"I do not care for them, Charlie-For Willie, or Rob, or Ed. Or any one ; 'twas only for fun, For no one else could I wed."

Thus sang a bonnie maiden. With a tear in her bright brown eye, And a look of care in her face so fair, And a voice "twixt a laugn and a cry.

But down by the brook, in the meadow Strolls a form that she knows full well And a lady fair, with golden hair, Is with him-some city belle.

Down in the fragrant grasses Sinks the maid. with a smothered moan ; "Ah, me !" she sobs, "how my heart throbs To be left alone-alone."

"Why these tears, my Kitty ?" Surling, hor Charlis she saw. "Twas only a jest your love to test, And that s my new s ster- n-law."

And under the drooping branches, Where none but the wild b rds saw, She smiled through her tears and whispered her

Sunday Services.

A representative of the RECORD attended worship at the M. E. Church on last Sunday morning. Rev. James Vansant delivered an earnest and thoroughly practical discourse from Isaiah 40:31,-" They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run and not be weary; they shall walk and not faint." Additional force was given to the text by reading two or three of the preceding verses. The theme announced by the speaker was-Waiting upon God, and the Benefits derived therefrom. It is a great first duty, and God has a right to our best services. From Him we receive all our blessings, spiritual and temporal,---to Him we should yield up our lives in service. It is a privilege, -not painful, irksome, hard,
