TAMPIGO SCUTTLE A CRAVEN AFFAIR, SAYS ROOSEVELT

Constituted So Grave an Offense Against the Nation's Honor and Duty That the Man Responsible Should Be Removed From Office.

WILSON CANNOT SHIELD HIMSELF BEHIND DANIELS

Authentic Proof That Americans in Peril Were Deserted by Their Own Government Against the Protest of the Senior Naval Officer Present Most Puerilissimo Episode in the Naval Annals of Our Country.

Theodore Roosevelt in a letter to Henry Heuterbladh, the naval critic, criticizes President Wilson and Secretary Daniels in connection with the Tampico affair, when the American warships were withdrawn by order of the Administration. The colonel says: "You have presented authentic proof of how the Americans in peril at Tampico were deserted by their own government against the protest of the senior American naval officer present. You have shown that the government at Washington had full knowledge of the danger of the situation through telegrams from Admiral Mayo sent by wireless to the navy department on April 11, 12 and 13. You also give the telegram of Mr. Daniels of April 20 directing the admiral to proceed to Vera Cruz.

Mayo Feared Loss of Life. "You have shown that Admiral Mayo made an emphatic protest to the navy department, stating that he feared the result of the squadron's leaving would be the loss of American lives and property. You also quote the telegrams sent by Admiral Mayo the following day, containing the protest of the American consul, Mr. Miller, and requesting authority to remain at Tampico. You have shown that, nevertheless, the navy department on the 21st confirmed its previous orders and directed the ships to leave at once.

"You have shown that the admiral put out into the ocean eight miles distant, but received a protest from Consul Miller reiterating his demand for protection. You then quote the telegrams and signals of Admiral Mayo, who, in spite of his orders, nobly refused to run from the post of duty while the lives of American men, women and children were in danger."

Can't Hide Behind Daniels.

Of the President and Secretary Daniels the colonel writes: "President Wilson cannot shield himself behind Mr. Daniels, for Mr. Daniels could do nothing that the president does not order or sanction. When Mr. Daniels's actions have been brought to the attention of Mr. Wilson, and are not repudiated by him, they become Mr. Wilson's and Mr. Wilson is fully and completely responsible for Mr. Daniels, for all that he has done and left to do. "The proof is absolute that when Admiral Mayo was at Tampico he had received full knowledge of the rioting and of the imminent danger to American lives; but that, nevertheless, he steamed away into the ocean, and that the American ships were rescued by German and British ships. This action constituted so grave an offense from the standpoint of national duty and self-respect, that any man responsible for it should be at once taken out of office.

Facts Made Public in U. S.

"Shortly thereafter the facts were made public in the United States. If Admiral Mayo had been responsible and had not acted under orders, then the only proper course for Secretary Daniels would have been to order his instant court martial, and in such case the blame for the whole affair would have fallen on the shoulders of the admiral. "Therefore, even if there had been no such orders, the admiral actually is shielded by the secretary of the navy. Admiral Mayo, nevertheless his superior, Secretary Daniels and President Wilson, would both have become fully responsible for the guilty transaction by their acquiescence therein. They cannot, as they have sought to do, shift the blame to the shoulders of the admiral."

The Soldier's Vote.

"A significant feature following the Maine election was the nature of the soldier vote. It is reported that one Maine battalion liked sixty miles in two days for the purpose of exercising the franchise.

Latin politeness is proverbial, but about these Mexican commissioners exceeding the limit when they persisted in likening Woodrow Wilson to Venustiano Carranza?

Josephus Daniels might have made a passable secretary of the Salvation Army, but it was pretty rough to impose him on Uncle Sam's fighting navy."

HOME OF THE BRAVE.

"This is the land of the free and the home of the brave, and if it comes to be the home of the brave it will soon cease to be the land of the free."—Charles E. Hughes in a Speech Delivered at Plattsburgh, N. Y.

WHAT HUGHES WOULD HAVE LEFT UNDONE

That is Campaign's True Angle and Not the Trite Question With Which Hecklers Are Nagging the Republican Standard Bearer.

ACHIEVEMENTS ASSURANCE BLUNDERING IS NO HABIT

Winning Democrats Trying to Run Away From the Record of the Administration and to Invigilate the Voters Down Rhetorical Bypaths, All in the Thinly-Disguised Effort to Change the Subject.

When Mr. Hughes criticizes the record of Mr. Wilson, cry: "What would you have done?" They forget that it is Mr. Wilson and not Mr. Hughes who is on trial. They forget that four years ago Mr. Wilson criticized Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt throughout the campaign, and that Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt defended their respective records, instead of crying, "What would you have done?" They forget these things or they refuse to forget them. They are trying to run away from the record of the Administration and induce the people to follow them down some bypath of rhetorical hypotheses, all in the effort to change the subject.

"By their fruits ye shall know them." When Mr. Hughes was Governor of New York he did not pay political debts by filling the public offices with unfit men. He did not champion certain principles during his campaign and repudiate them after he entered office. As Governor, he did not resort to brave and beautiful words as a substitute for firm and consistent deeds. He was careful in his use of words, but he lacked his words with deeds. He did not promise what he could not perform. He did not play the people with compliments. You have seen that, nevertheless, a rhetorician, he was not a fatterer, he was not "too proud to fight" for labor or for capital, for the strong or the weak, when the right was on their side.

Mr. Wilson's spokesmen seek to divert attention from the attacks Mr. Hughes is making upon the record of the Administration by asking him, "What would you do?" They are unconsciously helping Mr. Hughes. They are receding to the memory of the people the two terms as Governor of New York, a record of character between two men, with sincerity as the differentiating and deciding factor.

