A dozen of boys were brought before a Cincinnati judge a few days ago for engaging in a stone fight. He sentenced each boy to be spanked by his father, and a return had to be made to the court the next day to show that the order had been executed. The sentence was unique as it was primitive. The justice recalled his younger days, no doubt, and remembering how much efficacy had lurked in a slipper when properly applied.

PHYSICIANS AND DRUGGISTS RECOMMEND IT.
This medicine, combining Iron with pure vegetable tonics, quickly and completely cures Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Weakness, Impure Blood, Malaria, Chills and Fevers, and Neuralgia.
It is an unfailing remedy for Diseases of the Kidneys and Liver.
It is invaluable for Diseases peculiar to Women, and all who lead sedentary lives.
It does not injure the teeth, cause headache, or produce constipation—other Iron medicines do.
It enriches and purifies the blood, stimulates the appetite, aids the assimilation of food, relieves heartburn and belching, and strengthens the muscles and nerves.
For Intermittent Fevers, Lassitude, Lack of Energy, &c., it has no equal.

FACTS vs. PREJUDICE

Prejudice is hard to combat. It cannot be overcome in a day. More than likely it wasn't formed hastily. Indeed it may have been gradually strengthening its hold for years.
For instance, some folks believe Rheumatism cannot be cured. Their fathers believed so before them. So did their grandfathers.

Now, RHEUMATISM CAN BE CURED, notwithstanding this prejudice, but the trouble is to make people think so.
The only way we know to meet popular unbelief is to state the PLAIN FACTS, and then present the POSITIVE PROOFS that they are facts. It is a fact that the RUSSIAN RHEUMATISM CURE not only relieves but banishes Rheumatic Pain. There is positive proof of it too.
It comes from those who have suffered untold agony with Rheumatism and had been completely cured by this remedy. All who have tried it have had this experience. Some of them permit us to print their testimony. It makes quite a little book, which we send free to any who are interested enough to ask for it.

A complete Russian Rheumatism Cure, costs $2.50. If mailed, 10c. additional. If registered, 10c. more. You'll never need but one, so the price isn't high. Who wouldn't give $2.50 to get rid of Rheumatism?
As yet it cannot be found at the stores, but can be had only by enclosing the amount as above, and addressing the American Proprietors, FPAELZER BROS. & CO.,

COAL. COAL

All wanting the best quality of Lehigh Coal can find it at Scullin's coal yard on Egg Harbor road, near Bernshouse's steam mill. Coal will all be dumped from the cars into the yard, and will be sold in five ton lots at the same rate as car load lots from other yards. Having a good plank floor to shovel from, instead of the inconvenience of shoveling from the cars, is really worth ten cents a ton to every purchaser.
All coal will be sold strictly for cash on delivery.
Office at Anderson's feed store.

My Lover's Barque.

I lean from my window, looking down On stony arches and turbid tide.
The lights gleam in the doorway,
And the walls of the room where I sit...

POSTAGE NOT STATED.

I was tall, overgrown, awkward, and sixteen, with a pervading consciousness that my hands and feet were very large, and the added misery, in the case of the former members, that they were always red, and I never knew what to do with them in company.
I was making a visit at grandmother's delightful old-fashioned country home, when one morning the dear old lady called me to her.

was exempt, when at last it was Mabel Byrne's turn to go out.
She left the room with a lovely blush on her beautiful face. The door was solemnly closed upon her, and then after a brief pause there was a faint knock. The postmaster opened the door a few inches.
"Who is there?" he asked.
"Here is a letter here," she replied.
"Who?"
"Mr. James Hill."
"Postage not stated," was the faint reply.
They all laughed loudly and looked at me, for that was my name. The blood rushed in crimson floods to my face. I got on my feet somehow, and with my heart torn between a wild desire to go into the hall and a wish to sink utterly away from human kind, I stumbled out of the room.
The door was closed behind me, and I found myself almost in darkness, as the hall was but dimly lighted. I paused a moment, and then I heard the faint sound of quick breathing; another heart was beating as violently as my own.
For once in my life I knew what to do with my arms. I caught hold of her.
I scarcely know how. The darkness gave me courage and I held her in a close clasp, and pressed my lips to her cheek in three or four rapid, almost unconscious kisses, before she could free herself from my embrace.
"Therell there Mr. Hill," she said, with a faint, merry laugh, "don't be so hasty again. I'm sure you're bound enough now!"
"Have I paid my postage?" I stammered.
"Indeed, yes; enough and to spare.
Come, let us go back to the parlor." She led me in, a willing prisoner, and the rest of the evening I was her bond slave; her partner in all games, her companion in the dance (wherein I excelled in the country boys, and gloried in my compliments), and, at last, crowning delight of the evening, her escort home.
This was all. The next day I returned to my home in the city, and Mabel Byrne became only a memory; but sweet always. When I saw other girls I compared them mentally with Mabel, and my imagination painted of her the most perfect of women, half so fair and sweet as she.
But then I did not see many other girls. My bashfulness, instead of diminishing, seemed rather to increase as the years went by. I was a reclusive person, and was so much of a recluse from ladies that my mother felt worried lest I should become a confirmed old bachelor. Perhaps one reason why I retained my diffidence was that my pursuits were among books, and not among people. I had made the science of geology my study, and at present I was reading a treatise on the subject in an excellent professor in one of our best colleges, the salary of which, with my own income added, making me so far as that I resolved to spend my summer vacation to a tour in Europe.

