

STATE PRISON TERM FOR LYING TO COURT

PERJURED WITNESS PLEADS GUILTY TO CHARGE.

Severe Warning by Judge Higbee Should Have Lasting Effect—Three Bonds Forfeited—Robbers Receive Eight Months Sentence.

As a sequel of the conviction of William Haughey, an Atlantic City magistrate, and Tony Scardullo, one of the State's chief witnesses, Benjamin Minchberg was arraigned in Court before Judge E. A. Higbee at Thursday's session and pleaded guilty to perjury himself on the witness stand. He was sentenced to a term of one year in State Prison by the Court.

Minchberg testified at the hearing in Atlantic City that he gambled at the shop of Mr. Haughey, but was not a witness at the trial. He was arrested on charges of being in the room where the robbery was committed. He was held in the Trenton Jail and was released on $500 bonds for Court. He was arraigned on the charge of perjury and was held in the Trenton Jail. He was released on $500 bonds for Court.

Three bonds were forfeited at Thursday's session of the Court. They were Samuel Surgo, $100, Morris Lampert, surety; James E. Scott, $50, K. W. Smathers, surety; Lemm Winkelman, $20, Frank Farkas, surety.

Joseph Holmes, a colored constable, was convicted of assault and battery on Edward Turner, a saloon keeper. Holmes began to have a quarrel with Turner in the street of his famous saloon and went beyond his authority in arresting Turner without a warrant, committing assault and battery upon the latter when he resisted arrest. Sentence was not passed.

A note prosequi was entered on motion of the State in the case of Arthur Tunnell, indicted for petit larceny, and the defendant was allowed to go, there being extenuating circumstances in the case that warranted such action. Rufus Johnson and Arthur Lawrence both pleaded guilty of larceny and were sentenced to terms of eight months each in State Prison.

ANSWERS LAST ROLL CALL.

Veteran William D. Souder Succumbs To Attack of Pneumonia.

Few deaths have occasioned such general grief here in recent years as that of William D. Souder, aged sixty-four years, who passed away Saturday morning last after a brief illness of pneumonia at his home on Maple Avenue. Few residents were aware of his illness and the news of his demise shocked the entire community. Mr. Souder was a life-long resident of May's Landing and one of its best known and most highly respected citizens.

During the Civil War he enlisted in the Union army in the 24th New Jersey Volunteers, serving with distinction. He was a charter member and assisted in the organization of General William J. Sewell Post, Co. A. R. and also May's Landing Company, No. 121, Order United American Mechanics. He held several municipal offices and enjoyed the esteem and friendship of his fellow citizens. He is survived by a widow and seven children, four sons and three daughters: Harry, of Atlantic City; Samuel, of Panama; Lewis, of Philadelphia; and George, Misses Irlina and Mary and Mrs. Rachel Thompson, of this place.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning from his late residence and was largely attended. The services at the house were conducted by the Rev. S. K. Moore and internment was made in the cemetery under the charge of Gen. Sewell Post. Members of the O. U. A. M. attended in a body and acted as pall-bearers. The County Captain Cornel Band led the funeral procession, playing appropriate music. The floral tributes were many and handsome, consisting of wreaths, a pillow and roses from the family, a beautiful wreath of white roses from fellow workmen in the machine shop at the cotton mill, and a floral emblem of the O. U. A. M. in red, white and blue, forming a square, compass, arm and hammer. It was one of the largest attended funerals held here in many years. The entire community joins with the bereaved family in mourning the loss of one who, in his lifetime, was respected and beloved by all who knew him.

In Memoriam.

The following resolutions were adopted by May's Landing Council No. 121, Order United American Mechanics, at a session held Monday night last in the County Chamber, Wellington, Kansas. The Grand Commander of the Council has again visited our noble order and removed from our association our honored and beloved brother, William D. Souder, and although his loss is grievous and causes us much sorrow, we bow in submission to His Divine Will, realizing that the Heavenly Parent is too wise to err and too good to be unkind, therefore be it

RESOLVED, That the Council has lost a valuable member, one who lived in accord with the principles of the order, Honesty, Industry and Sobriety; the wife a devoted and loving husband; the children a kind parent; General William J. Sewell Post, Grand Army of the Republic, a true comrade and the community an esteemed citizen. Be it

RESOLVED, In this sad hour of bereavement we commend the family to the mercy of Our Almighty Father, who has promised to cheer the distressed and comfort the sorrowing. Be it further

RESOLVED, That a copy of these resolutions be presented to the family, a copy spread on the minutes of the Council and published in the "Atlantic County Record," and the charter of the Council be draped for a period of three months.

