MAY'S LANDING, N. J., SATURDAY, JUNE 12, 1909.

"When Freedom from her mountain height,
Unfurled her standard to the air,
She tore the azure robe of night,
And set the stars of glory there."

—All of which is imagery, perhaps, but nevertheless it symbolizes the love for the American flag which characterizes the children of Liberty, a love which has been shown ever since Betsy Ross made the first national emblem. The regard for the flag is again evidenced in the stanzas of that stirring war hymn, "The Star Spangled Banner," that thought was uppermost in every soldier's mind:

"Oh say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's
last gleaming?"

So great has the national regard for the flag become that a day has been set aside as "Flag Day," which will be observed Monday all over the land. Exercises will be held in some places, but the great design of the day is to float Old Glory to the breeze from every home, every public building and to show our regard in every possible way for the dear old flag.

"The Star Spangled Banner,
Oh long may it wave,
O'er the land of the free
And the home of the brave."

There is a very evident dearth of dwelling houses in May's Landing at the present time, a want that has been felt by persons desiring to make their homes in the municipality and which has no doubt prevented many from becoming residents. New cottages would rent speedily, especially when equipped with modern conveniences, for which tenants are always willing to pay fair rates. There is the usual plaint among proprietors that rentals are too low to warrant further building, but a demand would certainly be created by the erection of attractive dwelling houses and rentals would adjust themselves to circumstances. Low rentals must be expected where improvements are lacking; but place running water, electric lights, baths and other conveniences in the house, establish a fair rent, and see how long it will be before someone who appreciates a good home with these comforts will occupy the house. At any rate the experiment is well worth trying and a fair profit would no doubt be realized on the capital invested.

Improved sidewalks are a municipal adjunct eminently desirable, one of which May's Landing stands in need. Intervals of good walks emphasize the need of improvement on those portions which have been neglected. Good walks are one of the first things strangers notice and play a leading part in the attractiveness of a town, enhancing property values and contributing to the general health and comfort of residents. A campaign for good sidewalks is almost as important as one for good roads and the two projects should go hand in hand. There are many methods of improving walks, chief among which is paving with bricks or concrete. Either lasts a lifetime and presents a useful and attractive walk. Gravel, or even cinders, makes a fair walk when it is kept in good repair. Good walks should be maintained by every property owner and their improvement assisted in every possible manner by the municipality.

The special presentment made by the May Grand Jury relative to its inspection of the several County institutions, penal and charitable, is highly complimentary to the County. Among the recommendations made by the jury is provision for the care of indigent victims of tuberculosis and a new County almshouse, the present building being inadequate for the number of inmates. The County jail was found to be in good condition and a suggestion is made that a matron be appointed to superintend the female and juvenile prisoners. The recommendations were made after careful deliberation and are such as can easily be complied with by the County. The new County almshouse is urgently needed and steps will no doubt be taken at no far distant date looking towards its establishment.

Trimming trees is a simple operation but it makes a great change in the general appearance of a municipality. The trees along the highways of May's Landing are sending out an abundant growth of young shoots which should be trimmed without delay. Proper and judicious tree trimming not only enhances the attractiveness of the town but it promotes the free circulation of light and air, a factor in the health of a people not to be slighted. Then, too, every low-hanging branch affords an excellent hiding place for that carnal fiend, the mosquito, from which to dart forth and annoy residents. The trees need trimming, and they need it now.

Sheriff Enoch L. Johnson is to be congratulated on the excellent condition in which he is maintaining the County Jail, which is one of the best kept and most orderly institutions of its kind in the State. Male and female, black and white and juvenile prisoners are quartered separately and the sanitary conditions are highly satisfactory. The regime of the jail is unsurpassed, reflecting great credit upon the County and Sheriff Johnson.

The projected bridge across the Great Egg Harbor Bay would materially improve the general good road system of South Jersey and its ultimate construction is assured. Before the bridge is built, however, it will be well to look to the improvement of the roads within the County, which are of direct benefit to residents. Among the most important roads which should be improved, if not the most important, is the County road from May's Landing to Tuckahoe, a road much used and in line with the State system of roads connecting the County seats. This road passes through a prolific farming section, little developed owing to difficulty of marketing produce. It would establish the missing link in our good road system, of which the County Seat is the nucleus. Build the bay bridge, but improve the County roads first.

