RAILROAD CASUALTIES.

On Thursday morning, this week, about 7:30, Mrs. Paul Mangold was about to cross the Reading Railroad tracks at Passmore Avenue, forty rods south of Hammonton station. She waited for a down freight train to pass and started on. The up-express was rapidly approaching. The engineer, Phillip Stahlberger, saw her, sounded the warning, and put on emergency brakes; but it was too late, and the woman was instantly killed. Her son John, twelve years old, was the only witness, and shouted a warning to his mother, which she probably did not hear. A large family of children are left motherless.

County Physician Souders came up during the day, made an investigation and decided no inquest necessary. Yesterday (Friday) morning, the same train struck an old veteran soldier, Hugo Greis, aged about 75 years, at a crossing near DaCosta, killing him instantly. There were no witnesses, but as the old gentleman was on his way to the post office, he probably walked onto the track just in time to receive the fatal blow. Mr. Greis had resided in this section more than fifty years, and was a faithful member of our Grand Army Post. Funeral services will be held at his late residence to-morrow afternoon, at one o'clock. The G. A. R. will meet at headquarters on Sunday, at two o'clock, and proceed to Greenmount Cemetery.

A Christian at Rest.

Many loving friends were present, last Friday, at the funeral of Mrs. J. H. Payran. Rev. J. L. Roe, of Gloucester City, a lifelong friend of the family, conducted the touching service, assisted by the local pastors. The Church and friends remembered the family with a number of floral tributes. Appropriate hymns were sung, favorites of deceased sister. Among the relatives present was an only brother, from Williamsport, Penna.

The Ladies' Aid Society had prepared a lunch for those who came from a distance, and those who were to take the train. The procession met the 12:30 train, for Trenton, and the remains were interred in the City Cemetery. They were met by friends and relatives who had made all arrangements, and a sister provided for those who remained over. It was thoughtfulness, indeed, which prompted them to make this sad errand as easy to bear as possible.

Pastor Payran is again with us, with a loyal people and a host of friends to stand by him.

SATURDAY, MARCH 31, 1906

On Saturday evening, March 14,
The Daughters of the American Revolution were entertained royally at the home of the Regent, Mrs. M. T. S. Rider. As the ladies in resolving the guests were Misses Pances, Osgood, Tweed, and Harley. Irish songs and dances were indulged in and the two Irish lasses caused considerable merriment. All remembered the occasion with a piece of green, some even wearing imported gowns. Several prizes were given, and the Shamrock and green trimmings in the dining room were a pleasing contrast to the dainty green and white refreshments which were served. Nearly all the members of the Chapter were present.

A most novel and enjoyable evening is anticipated by the Baptist C. E., in the form of an old-fashioned poverty social. Every one attending is requested to come arrayed in old-fashioned, worn, and much patched clothing. Blue jeans aprons, bandannas, and bay hats will be in style. A reward will be given to the one whose dress is voted as the most appropriate for the occasion. A booty will be awarded to the most up-to-date in dress. Suitable refreshments and games will make the evening a delightful one to all who attend. Admission, 10 cents. Everyone, young and old, is invited.

When a man writes as follows don't you think he means it? Mr. A. Williams, formerly of Texas, says: "I have suffered for years with kidney and bladder troubles, and after trying every preparation I came across and taking many cathartics, I finally found relief with your medicine. After a few days' use I was able to sleep. Money refunded if not satisfied. Sold by City Pharmacy."

Laws should be reked over and ended now "while the iron is coming out of the ground." Dean Swift says that "words thrive only where other plants will let them." Good grasses, established before midsummer, will prevent to some extent, the growth of crab grass and other weeds that mar the beauty of lawns.

LET OTHERS SUCCEED.

An Anecdote.

Leaders should learn that in this world of need, each world do well to let others succeed.

There are winners and losers in city and town. Continuing others to take all winners.

They think of some scheme for the public that's good. Happy success comes to them as it should.

Forced by to see, and they try. Rewarded by public approval, a prize.

Soon to be won by another, who sees. Some other way the public to please.

Glancing back at that by the first. Contentment that follow both at their worst.

Can anyone wonder our progress is slow? Each could have helped the good work on to go.

Every good scheme for improvement we need. Divide, then, the honors. Let others succeed.

Obituary.

Mrs. MARY B. SMITH, wife of Mr. Augustus J. Smith, died on Thursday, March 15th, 1906, at her home, Ocean City, N. J., in her 58th year, after long suffering from cancer.

Mrs. Smith came to Hammoncton in 1865, with her mother and step-father Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hoyt. She was married in 1866, and until a few years ago resided here. She was a good wife and house-maker, a fond and faithful mother, a Christian woman. There are many here who will sympathize with the afflicted husband, three sons and two daughters who survive.

