Genuine Reductions on

Men's Winter Goods

It's my loss and your gain. On account of the moderate weather, so far this winter, I find that I have too much heavy stock on hand, and must clean it out, so I decided to reduce many articles. Now here's your chance to save money on Caps, Sweaters, Mufflers, Gloves, Shoes, Pants, etc.

I know it hasn't been cold; but just think of February and March! Remember them last year? You'll be wise to be prepared. All my reductions are genuine, and will save you dollars and cents.

The Peoples Bank.

The annual election for directors to govern the Peoples Bank for the ensuing year was held at the bank offices last Tuesday afternoon, between the hours of one and three.

As a result of the election, the following gentlemen will direct the affairs of the institution for the following year:—Messrs. R. J. Byrnes, M. L. Jackson, John C. Anderson, W. J. Smith, C. F. Osgood, George Elvins, Elam Stockwell, W. L. Black, Samuel Anderson, and W. R. Tilton.

It will be noted that the board is the same as last year, with one exception—Samuel Anderson being elected to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Parkhurst.

The first meeting of the new board was held on Tuesday evening, Jan. 14, and the same officers were elected who have for twenty-one years (since its organization) served the bank so efficiently and faithfully.

By unanimous action of the board the following statements were ordered entered upon the minute-book of the bank and published in the town papers:—

The directors, in behalf of themselves and the share-holders, wish to thank the public for the confidence reposed in the bank management during the past twenty-one years, and especially during the financial crisis through which we have but lately passed.

As a result of this faith in its board and officers, the bank is in a most excellent condition,—its total resources amounting to $482,208.24.

It is with great regret the board record the death of Mr. L. H. Parkhurst, on Nov. 12th, last. Mr. Parkhurst was elected to a directorate on Jan. 14, 1902, and served continuously up to his fatal illness. Although living at a greater distance from the bank than any other director, he was most punctual and constant in his attendance upon the meetings, rarely missing a meeting except from sickness.

Mr. Parkhurst gave to the board that help which a broad mind, good business ability, close attention to details, and calm judgment alone can bestow. Furthermore, this association of several years was especially pleasing to the directors, for Mr. Parkhurst possessed in a remarkable degree that genial nature, and uniform courtesy, and kindness of heart which make for the highest kind of good fellowship.

At Boyertown, Pa., on Monday night, as a moving picture show was in progress, the audience of perhaps four hundred people became alarmed by escaping gas from the picture machine. In the excitement someone overturned one of the oil lamps used as footlights on the stage, and a fire resulted, which spread with such rapidity that men, women and children, to the number of 171 were burned and trampled to death in the panic. It was a horrible beyond description. In the cities and towns people are again aroused to the desirability of better provisions for exit from public halls. Even Hammonton is talking on the subject.

We are told that twenty-four of the victims were cousins of our townsman, Mr. M. K. Boyer, for whose grandfather the town was named.

A FINE LINE of suit buttons 25 cts. up. Buttons and fobs, 25c. up. Shirt, wood bow, handkerchief, glove, tie and card boxes. Faces and eyes, 25c. up. W. O. Jones.

Lauran, the magician, drew as large a crowd as we ever saw in Bellevue Hall; and as for appliances, they did not always wait until he was through to show their pliancy. He alternated from light slight-of-hand banter to ring tricks to the most mysterious of mysteries. It was an uncommon entertainment, and by one who thoroughly understood his business. His wife, the "Little Corporal," and his man, were able assistants.

The mild weather we have been having, together with the arrival of garden and flower seed catalogues, gave many of our people spring fever.

Bulletin :

THE MID-WINTER OUTING

This is the time for the midwinter outing. A dash of summer in the midst of winter is an agreeable variation. It makes for health and pleasure and stimulates vitality.

For the extended trip, Southern California, the fruit and flower land of the Pacific coast, offers unrivaled attractions.

For the fortnight's trip, Florida, the summer garden of the Northern winter, bids you come and enjoy its genial sunshine, its tropical scenes, and its out-door life.

For ten day's outing, Pinehurst, Camden, Aiken, Augusta, Southern Pines, and other popular resorts in the pine belt of the Carolinas and Georgia, offer many inducements.

For the short trip—the week-end outing.—Atlantic City is always attractive. The same breezes that depress the thermometer in summer seem to keep it up in winter. It offers great hotels on the ocean's edge, out-door life on land and sea, and a climate full of snap but shorn of the winter severity.

Before deciding on your mid-winter outing, consult a Pennsylvania Railroad Ticket Agent and get a Pennsylvania Railroad Winter Excursion Book. Whether you select California, Florida, the Carolinas, or Atlantic City, the Pennsylvania Railroad offers a comprehensive train service, reasonable rates and ticketing arrangements, and the best facilities that modern transportation methods can provide.

BOARD OF TRADE MEETING.