tion borne by the epicurean I had occasionally met.
She, in her turn, contributed to the evening's interest by telling me of her work, and showing me her sketches.
The summer blank of a new course of artistic merit. There was no school-girl weakness in her handling of the brush, but a force and poetic thought which impressed me with a sense of recognition in the world of art.
"And you have never heard of Ma-bel's paintings until now?" asked Tom.
"No," I confessed. "You know I have been quite absorbed in my special studies."
"Yet, and you have not seen Mabel for ever so long, have you?"
"Only," I replied, "not since that summer ten years ago, when I was at my grandmother's."
"Jolly times we had, too," said Tom, reflectively. "Remember that party at Mr. Edwards'?"
A sudden rush of blood to my face utterly confused me. I stammered, went on with some rambling reminiscences.
The subject of the party I had to look at Mabel. Surely she was blushing, too.
The next morning we all went on a trip up the mountain. Mabel, in short, and stout boots, Tom carrying her drawing materials. "Thus we made this and many another delightful expedition," said Tom, "and I can assure you there was a radiant and glory about it that I had never dreamed of before. Every day I found fresh reason for admiring my beautiful companion, and our walks through the deep valleys and up the rough mountain sides were to me like enchanted journeys through a realm of fairies. In this loveliest country in the world, with its most gorgeous scenery, I loved her with the one great love of my life, it seemed to me now that date from the days of long ago, to be always with me, and to stretch out into the future to make it transcendently glorious, or a long despair.
The scientific world will await with interest the news of volcanic explosions elsewhere.
Kilauea has been of the great vents, or breathing places, of the interior fires of the earth, and experiences unites with science and art, and the one of these vents is closed, another, in some other locality, will break out into renewed activity, or fresh vents be formed. The existing and known volcanoes widely scattered in many countries cannot fail some of them, to be effected by the extinction of the fires of Kilauea. The scientific world will await with interest the news of volcanic explosions elsewhere.
Should the fires of Kilauea remain cold, the Hawaiian islands will have lost their chief attraction to tourists, and especially to scientific visitors. The ashes of an extinct crater have little fascination. Another island of the group has a crater—apparently the first in the world, larger than that of Kilauea; the crater of Haleakala, on the island of Maui. Few travelers ever care to visit this grand crater of former volcanic activity, a crater where the lava flows, and the whose oblong bowl would easily hold the entire city of New York below Central Park. Two chains in the sides of the crater, and many years ago, great rivers of molten lava, whose course to the sea is marked to-day by great black roads upon the green slopes of the island. But Haleakala, meaning
"the bald head," the "Hawaii of the Sun," is no longer attractive; its cloud-enclosed peak, rising over ten thousand feet in air, is seen by tourists up, or come in from the deck of the passing steamer, where the gratification of the tourist is satisfied with an afternoon trip to the dimly visible Punaehoa, an easy half-hour walk from the hotel in Honolulu. Young trees, in the breeze, and the grass grows strong and sweet for native cattle on the floor of this little crater, which, doubtless, was fall of business in its day, and kept the native of the island on the anxious seat most of the time.

