Frank Davis, of this place, were members of the graduating class of the Atlantic City High School, finishing with high honors, and received their diplomas yesterday morning.

Twice Arrested Before They Could Get Away From May's Landing.

Hard luck was on the trail of two peddlers with fruit wagon who blew into the burg Thursday evening and started to gather in a few stray sheecks yesterday morning before going on their merry way. They gave their names John Storrey and Charles Bolard, of the City of Brothersby, Iowa.

Early in the day they were arrested by Sam Taylor, constable, and asked to show their peddling license. For the good reason that they didn't have one they were ordered to visit Magistrate James A. Laubert at his office and after a constitutional chat on the shade they were fined the sum of $50.

The railroad has been warmly pressed for protecting these crossings, but the public has to know why the uptown crossing in the Main Station and the County road crossing above, on the Downtown Boulevard, are not entirely guarded. These are veritable death-traps for autolists and at both fatalities have occurred. Through the other crossings have not been responsible for any deaths, they are considered very dangerous, but no more than the former two where autolists have in their death.

Water Main Burst.

Several residents across the railroad were without water Saturday afternoon and night owing to the bursting of a water main in front of the residence of Mr. E. C. Gaskill.

The leak, which was caused by closing a hydrant in the "dead end" of this line too suddenly, necessitated the insertion of a length of pipe. Supt. John Abbott, got on the job promptly Monday morning and soon had repairs completed.

Death Claims Old Printer

Charles J. Robinson Was Former Composer For "Record."

Following an illness of only a few days, Charles J. Robinson, formerly of Pittsburgh, died at his residence, 21 North Mississippi Avenue, Atlantic City, on Monday afternoon. The funeral services were held Friday morning at 8:30 with mass at the Our Lady Star of the Sea Church, Interlaken, was made at Mount Calvary Cemetery, Pleasantville. The remains were viewing at his late residence Thursday evening.

Mr. Robinson was employed for two years as a printer for "The Record," and has recently been employed by the Globe Printing Company, Atlantic City. He was a man of singularly gentle character and won the esteem of all who knew him. He has many friends here who sincerely mourn his demise. For several years he has been planning to return to his old home in Pittsburg but death cut short his preparations. He will be buried Friday morning at 8:30 with mass at the Our Lady Star of the Sea Church, Interlaken, was made at Mount Calvary Cemetery, Pleasantville. The remains were viewing at his late residence Thursday evening.

Tots Going Travelling.

As the nine o'clock express from Atlantic City was pulling into the Court House Station Thursday morning, two little tots, Bobbie and Nelle Fletcher, furnished an amusing spectacle. Bobbie, with a large hand bag tied on the corridor of the hotel, almost as large as himself; and Nelle, carrying her baby, were toddling towards the station bent on seeing the world. They were almost to the tracks before their nurse spied them and ran screaming to end their journey.

Forest Fire Averted By New Chemical Fire Truck

Summoned Nearly A Mile In Eight Minutes By Telephone Alarm.

The new auto-combination chemical fire engine yesterday averted a forest fire and incidentally demonstrated what it can be expected to do in case of alarms, especially to homes in the outlying districts, where the water system does not reach.

Shortly before noon some children playing in the woods near Harry Newcombs farm on the river road started a fire in the brush, which quickly caught through the grass and leaves and threatened to work into the woods nearby. Mr. Newcombs rushed to the fire and sought to put it but the flames were fast getting beyond his control when Mrs. C. E. Jensen telephoned an alarm to central.

Within a few moments firemen were on their way with the new auto chemical truck, and when they arrived turned the chemical hose on the blaze which quickly fell before the stream and in a few minutes the fire was completely extinguished. Other firemen followed in an auto but their services were unnecessary.

From the time the alarm was sent up until the flames were on the spot was between eight and ten minutes, the run being over half a mile. The prompt response of the firemen undoubtedly prevented a disastrous wood fire in the tract lying below Sugar Hill, between the River Road and the County Boulevard.

Good Outlook For Crops
Says Weather Bureau

Recent Rains Have Greatly Helped Fruit and Vegetables.

General improvement in crop conditions in New Jersey is reported by the climatological service of the United States weather bureau, for the weekend ending Tuesday at noon. During most of the former week unfavorable weather prevailed for most crops, but notwithstanding the cold and low temperature, the only backward effect was to check the growth, which proved helpful in localities that were dry.

As a result, there was sufficient moisture over the Northern portions of the State, shading off toward the Southern counties to a serious lack of rain. In the Southern portion, early garden fruits have been largely a failure, and is now past help. Sweet potatoes and tobacco were seriously threatened with frost, but on Monday morning rain has probably greatly helped them. Hay and grain are probably only slightly so farmed, if any, in the middle and Northern areas, and potatoes look good, although troubled with beetles. Fruit has a fine appearance, and cranberry acreage was well advanced and have suffered no frost damage.

Death Claims Father McFadden.

Death shortly after 11 o'clock Monday night, claimed Rev. Father Charles J. McFadden who for eight years was associated with the order of Saint Augustine, at St. Nicholas Catholic Church, Atlantic City.

MAY'S LANDING, JUNE 27, 1914.

It would be from inquiries about the house, so that it can be certain which parts can pass through waterway and storm-tossed waters. The posts should only be dug in solid ground. One nail will supply a wide neighborhood with the "Posty" signs.

For the first time in history a stock plant along the shore has closed down. Throwing many hundreds of employment hand lines are assigned to the owners as the cause. Besides the employees take quite kindly the Atlantic between "hard times" and "easy money."

The local authorities are giving right of way to the railroads in order that the most part of the right-of-way might be used by the railroads, but drivers of wagons and in other vehicles as well. Public safety requires that no vehicles on the highway be allowed to stand, waiting for a train. A certain percentage of accidents with a stock plant and a train have been wholly responsible for the suspension of the law.