The Board of Trade had an interesting session Tuesday night. There was a fair attendance. Two manufacturing propositions were considered—one seeming feasible and referred to a committee.
A proposition was made by Secretary Burgan, that a member be appointed to read a paper at each meeting, upon some topic of general interest. This being approved, Mr. H. K. Spar was named for February; Mr. A. L. Jackson for March; Mr. Thos. Skinner for April. Their topics will be chosen and announced later.
This organization can be made of interest and benefit if members so will,
and each do his part by attendance and participation.

An unopened letter, postmarked
Philadelphia, addressed to "Miss A. L.
Hoyt," was lost on the street last Tuesday. The finder ought to have returned it to the post office at once, but did not. We can conceive no honest reason why not, and publish this because others have complained of this same thing. A letter is the property of the one addressed, may be valuable, and to keep it is a dishonest act.

THE HILLS OF GOD.

We journey through the lowland shadows,
Through the dull, dull mist and rain;
Oh, shining the tops of the mountains,
And the winds from the lonely plain!
And our hearts grow sick with longing
For the beautiful paths untrod,
For we know that away above us
Stretch the green hills of God.

Our feet are chained to the valley,
We plow and we sow and reap;
There are stripes and tolls for the noonday,
And a grave-yhore at night we sleep.
Look away from the squalid and the cold,
O soul, look up for thy birthright,
And away to the hills of God!

"In the winds that sweep their summits
Is healing for all thy ills;
Up, up, till thou feel the current!
There is help, there is help in the hills,
Let darkness and sore disaster
But sander there from the sod,
And know thou shalt thrive in the sunlight
That comes from the hills of God."

THE SAVING OF THE BOY

JOHN SMITHSONSON stopped the newspaper at the center page. A young John Smithsonson, his eyes, his hands, his heart, his mind, his soul, his very being, were all fixed upon the paragraph which was headed "The Saving of the Boy." It was a story of a boy who had been found in a state of extreme poverty and neglect, and who had been rescued by a kind-hearted man who had found him in a state of extreme poverty and neglect. The story was a true one, and it was a story of a boy who had been found in a state of extreme poverty and neglect, and who had been rescued by a kind-hearted man who had found him in a state of extreme poverty and neglect.

The old farmer turned to gaze wildly at the boy, who was looking at him with a look of intense interest. The boy was a small, dark, and thin, but his eyes were bright and his face was set in a determined expression. The old farmer looked at him for a moment, and then he turned away, and he went back to his work. The boy followed him, and he went with him to the house. The boy was a small, dark, and thin, but his eyes were bright and his face was set in a determined expression. The old farmer looked at him for a moment, and then he turned away, and he went back to his work. The boy followed him, and he went with him to the house.

He entered the small white cottage, and he went to the door. The door was open, and he went in. The boy followed him, and he went with him to the house. The boy was a small, dark, and thin, but his eyes were bright and his face was set in a determined expression. The old farmer looked at him for a moment, and then he turned away, and he went back to his work. The boy followed him, and he went with him to the house.

More Fanciful for its Rhyme and Meter than for its History.

World to see Mr. Rotherwell, he ventured timidly.

"Yes!"

"Stay the night if needs be. No one can tell what will happen."

THE PULPIT.

A BRILLIANT SUNDAY SERMON BY THE REV. G. G. MILLS.

Subject: Spirit of the Lord's Day.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—The Rev. Grover G. Mills, pastor of Philip's Chapel, preached Sunday morning on "The Spirit of the Lord's Day," taking as his text, Romans 8:2: "One who is led by the Spirit of God, he is not under the law."

He said that the Spirit of God is the Spirit of the Lord, and that the Spirit of the Lord is the Spirit of the Father. He said that the Spirit of the Lord is the Spirit of the Father, and that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son. He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father.

He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father. He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father. He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father.

He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father. He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father. He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father.

He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father. He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father. He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father.

He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father. He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father. He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father.

He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father. He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father. He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father.

He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father. He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father. He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father.

He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father. He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father. He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father.

He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father. He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father. He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father.

He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father. He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father. He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father.

He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father. He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father. He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father.

He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father. He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father. He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father.

He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father. He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father. He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father.

He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father. He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father. He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father.

He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father. He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father. He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father.

He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father. He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father. He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father.

He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father. He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father. He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father.

He said that the Spirit of the Father is the Spirit of the Son, and that the Spirit of the Son is the Spirit of the Father. Fake News Corrected.

I wish to state that the article which appeared in Monday's "Inquirer" is not true. Evidently, the writer heard a few remarks and added a great many more.

The trouble was all caused by one boy, named Roxy Matteo.

The teachers were not locked in the school, and the "considerable damage" was merely a few marks on the front of the building, caused by the stones thrown by the said Roxy Matteo, after he had been expelled from the building.

The Italian citizens on 13th street and First Road are very indignant over the article, as it seems to indicate that their children took part in it, which they did not.

The boy named is from Philadelphia, and is stopping with an uncle.

