The Cheapest
AND
The Best!
Life Insurance at Actual Cost
THE NATIONAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF CHICAGO, invites the attention of those contemplating insuring their lives to its Mutual or Reciprocal

PLAN, which enables even the poorest man provide for his family in case of death, without depriving them of the necessities of life, as do many who endeavor to pay the high premiums of old life companies, who charge for Assureds a heavy loading for extravagant expenses. On this plan you only pay for the cash value actually experienced, and as they occur, with a small fixed sum for expenses. Call on the agent for circular fully explaining this system.

The Practical Results!
Since its organization in 1870, the NATIONAL has paid in death losses $57,760, at a cost to the deceased of $791.90 in premiums. Old Life Companies would have paid for the same premiums $21,224, showing a gain by insuring in the NATIONAL of over $36,000.
The Capital and Securities of this Company are sufficient to comply with the Insurance Laws of any State in the Union.

The Old Farm House.
At the foot of the hill, near the old red mill,
In a quiet, shady spot,
Just peeping through, half hid from view
Stands a little moss-grown oak,
And straying through at the open door,
The sunbeams play on the sanded floor.
The easy chair, all patched with care,
Is placed by the old hearth-stone;
With withering grace, in the old fireplace,
The evergreens are strown.
And pictures hang on the whitened wall,
And the old clock ticks in the cottage hall.
More lovely still, on the window-sill,
The dew-eyed flowers rest,
White midst the leaves on the moss-grown eave.
The mirth builds her nest,
And all day long the summer breeze
Is whispering love to the bended trees.
Over the door, all covered o'er
With a sack of dark green bair,
Lays a musket old, whose worth is told
In the events of other days:
And the powder flask, and the hunter's horn,
Have hung beside it for many a morn.
For years have fled, with noiseless tread,
Like fairy dreams, away,
And left in their flight, all shown of its might,
A father—old and gray,
And the soft wind plays with his snow white hair,
And the old man sleeps in his easy chair.
Inside the door, on the sanded floor,
Light, airy foot-steps glide,
And a maiden fair, with flaxen hair,
Kneels by the old man's side—
An old oak creaks by the angry storm,
While the ivy clings to its trembling form.

In New Orleans on Monday, the white people revolted against the Kellogg Government, and there was some fighting, many being killed and wounded. At 11 A. M. a large mass meeting assembled to take into consideration the recent seizures of arms by the Kellogg Government. Canal street was crowded, for several squares, and there was a general suspension of business, many stores being closed. Two companies of United States' troops were on duty in New Orleans, and a regiment on the way there from Holly Springs, Mississippi. The meeting adopted resolutions requesting the immediate abdication of Governor Kellogg, and sent a committee to communicate them to him. The Governor declined to see them, because bodies of armed men had gathered in various parts of the city, and he regarded this as a menace. He further stated, however, that if the people assembled peaceably, without menace, he would entertain any petition from them which was addressed to him. After some further parley with the Governor's officials the committee withdrew, and reported the result to the meeting. The people were then advised to go home and get their arms and return to assist the "White League," who were under arms, to execute the plans that would be arranged for them. The meeting then dispersed. In the afternoon a proclamation appeared reciting the wrongs under which the people of Louisiana claim they have so long suffered, and signed by D. B. Penn, Lieutenant-Governor, who was chosen on the McEnery ticket. It called out the militia between 18 and 45 "for the purpose of driving the usurpers from power," and an annexed order appointed General Frederick N. Ogden Provisional General of the militia. Another proclamation was also issued to quiet the apprehensions of the colored people. Armed men assembled in Canal street in the afternoon, and five hundred police, under General Longstreet, about the same time appeared on the ground. Longstreet ordering the citizens to disperse. There was sharp firing, and the police at one place broke, and the citizens captured one gun from them. The citizens captured the City Hall and police telegraph offices, and began building barricades. At dusk the citizens held all the portion of the city above Canal street, the police being massed in and around Jackson Square. A number of sharp skirmishes occurred, causing a loss of eight citizens and thirty police killed and many wounded. General Badger, of the police was wounded. There were reports that Governor Kellogg called on the President for aid.

The Republicans of the First Congressional District held their Convention in the Court House in Camden, on Tuesday. O. H. Sinnickson secured the nomination, to the disappointment of many. It was expected that Battle would be the man, though all agree that the nominee is an able and capable man for the place.