WESTERN SPIRIT WINS

"Pull for May's Landing Or Sink" Suggested As a Slogan—How They Make Things Move Out in Kansas.

It is with great pleasure that we publish the following wide-awake letter from the able pen of Miss Bertha F. Cramer, who is sojourning at Wellington, Kansas: Editor of The Record: DEAR SIR:—I read with interest last week's issue of the "Record," requesting suggestions for a slogan for May's Landing.

Since coming to the Middle West I have learned the meaning, and witnessed the results of a slogan. Many of these bustling cities have them, but most interesting to me is the one I have seen on several occasions in the wonderful city of Wichita.

At the heart of the city, at the intersection of the two main business streets, are stretched immense letters formed of electric lights, and high in the air, the words, "Watch Wichita Win."

And she is winning! Wichita is the most talked-of city in the Middle West today. Her growth has been marvelous. Thirty years ago the site was a broad prairie covered with waving grain. To-day the boundaries of the city extend ten miles in each direction. The population reaches 70,000. Fifty miles of asphalt pavement were laid last year, and yesterday I saw workmen busily engaged in the work of laying the fifty-mile contract for this year.

There is not a saloon in Wichita, but instead, many of the street corners are beautified by splendid mansions. On the vast expanse of sea is dotted, but over the rolling grain fields he may walk and drive, and be content.

Then in the second place, Wichita is a railroad center, being on the lines of the Santa Fe, Rock Island, Missouri Pacific, Orient, Wichita and Western, and the Denver, Memphis and Atlanta Railroads.

And lastly, the city is governed by commissioners. These commissioners are impeached at the moment it is found they are not working for the city's good. It is not only the people's right to impeach them, but it is done. The letter of the law is kept. In this way, every citizen of Wichita is working for his city. There is an air of "oneness" in the streets, in the business places and wherever one goes. Every wayfarer seems to impart the information, "This is my city; I'm helping to make it win."

Is not this the secret of every city or town that has "won"? Its citizens must be united. They are in the prosperous towns I have visited here. All work together, for each other's good and advancement. If a widow's home burns, she and her children are taken in by some near-by family, and sheltered for months, while the townspeople build a cozy new home, and furnish it comfortably by subscription and gift alone. This is not an exception, but a frequent occurrence.

And so I believe that if our own home town is to win, we must put away interests that are entirely selfish, and pull hard together for a more life, more modern, more united town. Into alliance while others pull hard for a "greater May's Landing."

In view of this, my suggestion for a slogan is: "Pull for the LANDING—or sink!" Yours very truly, MISS BERTHA F. CRAMER, Wellington, Kansas, February 28, 1910.

Cologne News.

Henry Lipe entertained a number of friends and relatives on Monday evening in honor of his 83rd birthday. An impromptu program of recitations, songs and musical numbers was enjoyed by all. None won more applause than a recitation by the aged Mr. Lipe in the language of his beloved Fatherland. Later, refreshments were served. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Henry, William Selman, Louis Bauer and Charles Metzner; Misses Marjorie Schaub, Edna Bauer and Katie Lipe; Messrs. Albert Grunow, Herman Henschel, Frederick Gaup, Herman and Carl Gelselman, J. Warren Gifford, George and Harry Schaub, Henry, Herman, George and Frederick Lipe.

WON ORATORICAL HONORS.

Burton Gaskill Debates In Old-Time Style at Tennessee University.

Several years ago the young men of May's Landing formed a debating club and met once a week to debate. Burton A. Gaskill, now a member of the senior law class of the University of Tennessee, was one of the members of that club, and from the reports of the inter-collegiate debate of the University, won by Mr. Gaskill and his colleague, Harley G. Fowler, he debated in his old time style on the question, "Resolved, that the United States should adopt a system of shipping subsidies."

The debate was the thirty-third annual contest between the Philomathean and Chi Delta Societies, and was held on the evening of Washington's Birthday in the Science Hall of the University, about two thousand people attending. The affirmative side included Louis E. Edkins and Henry C. Hart. Both sides had an excellent team, and research and presented strong arguments, but the points scored by Mr. Gaskill and his colleague were sufficient to win a unanimous decision from the judges. Mr. Gaskill secured much valuable data for his argument at Washington, where he stopped off last January when returning to the University after spending his vacation at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Gaskill.