There is room for improvement in the new schedule of the electric railroad effective at the Court House Station. Chief among the defects of the present service is the omission of the three o'clock express out of Atlantic City each afternoon, which was one of the most convenient trains for persons having business at the County Seat and was well patronized. A general protest on the part of officials and others having business at the public buildings here would no doubt be instrumental in having this train replaced on the schedule. The evening service is also defective, no north bound train stopping between 7.22 and 11.22 o'clock in the evening. The defects should be pointed out to the proper authorities in a convincing way and better service may be secured.

We are living in an age of wonders. In ancient times natural phenomena and strange happenings were miracles, caused in the minds of ancient people by supernatural powers. Now man has come to regard almost nothing as impossible and takes wonderful happenings with a stoicism that would have shocked our forefathers. The age of miracles has passed, to be followed by the inventive age wherein man is discovering the causes of natural phenomena and subjugating the powers of nature to his will. The lightning has been harnessed, the air conquered, marvelous inventions made and the end is not yet. Even as the imagination of primitive man transcended not the present stern reality, we cannot comprehend the magnitude of future progress.

Writing black-hand letters seems to be a favorite diversion among the growing Italian population, one which should be broken up by a few prompt arrests and punishments. Whether jesting or not, the person who sends such an epistle is violating the postal laws and should be taught respect for our statutes. Perhaps the art of such letter-writing would not flourish so well behind prison bars.

With the many delays in the new school question in Hamilton Township it is doubtful whether provision can be made for all the pupils of May's Landing by the opening of the next school term.

The 'possums at the White House are quiet indeed after the noisy reign of the Teddy Bears.

STATE PRESS COMMENT.

"It is recommended that paper towels be substituted in the school washrooms, in the place of linen ones. Each towel can be used but once and is then to be thrown away, or, better, burned up. The recommendation is excellent and is warranted by observation and experience. It is not only in the line of personal cleanliness, it is a safeguard against contagious and communicable diseases. Not all parents are equally careful as to their children, and not all of them are always aware of the communicable ailments with which their boys and girls are temporarily affected. Thus through wilful negligence on the one hand and lack of information on the other, parents sometimes send their children to school groomed below the limit of proper sanitation and safety."

"The tendency in these days is strongly in the direction of individual convenience of all kinds. Drinking cups which all must use are no longer tolerated in the schools, the fountain tap having taken their place. One railroad in this State has adopted the inexpensive individual drinking cup which cannot be used a second time. The public authorities are abolishing the swimming bath and for manifold reasons are providing shower baths instead. In the churches the individual communion cups are everywhere supplanting the kind formerly in use. Everywhere these sanitary measures are being adopted, and the public schools may very profitably be kept in the front rank of sanitary progress."—Newark Evening News.

"By an amendment to the school law passed by the last Legislature, and which deals particularly with compulsory attendance, it is provided: 'Every parent, guardian or other person having control of a child between the ages of seven and seventeen years inclusive shall cause such child to regularly attend a day school in which at least the common school branches of reading, writing, arithmetic, spelling, English grammar and geography are taught by a competent teacher or receive equivalent instruction elsewhere than at school, unless such child is above the age of fifteen years and has completed the grammar school course,' etc.

"These, then, are the studies which the Legislature regards as the essentials—reading, writing, arithmetic, spelling, English grammar and geography. When a city, town or district has provided for instruction in these branches, it has complied with the law passed in response to constitutional direction that the Legislature shall provide for the maintenance and support of a thorough and efficient system of free public schools for the instruction of all the children in this State between the ages of five and eighteen years."

"In our efforts to be progressive and cover so much ground in five or six years, there is reason to believe that we are depriving many children of a portion of their legal right to knowledge of the common school branches."—Trenton Evening Times.

"Rev. Charles Stelzer, superintendent of the Presbyterian Department of Church and Labor and Department of Immigration, talked in an unorthodox manner to the Young Men's Christian Association. 'The common people may be called upon to save the church, instead of the church saving the common people,' he asserted, and the declaration provoked applause. 'Some clergymen preach to their congregations about the social life of ancient times and do not study the needs of their own congregations, especially the working man, nor have they studied the social side of to-day and adapted themselves to the social uplift of their own people. Suppose the preacher should study the social life of the Brooklynite instead of the Jewite and Hittite and apply their preaching and their moralizing to modern conditions rather than give lectures upon those who are buried under the dust of ages.' This is solid advice to a good many ministers. If the church to-day would deal more with pressing problems that bear upon the working man and teach him how to live better and how to prosper, more good would be accomplished and the church will come closer to the people. The gap which is said to exist will be closed and a stronger bond will bind church, minister and people together. Mr. Stelzer's views are uncommon, but no one can dispute that his views as measured by present conditions, are sound."—Atlantic City Review.

