Approved March 1, 1866.

An act to relieve and sustain "The Soldiers' Children's Home."

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That John K. Smith, Abraham O. Zabrickie and Samuel K. Wilson be and they are hereby appointed and constituted commissioners for the purpose of selecting a suitable site on which may be erected buildings for the Soldiers' Children's Home.

2. And be it enacted, That the said commissioners, or a majority of them, shall have power to purchase, at a price not exceeding ten thousand dollars, and in case of the location of said home, and so much land as shall be deemed necessary for gardening purposes.

3. And be it enacted, That wherever said commissioners shall procure a suitable site for said building, and a good and sufficient title to the same of New Jersey therefor shall be duly executed and delivered, and the title thereof being approved by the attorney general, the treasurer of the State is hereby directed to pay to the said commissioners such sum or sums of money as may be required to pay for the said site, not exceeding the said sum of ten thousand dollars, upon the warrant of the comptroller.

4. And be it enacted, That at any time after said site shall be obtained by said commissioners, not exceeding thirty days, the governor shall appoint three commissioners, to contract for the erection of said buildings on said lands for the use of said soldiers' Children's Home, on such plan and terms as they shall deem just and proper; always providing, that said plan shall embrace the most approved construction for such buildings conducing to the comfort and economical management of the institution; and further providing, that said plan and terms of the said contracts shall be approved by the governor; and it shall be the duty of said commissioners, or one or more of them, to superintend the building of said home with a view to the due execution of the work on the part of those with whom they shall contract for the erection thereof; and in case of the death, inability, or refusal to serve of one or more of said commissioners, the governor shall have power to fill such vacancy.

5. And be it enacted, That the treasurer of the State is hereby directed to pay to the said commissioners, on the warrant of the comptroller, out of any moneys in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, such sum or sums of money as they may require for the building of said home, not exceeding twenty thousand dollars; the comptroller of the State shall audit the account of said commissioners.

6. And be it enacted, That it shall be the duty of the commissioners to make a detailed report of all the moneys expended by them by virtue of this act, and of the progress which shall have been made in the erection of said buildings, to the governor of the State, on or before the first day of January next, and as often thereafter as the governor shall or may from time to time require.

7. And be it enacted, That the said last named commissioners, before entering on the duties of their office, shall give their bonds with two or more sufficient sureties, to be approved by the governor, jointly and severally to the State, in the penal sum of ten thousand dollars, conditioned for the faithful performance of the duties required of them by this act.

8. And be it enacted, That it shall be the duty of the managers of the said Soldiers' Children's Home, to make and submit a report to the governor of this State, at the expiration of every three months, showing the average number of children maintained in the said home during such quarter, which said report shall be duly certified by the president and attested by the secretary of the said home, and in order to support the said home, and to carry out the designs and purposes of this act, the treasurer of this State shall pay out of any moneys in the treasury not otherwise appropriated to the treasurer of Soldiers' Children's Home aforesaid, the sum of thirty-seven dollars and fifty cents for each child maintained in said home for such quarter, upon a warrant of the comptroller, to be continued for ten successive years.

9. And be it enacted, That each of said commissioners appointed by the governor by virtue of this act, to contract for and superintend the building of the said home, shall be allowed for his said services, while actually employed in the duties of his office, the sum of two dollars per day, and the comptroller of the State shall audit the accounts of the said commissioners for services, and upon his certificate and warrant the treasurer shall pay the same.

10. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 7, 1866.

A further supplement to the act entitled "An act for the punishment of crimes," approved April sixteenth, eighteen hundred and forty-six.

1. Be it enacted by the State and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall be the duty of the two justices before whom any person shall hereafter be tried as provided in the thirty-fourth and thirty-fifth sections of the act to which this is a supplement, to make under their hands and seals a full and complete record of all the proceedings had in every such case tried before them, which record shall contain the name of the person tried; and copy of the complaint, made against such person, the time of trial, the names of all witnesses produced and sworn, the amount of fees paid to such witnesses, the finding of such justices, and in case of conviction the sentence pronounced, and the amount of costs and penalty (if any) paid by such person, which record it shall be the duty of such justices to file in the office of the clerk of general quarter sessions of the peace of the county where such trial is had within ten days after each trial shall have been concluded, and to remain of record, and if justices shall fail to neglect to make or file such record, they shall respectively forfeit and pay the sum of fifty dollars for each and every failure or neglect, to be recovered against them and their securities, respectively, by action of debt with costs in any court having cognizance of the same, and paid when recovered to the collector of the county, who is hereby authorized and required to prosecute for the same.

