LOCAL NEWS.

The Record from now till Jan. 1, 1885, will be published in both churches to-morrow.

Steps are being taken to start a Sunday School at the Cemetery Church.

It is rumored that the Taylor meadow farm is about to change hands again.

Cramer's grain bread is finding ready sale. It is sweet, wholesome and nutritious.

We will send the Record to any address from date to January 1, 1885, for 75 cents.

Andrew Baxter's log was slaughtered on Tuesday, and when dressed weighed 500 pounds.

Because of the reduction in wages the section men have left the road and gone to chopping wood.

The Weymouth mills are running on full time and are turning out an excellent quality of paper.

County Supt. Morse corroborates our statement concerning the school at this place in last week's issue.

Henry Cook, brought to jail about two weeks ago from Atlantic City, was released on bail on Thursday.

A man played back havoc with Jas. S. Coleman's poultry last Thursday night. It killed about half of his flock.

Most of the ice houses about town were filled on Thursday and Friday. The ice is as clear as crystal and between four and five inches in thickness.

While Joseph Weil was working away from his icehouse yesterday, a piece thrown through the door struck him on the head and cut quite a gash in his scalp.

Miss Annie Eberhardt, who has been ill with typhoid fever for some time past, died on Friday evening last. Her remains were taken to Millville for interment.

Chas. Miller, wholesale liquor dealer at Atlantic City, died at his residence in that place on Saturday evening last and was buried at Egg Harbor City on Thursday.

Hundreds of large whales have been seen sporting off the Delaware Capes and as far south as Atlantic City. Several boats were in pursuit near Townsend's Inlet, but without success.

Some thick rained Henry Higbee's chicken coop at Atlantic City one night last week. The nocturnal visitor was evidently a duck gunner as he left behind him a cut that would fit a gun of ordinary bore.

The bridge boys have invested in a set of boxing gloves, and by the first of May we presume some of them will be able to knock Sullivan out in about one round. Dick Smith wears the champion's belt.

On Saturday last while the high wind was blowing it forced the top of the factory wagon was blown from the running gears, carrying the driver, Harry Scully, with it. Fortunately Harry escaped without serious injury.

While Charles Barrett was returning from the woods one day this week, he tripped and fell, striking his knee on the blade of an axe he was carrying. Since the accident he has been confined to the house, not being able to use the injured limb.

County Supt. Morse visited the schools in this section on Tuesday and Wednesday. In speaking on the subject he said he was much surprised to find so great an improvement in the Estellville school, attributing it all to Miss Lou Joslyn, the teacher.

H. H. Warner & Co., of Rochester, have just made a contract with Whitney Brothers, of Gloucester, for 750,000 bottles, which will weigh 10,000,000 pounds and fill 500 freight cars. This is said to be the largest contract for bottles ever made.

Roscoe Donnelly, who tried to knock Atlantic City's police force out last summer, and who was tried, convicted and sentenced to pay a fine for not completing the job in a satisfactory manner, and failing to pay the fine imposed upon him by the court had been confined in the jail on Thursday, a pardon having been granted by Gov. Abbott.

We have made arrangements to get the news from all the shore villages every week and purpose to make the Record a county paper in the fullest sense of the word. Parties subscribing now will get the Record till Jan. 1, 1885 for 75c, or the Record with the Philadelphia Weekly Press of the Washington National Tribune for $1.75. There is no better time than the present to subscribe.

We cordially recommend to the attention of our readers that sterling Republican Journal, The Philadelphia Weekly Press, with its many different departments filled with fresh news, interesting stories, crisp paragraphs, and choice agricultural information. We have made a favorable clubbing contract with the publishers and shall with pleasure forward to subscribers The Philadelphia Weekly Press and May's Landing Record for $1.75 a year.

A very pleasant revival meeting is now going on in the May's Landing M. E. Church. Quite a number are nightly at the altar of prayer seeking experimental religion. We noticed one on Monday evening two of whom professed conversion. This makes the fourth meeting of the revival since it has been held on this charge, beginning in September, and almost continuously from then till now. All of these meetings have proved excellent success, except the one at Estellville, which fell upon a raining period of two weeks which so interfered with the attendance as to lead to its suspension.

Through the County.

SMITHVILLE.

N. W. this week is as scarce as hen's teeth. The protracted meetings are about the only object of interest since your last issue.

Within the last ten years some fifteen or twenty families have moved from this neighborhood to Leeds' Point, their work being near that village.

The tolling of the bell Wednesday morning threw an air of sadness over the whole neighborhood. Another landmark in the person of our highly respected neighbor, Mr. Robert Leeds, passed from life to death.

