Installed—Output Enlarged and Expense Decreased. The present year has witnessed extensive improvements in the cotton mill at this place, under the direction of Supt. Charles H. Keara rho has not let a year go by during the time he has been in charge of this thriving industry without bringing about changes facilitating the work and enlarging the output,

Chief among this year's improvements were the installation of new boilers and engines, in creasing the available horsepower from 500 to electric motors, getting their current from a large new generator. Individual motors have been attached to speeders, warpers and spoolers, increasing the safety of the employees and adding to the efficiency of these machines.

A new elevator has also been installed, electrically operated. The comfort of employees has been enhanced by the installation of a large Warren Webster heating plant and saultary conditions, always improved. The new vacuum system of carrysaid to be the largest of its kind in the world is working to perfection and effects a greatsaving, in addition to bring more sanitary. Experiments are being made with a new original cotton fibre. New coal pockets have en completed, enabling the company to handle coal at a considerable saving: The mili is now equipped with the finest and most up-to-date machinery obtainable and is one of the most progressive industries of its kind in existence. Those who are advocates of "economy and efficiency" could find no greater argument in favor of their contentions than the splendid manner in which this big managed; waste, labor and byproducts being reduced to a minimum. Improvements under consideration.

Supt. Kears is an ardent protectionist and believes the workmen and industries of this country should be amply protected by high tariffs. He believes that had it not been for the war, not only the cotton industry but many others would have been hard hit by the importation of foreign products, made by cheap labor. He does not fear any great trouble from this source, however, even if the war. should come suddenly to an end, for the reason that the foreign mills would not be able to ship any great quantity of goods into this country before the tariff is again put where it

Mr. George Wood, one of the owners of the mill, paid the industry a vielt Saturday leat and was greatly pleased with the exceedable on in which he found it.

MAINTAIN PUBLIC SCHOOL FOR TWO SEVEN YEAR OLDS

Unique Condition Exists On Brigantine Island--Regular Teacher On Job.

Who has ever heard of a city with only two pupits in its public school? It's Brigantine, of course-now termed. East Atlantic City, where eighteen voters send two representatives to the Board of Freeholders. There are only two children on the island, and these are seven year old offspring of life guards stationed there. For the proper education of these two tots, the city is obliged, to maintain s school house, employ a teacher at $50 a. month, and conduct regular sessions of school, That isn't the worst of it. These two little tots are obliged to trudge more than a mile to the school house. Some of the members of the education board think the school should be located in one of the children's homes, but the change for some reason has not been made. So school goes merrily on, the teacher calling