Of the 68 pupils enrolled in First Road school, there is not one Hammononton child who would think of being so rude and rebellious to the teachers.

The article makes it appear as if the teachers had no control over their pupils. This is not true, as there is not one who is unmanageable.

I make this statement so there will be no false impressions in the minds of the people who read the terribly exaggerated article in the Inquirer.

(Miss) Lisa Burgess.

The article to which the writer referred was published in the Inquirer on Monday last. It gave the impression that a general riot of scholars occurred last Friday, in the First Road school, during which the building was bombarded with brick-bats and stones; that the teachers, Misses Burgess and Coast, were unable to leave the building to summon aid. Further that a renewal of hostilities was threatened on Monday.

There is no reason why a correspondent should send such misleading messages for publication. This one, for example, wronged the teachers and pupils, and tended to destroy confidence in the paper which published it.

Every publisher is misinformed, at times, and desires to correct the error; but there is less excuse for a correspondent who deliberately and repeatedly sends such exaggerated stories, to the detriment of others.

Inquire of I. E. HARTWELL, Wilkesbarre, Pa.

In Chancery of New Jersey.

To Mrs. Morris P. Clayton, Morris P. Clayton, and Anna Virginia Cobb:
By virtue of an order of the Court of Chancery of the State of New Jersey, made on the day of the date hereof, in a cause wherein the Hammononton Loan and Building Association of Hammononton, N. J., is complainant and you, Mrs. Morris P. Clayton, Morris P. Clayton, and Anna Virginia Cobb, are defendants, you are required to appear, plead, answer or demur to the complaint of the said complainant, on or before the second day of March, 1908, or the said bill will be taken as confessed against you.

The said bill is filed to foreclose two certain mortgages, made and executed by Mrs. A. Mortimer and Ada Mortimer, to The Hammononton Loan and Building Association of Hammononton, N. J., the first dated Jan. 15, 1906, and the second dated December 15, 1906, covering property situate in the Town of Hammononton in the County of Atlantic, State of New Jersey.

And you, Morris P. Clayton, are made a defendant because you are the owner of the property in question, and you, Mrs. Morris P. Clayton, are made a defendant because you claim to have an interest in the property in question as the wife of the said Morris P. Clayton. And you, Anna Virginia Cobb, are made a defendant because you hold a mortgage against the property in question, made and executed by one James Albert Shalcross. Dated December 20, 1907.

Fire at Elwood.

John Wickham, quite well known here, reached his home, at Elwood, very late, last Saturday night. After midnight, neighbors discovered that his house was on fire, and gave the alarm. A phone message was sent to Fire Chief Lantz Hammononton, who without delay, sent an alarm, secured a team, selected his men, and took down the chemical engine, arriving in time to save much surrounding property.

It was a fearful night—dark, wet and windy, and two o'clock in the morning is not a pleasant hour to travel, but the men summoned did their best.

Mr. Wickham was found in the burning house, helpless from intoxication and burns, and was taken to the Atlantic City hospital, where he died on Tuesday. He said: "I lighted my lamp and started to my bedroom, but my legs gave away and I fell into the corner, the lamp bursting and setting fire to everything."

The remains were taken in charge by Dr. Elliot, a nephew, and brought here by undertaker Jones, and returned to Elwood yesterday afternoon for funeral services and burial.

Mrs. Wickham has the sympathy of all in her sudden affliction.

At Oak Hall Standards in Ready-to-Wear Clothing Are Ever Advancing

We will sell you clothing in this January Clearance Sale that is thoroughly up-to-date.

And you have a right to expect this—no man wants to buy clothing that is only just as good as he bought last season.

And this is worth remembering also, the store (and we don't care where it is) that is offering now no better clothing than it sold last year is really going backward.

OAK HALL can save you money and meet your highest expectations, no matter what you may need in clothing.

Total of all bills, $549.93.

Communication read from A. LaRosa, representing residents at Thirteenth Street and Chew Road, volunteering to do needed work there, provided Town will provide pipe for drainage. Referred to Highway Committee.

A protest, signed by about thirty residents and team owners passing the place, was read, against the new ditch along Main Road at the end of Bellevue Avenue, claiming it to be a menace to the traveling public and dangerous. Several of the signers were present, and the matter was referred to Highways Committee. The Overseer was absent, and no one was able to inform Mayor Jackson as to who had ordered the ditch dug.

Fire Chief Leuz asked for one dozen gun coats for Independent Fire Co. Referred to committee.

The Excise ordinance was brought up for final action: but it being learned that this year's Council could not act legally upon a matter introduced by the previous Council, unless again introduced, the ordinance was dropped.

The town gas lamp was ordered put in repair, and moved to the fence line.

By vote, the old rules of procedure will be followed until amended or new ones adopted. The Mayor appointed Messrs. White, Skinner and Wood a Committee on Rules.

Members inquired why an expert auditor had not been employed on the Water Department accounts. Matter laid over for one month.

Adjourned.