Moulton's Last Card.
"The river Rhine, it is well known,
Doth wash the city of Cologne;
But tell me, nymph! what power divine
Shall henceforth wash the river Rhine?"
Reading Moulton's statement somewhat suggests the above query by Coleridge. Moulton has all along assured us and still maintains the assertion that he has been actuated by only one motive, the preservation of the peace of families and the prevention of scandal. He tells us that he is really compelled to open his sluiceway of filth, first on Mr. Beecher, in order to vindicate himself, and next, on five other families in Brooklyn whom he thinks he has in chancery and can render supremely miserable. Mr. Moulton asks us to believe too much, more than the most cynical man of the world believes to be possible in decent society. If he is a blackmail, he has made a vigorous strike for his hush money. We presume that the families, whom he does not name, are wealthy. But it is utterly impossible that such indecency should prevail in a community like that of Brooklyn, and until we have something better than Mr. Moulton's word we shall not believe him. As he offers no other evidence than his own unsupported assertion of confessions made to him by Mr. Beecher, we have full liberty of choice as to whom to believe.

We have waded through his three full pages of vileness as they appear in the New York papers of Saturday, and find not a word of documentary or additional evidence. So far as the letters produced are concerned, they are with one exception, the same that have been published heretofore, some of them as produced before the Committee of Investigation, and the rest in that precious batch of stuff furnished to the Chicago Tribune by Tilton, letters which prove nothing except the sentimentalism of religion which pervades the atmosphere of Plymouth Church. We are compelled to put an entirely different construction upon letters which are intense religious feeling, with earnest appeals to godly life and patience under sorrow. A man may be hypocrite in his public life and libertine in secret. That happens, but the libertine does not live who would carry his prayers and cant to such a nauseous and useless hypocrisy as we find in his secret intercourse with his half dozen paramours. We say with the Tribune of Saturday that the "language which he puts into Mr. Beecher's mouth is impossible. He represents this Christian preacher as not only acknowledging his adultery but declaring that "God would not blame him for it." That overtaxes credulity. The third point refers to the so-called clandestine letters. They are not evidences of guilt. Far from it. We challenge the unprejudiced person to read them without being impressed by their deep religious spirit, and if we are to take them for letters of assignation we must suppose that this man and woman were in the habit of saying grace over their sinful indulgences and mingling all their crimes with prayer—not in hypocritical pretense before the world but in the secrecy of their own guilty intercourse. In the malignant earnestness with which Moulton tries to twist an evil significance out of these innocent, albeit gushing sentences, there is something of the devil's own temper.

We suppose we must get ready now for Tilton's further statement. Will those men never stop? Must we have further inquest into the privacy of these five other families in Plymouth Church whose names Mr. Moulton threatens to drag before the public? Must he be "vindicated" at such a cost? Cannot he content himself with the policy, which asked him four years, of secret intrigue resulting in sweat-money? Is the terrorism which coerced a great importune house in New York to pay a quarter of a million dollars to lush an unconscionable offense against the government, to be visited on these five households? It looks like it, or else this fearful threat by a desperate man is intended to afford him a means of egress, by still asserting that the influence of the parties assailed is too strong for the truth—that easy excuse of scoundrels and li-bellers. Moulton's statement is a confession of his treachery from the beginning to the end of this affair. If he did what he says he did he lied steadily for four years, all the time maintaining an influence over Mr. Beecher very like the hand-cuffs which Detective Jayne employed upon his victims.—Sentinel of Freedom.

Smith's Landing Items.
Hot and arid yet. Thermometer 110° last Friday.—We long for rain.—No moon.—Good society.—Good water.—Our girls sing sweetly.—The toilets of the ladies are gorgeous.—There have been no marriages or deaths of late.—Mischievous urchins.—A livery stable would pay here.—Our daily mails are well filled with matter.—Evening parties are in vogue.—A number of improvements have been postponed, owing to financial reverses.—Mr. S. H. Booy, the violinist, has few superiors in Atlantic Co.—Our people should remember the compulsory educational law passed by the Legislature last winter.—Rev. Fifth Stringer, of Glassboro, N. J., occupied the pulpit at Salem, on Thursday evening last. His sermon was an interesting and profitable one.—The Mount Pleasant Sunday School picnic last Saturday, was a highly creditable affair. The Sunday School is at present in a flourishing condition, under the excellent care of its devoted Superintendent and teachers.—Many of our people attended Court last week.—Those boys that were fined for misdemeanor will no doubt learn the lesson, to do so no more.—Our genial and enterprising merchant, P. Ryan, is busy as ever. Quick sales and small profits is his motto.—St. John's Sunday School contemplate having a picnic in the church this Saturday afternoon. All are cordially invited.—Mrs. Scull, the proprietress of Scull's Cottage, is a generous and obliging landlady. Her house is elegantly furnished and admirably kept, and her table always presents a "palatable" appearance.—Mr. George Williams, the artist, is located in our midst for a short season.—Give him a call.—Politics is the absorbing theme among the anxious.—Mr. F. E. Frambes, while engaged in applying a mixture of tar and sand on the barn roof of Mr. N. Risley, was saved, it would seem, through the interposition of a benign Providence, from being instantly killed. His foot slipped, and sliding down the roof, his toes caught between two nails that protruded through the roof and held him from going farther. In this hazardous position he remained, till his cries for help were heard by his mother, who, though in her 70th year, ran to the barn, ascended the ladder, and threw him a rope, with which he drew himself up to the top of the roof, thus saving himself.—Autumnal season, in which fairs are so numerous held, is fast approaching. The Agricultural Fair of Bakersville comes off on the 16th and 17th of next month. We trust it may be as successful as they have been heretofore. All exhibitions, conducted rightly, are a great benefit to any county. They preface emulation, and stimulate talent, taste and industry. We hope our county products, including stock, will be well represented on that occasion.
Yours,
PRELIMINARY.

