Plows.

Iron, labor, and lumber cost more than they did a year ago.

There is therefore a cause for the advance in price of all kinds of Agricultural Implements.

Plows are quite a little higher than they were last year, but we make only a few slight changes in our price-list.

Note our quotations on

Bissell Plows:

W. C. T. U.

The ladies have taken this space for one year, and are responsible for all that it may contain.

Our W. C. T. U. is a school, — not founded in that thought, or for that purpose, but sure to fit us for the duties of patriots in the realm that lies beyond the horizon of the coming century. We are one world of tempted humanity; the mission of the white ribbon women is to organize the motherhood of the world for the peace and purity, the protection and exaltation of its homes. We send out a clear call to our sisters of the world, and to our brothers, too. We must no longer be hedged about by artificial boundaries of States and Nations; we must utter as women what good and great men long ago declared as their watchword: "The whole world is my parish, to do good my religion." — Frances E. Willard.

He Died in the Poor-House

They carried the man to a soldier's rest.
The drum was muffled, the life sang low.
A blade of battle was on his breast, A tattered banner that knew the foe.

There sprang from the roof of his earthly tent A peal of thunder and flash of flame.
With glory's plaudits the air was rent, He died in the poor-house all the same.

A chaplain stood by the coffin side And preached of a story of long ago;
This frozen visage would flush with pride If only the dead could hear and know.

Again with young and vigorous hand He climbed the ladder of earthly fame, And pawned a life for his native land,
And died in the poor-house all the same.

O, proud Columbia, well 'tis said, If ever an insult you may meet, A million heroes' victory led,
Will lay their lives at your very feet!

But strip the flags from the shining domes, And bow your beautiful head in shame, For men who fought for the palace homes Must die in a poor-house all the same.
— Will Carlton.

Representative Joseph C. Sibley, of Pennsylvania (Dem.), who was one of the most prominent free silver advocates during the campaign of 1896, made an eloquent speech in the House in favor of expansion, in which he took occasion to counsel his party. Mr. Sibley ranks among the more forceful speakers in Congress, and his remarks commanded the attention of a full House and galleries. The Philippine Islands, he said, are really nearer us to-day, by means of modern methods, than was Louisiana at the time of its purchase. In reply to taunts that civilization and liberty were being murdered there, he noted that the history of civilization had been "traced in human blood," and quoted Wendell Phillips that every achievement of human justice has gone "from rack to rack and from scaffold to scaffold." Where-ever the shadow of our flag falls, he said, "a race of freemen will survive.

The falling in our hands of these islands was likened to the Jews—passing from the bones of Saul to that of David. Let Mr. McKinley abandon his present policy, and the future historian will write down this action as the most pusillanimous on record. The dictates of prudence and business sense, and promptness of humanity and applied Christianity, forbid that we abandon our present course. We have a mission to fulfil, a destiny to accomplish, an example to be afforded to the nations how they may justly rule themselves, not in license but in liberty. Expansion was a Democratic doctrine, Mr. Sibley claimed, and to the teachings of the Democratic fathers he urged the Democratic party to return.

The Salvation Army is an organization of men and women, in the form of a military force, having for its object evangelization of the masses throughout the world. It was originally known as the Christian Mission, and was created at Mile End, London, in 1865, by Rev. William Booth, who had branched off from the Methodist Church. The organization was at first treated with derision, and occasionally with violence, and in some parts of the world it is still the object of much disrespect; but its earnestness in the work and its remarkable achievements have gradually won the respect and encouragement of many prominent divines and laymen, and the approval of the public. At present there are about 15,000 officers, men and women, whose lives are entirely given to Field Marshal Lord Wolseley, the head of the British war office, who is now being made the scapegoat for the disasters in South Africa, is getting a pretty vigorous dose of his own medicine. He visited awhile at Gen. Lee's headquarters, during the rebellion, and afterward wrote a book in which he could say nothing severe enough of the generalship of Grant and Sherman, or praiseful enough of that of Lee. He thought the science of war was in a very crude, home-spun shape in this country, and believed that European soldiers would have made quite a different history. But if his pet—Sir Rod-ville Butler—had had the sense of an ordinary sergeant in Sherman's army, the British might now have some victories to solace them.

A new source of wealth has been discovered in the Philippines. They have the only considerable gutta-percha forests now known in the world, and gutta-percha is rapidly becoming scarcer and dearer. It is the only satisfactory insulation for submarine telegraphic cables known. India rubber will not do.

The world's supply of gutta-percha has dwindled till there is not known to be over one hundred tons in existence today, while the projected trans-Pacific cable will alone require twelve hundred tons. The demand will at once direct American enterprise and capital to the islands.

Genuine heart service is ever acceptable to God, whether it is rendered in kitchen or cathedral.

Glorious News.

Comes from Dr. D. B. Cargile, of Washita, I. T. He writes: "Four bottles of Electric Bitters has cured Mrs.

Brewer of scrofula which had caused her great suffering for years. Terrible sores would break out on her head and face, and the best doctors could give no help; but her cure is complete and her health is excellent." This shows what thousands have proved—that Electric Bitters is the best blood-purifier known. It's the same supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. It stimulates liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. Only 50c.
