Self-conquest is the truest royalty.

The sermon that is born in the preacher's heart, makes itself at home in the hearer's.

Even in private we are overheard by God.

Bigotry is not peculiar to religion.

Notoriety is cheap to get, but dear to keep.

It does not change the truth to look at it with colored glasses.

God cannot help the man who does not feel the need of his help.

It is better to go home on foot than to the prison in a palace car.

It is the goodness you are looking for
in others, that will fill your own life.

The secret Christian will either fail to be a secret, or he will fail to be a Christian.

"Thy kingdom come" will not be answered till you let it come in your own heart.

The man who wants to work for God doesn't have to go to an employment agency.

Many preachers think they are brave because they whip God's saints and let the devil alone.

The men who have made a noise in the world have not used their mouths alone.

When a man begins to move others
he is generally called a "crank."

SATURDAY, APRIL 8, 1899.

"If the author of the Dingley tariff law were alive," said a treasury official the other day, "he would be gratified to observe the operations of the revenue act which bears his name. This bill is producing revenue to an amount which promises to answer all the expectations of its framers. If it were not for the war and the unusual expenditures entailed thereby, the Dingley law would raise enough money, together with the other revenues of the government, to meet all normal obligations, without the aid of the special internal revenue taxes levied last year." This interesting statement corroborates the assertion that the Dingley law was a failure as a revenue producer.

A year ago, when cotton mill wages were going down in Massachusetts, the confiding readers of some of our free trade contemporaries were told that the Dingley tariff did it. Just now, when the same class of operatives find their pay largely increased, these same papers are as dumb as a Sphinx on questions of political economy.

A medium has learned that President McKinley will not be re-elected. Probably this is the same medium who called up the spirit of John Sherman on the evening of his reported death, and had a lengthy interview before the denial arrived.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys, and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth velvety skin, rich complexion. AUGUST FLOWER.

"It is a surprising fact," says Prof. Hutton, "that in my travels in all parts of the world, for the last ten years, I have met more people having used Green's August Flower than any other remedy for dyspepsia, deranged liver and stomach, and for constipation. I find for tourists and salesmen, or for persons filling office positions, where headaches and general bad feelings from irregular habits exist, that Green's August Flower is a grand remedy. It does not injure the system by frequent use, and is excellent for sour stomachs and indigestion. Sample bottles free at Crowell's Pharmacy. Sold by dealers in all civilized countries."

1898, over 100,000

The most unfortunate thing connected with the fire at Elm is that the insurance on the Church had been allowed to lapse—making a total loss. But they hope to rebuild. The fire's origin is a mystery, but is supposed to have been caused by careless use of matches by a smoker, outside. An examination of the corner stone revealed an act of vandalism that deserves punishment. Nonetheless, some one had removed the topstone, opened the box, removed all contents, and filled it with acorns.

The Health Inspector asks us to call our readers' attention to the condition of their yards, barns, outhouses, etc. The accumulations of the winter should be cleared up and taken care of now; and it would be more agreeable, possibly, to do it yourself, before the Inspector makes his tour, than to await formal notice from the Board of Health.

Union Hall was not filled on Wednesday evening, at Mr. Fikes' lecture. It ought to have been, for the entertainment was most excellent, and the causes worthy. As we anticipated, the speaker carried his audience with him,—one moment convinced with laughter, the next sober and thoughtful. It was a profitable lecture, and its memories will remain like the fragrance of a rose.

The Town Board of Health met last Saturday evening, in the Council room, and organized by electing Mr. L. Jackson President. They are not sufficiently posted as to their powers and duties to inaugurate many reforms as yet, but will be heard from later. Geo. At the late session of the M. E. Conference, the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, that we earnestly recommended this our Conference paper to our people, and pledge him our hearty support in the increase of its circulation among our churches and Leagues, and in every way give him our entire hearty support.

The most unfortunate thing connected with the fire at Elm is that the insurance on the Church had been allowed to lapse—making a total loss. But they hope to rebuild. The fire's origin is a mystery, but is supposed to have been caused by careless use of matches by a smoker, outside. An examination of the corner stone revealed an act of vandalism that deserves punishment. Nonetheless, some one had removed the topstone, opened the box, removed all contents, and filled it with acorns.

Mr. Butterlee's plants and flowers were in demand, last week, and of some varieties he could not get enough. Mr. Small had a nice assortment in his window, also, and found ready sale.

Thirty-four years ago last Sunday occurred the terrible battle in front of Petersburg, Va., when 2,893 of our men and 3,453 of the Confederates were either killed or wounded, making a total of 6,346.

Miss Gertrude Westcott was given a surprise party on Thursday evening, at her home on Valley Avenue. Quite a goodly number of young friends were present,—and all enjoyed themselves. Refreshments were served.

We have it from good authority that there will probably be held a special school meeting to amend the resolution authorizing the issue of bonds for an addition to Central School. It is but a trifling error; but great blunders often result from trifles.

Last Saturday was cold and unpleasant. Sunday, cold, but bright and agreeable. Monday, still cold, partially cloudy. Tuesday, cool. Wednesday, bright and pleasant. Thursday, the finest day of the season. Friday dawned cloudy, cold, threatening.

Major C. M. Jordan, a former well known resident of Hammononton, died last week, Thursday, March 30, at his home in Washington, D. C., of rheumatism and heart disease. He was buried with honors by the G. A. R., in Arlington National Cemetery.

The Health Inspector asks us to call our readers' attention to the condition of their yards, barns, outhouses, etc. The accumulations of the winter should be cleared up and taken care of now; and it would be more agreeable, possibly, to do it yourself, before the Inspector makes his tour, than to await formal notice from the Board of Health.

Union Hall was not filled on Wednesday evening, at Mr. Fikes' lecture. It ought to have been, for the entertainment was most excellent, and the causes worthy. As we anticipated, the speaker carried his audience with him,—one moment convinced with laughter, the next sober and thoughtful. It was a profitable lecture, and its memories will remain like the fragrance of a rose.