FIERY WORDS.

"Direct violation of a nation's sovereignty cannot await vindication in suits for damage. The nation which violates these essential rights must be checked and called to account by direct challenge and resistance." From Woodrow Wilson's speech accepting the Democratic nomination for President.

BUT—

The American flag is still unsaluted at Vera Cruz.

Carranza still slaps the United States.

There still has been no accounting for American lives and property destroyed in Mexico.

The whole question of reparation for invasion of America's rights by various warring nations is still sleeping in a pigeon-hole.

AND—

All the "direct challenge and resistance" noticeable to the average American is included in a series of notes sent to possess high literary quality, if nothing else in particular.

Wabbling Woodrow.

Opportunism has claims that every statesman must respect. But never has there been an opportunist in the White House of greater willingness to change than the present incumbent. The country feared it had placed power in the hands of a doctrinaire schoolmaster incapable of bending. It finds that it has a man of remarkable pliancy of judgment, who one moment stands for states' rights and the next for nationalism, who one day is a pacifist, and the next is out-shouting Col. Roosevelt for arms and shells, who one week is for a barren neutrality and the next for war in behalf of general righteousness, who one night is for collective wage bargaining and arbitration of industrial disputes and the next is waging the flag of depressing wages up or down as the vote of the larger number can be controlled.

New York Globe and Commercial Advertiser

Gen Pershing's army continues in the fettle. "fit for a fight or a frolic."

To its credit let it be said it went as far as politics permitted.

'BEATEN GOOD AND PLENTY'

Champ Clark sees no Rainbows

"We got whipped, and I guess that is all I will say about the Maine election," said Speaker Champ Clark. "We got beaten good and plenty."

EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

If you had two dollars to invest would you trust it to the business sagacity of Josephus Daniels? Then, why let him handle the millions that are to be spent on the new navy?

Judging by the signs of War Department activity the Administration is cunningly arranging to bring the millionaires home just in time to enable them to vote for Mr. Hughes.

A train of thought on a one-track mind has to be composed of shuttle cars.

Three years ago Woodrow Wilson was explaining that hard times were psychological, but he isn't trying to squirm out of responsibility for the present prosperity.

The disaster to the Memphians caused very little excitement, Americans being very slow nowadays to seeing the navy on the rocks.

This Democratic Congress has passed into history—profane history.

President Wilson's speech of acceptance could have been phrased even more succinctly in the graphic words of Boss Tweed, "What are you going to do about it?"

We see by the interviews with the Mexican commissioners that the campaign slogan this year in the Sonora bandit belt is "Thank God for Woodrow Wilson."

Mr. Wilson's eulogy of Lincoln at Hotchkiss was more literary but less sincere than the one he pronounced upon himself at Shadow Lawn.

The new half dollars will have an office launch on one side and on the other an eagle, in full flight. Wilson money.

Motto of the McAdoo shipping law: "The sun never rises on the American flag."

A Democrat's idea of an ideal watchdog of the Treasury is a Pomeranian.

Mr. Wilson is now busily engaged working the other side of the suffrage street.

The campaign agents who two years ago were busily engaged thanking God for Woodrow Wilson seem to be taking their vacations just now.

A record wasn't the only thing the late Congress broke—there's the Federal Treasury.

Congress didn't want a tariff Commission composed of $12,000 men, those $1,500 salaries being designed for $1,200 men.

President Wilson's scheme for commissions for everything has been actually planned to make three jobs for deserving Democrats grow where only one would grow before.

Vice-President Marshall says Mr. Hughes is an echo of the past. Quite true. Of statesmanship, of patriotic performance and safe legislation.

Fruit of the Adamson bill: The New York street car strike.

Of the 28 electors who cast Pennsylvania's vote for Roosevelt in 1912, 35 are living and 27 of them have pledged, unconditionally, their support to Mr. Hughes.

The president must be credited with having put a stick one over if he can get the votes and make the people pay the freight.

DECLINED TO PERMIT A SQUADRON TO DEFEND AMERICANS.

At Tampico there was a general movement of attack by the Mexicans on American and other foreign ships. We had a squadron of American warships in the neighborhood. The Wilson Administration declined to permit this squadron to be used to defend the lives of American men and the honor of American women, and the commissioners of the German and English ships at Tampico had to step in and perform the task our representative had so basely abandoned. At the very time that the Mexican mob had surrounded the building in which the Americans had taken refuge and was howling for their blood, the American fleet, in spite of the protests of the American naval commander, and in accordance with wireless orders from Washington, was forced to steam out of the harbor and leave the Americans to be massacred by the Germans and rescued by the British. Speech of Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Delivered at Lewiston, Maine, in Behalf of Charles E. Hughes.

A wind that's from the rocks and sea and scented by the pine Sweeps through the sycamores today and where across the line The range of giants sentinels that guard the western slopes. The balsam of this briny breeze brings heavy hearts new hopes.

To men whose pride was shattered, and their desperation wanes; Again their hearts are raised to look the future in the face For Maine has been the clarion that's hearing a race.

'Twas shame that sunk the souls of us to depths we never knew In days our flag was honored in the harbor where it flew. When nations paid us homage, for they knew our hands were white, Ere blood of our countrymen had stained them like a blight.

And now again our songs we sing of deeds that we must do To make the dream that passed away come marvellous true. For the sturdy souls that breathe the pine have brought to life again The faith that fills a nation's heart that feels the wind from Maine.