"An evidence of increasing business activity is furnished by the report of the Commissioner of Immigration. During the month of April the number of aliens arriving in this country was 116,754 as against 55,220 for the corresponding month of 1908. It is stated that the volume of immigration has been gradually increasing for the past six months and it is expected that the tide will continue to swell. Southern Italy still furnishes by far the largest part of the new foreign population. During April 35,000 strangers arrived here from that section. There were 7,500 Germans in the lot, and 5,400 Scandinavians."—Wall Jersey Press.

"The State Supreme Court has abolished 'opinion day,' the fixed occasion when lawyers from all parts of the State having cases before the Court made trips to Trenton to hear their decisions. Hereafter the Justices will file their opinions whenever ready, and not hold them for delivery on any specific day. How far the change will suit the members of the bar remains to be developed, but there is no reason why they should not be reformed promptly when opinions are filed, and at less expense than having to go to the State House."—Camden Courier.

Savoy Theatre, Oceanwalk and Ocean Ave.

A feature of Oceanwalk life is the rolling chair. No better opportunity to study the promenade is offered than to be wheeled along at a steady pace while enjoying the sights and at the same time receiving the benefit of the invigorating ocean-breeze from the ocean. They are hired at a number of stands, located at intervals. Rates, single, 25c; double, with attendant, 50c; per hour; per hour, $1.00 per hour.

Longport—A pretty trip by trolley may be had by taking the Longport trolley at Tennessee and Atlantic avenues, a ride along miles of ocean front through Thoburn, Ventnor, South Atlantic, Ocean, landing on the steamer pier, where wharf, where steamers may be taken every half hour for a side trip across Great Egg Harbor Bay to Ocean City. Fare, Atlantic City to Longport and return, 20c. Cars leave for Longport at 10:30 a. m. and 1:30 p. m.

Pleasantville, Country Club, Bakersville, Linwood, Seaside, Somers Point and Absecon. A trip across the Great Salt Meadows and through the above towns, is always remembered as the vastness of meadows and pretty rural scenery make it a trip well worth taking. Cars leave Atlantic City from Florida avenue and the Oceanwalk, every 30 minutes at 10 a. m. and 4:30 p. m. Rates, 10c to 15c.

The trolley is a new device, resembling a trolley, Absecon avenue to Longport. It is about seven miles long. Other drivers in Atlantic City are as follows: to Longport or Great Egg Harbor Inlet, eight miles; the Elephant, or South Atlantic City, five miles; Pacific Inlet and Light House, two miles; Pacific avenue drive five miles to Ventnor. Another pleasant drive is to the Inlet on a macadamized road. Still another drive is across the salt meadows to Pleasantville, and thence along the shore road to the Country Club and Somers Point, Absecon and other pretty towns in the vicinity of Atlantic City. The road across the meadows is kept in best condition.

The Inlet is the broad opening North of the island, admitting the seawater to the inland bays and reaches. It is a mile or more from the center of the city, and the northern terminus of the Oceanwalk, and the electric car line. At the Inlet sail boats are to hire from early morning until night, either by the trip, the hour, or the day, at $5 to $8 per day. Owners of large sail-boats form parties charging fifty cents a head. In addition to the sail-boats there are at the Inlet small steamboats and tugs for the purpose of taking persons on short trips to adjacent lands or out to sea for small swims, according to the distance covered. The thoroughfare, which divides the island from the mainland, is a broad, deep and placid; even the most timid or those who are subject easily to seasickness, may enjoy a sail over the waters of the thoroughfare without fear of unpleasant consequences. Those who are fond of heavy water may indulge their liking to their heart's content, for from the wharf to the wide ocean is but a few minutes sail.

There are so many attractions at Atlantic City that every hour can be satisfied. Of course the ocean pier are the rendezvous of the general public, but the delights of the stroll on the Ocean Promenade supersede all other pleasures. There is about the hotels and business places along the Oceanwalk a never-ending source of delight and entertainment. In all the resorts along the Atlantic coast there is nothing to compare with this great highway of travel, and the daily crowds to be seen there morning and evening afford a magnificent study of human nature.
