New Jersey Fish Commission.

The report of our State Fish Commission has many items of interest, a few of which we condense for the information of our readers:
During the year 1877 they placed Black Bass in the streams of Newton, Big Timber, Little Timber, and in the Delaware river several years ago, are turning up occasionally plump and fine. Fine specimens have been caught at Cinnaminson, Burlington, and at New Castle, Delaware, and other places, weighing from eight to twenty pounds.
The commissioners began the work of hatching at Pennamint, May 15th, by hatching at the hatchery of Burlington, Dorchester, Lambertville, Point Pleasant, Millville, and Columbia, where they concluded July 31st. During this time 4,200,000 ripe eggs were obtained and 4,000,000 young shad were hatched. Experiments have demonstrated that the process of hatching can be successfully carried on in the waters of this State only above 50° Fahrenheit. The commission spent for hatching shad, $1,745.84; for distributing black bass, $2,622.40; salmon, $500.

Heating Cities by Steam.

Experiments have been made in Rockport, New York, during the past winter, of heating large and small public and private buildings by steam. The experiments have been highly successful. Three miles of pipe properly covered with non-conducting material laid under ground through some of the principal streets radiated from a central boiler house, and fifty different dwellings and other edifices, including one large public school building, have been thoroughly warmed all winter. Dwellings more than a mile distant from the generator are heated as readily as those next to it. Steam meters are provided, so that each consumer need pay only for what he consumes. It is claimed that the system can be so developed as to furnish steam at fifty pounds pressure transmitted through twenty miles of pipe, the supplying power for engines and machinery, and steam for cooking and laundry purposes, for extinguishing conflagrations, for heating in ice or snow, or for producing hydra-mine from frost. The expense actually charged to the consumer do not exceed former cost of his coal and wood.

OUR BOOK TABLE.

The Popular Science Monthly.
For April, in our table, with the usual variety of first-class scientific literature, the contributors being of the ablest writers in their sphere of this and other countries. A summary of the contents of the number before us will give a good idea of the character of the work:
Evolution of Ceremonial Government, by H. H. Henshaw, Ph.D., New York.
The Fungus, Prof. Samuel Lockwood, illustrated. Introduction and Suggestion of Vegetable Life in America, by Prof. O. C. Marsh, Ph.D., New York.
The Fungus, by Prof. A. J. Cook, Ph.D., New York.
The Fungus, by Prof. A. J. Cook, Ph.D., New York.
The Fungus, by Prof. A. J. Cook, Ph.D., New York.

LOCAL ITEMS.

Butterflies are about.
Spring-birds, many and musical.
Hon. Wm. Moore is again improving, after a few days of great physical prostration.
Capt. Endicott has been quite ill recently, but is regaining his usual health.
Surrogate S. R. Devinsky has erected a new grape arbor on his premises, where he proposes to "keep shady" at intervals.
Don't forget that there is a fine of $5 for shooting robins. These welcome visitors are becoming very numerous, now-a-days.

LOCAL ITEMS.

Joseph Thompson, Jr., Esq., of this place, was appointed Commissioner of Deeds, by a joint meeting of the two houses of the Legislature, last week.
Extensive improvements are being made upon the premises of the May's Landing Water Power Company, a notice of which we are compelled to omit till next week.
A meeting of the Stockholders of the May's Landing and Egg Harbor City Railroad Co. will be held at the office of J. E. P. Abbott, Esq., in this place on Friday, April 12, at 11 o'clock, a. m. to elect Directors.
Capt. Ramon Clark, of this place, is preparing the ground for the erection of a commodious new building with store-room, public hall and other apartments, between his residence and Veal's hotel.
The Schooner Centennial, Capt. W. Barrett, left this port on Saturday last, for New York.
His Honor Jeremiah M. Capt. W. Souders, also sailed on Saturday for New York.
The Cranmer brothers, Louis and William, left home and friends here on Tuesday last to join their father, the Captain, on board the Sch. Franck Scherer for a resumption of business on the "briny deep."

LOCAL ITEMS.

A valuable horse belonging to C. N. Rape, Esq., got mired in a quicksand near the bridge at the west end of town on Saturday last. It required the efforts of several men to get the horse on solid footing again. He sustained no injury.
Our "oldest inhabitant," and esteemed neighbor, Hoses Joslin is fast up his premises with new fencing, and other improvements, which will doubtless be followed as a good example by his neighbors. In fact, "Uncle Hoses'" examples generally may safely be followed.
John Fry, of this place, aged about fifteen years, had the toes of his right foot mashed in the cotton factory on Tuesday last. He was standing near the elevator and looking up as the platform came down and caught his foot, luckily, only damaging the toes. He is reported as recovering the use of his foot.
The Dorothy House, corner of Atlantic and Kentucky Avenues, Atlantic City, is one of the permanent, "all year round" hotels of the city. It is owned and managed by Clement, Esq., which we have known for a number of years, is Superintendent, and we can cordially commend him to transient or permanent sojourners by the sea, who understand his business and delights in making his guests comfortable. We predict for it a "prosperity" a full and complete good business for the coming season.
Dr. Elliott, Jr., runs the Saloon of the Dorothy House, corner of Atlantic and Kentucky Avenues, Atlantic City. He prides himself in keeping and serving up fine and pure liquors, wines, &c. Old and new acquaintances and patrons will find him at headquarters, as above.

