The Baptist Sunday School will start on a trip to Palestine to-morrow
—to be gone about six months.
Before starting on the voyage, they
will elect captains, pursers, etc.,
and the "reds" and "blues" will roll up the mileages. The side which finishes first will probably be banqueted by the unsuccessful
ones.

Berlin and Urban, without doubt the best dancing team ever seen in Hammonton, was specially engaged direct from the Pacific Coast, as one of the highest salaried acts
ever carried by a one-night-stand show. They are known as the world's premier dancers, and will positively appear with Guy Bros.,
famous minstrels, in Bellevue Hall
next Thursday evening, 11th inst.
Reserved seats on sale the morning
of the show, at the hall.

An address on "New Thought"
will be given for the benefit of the Ladies' Aid of the Universalist Church, on the evening of Saturday, Feb. 27th. This address, by Mrs. Idella Nichols Gardner, was given as one of a series of lectures on social topics, given by such speakers as Owen R. Lovejoy, Pres.
National Child Labor Commission,
John R. Spargo, author and lecturer, and other eminent speakers.
Mrs. Gardner has delivered this lecture before other Churches and organizations. She has also recently given a series of talks on this subject at Unity Center, Presser Building, Philadelphia.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1915

Assemblyman Whitman's bill (recently introduced), providing for a State Normal School at Pleasantville, would be handy by for our Hammoniton students, but not for Camden or points at a distance. As we have stated many times before, Hammoniton, the "hub of South Jersey," is the handiest-to-get-at town in this end of the State, and possesses every desirable advantage.

"When you need a lantern, just 'hook a red one, along the street," say some people. A large number have been stolen, which had been placed at wash-outs and sunken ditches to warn pedestrians and teams of danger. Aside from the loss, the Town might be subject to a damage suit if a person or animal was injured by stepping into a hole which was unprotected by signal light.

State officials were in town a few days ago, inspecting the railroad crossings and safety gates. As these same officials have referred conditions in other towns to the grand jury, with strong recommendations, there may be something doing here for the safety of the public. The unsatisfactory conditions at Eleventh and Thirteenth Streets were especially noticeable.

The people in Belgium are still in need of aid,—the cold weather increasing their sufferings. There are about forty-five dollars in the hands of the Hammoniton Aid Committee, and they desire to increase to one hundred in time to forward it on Wednesday next, 10th inst. Leave a liberal offering at the Peoples Bank, or with Mr. Dougherty, at the gas office.

Sunday last brought us a lively snow storm, followed by rain, which increased and prevailed all day Monday and well into Tuesday, shutting out the ground-hog's view of his shadow. Wednesday brought the heaviest snow-storm of the season. Thursday gave us the first sunshine for the week. Friday was cool, plain, cloudy.

Billy Sunday said, "The saloon keeper is the only manufacturer whose finished product is worth less than the raw material." He begins with a clean-hearted boy, and makes of him a rum-soaked cove.

Owners of vacant houses should see that not only in the water shut off, but the traps emptied. Several freeze-ups occurred recently, and the plumbers had hurried parts to replace.

There will be two eclipses of the sun during 1915, according to the almanac; but you'll have to go to Australia or the Hawaiian Islands to see them.

No, the ground-hog did not see his shadow on Tuesday last, so we may expect an early Spring.

THE CHURCH AS A SOCIAL CENTER

A Broader Sphere for Religion—New Field for the Rural Church.

By Peter Radford
Lecturer National Farmers' Union
The social duty of the rural church is as much a part of its obligations as its spiritual side. In expressing its social interest, the modern rural church does not hesitate to claim that it is expressing a true religious instinct and the old-time idea that the social instincts should be starved while the spiritual nature was overfed with solid theological food, is fast giving way to a broader interpretation of the functions of true religion. We take our place in the succession of those who have sought to make the world a fit habitation for the children of man when we seek to study and understand the social duty of the rural church. The true Christian religion is essentially social—its tenets of faith being love and brotherhood and fellowship. While following after righteousness, the church must challenge and seek to reform that social order in which moral life is expressed. While cherishing ideals of service, the rural church which attains the fullest measure of success is that which enriches as many lives as it can touch, and in no way can the church come in as close contact with its members as through the avenue of social functions.
The country town and the rural community need a social center. The church need offer no apology for its ambition to fill this need in the community. If an understanding of its mission brings this purpose into clear consciousness. The structure of a rural community is exceedingly complex; it contains many social groups, each of which has its own center, but there are many localities which have but one church and although such a church cannot command the interest of all the people, it is relieved from the embarrassment of religiously divided communities.

Social Needs Imperative.

The average country boy and girl have very little opportunity for real enjoyment and have, as a rule, a vague conception of the meaning of pleasure and recreation. It is to fill this void in the lives of country youth that the rural church has risen to the necessity of providing entertainment, as well as instruction, to its membership among the young. The children and young people of the church should meet when religion is not even mentioned. It has been found safest for them to meet frequently under the direction and care of the church. To send them into the world with no social training exposes them to grave perils and to try to keep them out of the world with no social privileges is sheer folly. There is a social nature to both old and young, but the social requirements of the young are imperative. The church must provide directly or indirectly some modern equivalent for the hunking bee, the quilting bee and the singing schools of the old days. In one way or another the social instincts of our young people must have opportunity for expression, which may take the form of clubs, parties, picnics or other forms of amusement. One thing is certain, and that is that the church cannot take away the dance, the card party and the theatre unless it can offer in its place a satisfying substitute in the form of more pleasing recreation.

Universal Instinct for Play.

In providing for enjoyment the church uses one of the greatest methods by which human society has developed. Association is never secure until it is pleasurable; in play the instinctive aversion of one person for another is overcome and the social mood is fostered. Play is the chief educational agency in rural communities and in the play-day of human childhood social sympathy and social habits are evolved. As individuals come together in social gatherings, their viewpoint is broadened, their ideals are lifted and finally they constitute a cultured and refined society.

It is plain, therefore, that the church which aims at a perfected society must use in a refined and exalted way the essential factors in social evolution and must avail itself of the universal instinct for play. If the church surrounds itself with social functions which appeal to the young among its membership, it will fill a large part of the lamentable gap in rural pleasures and will reap the richest reward by promoting a higher and better type of manhood and womanhood.

Prosperity Shoe Clearance Sale!

Clear the Decks
for Good Times Coming!

We believe prosperity, greater than ever, is on its way; in fact, is just around the corner.

In evidence of our belief, we have named our big February shoe sale "A Prosperity Clearance," because we want to get ready for the prosperity that is coming.

Manufacturers are preparing for it by putting on more men, installing new machinery, building additional plants. We want to be ready, too. We would like to see our shelves clear of every pair of winter shoes in the store.

We look forward to the biggest Spring business in our history; but first we must have room for Spring styles, the finest we have ever purchased, and soon coming in.

So Way Down Go the Prices on Winter Shoes!
We need the room; you get the benefit.
