

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

Arrival and Departure of Trains.
The Atlantic City and Egg Harbor City Railroad will arrive and depart as follows:

Our Churches.

Presbyterian Church.
Rev. James R. Gorman, D. D., Pastor.
Services on Sunday at 10:30 A. M. and 7:30 P. M.

Our Lodges.

A. F. O. E. S.
The Atlantic City and Egg Harbor City Lodges will meet on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock.

Thirty papers in the County House.
The days and nights are about equal.
We have had several very severe frosts.

Mr. Wall flowers? are never white washed.
Mr. Lew Cranmer is at home on a visit to his family.

It is four years since a vessel was built at May's Landing.
A good "Morning Glory" store for sale.

The thermometer stood at 88 in the shade on Wednesday.
These frosty nights will kill the geraniums if left exposed.

Mr. Murray and wife, of New York, have been on a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Champion for the past week or ten days.

Mr. Andrew G. Skagart, of the Weymouth Works, was in the Landing on Tuesday.
Dibrow makes a useful if not a very ornamental member of the Board of Freeholders.

The Republican County Convention will meet in Egg Harbor on Saturday, the 11th inst.

Many of the ladies presented very handsome toilettes at Egg Harbor on Saturday last.

There was very little beer or wine drank by the teachers at Egg Harbor on Saturday.

Crabbers for sale, not a very large quantity. Apply at this office, for the information only.

The people of Newfield and North Ylsted are jubilant over the prospect of another railroad.

Tomatoes have been unusually good this season, and will be abundant till the hard frosts come.

We are enjoying beautiful moonlight nights, and the atmosphere is just lovely now. Keep it up!

Mr. Ben Fox, of Bacon Ylsted school, is going to make an active member of the Teachers' Association.

Mayor Bryant positively returns to again be a candidate for the office of Mayor of Atlantic City.

Miss Lida Thompson and Miss J. E. Mayland left for Norfolk, Pa., on Wednesday morning, and expect to be absent a week or ten days.

A change of time will take place in the running of trains on the May's Landing railroad on Monday next, the 10th inst. The train will hereafter leave at 7:15 A. M. and 8:45 P. M.

Col. Allen says he crossed only one stream since he left Newfield and that will require a bridge of only ten feet in width; that the route will require very little grading and, consequently, a cheap road to build.

The committee, Messrs. Moore and Dibrow, who have charge of the building of the proposed new wagon-abut at the County House, invite proposals for the building of the same.

Miss Weatherly's absence at the Teachers' Association in Egg Harbor on Saturday was remarked, as she has always taken a prominent part in the proceedings. She is now teaching in Burlington county.

They had communion services last Sunday in the Methodist church and twenty-eight probationists, the fruit of the revival last winter, were received into full membership in the church. The services were quite lengthy, but very impressive.

All the boys in the Reform School are at work on skids for a house in New York. Young Blake will hereafter operate a sewing machine and Nicky J. Smith is in the Laundry Department ironing. They are both well and happy with their new quarters.

Most of the teachers throughout the county took their lunch with them to Egg Harbor on Saturday last and there was considerable flirting going around some of the dinner baskets.

The yacht White Cloud, Capt. Dan Ingersoll, arrived at this port on Monday last from Philadelphia, for the purpose of taking a cargo of scrap iron back to that city.

Mrs. Ashley, a sister of Judge Blackman, died at Port Republic on Sunday and was buried at that place on Wednesday. Her age was seventy-eight.

Whitehouse men were fishing on Tuesday in the ocean opposite Atlantic City. They netted something very singular, as the net was quite full of smooth place some distance from where they were, and on going to investigate found it to be a large body of blood, nearly a mile in length and one hundred yards in width. A big fight must have taken place among some of the monsters of the deep.

Uncle Jimmy Camp, a boarder at the County House, said his reputation as a gambler is still good, judging from the amount of bread stowed away about his clothes. He is the man who before he went to that institution tramped around through this county, and when invited to sit down to a well-laid table, would eat all he could and then lay down on the floor and cry because he could eat no more.

The steamer Brigantine, which was used to convey passengers from Atlantic City to Brigantine Beach during the season, was taken to Tuckahoe several days ago, where she will remain for the winter. The Tuckahoe correspondent of the Cape May Star is noticing her arrival at that port, saying, "a combucha is a rarity at Tuckahoe, and everybody was surprised when her arrival whistled rang out on the still morning air."

John Giemi, a Millville man, who was arrested for robbing several houses in Dennistown last Sunday, while the occupants were attending to their religious duties at the Seaville camp-meeting, plead guilty to the Laundry Department ironing. They are both well and happy with their new quarters.

The first monthly session for the present school year of the Atlantic City Teachers' Association, convened at Egg Harbor City, on Saturday, Sept. 27.

The meeting was called to order at 9 a. m. by County Sup. Moore, and proceeded directly to business. The reports of officers were received, that of the Treasurer, showing a balance of $48 in favor of the Association. The balloting for officers for the ensuing year was next taken up, and with the following result:

President—J. B. Rogers. Secretary—D. J. Adams. Assistant Secretary—Miss Lillie Clark. Treasurer—Miss Emma Collins.

The present course of study for those people who have graduated, yet desire to remain longer in school, being a committee. The following was appointed a committee to prepare such a course for next year: S. R. Moore, C. J. Adams, Emma Collins, C. E. Moore, W. M. Folland, Ada Seelye and J. B. Rogers.

The subject of Drawing was discussed, this completing the morning session, and the Association adjourned for dinner.

On re-assembling at 1:30, the roll of teachers was called, and several items of business of minor importance disposed of.

The most of the afternoon session was taken up in discussing the list of text-books for the coming year, a uniformity of the same, so far as possible, being desired, to successfully carry out the course of study.

A list of books was agreed upon which will be submitted to the Board of Trustees of each district by the County Superintendent. It is not yet decided whether any school shall make a change of books at once, but when such a change is made, it must conform to the county list. This will bring about, in time, a uniform system throughout the county.

The benefits to be derived from such a system are too plainly open to demand argument. Various questions pertaining to school economy were propounded by different members and answered by the Sup. or others. Several subjects, of particular interest to the teachers only, were discussed.

Sup. Moore read an extract from an essay delivered before the State Teachers' Association at Long Branch, giving great honor to Atlantic, Camden and Burlington counties, for instituting their present successful and profitable course of study, system of promotion and graduation.

Mr. Editor: Thinking that a word from your quiet village would not be unacceptable to you, I venture to write to you. Let me state that your paper is received with increasing favor by our intelligent people.

English Creek is said to be one of the oldest, if not the oldest settlement in Atlantic County, and taking its name from a person by the name of English, who settled upon its banks. His descendants still own the old homestead and rank among the first families in intelligence and generosity in the place.

Unlike many families, that are seen in villages, in this family we know of no member who is a sower and upright citizen and needed for his honesty and generosity. The society of our village, as before intimated, is good, but as the demerit is driven around our district, and it is for our interest to keep it that way.

A few years ago we had a school where boys and girls were sent to their drunken fathers, and so much of it was used that no collection of houses was called "Rum Slaughter." But these things have passed away and peace and harmony and Love, Purity and Fidelity reign in its place.

The health of our village is generally good, but as in all other places, disease will enter, and among the most frequent as a strong man are said to be our happiness. But we have our remedies, Dr. Edmunds and Somers, of Ledford, and Ingersoll from your town are generally able to stay his ravages and restore us to our usual good health.

But, Mr. Editor, my letter is already long and with the promise that if it is acceptable you shall hear from me again, I will say

Yours truly, Chas. Jackson, Res. Weymouth, N. J.
