that there is no single word in our language which exactly translates it. That moderation is known to all men, so it is given in the Authorized Version of our English Bible, but the Revised Version translates far better "forbearance" and suggests in the margin "gentleness." Luther calls it "Jandigkeit," Wycliff "patience," Wyndlande and Cranmer, "softness." But I think all these interpretations are really included in the one great word, Love, as St. Paul defines it in

Until danger of freezing weather occurs they will do best in an open shed, but for the winter they should be stored in a warm, dry place, such as a warm attic or up stairs room. Moisture and cold are two elements not good for them.

"To laura Incenso." The "Common Prayer on the Holy Bible," published by the Macmillan Co., says this burning of incense "was done daily, morning and evening." (Ex. 30: 9.) "The daily sacrifice of the lamb was offered on the great altar of burnt offering outside the Temple proper, in the front of the porch. The incense was offered inside the Temple, on the golden altar of incense which stood before the veil of the Holy of

And there are several advantages in doing this. One is that they are prevented from dropping off and getting bruised, which will occur if great numbers of the wind blows while they are maturing, and if the fruit on the ground very long the plants are to be damaged much more by being gnawed by rabbits, pecked at by chickens and variously injured by many other destructive agencies. Then, if left on the tree till ripe, they are subject to rot at the core, and scarcely any variety will be so much damaged.

PERSONALS AND OTHERWISE.

At the union meeting to-morrow evening, Rev. Wallace & Maple will use some hymn books to illustrate the fall and redemption of man. Have all the children and young people possible attend this service. There will be specially arranged music.

The first hour of New Year's Day was pretty noisy. Bells rang, whistles blew, and guns were fired the latter starting long before twelve o'clock. Happily, it didn't last many hours, and we heard very little complaint. It is an ancient custom, and everybody expected some racket.

Those twenty-one Hammontonians who were called as a special jury, on Wednesday, made but a short stay at M. M.'s Landing. The two colored gents who were to be tried for election riots plead guilty, and paid their fines. But the very inconvenient means of reaching the County Seat was again insisted —some of the jurymen going in teams, some in automobiles, many by railroad to Egg Harbor, and thence by bus.

Members of the Board of Trustees of Hammonton Athletic Association gave a banquet, at the Hammonton Hotel, to members of the two teams and a few friends who had helped to make the past season successful. About thirty-six were present. Reminiscences of base-ball teams in town twenty-five years ago proved interesting, and showed that a wonderful advance has been made in ball-playing since that time.

The Ushers' Union of the M. E.
Church tendered a banquet to the "college students" of the church last Saturday evening, 30th, at the "Bellevue." The guests were:
Leon Andrews, State College, Pa.; Hilda Ludlam, the State Normal, Trenton; Emma Tilton, of Hammon, Ohio; Warren Tilton, of Dickinson College; Harry Davenport, Drexel Institute. There were thirty-one present. Pastor Shaw acted as toast-master. A most enjoyable event to all.

The fire alarm rang about one o'clock Monday morning, and the firemen responded, but had nothing to do. It was Whartnaby's barn, on Hammonton Avenue, not far from the foot of the Lake, and was totally destroyed. The men could not be expected to respond to a midnight call and tramp two miles and more, in time to save anything of an old frame barn, and, by the way, this is the second fire of the mysterious kind within a few days, and would justify a little detective work. It was unoccupied,—or at least, was supposed to be.

Council Organizes.

The new Town Council met, according to law, on New Year's Day, at noon. Mayor Frederick C. Burt presided.

Roll call found all present, as follows: W. C. Turner, H. Nicolai, R. H. Sharpe, S. T. Godfrey, John F. Baker, Anton Piez.

After balloting, the following were declared elected for a term of one year, except where otherwise stated:

Overseer of Poor, for five years,
Chas. F. Crowell.
Town Marshal, T. H. Adams
Fire Chief, John Walther
Assistant, George Berry
Water Commissioner, 3 years,
John M. Austin
Board of Health, four years, J. A.
Hoyle, C. R. Scullin
Janitor, B. F. Henshaw
Solicitor, H. F. Stockwell
Engineer, J. C. Remington, Jr.
Fire Warden, deferred Town Justice, deferred

The salary of Overseer of Poor was voted to continue as at present —$15 per month.

Bank of town officers referred to Law and Order Committee.
Residing Overseer reported in detail a total expenditure of $121.50 for care of poor,—food, rent, physicians and undertakers.

The Mayor, in a few well-chosen words, made some very timely suggestions, and concluded by announcing the following committees:

Highways, Turner, Nicolai, Piez, Finance and Printing, Sharpe, Godfrey, Baker
Licence, Piez, chairman
Fire, Water and Light, Baker, Turner, Sharpe
Law and Order, Nicolai, Piez, Godfrey Property, Godfrey, Sharpe and Turner.

