

BARTLETT ENDS FIRST YEAR AS HIGH SHERIFF WITH ENVIABLE RECORD

EFFICIENCY AND DESPATCH PRAISED BY LAWYERS AND OFFICIALS

CARE OF PRISONERS EXCELLENT

"Pop Joe" At Home In Every Part of Atlantic County And Made Good—His Regard Public's Convenience Shown Change In Office Custom.

Joseph R. Bartlett has ended his first year in office with a record that has justified the faith of the county, who at the November election in 1914 gave him one of the biggest majorities ever accorded a candidate in Atlantic County. It was on the tenth day of November a year ago, to be exact, that Sheriff Bartlett, after serving three years as deputy for his predecessor, was sworn in by the officials of the county. His administration took the oath of office to use the expression most heard among lawyers and others having business with his office, he has "made good."

From the office standpoint, business has been transacted under his direction with such accuracy and despatch that lawyers and officials not only of this county but from Atlantic County, have frequently taken occasion to express their appreciation. When it is considered that the Sheriff, among other duties, has to summon jurors and witnesses, serve writs of various kinds issued by the courts, maintain order at the sessions of the County Courts, execute foreclosures and do a multitude of miscellaneous detail work involving upon the average of one hundred and fifty or more cases with added force and suggest the constant care and vigilance exercised to avoid mistakes and delays.

Among other duties the Sheriff is keeper of the County Jail and by his excellent management of this institution, Sheriff Bartlett has won the praise of State inspectors and others who have had occasion to inspect this prison. In point of sanitation, wholesome food, good order and general management, this institution is one of the foremost of its kind in New Jersey. Sheriff Bartlett has taken a personal interest in the care of the prisoners and the County can point with pride to the manner in which his jail is managed.

Recently Sheriff Bartlett demonstrated his desire to enhance the practical value of the office to the general public by changing the time-honored custom of holding court on Wednesday afternoon to Wednesday. This custom obtained way back in the early history of the county, before there were any lawyers here, when Saturday was more of a "market day," and lawyers came from Camden to look after legal work. Sheriff Bartlett recognized the need of a change and his announcement, made after a conference with the County Bar Association, that sales would hereafter be held on Wednesday afternoon, has met with approval among those interested in these proceedings. With the old system in vogue, lawyers and litigants were frequently obliged to make week-end vacations in order to attend the sales on Saturday afternoon.

Few men have come to public office in this section of the State with such a thorough knowledge of the conditions and requirements of their constituents. From the day that he was elected to his present position, Sheriff Bartlett has been a "high priest" of the old narrow gauge railroad between this place and Egg Harbor City. "Pop Joe," as he has been familiarly called for many years, has been one of the best-known citizens of Atlantic County. His varied services as station agent, member of council and clerk of the District Court of Atlantic County have tended to keep him in touch with all classes of people and to give him a keen insight into what the people of the county really think of his duty calls him. He has two years more to serve of this term and only the law prohibiting a Sheriff from succeeding himself will prevent the people of Atlantic County from continuing him in office.

HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPALS "TALK SHOP" AT MEETING

Discuss Teaching of English and Plan Athletic Contests.

A well attended meeting of the supervising principals and principals of the Atlantic County public schools was held in the Pleasantville High School building Monday evening last. Twenty-five principals and teachers were present. County Superintendent Henry M. Creamer, was re-elected chairman; Mr. George L. Collins, of Northfield, Secretary, and Simon G. Huber, May's Landing, Treasurer, for the ensuing year. A splendid program was rendered. Mr. Lindel E. French, Professor of English in the Atlantic City High School, delivered a very excellent address upon the subject of "Teaching English in the High School." Supervising Principal, Simon G. Huber, of May's Landing; William H. Conners of Mottville, and County Superintendent Henry M. Creamer, were the main speakers. Another splendid talk part in the discussion. Another splendid address was delivered by Supervising Principal N. C. Holdridge, of Hammonton, upon the "Teaching of grammar in the Grammar Grades." In the latter discussion Prof. Rohrbach, of Egg Harbor City, took an important part.

After the formal part of the program was over, several addresses were made by Mr. Spencer M. Bennett, Physical Director of the Atlantic City Schools, and Mr. Kite, Director of the South Movement in Atlantic County. A committee was appointed consisting of Mr. E. M. Bennett, Atlantic City; Mr. Bennett K. Matlack, Pleasantville, and Mr. D. R. Rohrbach, Egg Harbor City, to formulate plans and to make rules and regulations to govern the County Athletic meet to be held at the Springs in 1916. It is also probable that the committee will organize a series of basketball games to be played by teams from the different high schools of the county.

One Or The Other.
If Americans find it advantageous to buy the products of European factories under the rates of duty prescribed by the Underwood act, Mr. Redfield can invent a machine for keeping them out of this country. That can be done by revising the Tariff law, or by manufacturing so cheaply in the United States that our products can compete in our own markets with those turned out by the labor of poverty-stricken Europe, tolling for a pittance after the war.—Green Bay (Wis.) Review.