2. And be it enacted, That the justices shall be entitled to receive the sum of twenty-five cents each, for each record made and filed by them in pursuance of this act, and the clerk of said court of general quarter sessions of the peace, the sum of ten cents for filing such record.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 9, 1866.

AGRICULTURAL.

[Reported for the Republican.]

HAMMONTON POMOLOGICAL SOCIETY.

March 12th, 1866.

Subject—Fertilizers.

Mr. Elvins preferred strong, well rotted barn yard manure to all others. Next, if not too expensive, Peruvian guano. Next to this, Baugh's raw bone super phosphate.

Mr. Taylor recommended barn yard manure and advised the manufacture of as much as possible. Keeps a cow and thinks it pays well to do so for the sake of the manure. Buys salt hay, sedge &c., for bedding, and by proper working over and composting, reduces it to an excellent manure. Much manure can also be manufactured in other ways. He digs a hole about three feet deep. Into this he throws all weeds, chip dirt and refuse stuff about his place, and empties all slops into it. In this way he manufactures what is as good as $30 or $40 dollars worth of artificial manure. He read the following recipe:

No. 1, 20 bushels of Muck.

No. 2, 3 " " Ashes.

No. 3, 3 " " Fine bone.

No. 4, 3 " " Plaster.

No. 5, 40 pounds " Nitrate of soda.

No. 6, 33 " " Sulphate of Ammonia.

No. 7, 40 " " Sal Soda.

Mix numbers 5, 6 and 7 with water, then thoroughly mix the whole together and keep from the weather.

Mr. Woodburn, Mr. Valentine and himself some time ago, tried the recipe. They got fifteen bushels of manure, worth at least $15. He used it in connection with guano on potatoes, on one hill put guano and on another put an equal quantity of the compound. Could see no difference in the potatoes. Put it on cabbage, and thought it better than guano. If too much is used on corn it kills it.

Mr. Nichols—Those who have barn yard manure will use it; those who can get guano will use it, but those who can get neither, must use something else. Had not found phosphate very beneficial; once got some of Moro Philip's, that seemed to do some good, but had not much confidence in any of them. The manufacturers almost invariably adulterate it with worthless substances. Thinks muck and marl will do well; has used them. Has had marl on the brain some years, and the longer he lives the more he gets it. Has heard of flower of bone being used with success where quick results are desired. Advice to every one just here, and too late to prepare muck &c., to haul muck as soon as the press of spring work is over, as a deodorizer, composting it with manure, saving slops &c. In this way much valuable manure can be accumulated.

Mr. Elvins believed in manufacturing manure in the way recommended, both in barn yard and by composting, but believed clover the best manure possible. On new ground put fifty bushels of lime to the acre, and put in clover and next year, or two years after turn it under.

Mr. Nichols fully agreed with this, but all can not wait so long for results, must have quick returns.

Mr. Elvins thought returns could be obtained as quickly by using clover as muck. For quick results, patent fertilizers must be used.

Mr. Brown asked if it was advisable to use raw muck in the hole.

Mr. Nichols would not. Would take sod from under fence, from road side or anywhere, and compost it with top soil and surface muck, and put in hill. Would haul muck on in fall, and cultivate in, in the spring.

Mr. Elvins thought it important to have all manure mixed well with soil.

Mr. Parkhurst was not in favor of patent fertilizers. All we need buy is lime and marl to use with muck. Has found raw muck spread on the ground good for blackberries. In setting blackberries, uses no manure at all; was in favor of manufacturing manure. All should heed what has been said concerning it, and try it.

Mr. Taylor suggested that leaves and salt hay were valuable if properly composted.

Mr. Nichols inquired if any had used plaster, especially on strawberries.

Mr. Conkey had been experimenting with it for two years, and with good results. Believes it one of the best.

are of strawberries and are not obliged to leave the soil in a disinterested person, but are not to be excepted. After planting, three dressings, putting it on in the space of two or three weeks. Has seen the result seen by competent judges, and is equal to the best in Hammonton.

Mr. Bassett—There are some who think plaster has no effect whatever. Through the true way to obtain fertilizers was to keep stock.

Mr. Elvins, some years ago used to have no benefit from it at the time. Has since had clover there and found that where the salt was put, clover was much the best.

Mr. Taylor used salt for onions, putting on 1 qt. to square rod. Shall try it on grapes. Has seen grapes at Atlantic City, where roots ran almost into salt water, thriving better than here. Used it also in cabbage, putting a small quantity into the head. It would cause it to make good solid heads. Believed it would injure strawberries, and like fruits.

Mr. Conkey had put salt on half a row of strawberries. It stopped their growth. Mr. Pressey thought this soil did not need salt, and the less used the better. Tried it on potatoes. It killed them, and afterward tried cabbage and turnips in same soil and neither would grow.

