BELL PHONE CO. PLAN TO ABSORB INTERSTATE IN ATLANTIC COUNTY

"RECORD" HAS EVIDENCE OF CHANGE ABOUT TO BE MADE

WILL TAKE OUT RIVAL PHONES

Acquired Property By Recent Receiver's Sale-No More Free Service For Public In Exchange For Franchise Privileges-Freeholders May Object To Termination System.

Rumore of coulated during the last few months, since the sale of the Inter-State Con-peny's effects to the Delaware & Atlantic, commonly known as the Bell system, that the latter is plauning to merge the two systems into one and do away with Inter-State phones in Atlantic Couty, are proven well-founded by indiaputable evidence in possession of "The Record." Such is the lutention of the Bell people, who, unless legal objections are found against the project, will as soon as possible discontinue service on the Inter-State telephones wherever the Bell system has poles and wires

Where the Bell system has not penetrated, any number on the Inter-State system.

The sale was + ade on August 5 last, in Tren top, by James Kerney, Receiver, when the Bell interests purchased the rival company's ave tem. Rumors started at once that the Bell intended to discontinue the Inter-State phones but thin was denied by the officials of the con pany in charge of the Bell system in Atlantic County. These officials themselves, it appears had no knowledge of the intended change an so far as can be learned have no official inti mation of it even at this date.

Although the Bell interests deny that they bought the Inter-State with any "strings attached," by the terms of the advertisement of Christmas gifts and at the same time help the the sale, published in July in "The Record," the company must have taken over contracts tua, also to purchase a pulmotor, come out this and other obligations of the Inter-State. One afternoon and evening; for the last day is paragraph of the advertisement of the sale going to be the best and liveliest of all.

Among the telephones of the Inter-State offices, both here and in Atlantic City, which are used in pursuance of an agreement made with the Inter-State people several years ago giving, free service to the county in exchange refused to grant free telephones in exchange for franchises, on the ground that the Public Utility Commission will not approve such action. This contention on their part is correct, for very recently the Commission turned down it was stipulated that the city was to have free telephone service. The Commission ruled that the Bell cannot give such service in return for a franchise. As the taking out of the Inter-State phones would result in the end of free service for county business and entail a large expanditure annually for telephones, the free service of the Inter-State people was agreed fros strvico on the Inter-State system;

the Inter-State phones in this vicinity are also Keystone phones, wires of both companies connecting with local phones, and Keystone officials are said to have declared the Bell peo ple cannot take over their property as it was not included in the receiver's sale.

At any rate, it may be said without fear of contradiction that it is the intention of the Bell system to take over all rival systems in this county at the earliest possible moment. This is considered by some as a good project, as it will standardise telephone service and put every telephone patron in touch with the others; but others regard it as a monopoly fraught with some menace to the county.

For several years there has been a " telepho war" between the Board of Freeholders of this county and the Bell system, resulting in such work must be reported under penalty. holding up a fifty-year franchise sought by the company over county roads. Although the franchise has never been granted and at times members of the Board have threatened to take strenuous measures to bar Bell wires from along county highways, the Bell people have continued to extend their service, securing franchises from various townships and municipalities. Several attempts were made by the Bell to get the franchise through, the last time meeting with defeat by a vote of fourteen to ten, and since then it has not been brought before the county solons,

This year four days of the time usually devoted to Farmers' Week will be be devoted to programs appealing to persons interested in the country church, community betterment, marketing methods and boys' and giris' club work.

The conference will be held on the Rutzers' College campus and at the College Farm. The first session will be held on Monday, December 27, and the conference will continue through Thursday. Monday and Tuesday will be occupied by the country church program The marketing conference will be held Wednesday morning. Wednesday afternoon and Thursday will be devoted to the boys' and girls' program.

Tomatoes are grown on 6,273 farms in New Jersey, 26,552 acres being devoted to the crop. The value of the crop for the year was place at $2,131,872. The fact that this acreage is one eighth of the reported acreage devoted to to matoes in the country, and this value onesixth of the reported value of the crop for the entire country, is an indication of the importance of the crop in this State. During the pas season the prices at times were very low, and the problem of finding a profitable market was a serious one. A special bulletin, "Mar keting Tomatoes in New Jersey," will be sent n request to farmers interested.

Truck farmers are buying more lime than usual this year. The application of lime is very beneficial to many marketable crops, but one of the greatest values of lime is realized in an indirect way, from the increased growth obtained in the cover crop. ### WANTONLY DESTROY BUSHES TO GET HOLLY WITH BERRIES

Ruthless Methods of Careless Pickers Playing Havoc With Shrubbery.

Reckless holly gathering is playing havoc with holly bushes in the vicinity of May's Landing and conditions are probably similar in other sections of the county. Unless steps are taken in the near future to discourage the they will be soon be as scarce as mistletoe, which was once very abundant and can only be found now in remote swamps where pickers cannot easily get at it.

It is no uncommon sight to see large bushes, several years old, careleasly broken down in the anreamding woods with but one or two twigs plucked off, thoughtless persons breaking them down to get a branch or so carrying berries. With a little care these bushes could be bent over without breaking them, or a few minutes walk would take the pickers to bushes where they could get what they want without damage to the shrubbery.