Funeral services will be held at the residence of O. S. Newcomb, Monday next, at ten o'clock. Burial in Greenmount Cemetery.

Mrs. Daniel Colwell died last Sunday afternoon, at her home at Fairview Avenue and Third Street, Hammoncton, aged about 64 years. Since the death of her husband, several years ago, she has lived virtually alone in the home, from choice. About two weeks ago she fell down stairs, receiving injuries which proved fatal. Mr. and Mrs. Colwell were among early settlers here, highly esteemed by all. Mrs. Colwell was one of those kind-hearted sympathetic women, whom every body loves to love, and all will miss. Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon.

Quality Talk.

A man used six tons of coal during the winter to heat his house. One winter he thought he would save $6.75, by burning only five tons of coal.

He tried it, and NEVER during that winter was his house comfortable. The only cheer that he got was that he was saving $6.75. Did he really save it? or did he waste $33.75? He could have kept cold for nothing, without burning five tons of coal.

Beak this in mind when marketing,—that a few cents more paid for QUALITY may be the little bit that saves the whole dinner.

Messrs. Charles K. Nelson and Dr. Chas. Cunningham were appointed tellers, and the polls opened at 8.30.

The subject of purchase of the W. C. T. U. property was introduced. When a search of records was made, it was found that one Stewart, who evidently owned the property about fifty years ago, had never put his deed on record. He sold to G. W. Pressey, but this leaves a missing link in the chain of title which might some time prove embarrassing. The Board asked the voters to decide whether to accept the title as given by the W. C. T. U., or to require a perfected title. It was shown that, other means failing, this missing link could be replaced with a decree from the Court of Chancery. There was considerable debate. Several men would be willing to accept the title; others would not. There were motions, amendments, and withdrawals too numerous to mention, but finally it was voted to instruct the Board of Education to accept the title, as offered, then proceed to perfect the title.

The Board was authorized to present their annual report in printed form next year as usual.

Polls closed at 4.21, and tellers reported as follows: Number of votes cast, 22; Rob't Steel received 21; W. R. Tilton, 20; Mrs. Little, 18; Mrs. Mead, 6. Chairman declared Messrs. Steel and Tilton and Mrs. Little elected.

East, West, Home's Best.

The following is taken from Monday morning's Philadelphia "Inquirer."

"With the firm intention of killing off what remaining Indians there are on the plains and then settling down to ranch life, Roy Gordon, 13 years old, Eugene Cordery, 12 years old, and Howard Sooy, 14 years old, of Hammonton, left their homes Saturday night for the wild and woolly West. It was early yesterday morning when they reached the Reading station in Camden, and their plans went all awry, when Special Officer James Wilson, arrested them as runaways. The boys were taken back home by their fathers yesterday afternoon.

The youngsters were well prepared for their career, for they had a large shot bag filled with bullets, their pockets were loaded with cartridges, while they were armed with revolvers and entrenching pictures of "Deadwood Dick," and others of his kind, shooting up unfortunate communities. Between them the boys had about $10, which they intended using for food. They were going to reach the West by jumping freight trains and tramping."

So much for allowing boys to get possession of dime novels. These, with cigarettes, should not be sold to minors.

We are told that there are eighteen boys, all under fifteen years, armed with revolvers and ammunition, camping during the day time at the Park, and that they employ their valuable time at target practice, presumably getting ready to annihilate the red man. Where they get fire arms and cartridges is a question which will be investigated. The boys will be unarmed and taught a lesson.

Some days ago James Applegate injured his right leg at the knee, while playing ball. We don't know enough of surgery to understand it, but there is something about the shifting or slipping of a muscle. Anyway, it is a stubborn thing to remedy, and James travels with a crutch while the leg is in a plaster cast.

Governor Fort has signed a bill which prohibits the gift or sale of cigarettes, cigarette papers, or tobacco in any form, to any minor under the age of eighteen years. The fine for each offence is fifty dollars or three months in the County jail. It is a commendable piece of legislation.

What the Kidneys Do.

Their Unceasing Work Keeps Us Strong and Healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily. When unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gout, gravel, disorders of the eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right you will have no trouble with your kidneys.

Thor. Baker, living on French St., Hammonton, N. J., says: "I suffered considerably from a dull, heavy pain through the lower part of the body. I was unable to find a remedy that would give me relief, and was at a loss to know from what source the trouble arose until my kidneys became irregular in action. Learning of the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box at the J. H. Cross Pharmacy, and received great relief. I take pleasure in recommending this excellent remedy to other sufferers."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