Deceased was sixty-five years of age. The funeral which took place on Saturday from the M. E. Church was largely attended and much sorrow expressed.

LEEDS' POINT.

Now that all the sinners around this locality have been converted to Methodism, it would be a good idea for them to buy the Presbyterian Church which stands unoccupied year after year. The nearest Methodist Church is at Smithville.

Mrs. Byrd, of Atlantic, is building a cottage near the school house. She will occupy it herself. It is surrounded on all sides by the famous Jersey sand and scrub oaks.

Beyond doubt, John Higbee, of this place, owns the finest residence in Galloway. He is now enclosing his yard with a beautiful fence.

The removal of the post office is exciting some want. The majority seem to want it at Leeds' Point while others want it removed to Smithville. The Point certainly is more central.

CENTREVILLE.

A large amount of muck has been taken from the upper shore of the pond and spread broadcast over the neighboring farms.

Miss Minnie Bowen has returned from a delightful visit to Bridgeton and Atlantic City.

Nightly the farmers and baymen gather around the grocery store fire, and strong arguments and startling eloquence are displayed by them.

On the 10th inst. Wesley Miller, Justice of the Peace at Leeds' Point, united in wedlock, Mr. John E. Conover and Mrs. Annie C. Leeds. Both of this village.

PORT JEFFERSON.

The brick dwelling house which stands on the Smithville road was once the home of Sheriff Lamy. The yard is grown up with alders and bushes and the building is fast crumbling to decay.

Len. Rose went to Smith's Landing last Thursday evening and was caught on the hunting grounds and scolded by the Kinewangah Tribe of Red Men.

A supper and sociable was given in Blackman's Hall on Wednesday evening of last week, under the auspices of the M. E. Church. As usual there was a large attendance and the church netted a good round sum.

A pretty row about the household of Dr. R. Rose, and Mr. R. anxiously looks forward to the time when the new comer will cry out papa.

ATLANTIC CITY.

Joe Steelman is enclosing the property on the south side of his dwelling with a substantial palisade fence.

The popular Ellis Family, of Vineland, gave one of their entertainments in the M. E. Church on Saturday night. The church was well filled and the entertainment quite amusing.

On Thursday night Prof. Wm. J. Street and his concert troupe gave an entertainment at the same place. Both were successful and netted a nice sum to the church.

The Temperance Division has postponed its sociable until the 28th inst.

The railroad station was broken into one night last week. Judging from the appearance of things, crowbars were used pretty freely on the safe, which, we understand, contained quite a sum of money.

The thieves did not succeed in opening the safe and nothing was stolen.

PLEASANTVILLE.

H. L. Warner the new undertaker has a varied and complete stock of furniture. This long felt want is now supplied and Mr. W. is doing a rushing business.

Not a boom, but a steady and larger increase from year to year, characterizes the building operations in Pleasantville.

The remains of Henry Stevens, who was killed at the Arctic voyage, crossing in Atlantic City, by the Reading freight train last Thursday, were brought to this place for burial Sunday afternoon.

With feelings of sadness we are called upon to record the death of Miss Willing, who died of a lingering illness of several months. For some years past Miss Willing had taught several of the public schools on the shore, and was considered a good teacher and was universally beloved.

The funeral took place from the M. E. Church at Smith's Landing on Thursday. The attendance was very large and the scene of the church was very affecting.

Air of sadness pervaded the whole community and the funeral procession presented a very solemn appearance as it wended its way to the churchyard. Pleasantville Temperance Division met in their hall and prepared a grand reception and supper of corn and mince. A number of great chiefs will be present and an invitation has been extended to Pequot Tribe of Atlantic City.

Nayem and John H. Adams have bought the schooner yacht, "Katy Crammer" of Captain Halsey of Pleasantville, and will engage in the oyster business at Dividing Creek, a stream flowing into the Delaware bay. It will be remembered that these boys left their parental home two years ago to seek their fortune. Both were ambitious and industrious and by steady work and economy they have accumulated a few hundred dollars and are now going into business for themselves. Their cousin, Wesley Adams left home about the same time. He has also accumulated a nice sum and has gone to Staten Island to buy himself a yacht. He will also engage in the oyster business at Dividing Creek.

LINWOOD.

The recent cold weather has brought many black ducks and brand into the bays and thoroughfares.

We are told that several members of the West Jersey Game Protective Society are on the shore in search of violators of the game laws.

Protecting the Game.

THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE WEST JERSEY GAME PROTECTIVE SOCIETY.