Rules, Sharpe, Godfrey, Baker There seemed to be the best of good feeling, and we predict a harmonious and progressive Council for 1912.

Farmers' Educational Train

Continuing its winter's work in the interest of better farming, the Pennsylvania Railroad, co-operating with the New Jersey State Board of Agriculture and the State Agricultural College, is perfecting all details in connection with the Fourth Annual Farmers' educational train to be operated throughout the State, with a view to making this year's trip even more successful than previous ones. So great has been the interest shown in former years that the railroad company and the State Agricultural authorities have decided to devote an entire week to the work, covering all of the lines of the Pennsylvania in New Jersey.

The special train, which will consist of three coaches, an exhibit car and a retiring car for the lecturers, will leave Camden at eight o'clock Monday morning, January 8th, and will be operated through Jersey towns will be visited and from 120 to 125 lectures will be given. This includes the night sessions which will be held at Salem, Allentown and Flemington.
A unique feature of the train will be the exhibit car. The State authorities say that the principles of intensive farming can be better taught by showing farmers exactly what has been done at the Experiment Station at New Brunswick. The car will contain apples and pears, some packed for shipment, corn, alfalfa, poultry and country feed, nests, eggs packed for shipment, and printed charts showing results obtained at the Experiment Station.

The subjects which will be given consideration during the week, will be the growing of sweet and white potatoes, soil fertility, fruits and vegetables, dairying, alfalfa, corn, poultry, and the general subject of truck crops.

The New Jersey Farmers' special will be in charge of Secretary Franklyn Dye of the State Board of Agriculture. He will be assisted by Doctors J. A. Lipman and K.
C. Davis, Professor F. G. Minster,
M. A. Blake, H. R. Lewis, A. L.
Clark, A. G. Farley, A. S. Cook,
A. M. Blair, and Messrs. J. Gilbert Borton, D. Howard Jones, Charles Barton, Henry Pfeiffer, C. C. Hulbert and E. R. Collins.

The Schedule brings the train to Newfield at 9.25 a. m., Jan. 9th, but does not bring it near Ham-monton.

Representing the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will be Division Freight Agents William Coffin and V. C. Williams. Superintendents
J. Bucklewell and Victor Wieman will accompany the train over their respective divisions.

Hammonton Civic Club.

The following is a synopsis of a speech recently delivered by a late Hammonton boy, Carmello Grillo, before the Civic Club of Ocean City.

(Published by special request of Club.)
I have, this evening, to talk to you of Hammonton, its Civic Club, and matters relating to these two topics.

The Town of Hammonton lies half way between Camden and Atlantic City. Its population is about six thousand. Its politics is Republican. Its government is composed of seven Councilmen, one of which is Mayor, or perhaps more accurately speaking, Councilman-at-large. Hammonton is a very prosperous town. Its chief industries are farming, glass and shoe factories. There is a hosiery mill, also. Most of the inhabitants are in moderate circumstances, but prosperous. The only rich members of the community are those who run the factories, or are large holders of real estate. Among the latter class belongs Mr. Henry D. Moore, who is so well known here that I need not mention him further. The rest of the population is composed of wage earners, farmers, factory hands, mechanics, laborers, etc. Some of the merchants of Hammonton are extremely well-to-do, having amassed a competence in the ordinary pursuit of business.

A curious feature of Hammonton, which deserves special comment, is the fact that its population consists of about fifty per cent of Italians. This is owing to the fact that agricultural conditions are especially favorable to farming as followed by this race. The Italians have always been fruit growers, and Hammonton is a great berry district. While the Italians did not actually settle Hammonton, they came in large numbers shortly after Mr. Byrnes founded that place. This gentleman, now deceased, amassed quite a fortune by buying and selling properties which the Italians, who dealt with him, still hold in their possession.

Besides the Italians, the fifty per cent of other residents is composed for the most part, of Germans and English. The greater part of the Italians are, naturally, Catholics; the Germans and the English are Presbyterians, Methodists, Episcopalians, Universalists, and Baptists. There is, however, a Protestant Church for Italians, although this is composed of but a small minority of that race.

There are but a few negroes in Hammonton, but these few are, at the present moment, starting a Church, due to a camp meeting which the colored people hold from time to time.

In the main, Hammonton has been well administered, politically, but the public utilities are monopolies as here. For instance, the Water Co. is a separate monopoly; the Gas and Electric are united in one monopoly. As yet there is no sewer company, but its formation is now being considered.

