SENATOR WALTER E. EDGE.

If preparation, determination, service and real achievement are to be accepted by voters of New Jersey as meriting appreciation, and advancement in the service of the people, the public record of Senator Walter E. Edge assuredly entitles him, as a candidate for the nomination for Governor, to ask for and receive the friendlicat of consideration at their Senator Edge is nearing 41 years of age. He has lived in New Jersey continuously for 41 of these years. He has been associated with leglelative activities at Trenton, except for a few years, since 1897. He was Journal Clerk of the Senate in 1897-98-99, and was promoted to the Secretaryship of the Senate in 1901, holding that office for four years, longer than any provious incumbent. He was elected to the Asembly in 1909 by the largest majority ever sccorded a candidate in Atlantic County, and was force the appoint Lines when he took his sea, an unprecedented distinction.

Colonel Edge was elected to the Senate in the following year, and with the present seesion, will have served six years in that body. He served as Majority Leader and in recognition of his ability was made President of the Senate for the session of 1915. # A FEW WORDS OF EXPLANATION

There are a few facts in connection with the proposed road improvement in this municipality that should be plainly understood by every resident and taxpayer.

To begin with, the work proposed will mean at least $60,000 worth of public improvements and not a dollar of expense to the people of this community.

Unless the road at Sugar Hill is changed, an overhead crossing will be necessary in a few years with approaches extending eight hundred feet either side of the railroad.

The plans contemplate a thirty-foot wide highway through May's Landing, paved with any form of material citizens prefer; two handsome bridges, wide as the road; a road along the river opening up the best river-front property near the town; a new road from Sugar Hill, North of the railroad to Absecon Crossing.

The entire expense will be borne by the County, the State and the railroad. Every property-owner whose interests are affected will receive commensurate damages.

> As a result of continued warm weather followed by low temperatures, indications point to a severe injury of peach buds through New Jersey, particularly in the central and Southern sections. The bud killing on lender varieties is as high as 80 per cent, in some gery and obtaining money under false precases, and not over 50 per cent. In others in the same locality. Such varieties as Elberta, Crawford, Fox Seedling and Reeves, are severely injured in most sections, while the hardler varieties, such as Lols, Carman and Greensboro, still abow enough buds alive for a good erop. Belle of Georgia shows a slightly higher percentage of live buds than Elberta, and indications are that the bud injury on Hiley is indictment for keeping a disorderly house; similar to that on Belle of Georgia. # PATENT MEDICINE WARNING

State Department Scores Fakers Who Promise Impossible Cures.

A terse warning against "patent medicines has been sent out by the Department of Public Health of New Jersey, which says:

"It is a well known fact to all who are familiar with the subject, that patent medicines do not cure disease. On the other hand there are two distinct dangers inherent in this pernicious evil. The first is that through reliance upon patent medicines delay in adopting proper methods of cure may permit the disease to become so far advanced that a cure is impossible. The other is that the medicines themsalves may have a deleterious effect upon the person taking them and upon the diseas for which they are taken.

"It is difficult to imagine a meaner man than the man who will take advantage of persons who are sick, and grasping at straws for ours, by alinring advertisements making able differences in sligged fines and costs imextravagant promises impossible of fulfillment as to the curative effects of some nostrum. Construction Will Begin When County Project Goes Through-Opens River Front To May's Landing Residents and Boatmen -Railroad Engineers To Work Out Details of Improvement.

At a conference held Monday morning last it the offices of the West Jersey and Se Rallroad in Camden between Supt. James puckerew and when uncount, the Rither spe proved the suggestion of the latter that, in consideration of the closing of the Sugar Hill crossing, the railroad build a new local road from the Sugar Hill bridge to the Court House station, South of the tracks, across what is known as the junk house wharf, Supt. Buck-lew promised to have plans made at an early date by railroad engine and the project will be put through at the

In addition to building the road, Sept. Buckelew was asked to dedicate to the town ship that portion of the wharf property, near the bridge, now beld by the railroad, as the Township Committee is endeavoring to acquire the entire junk house wharf property to hold perpetually as a public wharf and park. This matter was held under consideration but t is considered probable that the railroad will grant the request.

Warm approval has been given by many residents to the project of a road South of the Oliver H. Guttridge to Mary A. Wootton, 75x the project for acquiring this river frontage as tracks, opening up the river front and also to a public property, whileh in years to come will undoubtedly prove a very useful one for the people of May's Landing. The proposed river road will entail no expense on the town.

Three Men in Wagon Attempt Midnight Raid On Local Store.

Thleves broke into the Water Power Store about midnight Baturday last and were soured off when the burgiar alarm, connecting with every window and door in the building, went off, arousing neighbors. They drove into the rear yard of the store, three in the vehicle, leaving the wagon there while they entere the building. William Rogers was awakened by the alarm and hurried at once to awaken Supt. Charles H. Kears. The burglars, however, took fright and dashing out of the store with a low small articles they grasped in their flight, drove away before flogers and Kears returned.