LOCAL ITEMS.

The predicted high tides on Sunday and Monday last did not put in an appearance hereabouts. "There is a tide in the affairs of men, which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune." That's not much more, either. In fact the whole matter of tides had better be left alone by our weather prophets. Down along Long Branch, where the sensation is said to have originated, all is quiet, although one man did spend the night of Monday in the top of a tall pine tree, attending to grief. There was not a word of truth in the published reports that locally, of the dying deaf and dumb boy, allusion in the churches to the predicted tidal wave, &c.

RECOVERY CONDUCT.

Several youthful offenders were arrested by officer James Peterson, and taken before Justice Martin V. B. Moore, on Tuesday last, upon complaint of several citizens for disorderly and disgraceful conduct upon the streets on Monday night last. We withhold the names of all the parties, as we have no desire to add to the reproach or shame of the young ladies who made the complaint, our only object being to preserve and promote the good order of our community, which is seldom disturbed by such instances as the one in question, and probably will not be repeated. The lesson to these young offenders is that every citizen should aid in impressing, for their future good and that of community, not treating it in a twitting or a jocular mood, but giving them a lasting idea of the nature of law and order as the common safeguards of society, and the consequences of their violation. There is an official determination among our citizens to check, at once, a growing tendency to disorder upon the streets, Sabbath desecration, etc., by men as well as boys, and to preserve the good order which is desirable and for which our village has been noted. The law should be made a "terror to evil doers, and a praise to them that do well." Justice Moore held three of the young rowdies under a fine of $5 each, including costs, to be paid by the 28th inst., or imprisonment in the county jail. The prosecution was conducted by Harry L. Slaps, Esq., who, in his opening remarks, impressed the boys with a very clear idea of the nature and province of the law and its violation, and the difference between lawful play and criminal rowdiness, and the claim which all classes, especially the gentler sex, have to protection.

THE MITE SOCIETIES.

The Mite Society of the Presbyterian Church of this place held a regular monthly meeting at the residence of Capt. Daniel Gifford, on Monday evening, the 20th inst. The meeting was good, and a pleasant interest prevailed throughout the evening. The President, Mrs. Walker, being absent, on a visit to friends in Michigan, Miss Kate Endicott presided. The usual business, reports of collectors, etc., received attention, and a very pleasant entertainment followed. A play had been prepared, but owing to the unexpected absence of some of the participants from the village it was postponed till another meeting. The company were agreeably entertained by the following exercises:
Duet on the Piano by Misses Kate Gifford and Lillie Vail.
Reading by Miss Lizzie Endicott, "Lady Clara Vere de Vere."
Song with Piano, by Miss Ella Rape,—"Jennie, the Flower of Eldora."
Reading, by Miss Kate Gifford, "A School Boy's Opinion of Education."
Piano Music by Miss Lillie Vail.
Reading by D. E. Lizard, Esq.,—"A Number of Pleasant Pantomimes, Charades, etc.," were conducted by several ladies and gentlemen to the amusement of all present, and the meeting throughout was a most enjoyable one.
An interesting meeting of the Methodist mite society was held last evening at Capt. Cranmer's residence, a report of which we are compelled to postpone till next week.

This eye along the calm rippling West, I marked a good after with busy light...

Now, in Silverton, Nevada, we used to "Silverton" "Nevada" "Yes."

"Well, you're the first man I've seen from Silverton in a moon's age. I left there six years ago; left my wife there."

"I went there nearly six years ago. Such was the passage of a conversation going on between two strangers taking a meal in a Utah restaurant, which attracted the attention of myself, eating at a different table."

"Well, how is Silverton now?" continued the dark-looking man. "Oh, pretty well. It's a good town."

"Did you know Tom Simmonson?" "Yes; killed himself drinking whiskey."

"What became of John Littlefield?" "John Littlefield killed himself a night over the Lively Dreaming Saloon."

"Sold out of the Bet Your Boots for forty thousand, went back to Pike, and is cultivating a family."

"Did Harry Martin get rid of his money?" "Yes; went to the Black Hills; got killed by the Sioux."

"Did his brother Thad get?" "He went, made a big fortune out of the placers, is a member of Congress from Nebraska now."