Mr. Brown had tried a mixture of salt and plaster on corn. It affected the root would.

Capt. Somerby—When first here used lime. On ten acres used 20 bushels of slacked lime to the acre. In spring put eight tons of marl on four acres. First year saw no benefit from it, and condemned it. Turned under the sod and planted corn. Got 50 bushels to the acre. Next put it into wheat and stocked down with it. No manure has been used since, and it is the best field he has. Had composted lime and muck, marl and muck, and lime, marl and muck. Thought the latter the best. It will last in the land five or six years. Thought thorough mixing with soil essential. Thought muck and lime better than marl alone. Had tried marl on everything.

Mr. Longshore had used marl in large quantities, and thought it useless.

Mr. Conkey had used it with excellent results.

The marl question was discussed for an hour with considerable animation. Some thought it very valuable, others thought it worthless. Both sides could produce the most positive arguments and facts. Some remarks on the marl question will be found elsewhere in the REPUBLICAN.

HAMMONTON, March 26th, 1866.

Ed. Republican.—I see by your paper of March 24th, containing the report of the Pomological Society of March third, that the subject before the meeting was Apples and Cherries. I would like to make a few remarks on the culture of fruit, in connection with lime as a fertilizer.

Mr. Conkey thought that lime would be good here for apples, as there is a large amount of phosphate of lime in the soil of the tree. I do not deem that a sufficient basis to form the conclusion upon, that apples require more lime than the soil here in connection with common manure. You cannot grow fruit to any desirable extent where lime is largely used. Wheat, corn, potatoes and kindred products require lime; but apples, peaches, pears, berries and grapes require little lime; all kinds of vegetation from which you obtain a large amount of starchy substance, require lime to some extent. Fruits of all descriptions that have a large amount of acid require but little lime. Grapes cannot be produced to any great extent with lime. In Chester County, (also in all the southern counties,) Peaches they have lined their land to such an extent for wheat and corn, that they cannot grow fruit extensively. Mr. T. Miller, of Chester County, informed me that he planted an orchard eight years ago, and the trees are no larger now than they were when he put them out, and peaches were an entire failure. Trees planted where they had not lime the first did well. Where they had abundance of fruit before they limed, at this time have to import their fruit. Some of the learned may take exception to the above, but by carefully noticing for a few years they will find the position correct. Yours,

HAMMONTON!!!

AN OPPORTUNITY TO SECURE A HOME

TO BE HAD AT A BARGAIN

The great Hammonton Fruit Settlement, the most successful one of the kind, is now open for sale. The land is fertile, the climate is healthy, and the fruit is of the best quality. The settlement is located on the Camden and Atlantic City Railroad, and is only a few miles from the city of Philadelphia. The land is sold at a very low price, and the settlement is a very desirable one for those who wish to secure a home in a healthy and fertile location.

THE SOIL IS A FINE SANDY AND CLAY LOAM.

It is suitable for all grains and grasses, and is pronounced the finest quality for gardening and fruit raising. It is a fertile soil, and is very productive. The land is sold at a very low price, and the settlement is a very desirable one for those who wish to secure a home in a healthy and fertile location.

IT IS THE BEST FRUIT SOIL IN THE UNION.

Pears, Apples, Quinces, Cherries, Blackberries, Raspberries, Grapes of all kinds, and all other fruits are raised here in immense quantities, and they are sold at a very low price. The land is sold at a very low price, and the settlement is a very desirable one for those who wish to secure a home in a healthy and fertile location.

HAMMONTON IS ALREADY CELEBRATED FOR ITS FINE FRUITS AND WINE.

Over two hundred to five hundred dollars is secured from all expenses, per acre in the fine fruit culture. Sweet Potatoes, Malons, and all the other vegetables delight in this soil; this branch of farming pays much better than grain raising, and is much easier work.

THE MARKET

Is unsurpassed; direct communication twice a day to Philadelphia, New York, and Atlantic City. The Railroad Company leaves cars here to be filled with fruit every day in the season; they are filled in the afternoon, and the same night or next morning by daylight are in the market, where the highest cash prices are obtained, without any other trouble to the producer than delivering the produce to the car. None of the land now offered to over one and a half miles from the Railroad.

THE CLIMATE is mild and delightful the winter being short and open, and the summer is so warm that in the north. Persons wanting a change for health will be satisfied here—the mildness of the climate is soon beneficially felt by delicate persons and those suffering from Dyspepsia, Pulmonary affections, or General Debility, as hundreds here will testify. This section has long been known for its health, and during the summer months tens of thousands flock for health, to Miamia, Chills, and Fevers in this section.

