LOYE'S LIGHT.

On western hills the day declines The sun sinks low beneath the pines, And where the last ray lingering shines The softly fading into night.

The tender glosming, shade on shade, Comes darkling down, on glen and glade, What time, in beauty bright arrayed, The stars bloom into sight;

, And paints the past in mellow light. On eastern alopes the sunbeams wake, The soft rays, lighting lawn and lake, On kindling earth and heaven break In radiance touched with morning dew The dawn's young beauties, fresh and sweet In blissful union move and meet,

And hope surveys on pinions strong, The inture's blessings, rich and long, And paints their dawn with , presci Morning and noon and set of sun,

What times the heavenly lastre floods, . And all her pulses thrills ; and love takes up her joyons song, And hope and memory, true and strong, resent and past with raptures throng,

The attention of Market Gardeners and others desiring to purchase Sceds is called to the EACT that the cabbage and other seeds offered by D. LANDRETH & SONS to their customers are grown and saved entirely by themselves upon their own seed farms, from their own seed stocks, the result of many years' careful and inteligent selection, and are not the result of chance and careless purchases from parties who know nothing of the business of raising seeds. Seed-raising requires years of close observation and careful allention to the one subject, and cannot be asquired in a short time by those whose attention like been engressed with other pursuits.

The seed-growing establishment of D. LANDRETH & SONS (now comprising 1,574 acres, first founded in 1784, and passing to three generations) has been conducted with the view of producing speds of the very best and purest quality.

We are therefore justified in assuring our customers that THE SEEDS OFFFRED BY

THE SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE is by far the most successful Semi-Weekly in the country, having four times the circulation of any other in New-York. It is specially adapted to the large class of intelligent, professional or business readem too far from New-York to depend on our papers for the daily news, who, nevertheless want the editorials, correspondence, book reviews, scientific inatter, lectures, literary miscellany, etc., for which The Tribune is famous. Like The Weekly it contains sixteen pages; and is in convenient form for binding. THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE

THE WEERLY TRIBUNE

Temains the great favorite of our substantial country population. It revises and condenses all the news of the week into readable shape, its agricultural department, is midrocarefully conducted than ever, and it has always been considered the best. Its market reports have long been the recognized antionity on cattle, grain and general country produce. There are special departments for the young, and for household interests; the new handlwork department, already extremely popular, gives unusually accurate and confprehensive informable with the poetry. It is not the formation in knitting, crochesting, and kind-r disabletts while poetry, fiction and the luminors of the day are all abundantly supplied. The verdict of the tens of thousands of old readers who have returned to it during the past year is that they find it better than everline rates to the lowest point we have ever touched, and to offer the most amazing primium yot given, as follows;

Use or Salt. In many cases of disal aching, termed colle, add a teaspoonful of salt to a pint of cold water, drink it and go to bed; it is one of the speedlest and best respedies known. The same will revive a person who seems almost dead from receiving a fall, etc. In an apopleptic fit, no time should be lost in rouring down salt water, if suf-ficient sensibility remains to allow of swallowing; if not the head must be sponged with cold water until the senses return, when salt will completely restore the patient from his lethargy. In a fit, the feet should be placed in warm water with mustard added, and the legs briskly rubbed, all bandages removed from the neck, and a cool apartment procured it possible.