HAMMONTON'S CIVIC CLUB

The Civic Club of Hammonton was started in 1908, in order to create some very necessary reforms, and be of benefit to the city generally. In order to get money which is most necessary to promote its reforms, the Club, from time to time, holds fairs, and the proceeds of these are turned into the Civic Club's treasury to be in readiness to employ for the purposes which the Club desire to see through. Already the Club has acquired a substantial sum in its treasury, and this money will be given to the town whenever the Club dissolves. It has, however, used a portion of this sum, and if it continues to hold together—and there is no indication that it will not—it proposes to build a hall for the town's good. This hall will be a public building with club room and rest room combined; or it is possible that this idea may undergo a modification which will result in a reading room or library.

WHAT THE CIVIC CLUB HAS ALREADY DONE

It has purchased, and is operating, a street sprinkler, there being no provision for such under the administration of the town.

As there existed quantities of grass along the roadways, the Civic Club felt it incumbent to remove this.

Another feature of the Club was the purchase of toys for the children when parents could not afford to provide them. These were purchased as Christmas gifts and donated to them by the Club, thus making many little hearts joyful during the happy holiday season.

Besides this the Civic Club furnished the town with large cans, or receptacles, such as ash cans, for the reception of waste paper and other refuse which formerly was thrown into the street.

It was also through the Civic Club that objectionable signs, and objects, were removed from the sidewalks, just as Mayor Headley has ordered done after January first in Ocean City. They also donated twenty-five dollars for the anti-tuberculosis campaign.

Another thing inaugurated by the Civic Club was manual training in the High School.

The things which I have mentioned are but the chief which the Civic Club of Hammonton has brought about for the public's good. It is an organization composed entirely of ladies, and therefore is different, at least in one respect, from our club; but its objects are much the same, that is, for the betterment of the town as a whole, for good citizenship, and the general uplift of the community.

In closing I could hardly do so in a better way than by saying that if Hammonton has a Civic Club entirely composed of ladies, here assuredly, can organize a Ladies Auxilliary which will be a credit to our town. Remember, gentlemen, what fine women we have here, and how anxious they are to help every fine cause where unselfishness has the chief part to play. And, gentlemen, I cannot close without saying that a civic club is an absolutely unselfish organization.

Section 1. Be it ordained by the Town of Hammonton in Council assembled, that Sec. 1 of said ordinance shall be and is hereby amended to read as follows: And it is further ordained, that all unregistered dogs found running at large, or any dog found running at large without being properly muzzled, it shall be lawful for any person or person to impound any dog or dogs so found, in the Town Pound, or other convenient place; and if impounded in other place than the Town Pound, shall be notified immediately, by mail or otherwise, by the person having in charge the dog or dogs.

Between
Maggie Richardson, Complainant, and Emil Cera, et al.,
Defendants.

To the Unknown Heirs, Devisees and Personal Representatives of John S. Allen, Decedent.

By virtue of an order of the Court of Chancery of New Jersey, made on the day of the date hereof, in a cause wherein Maggie Richardson is complainant, and Emil Cera, et al., are defendants, you are required to appear, plead, answer or demur to the Bill of said complainant, on or before the Fifth day of February, next, or the said bill will be taken as confessed against you. The said Bill is filed to foreclose a certain mortgage on lands and premises situate in the Town of Hammonton, in the County of Atlantic and State of New Jersey, and bounded and described as follows:

Likewise in the centre of Eleventh Street, eighty rods West of the centre of First Road and extending thence (1) South forty-three degrees, twenty minutes East and along the line of the place formerly owned by one Jones, eighty rods; thence (2) South forty-six degrees forty minutes West ten rods; thence (3) North forty-three degrees, twenty minutes West, eighty rods to the centre of Eleventh Street; thence (4) along the same, North forty-six degrees forty minutes East, ten rods to the place of beginning. Containing five acres, more or less.

John S. Allen, during his lifetime, was the owner in fee of said premises and died intestate, leaving him surviving his widow and no known heirs, and you are made defendant because of the fact that it is unknown whether or not the said John S. Allen at the time of his death left surviving him any heirs capable of inheriting his estate under the laws of the State of New Jersey.

Solicitor of Complainant.

Any one of a dozen things may happen or two or three things generally do happen when an interior paint is used. For instance, the paint won't dry, or the colors fade or the paint cracks and peels off, or the paint won't spread right, or the paint covers poorly and you need three coats instead of two, or it wears out in a year or two, etc.

Further, interior paint often leaves a surface in such bad condition that it's years before the damage done is really remedied. When repainting is necessary you are put to considerable trouble and expense to burn off all old previous coats so that the new paint can be applied to a good foundation.

Remember these facts when you buy paint. Get good, honest, reliable and be trouble free. Its first cost may be a little more than the inferior kind of paint, but even if it costs twice as much as it does, it would be more economical in the end.
