The Easter Monday holiday was generally celebrated in London. There was much drunkenness and rowdyism.

There is yet no statement of the reasons which prompted Commissioner Black to demand the resignation of Miss Sweet, the efficient pension agent at Chicago. Maybe she was an "offensive partisan."

The current talk among some of the older Democrats about forming a new party for 1888 is not premature. ' It is inspired by deep-seated conviction that the old one will soon be badly broken up if things keep on as they are going.

THE RNEMIES Mine memy, who time and oft Had smitten me with words like sw And trampled on my answer soft Till I, too, smote with angry words,

Is dead, and I am fairly quit.
God give him rest. Once well away,
Seeing he loved me not a whit,
No heart have I to bid him stay. And yet methinks the God who framed Both him and me had made us such, That we were scarcely to be blamed For loving not each other much.

The little good there was in me. It was not his, nor in his way; Its good I haply might not see, Because he lacked one dazzling ray. We liked not, and misliking lent Our virtues its own fatal sting.

And many a shaft that anger sent ered from a virtue's wing. To-day I saw his resting place—

A grave that friendship's flowers en twine—
And wondered, with a troubled face,
If any hands would cherish mine.

The space about was kept, they said, For some who wished their bones to lay As near as might be to the dead
Whom I in life had wished away.

God give him rest! The single crime, Misnke of me, should hardly blot His fame with one who many a time

Perhaps we never fairly met
That part in each God meant should live
And so mourred no lasting debt
And have but little to forgive,

SAVED BY STRATAGEM

Dinner was over at last, and Mr. his two guests Col. Ayres and Major the party were quietly conversing a sudden clamor of angry voices from the road below drew them all to the front The cause of the distushance was visible at once. Two half-drunken Eng-lish soldiers, swaggering along the road, native boy who was running past, and one of them, enraged at the collision, had felled the poor lad to the ground,

"Served the young whelp right," shouled the colonel, rubbing his hands; "that's just what they all want."
The other officer, Major Armstrong—popularly called Major Strongarm-was huge, brawny, silent man, whose forte lay in acting rather than talking. To lean to the ground twelve feet below to dart across the garden, to vault over the high stockade beyond, was the work of a moment for the athletic major; and in another instant he had raised the fallen boy tenderly from the PHILADELPHIA, April 6, 1885. Have dress-cloths fallen No: but three wonderful things have happened here. Cloths haven't fallen, we say, because there's no fall outside. Nowhere else are dollar ladies'-cloths sold for. 75 cents; but we are selling tons of them-literally tons of them! Fifty different colors and mixtures; best dollar cloths. They haven't ceased to be dollar cloths: for they bring a dollar everywhere else, wherever they are. $4.50 for six yards. Plaids of a similar cloth, dollar plaids for 75 cents; fifteen color varieties, as pretty as any; not quite so wide, 50-inch. As unexpected as the ladies'-cloths.

Still another. Plaids and stripes and clouds and mixtures all in one; all these without pattern, law or order; twenty varieties, more perhaps; $1.25 for $1.

What makes these three events here peculiarly strange is that they happen only here. They are very big events. By far the biggest is the dollar ladies'cloth for 75 cents.

The coming black silk.-For a year or two the grosgrain weave has been losing favor. Cachemire on one side has clearly won the lead. Faille Française is coming on the other.

Faille Française isn't new. It has been edging its way into use for two or three years. It isn't as a novelty it's coming. It is going to take the place in a manner of gros-grain in the higher grades of silk.

Cachemire is the common weave of silk of lighter cord -so light that one hardly thinks of cord at all.

Faille Française has twice as heavy cord as gros-grain; and it has a distinguishing advantage over all the other weaves it comes in competition with, viz., it is tight, does not slip, can't be drawn or pushed apart on the warp.

We have at present five grades of Faille Française: $1.50, $1.75, $2, $2.50 and $3. Even the lowest grade deserves the best we say of it. Southwest from the center.

A novelty in jerseys is a fleece-lined stockinet with a silk finish, trimmed with beads, good for both look and warmth. Of another sort are those that are nothing but beads and bangles.

There are cashmere jerseys with white vests, the vests elaborately ornamented with applique work. Others with embroidered polka dots. Prim-looking jerseys with standing collar and vestpiece literally covered with narrow braid put on edgewise in various designs, also trimmed with Hercules braid. Military jackets trimmed with straps of velvet and tinsel braid, pink, blue, bluck. All-silk ierseys, woven in one piece, cream, white, blue, black. All-wool jerseys as low as $1.25.

Pleasures of the Imagination.

Happy youngster.. A chair, a box, half a dozen big books, bits of cord and cork. Papa's cane, Mamma's aquarium, and a vivid imagination, supply all his needs. Neither Rangeley trout nor Saguenay salmon can so delight the expert angler. Imagination has joys and limits. It will not make a dear thing cheap nor an old thing new. Real wants demand real supplies, and this fact underlies the great Oak Hall Million Dollar investment in Clothing and Cloths for Men and Boys. Real Bargains must be facts-hence the Oak Hall system offers only Bargains. For Boy's the stock is big. Large Boys' Suits, $5.00 to $18.00. Small Boys' Blouse Suits, $3.50 to $12.00. Sailor Suits, $2.50 to $6.00.

"While in the country last winter my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with croup; it seemed as if he would die from strangalation. One of the family suggested the use of Avra's Chearty Pectoral, a bottle of which was always kept in the house. This was tried in small and frequent doses, and to our delight in less than half an hour the little patients was breathing easily. DR. JOHN BULL'S -

FEVER and ACUE Or CHILLS and FEVER,

AND ALL MALARIAL DISEASES.

The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the SAFE, CHETAIM, EFREDY and FERMANENT cure of Agus and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion that in no case whatever will it fall to cure if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been sured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been sheeked, more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order. Should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of BULL'S VEGETABLE FAMILY FILLS will be sufficient. Scient.