Mr. Gaskill is in addition to being president of the senior law class, he is president of the Chi Delta Literary Society and also of the Phi Cappa, one of the honor fraternity societies of the college. He will graduate next June and will engage in practical law work previous to taking the State bar examinations.

REDUCE FOREST FIRE LOSS.

Protection to New Jersey Woodland Means Large Saving.

In the midst of storm and with the ground saturated the danger of forest fires seems remote, yet the State Forest Commission is preparing for what may come within a few weeks, and this year hopes to be able to report fewer forest fires in New Jersey than ever before.

The Forest Fire Service is now organized in 10 townships, boroughs and cities, and the wardens are prepared to promptly look after every fire that may be started. More than 110,000 acres of woodland are now protected by the State Forest Commission and its provisions.

The Forest Commission plans an appeal to the people of the State Monday and Tuesday next to prevent the starting of a forest fire. The woodlands of New Jersey, now largely wasted through fires and other abuse, aggregate upwards of 2,000,000 acres. This great area should be a source of steady revenue to its owner, and to the State, instead of yielding as it actually does only a fraction of what it is capable of producing.

Forest fires nowadays, even in dry seasons like the last two, cause much less loss than they did in the past. This is because there must be no let-up in the effort to stop them. We need wood and ought to have the forests that produce it. We can have both by stopping the fires and thereby encouraging the property owners to practice forestry.

Egg Harbor City News.

Fire broke out Saturday last in the tenement house of Fred Schuchardt on the boulevard but was extinguished by the firemen before much damage was done.

Enslin Harker spent Sunday last here as the guest of his mother.

Henry Hohnhuber and daughter Anna, of Philadelphia, former residents, enjoyed a few days sojourn here recently.

The services in the St. John's Reformed Church were held Sunday last in honor of a cordially invited to attend.

The "News" of the most wide-awake weekly in New Jersey, ended the fourth year of its existence Wednesday last. Editor Breder is to be congratulated on the publication of such an up-to-date journal, which is all printed in the "News" office and is a credit to the city. The residents of the city should give it all-ledge support, for a live newspaper is one of the best municipal institutions in existence.

Glady, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Callaway, celebrated her twelfth birthday Sunday evening last. Games were followed by refreshments and the little hostess received many presents. Those present were: Misses Nathalie Crist, Esther Bozarth, Lillie Kumpf, Clara Mueller, Carrie Oberghel, Ruth Cressman, Emolita and Gladys Callaway. Masters Fred, Winterbottom, August Day, George Crist and Louis Wimberg.

Isris News Notes.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Sooy, of Philadelphia, left Sunday night after spending a few days here as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Mitchell.

Alfred Garrett, of Ocean City, spent Sunday last at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Garrett.

Mrs. Peter Bolter, who has been very ill in New York, has returned to her home here much improved in health.

Mrs. P. G. Jeffrey, who is spending the Winter in Marshfield, spent Sunday at her home here.

Mrs. August Miller is visiting friends in New York City.

Mrs. U. DuBols, of Vineland, was a visitor at the home of George Horton last Saturday.

Daniel Nordau was a May's Landing visitor Thursday.

Gravelly Run Items.

Mrs. Annie Simons returned home yesterday after a pleasant visit with her son, Harry Simons, in Atlantic City.

Mrs. Joyce Leeds of Pleasantville is here as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Trean.

Mr. Alfred Joslin received a severe shock in the storm Monday evening last being stunned for several hours. While riding home on his wheel he was overtaken by the shower and he noticed electricity running around the spokes of his wheel and over the handlebars. The shock was not received, however, until it began to rain, and instantly he lost consciousness and fell from his wheel. He revived and reached home, but without his wheel. That was found next morning by his uncle. One large cut on the bridge of his nose is left to show the effect of the strange experience.

Letters By Telegraph Next.

The Union Telegraph Co., which has the mileage of wires laid during night hours, contemplates the inauguration of a new letter service, whereby letters of any words can be sent during the night at the same rate now charged for ten word messages during the day. If the proposed service is started it will likely be largely patronized by business houses and by others on rush orders. Communications will be filed at midnight and delivered thousands of miles away the next morning at the opening of business hours.

