DEMOCRATS IN CONTROL OF STATE GOVERNMENT

ELECT GOVERNOR AND CONTROL LEGISLATURE

Stokes Defeated By Colby Faction and Fielder Wins By Thirty Thousand—Atlantic County Republicans True Blue,

By electing James Fielder Governor and carrying enough Senators and Assemblymen to control the Legislature, the Democratic Party of New Jersey is again holding the reins of State government. Stokes made a magnificent run in view of the three-cornered contest and his defeat is due solely to the Colby faction. The Legislature stands 10 Republicans to 11 Democrats, 24 Republican Assemblymen to 32 Democrats, with a joint majority of 13 for the Democrats.

Atlantic County Republicans stood true blue. The Grand Old Party and carried the Gubernatorial and County candidates by approximately four thousand votes, leading all the other Republican counties, Camden being second.

The majorities for Governor by counties was as follows:

	Fielder	Stokes
Courlins	5,872	5,872
Gloucester	2,500	751
Haddonfield	3,056	203
May	405	10
Montgomery	721	10
Passaic	23,588	1,250
Salem	2,472	2,041
Warren	798	500
Total	42,626	11,296
Fielder's majority	31,327

Following his defeat Ex-Governor Stokes made the following announcement:

"No soldier ever attempts to argue with the results of a battle. The election is over and New Jersey will have, in Governor Fielder, a most excellent Chief Executive of broad, legislative experience, and a gentlemanly, broad-gauged man, who will deal fairly with the citizens of all parties."

"I look at the Republican nomination much that my inclination. I felt, however, it would be unfair to desert in the dark hours of a party, and that some one should be willing to make a sacrifice. I made the best fight could, indulged no personalities and made no personal references, except where necessary in pure self-defense."

"I had a most enjoyable campaign. I was treated most kindly wherever I went by the people of the State, and I am just as ready now as ever, to do battle in the ranks when occasion requires. Some one had to lead a forlorn hope or the party would have been entirely disorganized. The Republicans need not be disheartened. They have now a new organization of young men, and it is in shape to respond to the call of the people when the latter demands a change of administration."

SMALL GAME PLENTIFUL

Season For Quail and Rabbit Will Open Monday Next.

Bright and early Monday morning next hundreds of sportsmen will be abroad in the woods and fields of Atlantic County in pursuit of "Bunny" and "Bob White," the season opening on that day until December 15. According to reports from the surrounding neighborhood both species of game will be finding plentiful and gunners anticipate same good shooting.

Hunters will do well to familiarize themselves with the law respecting "bag limits" and other restrictions, as a number of warden will be placed on duty in the several districts to enforce the statute. It should be borne in mind that no one is permitted to hunt without a license and those who have procured licenses must carry them on their person.

The new laws prohibit the sale of game, so "pot hunting" it is hoped will not be so flagrant as formerly. Hunters are urged to discourage trapping wherever found, as this plays havoc in the gamefied and is largely responsible for killing off game.

New Basket Law At Work.

The new law regulating the size of baskets went into effect Saturday last. Merchants everywhere in the State for the past several weeks have been sending their baskets into the State Department of Weights and Measures to be tested. With few exceptions all baskets have been found to contain the capacity claimed for them. The law, after it becomes effective, it is believed, will save consumers thousands of dollars because it will procure for them the quantity they paid for which the department says they rarely received in the past. According to the new law, the baskets used for fruits and vegetables must be of these capacities: Thirty-two, twenty, sixteen, eight, four and two quarts; berries and small fruits can only be sold from standard one-quart and one-pint boxes and baskets. The far-famed "Josie" disappears forever.

Dr. Lamborn Meeting With Success.

Dr. Carey L. Lamborn, who recently succeeded to the practice of Dr. G. L. Parker at his place, is meeting with great success here.

He has sincere words of praise for the courteous reception he has met at the hands of the people of May's Landing. Dr. Lamborn is delighted with the location and says that he has been kept so busy ever since he came that he has not had time to fully enjoy the many facilities of the "Town of Natural Opportunities." He has made warm friends during the short time he has been in May's Landing and bids fair to become a permanent resident of the County Capital.

TRY GIRL FOR MURDER

Many Magro To Be Arraigned Wednesday Before Kalisch.

Noven defendants faced Judge Cole in Criminal Court Wednesday on indictments returned by the October Grand Jury. Four out of the seven were either convicted or entered pleas of guilty just before they were placed on trial.

Special Assistant Prosecutor Wolverton, to whom has been entrusted the work of trying those who were made defendants on indictments returned by the Elmer Grand Jury, announced Wednesday that the trial of these cases would probably be resumed again Tuesday next.

Next week promises to be a busy week with the courts. It is thought that the trials on the Elmer indictments before Judge Cole will take up the remainder of the week. On Wednesday Supreme Court Justice Kalisch will come to May's Landing for the purpose of presiding at the trial of Mary Magro, the Italian girl charged with the murder of her father. The trials of two other murderers have been set tentatively for this day but it is not thought likely that they will be tried then.

The cases which were disposed of Wednesday were as follows:

Leon Smith, assault and battery on Albert Stearns. The Court imposed a fine of $50 payable in weekly installments of $2.

A family row between Florence Murray and Sam Ordille was aired in the court when the former was placed on trial charged with an assault and battery upon the Ordille woman, who was acquitted by the Court.

Leonard Marza was acquitted of the theft of some silver knives from the Hotel Alumnae. John W. Weaver, aged 60 years, was placed on trial charged with deserting his wife. Although the defendant entered a plea of not guilty to the charge, he was convicted by the jury and released under a suspended sentence on the condition that he paid something each week toward the support of his wife.

James Williams, when placed on trial charged with assault and battery upon Jennie Williams, his wife, received a plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty. Sentence was suspended as it was shown that the couple are now living together happily.

William Mitchell was acquitted of the charge of assaulting Mamie Oliver. The trouble was caused by an argument in a saloon where the prosecuting witness declared she had been "short changed."

Theodore Gray was sentenced to pay a fine of $75 when convicted of assaulting Arthur Johnson. He was acquitted of a charge of larceny which had been lodged against him.

All dead limbs and twigs have been cleared out and three old trees in a dangerous condition removed. The excellent work done by Mr. A. O. Vorse and his force of assistants has been warmly praised by Court visitors and residents and will result in greatly prolonging the life of the old veterans, some of which are two centuries old. They have been "fed" with a special fertilizer and next Spring young trees will be set out to fill vacant places.