The Difference.
Our total imports for October 3, 1915, to July 1, 1914, were $1,000,000,000. The total amount of revenue collected from duties on these imports were $22,440,000. Republican protection rates of 1909 applied to the same imports would have collected and put in the treasury $20,000,000, an increase of over $100,000,000.

STATE G. O. P. MAJORITY EXCEEDS FIRST REPORTS

Exact Figure 34,505—Wharton Tract Defeated By 20,750.

The Republican majority over the Democratic ticket at the recent election was just 24,000, according to the returns made to the office of the Secretary of State. These figures, while accurate, will not be official until they have been canvassed by the State Board of Canvassers.

The majority returned against the referendum to authorize a $1,000,000 bond issue for the purchase of the Wharton tract in South Jersey as a potable water supply for all South Jersey municipalities, was 20,750. The total vote cast for it was 103,033 and against, 123,783.

FARM DEMONSTRATION DEPARTMENT NEWS

May's Landing Grange Now Organized—Barrenness of Corn Stalks—Root Crops Should Be Stored At Once.

On Tuesday evening last, at a meeting held in the office of Farm Demonstration at the Court House, the May's Landing Grange was organized with seventeen people present, and there were also a number of people passed upon who were not present.

Mr. Henry Pfeiffer, of Cologne, County Deputy, had charge of the meeting and was assisted by the County Demonstrator, Mr. Topken, worthy Master, and the Egg Harbor Grange, Mr. Carl Rohrbach, and two ladies.

After the members were obligated the election of officers took place and the following people were elected: Mr. James O. Hissard, Worthy Master; Thomas W. Donovan, Grandmaster; Lorenz Lelling, Steward; James L. Galt, Assistant Steward; William L. Cook, Lecturer; Miss Annie S. Collins, Treasurer; Mrs. Wm. L. Cook, Secretary; B. F. Johnson, Chaplain; Mrs. E. A. Donovan, Sore; Mrs. Walter R. Bodner, Potomac; Miss Edna Johnston, Flowers; Mrs. Lorenz Lelling, Lady Assistant Steward, and Carl Goetz, Gatekeeper.

After the election of the officers, they were then installed. It was voted that the Grange be called the May's Landing Grange. The meeting night of the Grange for the present will be Monday evening of each week, in the room adjoining the Office of Farm Demonstration.

This makes the fifth subordinate Grange in the County, and the plan is that in a very short time there will be a Pomona Grange organized. Heretofore the Atlantic County patrons have been meeting with the Camden County Pomona Grange.

Farmers throughout the corn belt have noticed an increased number of barren stalks this season, a situation due to some climatic condition in the spring that our corn growers are cognizant of. The New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station states that in reality, barrenness in corn fields is due to a number of factors.

It is found by studying the records of barrenness in corn, that there are some seasons in which there is a great increase of this characteristic over the entire corn belt. It appears that a wet season always tends to increase this undesirable trait of the corn plant.

The second factor is the time of planting. Very early or very late seedings always have a greater number of barren stalks than those planted in mid-season.

The third factor is the rate or thickness of planting. Corn seeded thickly always has a far greater percentage of barrenness than that which has a normal stand or a maximum rate for corn production.

The fourth factor is the fertility of the soil. By comparing corn which is grown on soils of different degrees of fertility it is found that the poor soils always have the larger number of barren stalks. All of these factors tend to either increase or control this undesirable character in the corn field.

Several other factors are expected at any time after the middle of November; therefore the root crops should be gathered and stored. The extension specialist in market gardening at the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station states that beets are quickly injured by freezing and should be gathered first. The tops are twisted off or cut so that short stubs are left in order to prevent excessive bleeding of the roots. The tails should be left on beets, carrots and turnips when storing. This saves considerable time in the rush and is really better for the roots.

Commercially, the roots are stored in conical piles of about 20 bushels each in the field. A covering of straw, hay or leaves is spread about five inches thick over the pile, and enough soil is spread upon this to hold the covering in place and shed the rain. A small bundle of straw about four inches in diameter should be placed at the top of the pile for ventilation. As colder weather approaches more soil or manure is added to the pile to prevent freezing within it.

Mr. W. C. Felton, who was at one time Market Garden Specialist of the Extension Department, New Brunswick, N. J., and later called as County Demonstrator in Delaware, called on County Demonstrator Douglas Wednesday last to find out by what means the strawberry weevil was controlled. There was also many other subjects brought up and many problems talked over affecting agents in both Delaware and New Jersey.

Pink Overall

Owing to the scarcity of blue dyes, the color of overalls may be changed this winter to pink.—News note.