Automobile parties are very careless in this respect. Occupants see a bush with a few berries near the top near the roadside and instead of taking time to avoid breaking the bush, or to go into the woods a little deeper, they ruin the entire bash. Other offenders are tion. An explanation of the chief types of irresponsible persons who go after holly with

President A Clever Pleader.

No one in public life can present a case bet ter than President Wilson. He should have been an advocate, a pleader of causes, from whom no special consistency of action is demanded, but who presents the best possible phase of the subject under dispute. His mes sage to Congress is an almost perfect example of the pleader's art, so good in literature and art that little is left to be saked, except some better rememberance of what he once believed and protested. ## COUNTY FARMERS HOLD INSTITUTES AT HAM-MONTON AND COLOGNE

PROFIT BY EXCHANGE OF EXPERIENCES TILLING THE SOIL

SUCCESSFUL METHODS SHOWN

Meetings Held Under Direction of Demonstrator Elwood Douglass -Storm Keeps Many At Home -Helpful Suggestions Made By Leaders In Various Lines Of Agricultural Work.

Two farmers institutes were held during the past week by Elwood Douglass, Farm Den strator, Monday at Cologne and Tuesday at the attendance at Hammonton was only sixty five and at Cologne, seventy; but the meetings were full of interest and were a source of great profit to all who attended. The programs at both meetings were practically identical. Mrs. Rose Morgan, of New York City, filled one of the most interesting places on the program by her talk and singing on "Songs That Live." She not only mentioned the national songs of each country, but sang them. In her were a great many songs that had not livedy ones that were a disgrace to any home and many of them wongs that if mothers would take time to look over would not allow their daughters to play and sing.

Mr. R. W. Debaun, Extension Specialist in

Vegetable Growing, gave "Some Helpful Buggestions in Truck Farming," discussing the necessity of apraying tomatoes with Bordesuz mixture and of results obtained the past Sunimer by County Agent Thrasher, of Cape May County. The results were doubled. He also nentioned the results obtained by County Agent Merrill, of Bergen County, in the use of powdered arsenate of lead and sulphur, equal parts. Mr. H. S. Lippincott, of Mariton, gave an infeteresting talk on "Our Native Birds and Their Helpful Habits." This talk was more than interesting, due to the fact that many of their birds we think harmful are not and in see cases two-thirds of their food consists of harm ful insects and boss. Joseph D. Giacomo vs. Joseph W. Ordre. New Jersey, gave a talk on the "Results of On-District Court. $256.63. John S. Westcott and operative Efforts in the Peach Industry." Regave the results accomplished by the . East Vineland Peach Growers' Association the past Summer, declaring that the same results could be accomplished in any section where the growers would cooperate. He also mentioned it was necessary to cooperate in the spraying is well as the packing and shipping, saying that standard grading and packing would velopment Co. Circuit Court. Thom poon and bring more on the market than mixed crude ing and packing. He says it pays to adv but that the best advertisement is the fruit itself. Through the East Vinciand Asset the past Summer there was a demand created n some of the markets that have never known Jersey peaches, Mr. Perkins, of East Vine. land, one of the members of the Association, was then called on and he insisted that too much credit could not be given to Prof. Blake and his helpers for their assistance the past nections, cess pools, gas piping, plumbing of Summer. He then put it more strongly that through Prof. Blake the Association had been made a great success and they expect to continue with the same plan the coming Summer. Mr. Willard Minch, of Bridgeton, spoke on "Methods of Strawberry Growing," telling the farmers that it is always best to stick to varieties originated in their own State or county. Mr. Minch advised the matted row system. The fertilizer recommended by him is, I-2 ton bone meal per acre at the time of actting, and from 500 to 800 pounds the following Spring of a fertilizer containing 6 per cent. of nitrogen, 7 per cent, of said phosphate, and, if possible, 5 per cent, of potash. Two of the varieties recommended were Gandy Prize and Chesapeake. Mr. Minch gave a talk on "Growing of Onions from Sets," saying that it is always best to grow your own sets and that his practice has been for the past four or five years to grow onions in the same field. This is not reco mended in all cases, but where the onlong are given proper care and are kept free from mag-got and thrip this system can be followed. Mr. DeBaun than gave a talk on "Planting of Early Vegetables," stating that it was not nece sary to wait until March or April before such crops as spinnach, lettuce, paraley and carrots are sown, but if a good bed is prepared in the rali and the rows marked out about 1 1-2 inches deep that in January the seed can be sown in the shallow rows and covered with very fine manure. In this way the farmer can often have his crops two or three weeks earlier than if the ground was prepared in Spring. Mr. V. G. Aubry, Extension Specialist in Poultry Husbandry#gave a talk illustrated with stereopticon alides on "Baising Poultry for Market" mentioning the best birds and those maturing quickest. He also gave the food recommended for the best egg production. The last picture be threw on the screen was of a hen that held the record for 200 eggs and said this the kind of layers that all poultrymen
