be his occupation what it may, he is equal to any of those who follow the same pursuit in silent sullenness. He will do more work in the same time; he will do it better; he will persevere longer. Wondrous is the strength of cheerfulness, altogether past calculating its powers of endurance. Efforts to be permanently useful must be uniformly joyous, a spirit of sunshine, graceful from very gladness, beautiful because bright.—Carlyle.

An Odd Comparison.

The late Dr. [illegible] in respect of his special knowledge of agriculture was frequently [illegible] by his territorial title of "Cotswold [illegible]" held in great admiration by the Scotch farmers.

"Did ye ever hear the doctor preach?" asked one farmer of another at a highland show.

"Na, niver. Did you?"

"Aye, man, an' as sune as he gaed into the pulpit an' put his fingers on the Bible ye could see he kent fine hoo tae handle a beast!"—London Tatler.

Swallows' Nests.

Swallows and house martins build by sticking together pellets of prepared road mud. Most of the material is obtained from the drying puddles on the high roads. If not mixed with anything else the tendency of these pellets would be to crumble when dry. But the swallow tribe is supplied with a mucous secretion which enables it to gum the particles together.

Where He Drew the Line.

M. de Sainte Beuve, the popular French writer, once fought a duel. When the principals took their post it was raining hard. Sainte Beuve had his pistol in one hand, with his other hand he held up his umbrella. The seconds protested.

"I have no objection whatever to being killed," said he, "but as to being wet—no, no!"

Cows of Jersey.

In the island of Jersey every girl who marries receives a cow as a part of her dowry.
