The shadows deeper grow, and in the woods The air a latent sweetness holds in fee; In odor fami of yet unblossomed bude lo like, dear heart, to thee !

Far distant in the soft, cerulean deep. Where the horizon bounds the nether world, Great ships becalmed, like brooding birds

Lie with white sails loose furled.

In peace the day is ended, and the night Falleth as doth a veil upon the sea; Along its basom come with swift-winged flight The gray mists silently.

Oh anxious heart, how Nature speaks! He How leisurely she loses! How intense

To rock To bring forth fragrance in the Summer rain

And time for snow she hath ! So, dear, for all thy eager soul desires,

She keeps sweet times and seasons.

Is h d for thes all passion's subtle fires To round thy womanhood.

Cease, then! and in this dewy twilight move As one who asks not whither, cares not why This gift for all holds still the Eternal Love, God's endless by-and-by.