TESTIMONIALS OF WATERS' PIANOS
AND ORGANS.
"Waters Concerto Parlor Organ possesses a beautiful and peculiarly soft tone." The Concerto Stop is, without doubt, the best ever placed in any organ. It is produced by an extra set of reeds, peculiarly voiced, from which the effect is most charming, and its imitation of the human voice is superb. For sweetness of tone and orchestral effects it has no equal."—N. Y. Times

"The Concerto Parlor Organ is something entirely new; it is a beautiful parlor ornament possessing a sweet and powerful tone, is a most commendable invention and holds a high place in public favor."—N. Y. Evening Post.

AN ORCHESTRA IN THE PARLOR.—The recently announced by Heracles Waters and Son.
The instrument takes the name from its recent inventor's orchestral stop. The voicing of this is peculiar, producing the effect of a full, sweet contralto voice. Its finest effect is produced when the stops are drawn. Then the full chords are toned down, so that an orchestral effect is given. The case is unique and makes a handsome article of furniture."—N. Y. Can.

The Waters Pianos are known as among the very best. We are enabled to speak of these instruments with confidence, from personal experience."—N. Y. Herald.

Chills, Fever and Piles.

TO DELICATE FEMALES.
Ladies, old or young, will find these bitters especially adapted to diseases peculiar to their sex. Nervousness, Lassitude, Want of Appetite, and General Debility, all yield to the magic charm of these inestimable Bitters.

HEAR WHAT IS SAID.
HEAR WHAT IS SAID.

"Wonderful effects have resulted from your Dr. Perry's Bitters."
"My child is gone, I can hardly believe it."
"Send me one case Perry's Bitters again. Nothing like them here."
"I enclose analysis of my case. I had to do as you advised me of the wonderful cure."
"Sisterly they are the most delightful wine tonic in the world."
"Dr. Wilson says that you are a public benefactor."
"Hurrah! No more rheumatism."
"No more headaches, thanks to you."

We could fill this paper twice over with just such genuine extracts, but the above must suffice. Our Bitters are prepared under the supervision of Dr. D. S. Perry, Member of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, London, England, and of the Medical Clinic of Glasgow.

All orders should be addressed to the
Perry Aromatic Bitter Co.,
NEW YORK, U. S.

These Bitters are sold either by the bottle or case at $1 a Bottle.

Parties in sending letters for advice as to their diseases, will confer quite a favor by giving name of County as well as Town where they reside. It will save us a wonderful amount of time and annoyance if this will be observed.

THE GEORGI PIANO-FORTES.
LATE NEWS REGARDING THEM.

The Georgi Piano-Fortes have taken the first premium over all competitors at the State Fair of West Virginia, in Kentucky, and at all other fairs and expositions where they have been exhibited.

Their durable build and refined expression of tone causes them to be the favorite instrument in seminaries of learning.

From Rev. L. VAN BOKKELIN, Rector of Jane Grey Seminary, Mr. Morris, N. Y., August 15th, 1873.
"I have pianos of other celebrated makers in the Seminary, but the Georgi was selected as the best. It is referred by teachers and pupils."
From Rev. WM. F. MORRISON, Rector of St. Luke's Church, Buffalo, N. Y.
"On leaving Iowa, I was reluctantly obliged to part with my Georgi Piano Forte. When I settled in Buffalo one of my first cares was to provide my family with one of the same manufacture. It fully sustains the high reputation the Georgi instruments have in all parts of the country."
Mr. JOE IN ZUNDEL, Organist of Henry Ward Beecher's Church Brooklyn, says:
"The Georgi has an exquisite action, and everything about it shows thorough workmanship and indicates durability."
Mr. S. H. MCCOLLISTER, President of the Bachelor College, certifies:
"I have been using two of your pianos the past year in our college. They have given great satisfaction. We regard them as superior instruments."
From the New York Independent:
"They were highly recommended to us, we bought one for our own use, and we find that they are worthy of all the praise they have received."

There are only a few selections from letters continually arriving which prove

The Georgi to be the Leading Piano of the day.
Guarantee entire satisfaction and never fail to give it.