The annual meeting of the West Jersey Game Protective Society was held a few days ago at Gloucester City. It was decided to appropriate $1,000 for the purchase of land, to be distributed next Spring in Camden, Gloucester, Cumberland, Salem, Atlantic and Cape May counties, all of which are within the jurisdiction of the Society. A reward of fifty cents will be given for every hawk killed in any of the above counties. Game Detectives Ore and Platt made a report showing that during the season and half a year they had killed over a hundred birds and arrested five men for gunning without a license. The latter were not prosecuted, however, as each of them took out a license immediately. Eleven hundred and thirty snoods had been destroyed and one pheasant fence. Pheasants had given them considerable trouble in the woods near Clayton, Gloucester, Maysland and Franklinville. Game had been very plentiful during the season and there was a great quantity left for breeding purposes.

There has been trouble for many years between the West Jersey Game Protective Association and the Plainfield Game Protective Association as to their respective jurisdictions. The West Jersey people's charter prohibited shooting game without their permit. The Plainfield people claimed that their charter, granted six years later, made their permits to shoot good anywhere in the State. Recently Charles P. Jones, of Philadelphia, licensed by the Plainfield society, was arrested for shooting in Cumberland county. Justice Wilson, of Maysland, held that the Plainfield certificate was worthless in South Jersey, and fined Mr. Jones $50 and costs. The case was argued on Tuesday on an appeal to the county court in Bridgeton, before Judge Alfred Reed, of the Supreme Court. This Judge decided against Mr. Jones, holding that the West Jersey Association's privilege was exclusive in the six Southern counties.

STATE NOTES.

Carpenters are at work building the new M. E. Church at North Vineland.

Diphtheria is prevalent at Bordentown. The clergyman having each lost a child from it within the past few days.

The Salem County Board of Freeholders has voted $250 to Sheriff Kelly for his services in connection with the Sullivan execution.

Sumner & Bro., of South Pennsgrove, have sold during the present season 10,000 pounds of killing twine, to be used in knitting nets for the coming spring.

The Court of Chancery has issued a decree foreclosing a mortgage for $140,517.40 against the Cape May City Land Company, and in favor of Mark Devine, of Philadelphia.

There is a man living near Swallow's station, Cape May county, who has adopted the style first introduced by Noah, "having his horses and other livestock all under the same roof as himself."

The authorities of Millville are considering the advisability of creating a Fourth ward in that city. If the Legislature should sanction this, it would give the city additional power in the Board of Freeholders.

The annual report of the State Bureau of Statistics has been filed with the Governor and shows the marriages, births and deaths in the State during the past year, to be as follows: Marriages, 8,968; births, 25,363; deaths, 21,710.

It was said that in the morning of Friday by Alfred Bradford, an oculist, and was exhibited in Bridgeton, where it was viewed by hundreds of people. It measured five feet in length, is of dark gray color and weighs 100 pounds.

The jury in the case of John Cheeseman, editor of the Bridgeton Patriot, charged with assault and battery on J. L. VanSledright, disappeared and were discharged. VanSledright was convicted of simple assault, and sentenced to pay $50 fine and costs.

It is said that there is to be a bill introduced at the present session of the Legislature authorizing the organization of a battery of heavy artillery. Atlantic City would be a good station for it; there is no organization of the National Guard anywhere on the coast between Long Branch and Cape May.

The Bridgeton Evening News says: "Mr. James D. Sheppard, a Cedarville lawyer, woke up on Friday morning last and was astonished and alarmed to find that she could not open her mouth." A physician was at once summoned and is during what he can for her, but since that time the lady has been unable to articulate a word.

The milk trial of the State vs. Joseph Finlaw came off before Justice Wood, of Salem, on Wednesday, and resulted in the conviction of the accused. The State complained itself to prosecuting for the sale of milk that did not contain 65 per cent. of solids. A fine of $50 and costs was imposed, but it is probable that an appeal will be taken.

Prof. Geo. H. Cook, State Geologist, recently gave the result of an experiment in feeding three pens of hogs. The Professor says it took 51 pounds of corn meal to make a pound of pork; 5 pounds of corn and 620 pounds of shelled corn, unground, and made a pound of pork. These are interesting figures for stock farmers.

During the winter on Monday week Captain Thomas Bond left Thicketon in a small boat to go to the life-saving station on Long Beach, since when nothing has been heard from him, and it is feared he was drowned. He was the oldest life-saving Captain in the Government service, and was 80 years old. He had saved many lives along the coast from shipwrecked vessels.

When the friends of the Dilks family at Richmond had assembled for the funeral services of Geo. Dilks, on Wednesday of last week, Elijah father of the deceased, and who was also a consumptive, asked to have one last look at the face of his son. The coffin was brought and his wish gratified. An hour afterwards he, too, was dead, and the sorrowful scene at the residence was one too sad to be described or forgotten.

