THE POOR MAN'S SABBATH DAY.

The merry birds are singing,
And from the fragrant and
The spirit of a thousand flowers
Go sweetly up to God;
While in his holy temple
We meet to praise and pray
With cheerful voice and grateful lay,
This Sabbath day.

We thank thee, Lord, for one day
To look heaven in the face!
The poor have only Sunday;
The rich have every day.

The wester is the guest,
The wester is the guest,
That sings their work away,
Oh, there's a sweetness infinite,
In the poor man's Sabbath day!

'Tis as a burst of sunshine,
A tender fall of rain,
That sets the bare life a-bloom,
Makes old hearts young again.
The dry and dusty roadside
With smiling flowers is gay;
'Tis open heaven one day in seven,
The poor man's Sabbath day!

'Tis here the weary pilgrim
Doth reach his home of ease;
The weary heart is here made glad,
And doth soft chamber, "peace."
The river of life runs through his dream,
And the leaves of heaven are at play!
He sees the golden city gleam,
This shining Sabbath day!

Take heart, ye faint and fearful,
And do not shrink from here;
Your crown of glory is here;
So many a face now fearful
Shall shine in glory there;
Where all the sorrow is banished,
The tears are wiped away;
And all the weary are made glad,
An endless Sabbath day!

Al! there are empty places,
Since last we mingled here;
There will be missing faces
When we meet another year!
But heart to heart, before we part,
We'll altogether pray,
That we may meet in heaven to spend
The eternal Sabbath day!

Philemon Hayes and Fanny Ray had been just three weeks married.

They had just moved into their cozy dining room one fine morning in summer, totally infatuated with each other. Never such happiness as theirs before! The felicity of human nature had been dwelling as it were in the arms of the serpent was not to be mentioned in the same breath.

They kissed each other between every cup of coffee, and embraced twice—sometimes thrice—during every meal. Just now they were speaking of disagreements. Some friends of theirs had fallen out, and refused to fall in again.

"We never will disagree, will we, Phil,
dear old fellow?" said Fanny.
"Disagree! Will the heavens fall!" returned Phil.

"I sincerely hope not. It would be decidedly disagreeable," laughed Fanny.
"But, if I thought we should ever quarrel and have harsh thoughts toward each other,
I should be tempted to tempt my existence."

"My precious Fanny!" cried Phil, springing up and upsetting the toast plate on the carpet, of which he was perfectly oblivious in his eagerness to get his arms around Fanny. "My dearest, I love you as if you should ever be so absurd (a kiss). May I be drawn and quartered (another kiss) if I ever saw a word that should cause a tear to fill the blue eyes of my dearest (a third kiss)?"

"O, how happy you make me, Phil. I shall try so hard to be just the faithful, loving wife you deserve. Now finish your breakfast, dear old fellow, and let me be ling cool. And O, Phil, did you notice Mrs.
Smith's horrid new bonnet last night? I declare it destroyed all my pleasure in my dress. I do with people who wear such disastrous bonnets would stay at home from these delightful concerts!"

"So do I, Fanny. I noticed the ugly thing the moment we entered the hall. Blue flowers and pink ribbons, and she was dark as a crow!"

"No, my love; the flowers were green.
Green and blue look so much alike by gas-light."

"I know they do, but I noticed it so peculiarly that I could not be deceived. Blue—especially light blue—looks fearfully on a dark-complexioned woman."

"So it does, Phil. I quite agree with you dear. But the flowers were not blue, they were green. I saw them in Mrs. Gray's shop before they were purchased."

"My dearest—Fanny, of course you think I'm right, don't you?"

"The flowers were not blue, they were green, and I noticed them in the following gentlemen will receive attention:
L. H. Ashley, Port Republic; Aaron Steelman, Abbecon; B. Morris, Atlantic City, and Evan Jeffrey, Pleasantville."
"All orders, by mail or telegraph, promptly attended to."

SATURDAY, MAY 31, 1919.

REMOVAL!

The office of the Record has been removed from the rear of the Post Office building to the new building facing the American Hotel, and directly in the rear of Wm. Moore, Esq.'s Law Building.

President Hayes sent in another veto on Thursday to the House, where the bill originated.

Hon. Charles Foster was nominated by the Republicans of Ohio for Governor on Wednesday.

The sale of the Narrow Gauge Railroad, which was to have taken place on Thursday, was postponed until Thursday next, June 3.

Quite an excitement has been raised in Philadelphia by the suicide of a boy named Achley, at the House of Refuge in that city. The boy's parents live in that city and they had no knowledge of his being an inmate of the institution, thinking he was in Pittsburgh with relatives. The case is to be thoroughly investigated.

We would call the special attention of all persons who were captured while in the war to the article in another column entitled "Trusses for Soldiers Free." It will be seen that by calling on Dr. Ingersoll, U. S. Examining Surgeon for Penitents, the government will furnish a Truss through him, free of charge, to the soldier.

Another New Departure.

The readers of the Record will be pleased to learn that it has taken another new departure. The departure consists in the removal of the office to a handsome and commodious new building, just erected for the purpose, and dates a new era in the Record. The building is 16 by 30 feet, and was erected by Mr. Wm. Bernabeau, under the supervision of foreman Langford; the painting was done by Mr. John Peck and mason work by Mr. Stacey Shuff, and is certainly a credit to all concerned.

An Event in Dry Goods.

Messrs. Strawbridge & Clothier call attention, prominently, to our columns today, to their great closing sale for the season, which is made under unusual circumstances.

