Dr. Green, the patent medicine man, has offered an automobile to the proprietor of the best decorated drug store window. Mr. Leib, our druggist, should be awarded the prize. The scene is a long bridge, with a train passing over it, and packages and lettering nicely arranged.

The Baptists had a jollification Monday evening, at their sawing bee. Members and friends, young and old, gathered at the church, saws and axes were used vigorously, willing arms carried the cut wood to shelter, and all were happy. The ladies prepared a good supper in the vestibule, which the weary workers welcomed.

No License.

According to the following resolution, passed at the Quince held March 7th, 1901, the subject of license may be introduced next Thursday night, and placed on the ticket:

Resolved, That at the next election of town officers the ballots shall contain the words "For License," and "Against License," the voter casting the affirmative or negative, as preferred; and that the question of "For License" or "Against License" be voted upon every three years thereafter.

Resolved, That it is understood by, and obligatory upon, every Councilman who may be elected, to respect the wishes of the majority of voters, as expressed at the polls, regarding license or no license, independently of his individual opinions or preferences in the matter, every candidate being considered as pledging himself to that effect.

There is no need of repeating our sentiment as to the license question. We have always opposed it, and shall take every opportunity to deal a blow at the rum drinking. We are prepared to vote NO LICENSE.

Some papers circulated in this locality quote opinions from two or three citizens who favor license; but they carefully avoid the majority who oppose it. Yes, we say majority, for thus it was three years ago. More votes were cast against than for; but on account of a technicality (marked ballots), several were thrown out, and these had "Against License" on.

Hammonton has not legalized the liquor business long enough to feel its worst effects, but has very dull eyes who does not see the influence of drinking in Hammonton, and the deplorable condition of some who began at moderate rates of the "hell-broth."

Fire broke out in a great store building in Baltimore, last Sunday, just before noon, and raged for thirty hours. Engines and men and policemen were sent from Phila., New York and elsewhere. The loss is variously estimated up to $200,000,000. These acquainted to Phila. will gain some idea of the extent of territory burned over and the class of buildings destroyed when we state that it will about equal that from Calverhill to South, from Twelfth St. to the Delaware. Happily, but one human life is reported lost, and about twenty men injured.

War between Russia and Japan is on in earnest. It began Monday last. So far, Japan has gained considerable advantage by the destruction of a number of Russian war vessels and capture of troops, with no great loss to herself.

Town Council Meeting.

Special meeting last Saturday evening, Feb. 4th. All members present except Mr. Holman.

Collector Davis presented a list of uncollectable taxes for the years 1900, 1901-2-3, with reasons why not collectable, amounting to $321.57. On motion, all were abated except two, those being men who left town before taxes were due, but have returned.

Collector also presented his report of delinquents for 1903, amounting to $190.40. Received and filed. This is the lowest uncollectable balance, at this date, for many years. Last year, if we remember correctly, it was $3100.

Mr. Bulard offered a resolution, which was adopted, borrowing fifty dollars from the general surplus fund, to be credited to Town Purposes, from which the following bills were ordered paid:

Boyd & Sons printing $5.00
J. W. Myers, Marshal 10.00
H. J. Burroughs, Treasurer 10.00
A. H. Miller, Justice 1.00
Total $30.00

By vote, Clerk instructed to call a town caucus on Thursday evening, Feb. 19th, in the town hall.

C. F. Ogden stated that he learned by correspondence that the Camden State Deposit and Trust Co. would buy the balance of our water bonds. After discussion, Council instructed Chairman Boyer to confer with the above named company, and negotiate sale of said bonds at par, with coupons for interest in full detached.

It is understood that our Peoples Bank will take $20,000 of the bonds on same terms, leaving but $25,000 for sale.
