Wells, late of the City of Atlantic City, in the County of Atlantic and State of New Jersey, died on the fourth day of August, 1907, having first duly made and executed a paper, writing supporting to be her last will and testament, in and by which she failed to name an executor thereof, and it further appearing that the testatrix died more than ten days ago and the Surrogate having inquired into the circumstances, taken proof and being satisfied of the genuineness of the will produced the validity of its execution and the competency of the testatrix, and Charles K. Wells, being in my judgment a fit person to administer the estate of the said testatrix: It is on this 25th day of November 1907, adjudged that the instrument offered for probate in this matter is the last will and testament of Clara K. Wells, deceased, and the said will is hereby admitted to probate and it is ordered that letters of Administration with the will annexed be issued thereon to the said Charles K. Wells upon the giving by him of a bond as required by law.