Card of Thanks.

The family of the late William D. Souder, who died at his home here Saturday last, desire to express their appreciation and thanks for the assistance and sympathy of friends during his recent illness and death.

Road Repairs Have Begun.

Overseer John Smith yesterday began to repair the roads of the municipality by scraping in order to place them in first-class condition for warm weather travel.

Board of Trade Meeting.

The March meeting of the Board of Trade will be held Thursday evening next at Library Hall. A good attendance is requested.

MAY'S LANDING, MARCH 5, 1910.

The excellent results and efficiency of the May's Landing water supply system demonstrate the economy of municipal ownership of public utilities.

The number of people who don't understand the tariff, the corporation problem, ship-subsidy and other current topics is only equalled by the number who don't try to.

If one will take a pencil and estimate the numbers of "hangers-on" as compared with actual producers the figures will explain some of the economic problems that are vexing the average citizen.

Although the birds are singing by day and the frogs are croaking by night, while the soft balmy air tempts man to forget the season, it is not yet time to don spring garments. There will be many cool days and much unpleasant weather before the leaves begin to show.

The first things strangers notice when coming into a town are the railroad station, the sidewalks, the roads, the business houses, the homes and the spirit of the residents. Every municipality should endeavor to give favorable impressions in all these particulars if it would make substantial civic progress.

The Board of Trade is contemplating the selection of a conspicuous slogan for May's Landing. That is a move in line with public progress. When the slogan is adopted, it should be printed on every post-card, envelope and letter-head that is sent from the municipality. It is only a little thing, but sometimes 'tis the little things that count most.

Literary and debating societies are invaluable to young men whose ambitions lead them to seek self-improvement. An instance of this is seen in the victory of a May's Landing boy at a college debate in Tennessee, who several years ago took a prominent part in contests at Liberty Hall. There is no better training for a young man who wishes to make a mark in life than public debating.

Game wardens throughout the State will be on their guard this year when the annual run of herring, by the fishery boats, is allowed on, for land is discouraged. Scientific experiments have proven the small value of the fish for this purpose. The practice is a wanton waste of food, even though the fish may be plentiful, and should not be permitted to continue.

Wise the farmer who knows when to plant in order to avoid killing frosts and yet to be in the market first with his produce. One week's time means a profit or a loss on early crops. The science of knowing when to plant is one of the secrets of success. If the planting is done too early, oftentimes the seeds do not sprout, or if they do the tender shoots are nipped by cold weather; if too late the crop ripens too late to bring fair prices. The wise farmer will study the weather conditions and time his planting accordingly.

The establishment of a game farm in New Jersey seems to meet with general approval. If the project becomes a reality, it will doubtless prove economical and permit the rapid propagation of game species. The State Forest Reserve on the Great Egg Harbor River is the best location in the State for such a farm and if the Legislature decides to make an appropriation for the project South Jersey sportsmen should take prompt steps to have it established on this tract, which covers thousands of acres of oak woodland for the propagation of all kinds of game.

"What's the use of having eyes if all one can see are faults and follies?" One might as well be blind indeed. Yet how many people shut out the sight of all that is good and lovable and look only upon sin and sorrow all the days of their life! Such people would be welcome to all the pleasure they get out of the contemplation of misery, if they kept it to themselves; but nine times out of ten they do not. The people who thus afflict themselves and their neighbors are usually the ones who have least reason for so doing, while those who have had real trouble and sorrow radiate sunshine and happiness all about them. Look upon the silver lining of the clouds; raise your eyes from the dull ground to the bright sky; look upward and upward, and reflect some of the glad sunshine of life!

Some men are like the main-spring of a watch, which is not seen but does the real work; while others, like the hands, move about conspicuously and proudly point to the time of day. Of the former type is Congressman John J. Gardner, known in Washington as "Old Brains." "Uncle John," as he is familiarly known to his constituents, is one of the oldest members of Congress in point of service and one of its hardest workers. "Old Reliable" would not be an inappropriate title for him, for whenever his colleagues are in doubt they appeal to the member from South Jersey. He is one of the ablest members of the lower branch of the National legislature and while others are debating in the gallery "Old Brains" is "saying little but saying work." His record for efficient and faithful service is an enviable one.