THE WATER IS PURE AND SOFT, of the best quality. It bubbles in streams and is found by digging from ten to thirty feet, wells are deeply made here; there is no rock to go through. We have the best stores in the country, where goods are sold as cheap as they are in Philadelphia or New York. Good schools with competent teachers, Clergymen of all denominations reside here, some in charge of congregations, others cultivating the fruits; also a number of retired Physicians. The Methodist, Presbyterian, Baptist, and Universalists have their services regularly. Mills convenient—Reliable practical nurserymen who furnish all kinds of trees, plants, and vines at the lowest prices.

The population of this settlement is large and rapidly increasing; it is composed of the best classes from New England, the Middle and Western States—intelligent, industrious, and moral. The buildings are neat and handsome, and some of them fine. All materials for building, improving, etc., at hand; also reliable mechanics who will give satisfaction. Every convenience to be had that can be found at any other place. Persons owning property here obtain tickets of the Railroad Company to and from the city, at a discount of twenty-five per cent on the regular fare.

The lands have been examined by some of the best agriculturists and fruit growers in the country, who pronounce them the best in the United States for fruit growing. Mr. Solon Robinson, the agricultural editor of the New York Tribune; Dr. I. P. Trimble, the State Entomologist; Mr. John G. Bergen, member of the American Institute of New York; and others, reported that they never saw finer growth of fruit and grain, and grass, than they saw here; and recommended this settlement to persons desiring to till the soil, for pleasure or profit.

Thousands of acres of land, and from the best of the land, are now for sale. The land is sold at a very low price, and the settlement is a very desirable one for those who wish to secure a home in a healthy and fertile location.

STOVES OF EASTERN MANUFACTURE.

They were purchased in the Eastern States, and are offered as low as they can be bought in Philadelphia, and are of altogether superior design and make. They are more convenient, better looking and will last longer than stoves made in Philadelphia. This is the first extensive assortment of Eastern Stoves ever offered in this County.

The Public Generally are invited to Call at his Store before purchasing elsewhere.

To Consumptives.—The advertiser having been restored to health in a few weeks by a very simple remedy, after having suffered for several years with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease, Consumption—is anxious to make known to his fellow-sufferers the means of cure.

To all who desire it, he will send a copy of the prescription used (free of charge), with the directions for preparing and using the same, which they will find a sure cure for Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, and all Throat and Lung Affections. The only object of the advertisement in sending the Prescription is to benefit the afflicted, and spread information which he considers to be invaluable, and he hopes every sufferer will try his remedy, as it will cost them nothing, and may prove a blessing.

Parties wishing the prescription, free, by return mail, will please address

CONSUMPTIVES.

READ WHAT DR. SOHNOK IS DOING.

DR. J. H. SOHNOK.

Dear Sir:—I feel it a duty I owe to you, and to all who are suffering under the disease known as Consumption and Liver Complaint, to let them know what good results have been achieved from your Pulmonic Syrup, and how I have been cured by it.

Dr. Sohnok, I will now make my statement to you, as follows:—About eighteen months ago I was attacked with a severe cough, and it settled on my lungs; I could not get any sleep, and I was very much reduced. The whites of my eyes were very yellow; likewise my skin; my appetite all gone, and unable to digest what I did eat; bowels swollen, irregular and constive. I was very low in spirits, and had much violent spitting of blood when I laid down at night, and then I arose in the morning that they would last one or two hours.

I then would be nearly exhausted, and was entirely unable to lie on my left side. I cannot describe my wretched suffering as I would wish to do. Every organ in my body was diseased or deranged. Such was my situation at this time, and I was confined to my bed from the last of February, 1862, to June, 1862, not able to sit up. I had the best medical attendance the whole of the time. My cough was so very bad that it racked me very much. I at this time raised a large quantity of thick, yellow, offensive matter, sometimes with blood, and I was generally accompanied by nausea and a great deal of thick coated tongue. At the time of coughing so badly I would have sharp, shooting pains in my left side and heart, night sweats, and soreness all through my whole chest; had much inward fever, pain in my back and under my shoulder blades, and in the small of my back, and at times so severe that it would throw me into spasms. Now my physician gave me up to die. One day he said, "I would have sharp, shooting pains in my left side and heart, night sweats, and soreness all through my whole chest; had much inward fever, pain in my back and under my shoulder blades, and in the small of my back, and at times so severe that it would throw me into spasms. Now my physician gave me up to die. One day he said, "I would have sharp, shooting pains in my left side and heart, night sweats, and soreness all through my whole chest; had much inward fever, pain in my back and under my shoulder blades, and in the small of my back, and at times so severe that it would throw me into spasms.
