STAMINA VERSUS BLUFF.

Once 1 knew a brilliant laddie,-you have known the very kind,-Who began at such a pace he left the other lads behind; Problems he could solve instanter made us others groan and sweat, And in envy he was labeled, "teacher's precious little pet:" But, in later life, the figure that he cut was sad to see, For he soon was far to rearward e'en of stupid you and me. 'T seemed the talents we had envied lacked the lasting wort of stuff, And he diin't have the stamina to follow up his bluff.

Brillfant starts are far more common than a brillant finish is Rockets roar,-the falling handles make a faint and feeble fizz; Deer, when flushed, do feats of running that would take a fellow's breath, Yet the man who knows his quarry simply walks the deer to death. Pluck and never-ending courage are the things that help us most, And the winner's oft the one who didn't waste his breath to boast. Plod and gray, but plod while praying, be the roadway smooth or rough; Thus you-cultivate the stamina to follow up your bluff.

Not for my mother's daughters, not for my aunts' nieces, were such ways! Mother would have thought it vulgar and indelicate to the last degree to train us to look toward matrimony as a goal. She would have died of shame at the thought of teaching us the artifices of attraction. She disdained to suggest to us in any way that it was desirable to please.

I think she heartily despised those mothers who invited young men to their houses, or made things attract-Ive for young men in their houses. In her heart I suppose the dear lady was convinced that the intrinsic worth of her daughters, their compelling natural charms, would be a resistless magnet, and that, in due course of time. there would come "three dukes a-riding" to bear us off in a whirl of glory. An Ufanswered Question.

The bater class of druggists, everywhere, are men of scientific attainments and high integrity, who devite their lives to the welfare of their fellow men in supplying the best of remedies and purest nedicinal agents of known value, in accordance with physicians' prescriptions and scientifie formula. Druggists of the better class manufacture many excellent remedies, but always inder original of officinal names and they never sell false brands, or imitation medicines. They are the men to deal with when in need of anything in their line, which usually includes all standard remedies and corresponding adjuncts of a first-class pharmacy and the finest and best of thilet articles and preparations and many useful accessories and remedial appliances. The earning of a fair living, with the satisfaction which arises from a knowledge of the benefits conferred upon their patrons and assistance to the medical profession, is usually their greatest reward 1 r long years of study and many hours of daily toil. They all know that Syrup of Figs is an excellent laxative remedy and that it gives universal satisfaction, and therefore they are selling many millions of bottles annually to the well informed purchasers of the choicest remedies, and they always take pleasure in handing out the genuine article bearing the full name of the Company-California Fig Syrup Co.-printed on the front of every package. They know that in cases of colds and badaches attended by biliousness and consignation and of weakness or torpidity of the liver and bowels, arising from irregular habits, indigestion, or over-eating, that there is no other remedy so pleasant, prompt and beneficial in its effects as Syrup of Figs, and they are glad to sell it because it gives universal satisfaction.

Owing to the excellence of Syrup of Figs, the universal satisfaction which it gives and the immense demand for it, imitations have been made, tried and condemned, but there are individual druggists to be found, here and there, who do not maintain the dignity and principles of the profession and whose greed gets the better of their judgment, and who do not hesitate to recommend and try to sell the imitations in order to make a larger profit. Such preparations sometimes have the name-" Syrup of Figs"-or "Fig Syrup" and of some piratical concern, or flotitious fig syrup company, printed on the package, but they never have the full name of the Company-California Fig Syrup Co.-printed on the front of the package. The imitations should be rejected because they are injurious to the system. In order to still the imitations they find it necessary in resort to misrepresentation or deception, and whenever a dealer passes off on a customer a preparation under the name of "Syrup of Figs" or "Fig Syrup," which does not bear the full name of the California Fig Syrup Co. printed on the front of the package, he is a tempting to deserve and mislead the patron who has been so unfortunate as to enter his