A few days ago one pair of wheels under a coal car in the center of a long train on the Amboy Division left the track near Rematins. The accident was not discovered until the train kept on the derailed wheels hanging over the ties. When the train reached Amboy and the car was seen an inspection was made and it was found that the wheels had cut the heads off about 2,000 of the spikes and 1,000 of the bolts that fastened the rails along which it had run.

Joseph Brian, of Berlin, has brought suit against the Camden and Atlantic Railroad Company for $100,000 damages for injuries to the wife of Conductor Smith, of the Camden and Atlantic Railroad, who was killed at the Pike's Peak accident, will use the company for damages.

RELIGIOUS.

EDITED BY REV. J. G. CRUTE.

In 1828 a new circuit was formed, and called "Bargaintown circuit." It included in it the churches for regular service then existing. It was constituted of the lower West Jersey circuit and a part of the New Mills circuit. The place which gave name to the circuit just mentioned is now known as Bargaintown after the name of the family from which General Pemberton of Vicksburg history in the late war sprang, by near descent. To form the new circuit, of course required the action of the annual conference with which the circuit out of which it was formed was identified, which was the Philadelphia annual conference. The Philadelphia conference of that day included in its bounds, all of the state of New Jersey, all of Delaware, the Eastern Shore of Maryland and a very large part of the territory of the State of Pennsylvania.

There were five annual conferences on the same territory, viz: Philadelphia, New Jersey, Newark, Delaware, and the central Pennsylvania. The State of New Jersey was then divided into the East and West Jersey Districts.

The names of the appointments set off to and constituting the newly formed Bargaintown circuit at the time above noted of which we now write were as follows: Zion, Exigilous, West (now Camden) Abasco, Warrington (now Fort Republic) Leeds, Warrington, Pinecroft, Gloucester Furnace, Westcoast, Pleasant Mills, Lake, Green Bank, Glass Works, Dutch Mills, New Friendship, South River, Estellville, Weymouth, May's Landing and the Shaw school house. To serve the new circuit thus constituted, Wm. Burroughs and James Long were appointed as the pastors that spring, and the great orator Charles Pitman was appointed at the same time Presiding Elder of the West Jersey District, of which the new circuit was a part. The fame of the latter still remains through all the Southern New Jersey as one of the greatest preachers that ever spoke to an audience on the subject of redemption by the Atonement.

At camp-meetings he was usually at his best, and would hold an audience in breathless attention for two hours and longer consecutively, often drawing the people unconsciously from their seats to their feet, and not infrequently forward towards the stand, till they would be packed around it hanging on his words. His moral power fully given out, a portion of the brain thought to have been brought on by excessive smoking after he was elected Missionary Secretary induced by referring from an active to a sedentary life, and he died about thirty years ago feeble than a child, a warning to all to be cautious in their use of the seductive weed, and to not too suddenly change from activity to retirement.

At a quarterly meeting held near Bargaintown which was the first one for the new circuit, on June 14th 1828, and which was presided over by local preachers and ten exhorters, representative men gathered there in official meeting from the points just named constituting the new circuit. This item is interesting as showing who the leading men and workers in the cause of the church and methodism were in the country thirty-eight years ago. The names of the local preachers were: John Price, Parker Gorder, Richard Leeds, Simon Lucas, John Smallwood, Nicholas Vansant, a English, Samuel Sharp and John Core.

THE DORCAS MAGAZINE.

The Dorcas Magazine.

The Dorcas Magazine, a periodical devoted to the interests of Women and the Home, has completed its first year's work. Its pages are filled with plain directions for making an infinite variety of useful and decorative articles, and its aim is evidently not only to help women to employ their time in a useful and pleasing manner, but also to be of service to those whom necessity compels to labor.

There are thousands of women throughout the land supporting themselves by the aid of the CROCHET-BOOK and KNITTING-BOOKS, to whom the Dorcas is invaluable. The PATTERNS given are selected with care and taste, and the working directions, which, by the way, are printed without abbreviation, are selected by an expert, to prevent mistakes. KNITTING-BOOKS, CROCHET-BOOKS, all kinds of EMBROIDERY, and ARTISTIC NEEDLEWORK are treated in its columns. Innumerable hints and suggestions, with regard to personal and home decoration are given, which may be enlarged indefinitely. The Dorcas has found an unoccupied field in filling it in so satisfactory a manner, that it is fast becoming a recognized authority on all matters pertaining to WOMANLY HANDICRAFT. During its first year it gave double the value promised. Each number contains more technical matter than can be purchased separately for 75c. TIMES its cost to subscribers. Yearly $1.

Sample copies sent to any one in the United States or CANADA, on receipt of 10 cents. Address: DORCAS, 672 Broadway, New York City.
