ndance at the annual New Jersey M. E. Conbu at Ocean City, which opened ay last in the First Methodist Episcohurch and will end during the coming eck, following the affaouncement of appointnents Tuesday evening or Wednesday mornog. Considerable uncertainty is said to exist s to the reappointment of pastors to several of the more important churches, nearly all of which have asked for their return and will protest against changes; Bishop John W.

Among the rumors current relating to imending changes is one that the Rev. Dr. N. J. Wright, Superintendent of the Bridgeton P rict, is seeking a church pastorate. According to report, in such event, efforts will be ade to fill the vacancy by the appointment f the Rev. Le E. R. Brunyate, pastor of the resent Conference Church. Doctor Brunyate s been in Ocean City five years, and during at time has built the present church and rsonage. He is regarded as a man of great xecutive force and an able financier. The pointment as District Superinfendent would e for six years.

Conference opened with the administration Cthe Lord's supper by Bishop Hamilton, asisted by the district superintendents. Roll call lowed that conference has 208 preachers, 14 thatleners and 70 supplies. Nearly all re-

The Rev. M. E. Snyder, of Atlantic City, was -elected Recording Secretary and the Rev. John R. Mason, of Millville, was re-elected tatistical Secretary. The Rev. D. C. Cobb, of Sunden, was chosen to succeed the Rev. A. L. szard, who retires as Treasurer after filling be office for many years. Conference gave Mr. Iszard a vote of thanks for his services. The standing committees and the special orimittees, of 1910 were re-elected. The Rev. L. Surtees, of Atlantic City, was elected hairman of the pence committee. Memorial services were held for deceased members.

Hor of Wie Record DEAR SIR :- I think that we who are opposed o stable government of any form have got . I do not ask for space to beast of our riumph, but in the hope that you sticklers for order, law, national strength and stability can made to see the situation and "die easy," We baye believed in common that ourgovernment "founded in constitutional liberty would prove the champion and make a nev record for longevity. Now, if we show you, as we can if you will let us, that the Governmen of the fathers, if not already gone, is going sure enough, may we not hope that you and all those of your faith will cease resistence and make our success quick? Where will we begin? Why, any old place. The proofs lie all about us. Civil pensions, civil service reform, the short ticket, power concentrated in an executive, provided only we elect him at stated periods, Government ownership, referendum and recall - each of these is a solemn bell to be set in the chime that can be made to play only a dirge for constitutional liberty Agone, and this will be the triumphal march of those who oppose stable Government.

Begin any old place? Yes! the signs all point our way. The papers just now are ex ploiting the autyance of the "merit system." How nice it sounds! This is because the last report "plumes" the administration for putt ing assistant postmusters in the classified ser vice. It did it, and immediately asked Congress to increase the salaries. Who shall challenge the merit system when an executive order has the virtue to infuse merit into the myored and make them worth more money a once? Why need we work anymore? The true wealth of a nation is in its people and when an order can increase the value a million why haven't we an inexhaustable mine of wealth Lithe mere power to issue executive orders: To pay the increases needs, only more tax and who cares about taxes now that they are "translated" into "new sources of public revenue." Nobody likes to pay tax, but none s so base as not to enjoy taxation as " a sourc of public revenue." Governor Wilson is not alone in seeking to reform, society by a transation of terms. Since December 1st, the day tant Postmasters were baptised into the Service-some of them, with gross disrer the workings of the "system," died lices their salaries were below It is desired to promote 'to a less sulary

IMPROVING TOWN HIGHWAYS.

Overseer Gaskill Placing Roads Ir Good Shape For Coming Season.

Road Overseer Edmund C. Gaskill, recently appointed by the Township Committee to look after improvements to the municipal high ways and keep them in good condition, has started right in to perform the duties of his office and placed a number of men at work or the roads during the past week getting them in shape for the coming season.

The appearance of Main Street has been improved by clearing the sides of the road to the curbing, regravelling and opening of drains so water can run off freely. Work was started on the gravelling of the road from Farragut Avenue to Pennington's Point but property wners have disputed the location of the road More than two hundred ministers are in atso the improvement has been halted until its exact route is determined by the Township Committee:

The River Road, which is in bad condition and so narrow at some places that automobiles and wagons have trouble in passing each other, will be widened and regravelled, an important improvement, as this road is heavily travelled in Summer. New falling will be creeted along the sides of the road and the drainage improved. As soon as Main Street is placed in first-class condition work will be Hamilton, of Boston, is presiding over the started on the other avenues of the munici-

WILL REMOVE DEATH-TRAP.

Old Coal Yard at Grade Crossing Soon a Thing of the Past.

Erection of a large new coal yard with capacity of 850 tons on its property near the mill by the Water Power Company will do way with the old coal yard at the dangerous raliroad grade crossing at the Main Station and remove a dreaded death-trap that so tutomobiles or wagons cannot see approach ing trains. The old yard was indirectly the cause of the death of a wealthy Camden manufacturer and his wife a few years ago when their automobile was struck by an expres

The new yard will be well equipped for handling coul and will be more convenient for distribution than the old one. It will be on the railroad switch that leads to the coal bins and ware house at the mill. The new yard will be completed sometime during the Spring and the old one will be torn down, which will give drivers on the Estelville road a clear view of approaching trains on the Southbound track.
