Editor of REPUBLICAN, 100
Hammon 7:34 a.m., Tuesday, Dec.
19th; left Philadelphia at 4:30 p.m., reached Elmhurst, 353 miles, at 2:40 a. m., and arrived at Chicago at 6:00 a.m., the 30th. Leaving Chicago at 11 p.m., I arrived at Vermillion, S. Dakota, at 8 a.m., the 31st. Wm. W. Parks, my nephew, formerly of Constable, N. Y., my native town, met me at the depot.
About 60 m. east of Chicago, a wrecked night train lay directly across the track, and consequently we did not connect at Chicago with the train for the West, being an hour and a half behind schedule time. I therefore had to wait five long hours for the next train.
If the trains had connected, I would have arrived at Vermillion at 12 m.

On my arrival at Chicago, I encountered a stranger who, seeing that I was an old man, not accompanied by any friend, selected me at a subject on which to ply his vocation. He showed me the way to the waiting room, asked me where I was going, and the name of my friend at Vermillion. Said he, "I am going to Vermillion with my family and I am taking you with me. I am well known to the hotel, near by, I will take you to my family." If I had accepted his invitation, he would probably have taken me into some place where he and his confederates would have taken away my pocket book of three feet much of a haul. I was, perhaps, in time for the next train. I will give you a million about Dakota. I will come along with you. I am a farmer actually.

The he saw his seven pets Alas! he saw his seven pets centres. It was a very sad iron ore and 600,000 tons of son bill, and the 600,000 tons from that state are pledged against these schedules. If the had more industries of its own it not be so anxious to destroy the industries of the North.

The Democratic Congress may impose a tax on incomes, but unless the Cleveland tariff bill can be defeated there will be few incomes big enough to pay the tax.

If it were not for the disaster wrought to the country the tariff situation would be ludicrous. Producers and employees who go to Washington to look after their interests find that the wire-grass statesmen empowered to make laws regulating their industries know nothing whatever about their condition.

If a tariff for protection is a robbery and unconstitutional, why does the Wilson Committee retain protective duties for some industries? And if protection is given to some, why not accord it to all? The people are growing tired of this farce.

The President to Congress: "I have made a muddle of this Hawaiian business and you may finish it to suit yourselves." Labor is in revolt against the passage of the Wilson bill.

A CORE FOR GROUP.—When on a visit to Iowa, Mr. K. Dalton, of Lundy, Russell

Mr. J. P. Hildner
On the 1st of January, 1894, a severe attack of pneumonia struck the northern part of that State. Mr. Hildner, who was then in the city of Philadelphia, was taken ill and died on the 10th of the same month. He was a native of Pennsylvania and had resided in Philadelphia for many years. He was a member of the Pennsylvania State Bar and had been practicing law for many years. He was a man of high character and was highly respected by his friends and associates. His death was a great loss to the legal profession and to the community.

THE HEAVENS. We do not pretend to say how many centuries have second shorter than it is at present; but centuries are not the units which we employ in tidal evolution.

a million years ago it is quite probable that the divergence of the length of the day from its present value may have been very considerable. Let us take a glance back into the profound depths of time—past and see what no tides have to tell us. If the present order of things has lasted the day must have been shorter and shorter the farther we look back into porter the farther we look back into the dim past. The day is now twenty-four hours; it was once six hours.

 How much farther can we go? Once the six hours is past we begin to approach a limit which must at some point bound our prospect. The
