Diphtheria and Physicians.

One of the most important matters connected with official duties is that of preventing the spread of disease. We have been negligent as a community because of immunity heretofore; but a child of Frank Passalaqua was buried on Monday, and from that case the disease may spread. That day, both the father and brother of the lad came to my house, and they were on the streets, going where they wished. The physician states that he ordered that no one go into the room where the sick boy was, but on his next visit found the room full of people.

Mesers. Ballard and Sutton, of the Board of Health, when notified, at once went to work, taking such measures as the law allows; and at their request I accompanied them on a visit to the clergyman of the Catholic Church, who assured us that he would allow no public funeral where death resulted from diphtheria, and volunteered to explain to his parishioners the importance of keeping away from houses containing Physicians can do much if they will. Up to Monday at noon, no precautions had been taken to disinfect the Passalaqua house, or quarantine it, and members of the family went and came, and while preparations were being made for a funeral friends came at will. The physician in charge stated that he had "reported the case" on Saturday, but nothing was done until about 11 o'clock on Monday, when I notified members of the Board. In praise of Mr. Ballard I will mention that be dropped his tools and gait work to do his duty.

Some of the children of Main Road school attended the funeral, and probably admitted to the room containing the body before Mr. Ballard reached the house. John, another son, stopped at the school house on his way to the cemetory, and chatted with the boys who were cutside. Such are the people sith whem our physicians must dea and they cannot be too careful to keep keep close watch until the authorities can act. If necessary, the doctor ought to remain with his patient and send for some member of the Board of Health. The law gives the Board almost unlimited power.

There is a supposition that the physichen who is Health Inspector must see to these matters, that he is really the Board of Health, and all that is neceseary is to report to him. The fact is, he is only the Inspector, and has nothing to do with the duties of the Board. Physicians should notify the President or Clerk of the Board, or the Town Clork, or some member of the Board I they cannot find the officials, and they should do so on the first appearance of the disease. If they fall to do this, they may find that they have made a P. B. JACOBS, acrious mistako.

LORD'S PRAYER BY BOOTH

James O'Neill Relates a Story of the Eminent Tragedian.

"I think the most thrilling experience I ever passed through was in New York city one time, when quite by accident quest. I think that it was Lord Sackto the United States, and I shall never forget the peculiarly searching expression that Booth shot out of his dark eyes. They seemed to penetrate the very soul of the man at whom they were directed, and then, as if satisfied. resumed their wonted vacuous density. at least I was, for seldom would be ever reche off the stage, but at length he arose, walked to a little cleared space at one end of the room and began a recital that even after all these years makes me thrill through and through. He said: 'Our Father,' and clothed with the majesty and reverence with which his look and tone enveloped them. And then he carried us into ce-Lestial regions, our spirits seeming to leave our bodies and to follow his behest; he lowered us into depths too dark the seven sages." for Dante's genius to conceive or Dore's us was simply unnatural. They ire young, fairly good-looking, well-edleated, fearless and independent. Their intles are by no means confined to teeping Marshal Thompson's books, When they took the oath of office and assumed their duties it was with the listinct understanding that they would serve the Government just as would

How They Were interrior. Years ago there lived in a Massach setts town a Justice of the peace known as "Square" Bimmonds, a man noted for the shortness of his memory. He carried about with him a slip of paper on which was written the brief marrlage form which he used when called moon to unite a pair in the bonds of matrimony. He never trusted himself to begin the ceremony without reference to this document. One day, at a county fair in a heighboring town, he was approached by an chierly couple, who expressed their wish to be nurried then and there. After some conversation the "square" agreed to perform the veremony on the apot; and the three, accompanied by a grownup daughter of the man and a distor of the prospective bride, stopped into a convenient horse-shed.

Born September 18, 1841.

For more than Fifty-six Years it has Never Failed in its Weekly Visits to the Homes of Farmers and Villagers throughout the United States.

It Has faithfully labored for their prosperity and happiness, for the improvement of their business and home interests, for education, for the elevation of American manhood and true womanhood.

It Has told at the fireside, interesting and instructive stories of the doings of the world, the nation, and states.

It Has advised the farmer as to the most approved methods of cultivating and harvesting his crops, and the proper time to convert them into the largest possible amount of money.

It Has led in all matters pertaining to the welfare of farmers and villagers, and for over half a century has held their confidence and esteem.

It is the New York Weekly Tribune, and we furnish it with the Ropublican (to all our Atlantic County subscribers) one year for $1.25, cash in advance.

Address orders to South Jersey Republican.