"No pink overalls for my men!"
Says section foreman McClure.
"The trainmen might get red, so we'll have to wear white to be sure."
"Pink pants will be just the thing."
Says Myers, the brickyard head.
"For the brick dust won't show where it clings."
"Thought it may turn their color to red."
"Pink overalls? Never—won't do!"
Says Captain Keew, of the mill.
"We'll have to try some other hue."
To distinguish "Bally" from "Bill."
Bill Rogers says, "Goah darn it, no!"
So do "Polly" McClure and "Cad" Stowe, and so we're afraid.

State Grange Meeting.

On December 7, 8 and 9 the State Grange will hold a convention on the Steeple, Atlantic City, to which progressive Atlantic County farmers are looking with keen interest. Announcement of the program will be made in the due future.

WRIGHT SUCCEEDS DOWNER HEAD OF SUNDAY SCHOOLS

State Convention Was Held This Week At Millville.

Sunday School teachers and workers from every section of the State gathered Tuesday last at Millville to attend the fifty-seventh annual State Convention. The city was gallantly decorated for the occasion and residents opened their homes for the delegates.

General Secretary L. B. Higgins announced the following as the program for the convention: There were 230 teacher training diplomas issued, or two and one-third times the number issued in 1914. The number of organized and registered Adult Bible Classes has increased from 783 to 1,000, and the temperance pledge is used in 607 schools, an increase of 170. The number of schools visited was 1,777, or 270 more than in 1914, and 449 certificates were given to schools attaining seven or nine points of the standard of efficiency. There was an increase of sixty in the enrollment at the Summer Training School at Asbury Park.

When President Samuel W. Downer was re-nominated the delegates were surprised by his declining to serve for another year. No unexpected was his refusal to again accept the office that the election of the preceding officer was deferred until the closing session of the convention. The following were elected: Recording Secretary, Rev. Samuel D. Price, Camden; Treasurer, Edward Dunham, Trenton; Chairman Executive Committee, George K. Hall, Plainfield; Chairman Finance Committee, Arthur M. Harris, Plainfield.

At the session held Thursday, Joseph H. Wright, of Trenton, was elected President, to succeed Mr. Downer. Vice-Presidents selected for the coming year were: Rev. William Tallock, of Woodstown, for Atlantic; Cumberland, Cape May and Salem Counties; T. W. Synnott, of Weonah, for Gloucester, Camden and Burlington Counties; S. H. Jackson, of Asbury Park, for Middlesex, Monmouth and Ocean Counties.

By unanimous vote, was selected as the next convention city, and Camden for 1917.

NATIONAL BALANCE DWINDLING

By Usual Method Of Balancing It Is Only Three Million.

The Federal Treasury will be found practically bankrupt when Congress meets in December for the first time since James Buchanan turned over to Abraham Lincoln the empty coffers of the Nation, is now believed inevitable.

Harvey B. Chase, of Boston, a certified public accountant, has made an examination of the figures relating to the daily Treasury statement, the form of which has been changed by Secretary McAdoo in such a way that it appears there is a working balance of $12,000,000, and he has reached the conclusion that if the daily statement of the United States Treasury were made up now according to the same procedure that was followed before the Democratic Party came into power the available balance would be only $2,517,027.21.

Josiah Sudder was a widower, forty-five years old. The only thing about him that differed from a hundred men around him was the fact that he stammered. It was only when he was excited, however, and a great many persons had never heard him stammer.

Henry Hitchcock after being graduated from a medical college in America went to Paris, which was then the center of medical science of the world, to complete his education.

He stopped there and could not go ahead. He was looking for his hat to leave the house when Mary, who was a good girl and understood the situation, gave him a squeeze and replied: "Yes, Josiah, I will marry you and make you a good wife. We will be married in about two weeks if you want to."

The doctor drew his inference, which was by no means doubtful. The older man had come between the young lovers.

When Josiah Sudder was introduced to the widow Oliver it did not take him two minutes to make up his mind that she should be his second wife.

On reaching the ground he found the principals masked. They fought with fobs, and one was severely wounded. After landing up the wound the doctor got into a carriage with his patient and drove to his apartments.

Meanwhile the widow had caught on to the fact that she was the victim of a thief. She went to a blacksmith's shop and asked the smith if he had such a thing as a bear trap.

Whether through excitement at receiving his visitor or from other cause the wound had begun to bleed afresh. The doctor stopped the flow, then turned. A young girl whose mask lay on the floor stood before him.

"And the bear trap?" she softly asked. "Oh, well, I'll throw that away. It has done his duty. It has caught me a wife and a husband."

The young man was Count Victor Debut, a son of the old French nobility, and was the person who had saluted the couple at the Tuilleries ball.

"Where do you live?" asked a man of his Richmond friend. "Next to Grace street."

"Don't you think," I inquired of the prosperous looking man with the heavy mustache and "catch chain, who was dressed in the fourteen inch black line suit, that the world is getting better?"