It appears to be generally conceded by business men, that the bottom has been reached in the prices of the great staples and advances has set in with many of them, notably in Wheat, Cotton, Wool and Silk.

This advance seems to be well founded and is likely to continue, and from the low prices which have been prevailing in most manufactured articles, especially dry goods, for a year or two back, there is a probability of a reaction to higher figures, which may be considered.

Messrs. Strawbridge & Clothier, relative to the situation and to the prospects of the market in their special line of business, have made enormous purchases of staple fabrics for the next Fall and Winter trade.

They now announce that having an immense stock of Spring and Summer goods, they have decided to inaugurate a great sale and turn into cash several hundred thousand dollars worth of goods within the next thirty days. Such a sale, at reduced prices, in the face of a rapidly advancing market is almost an anomaly in business experience, and we do not doubt, from our knowledge of these gentlemen, that they have good reasons for their action, and it only remains for buyers to take advantage of the opportunity and secure their supplies of dry goods, especially Silks and Dress Goods, at prices lower than ever before and at much lower figures than they are likely to be in the future.

Hammonville High School Commencement.

The commencement exercises of the Hammonville Public School came off on Friday evening, the 29th inst. At an early hour Union Hall was crowded to its fullest extent, every inch of sitting and standing room being occupied. The exercises were conducted by Mr. W. M. Pollard, Principal of the Central School, nearly all the graduates being his pupils. The stage was beautifully decorated with flowers and the American colors, with the class motto "Nulla Festiva Deservimus" in large gilt letters in the background.

The exercises opened with music by the Hammonville Orchestra, followed with prayer by the Rev. T. H. Gordon. County Superintendent Messrs. was introduced and briefly addressed the audience upon the new departure which has been taken in Atlantic County, in having a course of study uniform in all the schools, and granting diplomas to all who graduate therefrom. Music—a school chorus.

The Salutatory, by Miss Minnie Colwell, will be written and finely delivered. Music—"See our oars with feathered spray," by a quartette.

Miss Emma Crawley gave an essay on "Blunders," the school sang a chorus, after which came an essay on "Famous Authors," by Miss Alice Oliver.

"My Cottage Home," a duet and quartette, was very finely rendered. Next in order was an original declamation by Mr. Elmer Packard.

Instrumental music was again given by the orchestra, after which Miss Jessie Conkey read a very fine essay on "Our Life Work." The "Song of the Sea" was finely sung by a quartette.

Miss Ella Dana discussed the "Progress of the Nineteenth Century," and Willie Oliver drew a contrast between "The People of the Past and the Present." After music by the orchestra, Miss Jennie Morrill, in the "Prophets," lifted the veil of twenty years, and described the graduating class as she had been.

The Valedictory was given by Miss Ellen Rogers.

The graduates, shown in number, were called upon, after which by Conkey Rogers, a very fine essay on "Our Life Work," was read.

The exercises closed with a song by the school chorus.

Trusses for Soldiers Free.

Under the provisions of the Act with regard to the issue of trusses approved March 3, 1879, it is directed "That every soldier of the Union Army, who, by reason of his wounds or injuries, is unable to perform his military duty, shall be supplied with a truss, or other appliance, as may be deemed necessary by the Surgeon General of the U. S. Army, at the expense of the Government."

It is further directed "That the truss, or other appliance, shall be supplied to the soldier, or to his next of kin, or to the person in whose name the truss is held, at the expense of the Government."

WORCESTER'S

ILLUSTRATED QUARTO DICTIONARY

A large, handsome volume of 1854 pages, containing considerably more than 100,000 words in the vocabulary, with the correct pronunciation, definitions, and etymology.

Fully Illustrated and Unabridged. With Four Full-Page Illustrations. Price, $1.00.

"WORCESTER"

is now regarded as the STANDARD AUTHORITY, and is recommended by Bryant, Longfellow, Whittier, Sumner, Holmes, Irving, Winthrop, Agassiz, Marsh, Henry, Everett, Main, Stephens, Quincy, Peck, Hillard, Manning, and the majority of our most distinguished scholars, and is, besides, recognized as authority by the Departments of the National Government.

It is also adopted by many of the Boards of Public Instruction.

"The volumes before us show a vast amount of research and labor, and it is a diligence in combination with fancifulness. With Worcester, in combination with good sense and judgment, WORCESTER is the scholar and the most particular American writers use WORCESTER as their authority."—New York Herald.

For our recent strike we made the change to WORCESTER as our authority in spelling, chiefly to bring ourselves into conformity with the accepted usage, as well as to gratify the desire of our staff, including such gentlemen as Mr. Bayard Taylor, Mr. George W. Smith, and Mr. John R. C. Cassiday—New York Tribune.

There are of the coast of Kerry, Ireland, little islands called the Blacks, inhabited by a very poor and primitive population, whose nearest church is on the shore of the island.

On some Sundays there is a small flock of about twenty people, who come to church.

Of their present stock. In order to do so, we have just made SWEEPING REDUCTIONS in prices on extensive lines of NEW, FRESH, AND SEASONABLE GOODS, and this in the face of AN ADVANCING MARKET. We therefore inaugurate

A Great Closing Sale

In every Department, especially SILKS and DRESS GOODS. While we do not claim to have reduced everything in the stock, we shall offer inducements throughout that can scarcely fail to command the attention of every buyer within reach of our city. It is impossible to name more than a few items comparatively. The reductions are all more real than apparent, and we guarantee the previous prices to have been as low as the same goods are now being generally sold in this or any other market.

Silks

Are now being sold lower than ever before. They are likely to be higher, and perhaps greatly so. Mark the following items:
