"MUST."

For this roduct we retain the original name of unfermented grape julce, as it is not a "wine" on account of possessing no spirituous or olcoholic properties. It is needless to speak of the delignitulness of this beverage, as all will readily perceive, that it is equivalent to consuming the delicitus grape in liquid form. For invalids it has proven most exhibefating and highly beneficial to which numerous Physicians cantestiry. Temperance people can have no objection to the use of Must, and will certainly hall it as a promoter of their cause. Churches are using it for sacramental purposes in preference to the various boiled juices, as they begin to discover the positive keeping qualities of Must. We refer to the Eighteenth things to our understanding, which are as Anniversary of the Callilogian Society of follows; First, that the teacher, Miss Anna to take charge of the pupils placed under her care; and secondly, that the number of pupils under her supervision is inordinately large-altogether too large for one teacher to take entire charge of, with any reasonable expectation of doing justice either to herself or to the pupils. Miss Bing assnred us that she has had as many as ninety children on her roll, and that her regular attendance is very nearly eighty. Now this is too much-or rather too mary for any one teacher, as any one will at once perceive, and something should be done to remedy the difficulty. It is not only on account of the teacher, but for the good of the pupils that some means should be taken to divide this large school in some manner. As it is we are told that often times there are not enough seats to accommodate all in attendance without crowding three into one married Miss Gandy, of the same place, seat, which is entirely subversive of all nearly a year ago, was the happiest man in good order or good recitations. Miss Bing s evidently an encellent teacher, but she is not allowed a fair chance to demonstrate the best corn record in the county and is derstanding of the matter. -The officials of the Camden and At. lantic should see to it that the gate-keeper to the train at Camden has more explicit instructions. On Tuesday night several May's-Landing passengere found themselves on he accommodation train, which only ran to Hammonton, and that to after the through train had left. They were misled by the gate keeper saying "This train for Atlantic and here's the accommodation." It was quite natural for them to suppose both run through, the Atlantic train without stopping.

"Great men are not always wise, neither de the aged understand judgment." Job. This afflicted patriarch might have known of the meders and painful treatment of Emeroda' in his own trme, but his words would have been even more applicable had his prophetic eye looked down the long vists of medical history and witnessed the cruel, about and ineffectual treatment of Piles by the many school of "great and aged professors," until at last a disgusted doctor pronounced piles ! the opprobrium of the art. Dr. Silsbee has put to shame, by the simplicity and excellence of his. great pile remedy, not only the whole family of quack nostrums, whose name is legion, but the pretended wisdom of the medical profes sion. This Anakesis (or pile remedy), is simple and any of application, gives instant re-lief, and by combining the merits of a poultice to soothe, an instrument to hold up and compress the tumors, and a skilfully devised medi cine, applied directly to the diseased parts nllimately cures the worst cases of piles and keeps them cured. Half a million of persons pronounce Anakesis the most beneficent discovery of the age, and we believe them. Ana keris, Dr. S. Silabee's External Pile Remedy is sold by all first-class druggists.