class on her brow and lips, I found voice at last to utter the yearning that was consuming my heart.
An Edict of Volcano.
Information of rare interest to the scientific world, Kilauea, the most famous of modern volcanoes, whose fires have burned for centuries, has gushed for the first time, and the great crater is now dead and cold. A lake, near by, at the same time disappeared.
The volcano, a volcano, said to be that it is a gigantic cone, Kilauea, on the contrary (and in this it differs from many), is merely a crater, a depression on the flank of the great mountain of Mauna Loa, and about 4,000 feet below its summit. It may be described as an enormous pit on a rolling plain—a pit nine miles in circumference, and varying in years past from 800 to 1,000 feet in depth, according as the molten sea below has been at ebb or flood.
Hale-man-man, on "The House of Everlasting Fire," the expressive title belonging to Haleakala, the volcano, is a lake of burning lava on the south side of the crater—a lake whose fire and steam and smoke, if we may credit the existing and known volcanoes widely scattered in many countries cannot fail
some of them, to be effected by the extinction of the fires of Kilauea. The scientific world will await with interest the news of volcanic explosions elsewhere.
Should the fires of Kilauea remain

HORSE NOTES.
—Hickock and Goldsmith will come East about May 1.
—Dan Chayler, the well-known English jockey, is dead.
—The veteran driver, Sam Crook, died in Chicago on March 23.
—Sherwood & Newton, of Toledo, sold Red Wilkes, Jr., for $2500 cash.
—Marvin will bring ten or twelve troopers from California. Paso Alto, 4, died in Chicago on March 23.
—W. J. Gooden, of Cleveland, has purchased the b. m. Croix, 2.191, by Clark Choff, and the ch. m. Annette, by Kentucky Prince, paying $3500 for the pair.
—The b. m. Elite, foaled 1879, by Messenger Daroc, purchased for $3100 by A. J. Alexander at the Kellogg sale, will be bred to Lord Russell, full brother to Mand S.
—The race-horse George Singery, is entered in five stakes for the June meeting in Havana, Cuba, under the name of Engeman Memorial, Brooklyn handicap, Gravesend handicap, Independence Stakes and Iron Pier handicap.
—It seems pretty well understood that Lizzie Dwyer will never see the course again, as her leg has filled so enormously that it will be a miracle if she can get ready for racing. This season, at the suggestion of G. R.
Buchanan, the trainer, is negotiating in behalf of the Fairfax Stable for the purchase of the California cracker.
Beaconsfield, Lord Ban, with a view of securing both. From this it looks as if the new stable was determined not to be cast down by its failure in the late season, and is aiming to do the next best thing in securing the Occidental champion. Instead of next best, we might say better, as Beaconsfield is at even weights with Pontiac in the next best thing to the best, and is only a great horse for a certain distance, while Beaconsfield seems at home whether at a mile or a cup course.
—The death of Sam Crook, an old-time trotting champion, who died on the 28th ult., recalls the tragic circumstances of Billy McKeever's death at old Dexter Park. Crook drove Butler the first time in a memorable race against Cooley, and then refused to go on, giving place to McKeever. The consequent history of the race has been described too often to need repetition here. The fact that the driver was a hard blow to the good name of the trotting turf, and one from which it took Chicago years to recover. McKeever rests in Grant's cemetery. Crook has gone the way of all fathers, and General Butler, the unconscious participant of that foul deed in the shades of night, still lives, a lusty and well-preserved old man.
—There has been some speculation on the field. George Lovell has laid $20,000 to $200 against America, with a gentleman from Philadelphia, where the passing steamer, where the gratification of the tourist is satisfied with an afternoon trip to the dimly visible Punaehoa,
an easy half-hour walk from the hotel in Honolulu. Young trees, in the breeze, and the grass grows strong and sweet for native cattle on the floor of this little crater, which, doubtless, was
fall of business in its day, and kept the native of the island on the anxious
seat most of the time.

Forever Young.
The wild-world hastens on its way;
The gray-haired century near its close;
Its sorrows deepen day by day;
The summer blank of a new course

girl weakness in her handling of the
brush, but a force and poetic thought
which impressed me with a sense of recognition in the world of art.

have been quite absorbed in my special
studies."
"Yet, and you have not seen Mabel
for ever so long, have you?"
"Only," I replied, "not since that summer ten years ago, when I was at my grandmother's."
"Jolly times we had, too," said Tom, reflectively. "Remember that party at
Mr. Edwards'?"
A sudden rush of blood to my face utterly confused me. I stammered, went on with some rambling reminiscences.
The subject of the party I had to look at Mabel. Surely she was blushing, too.
The next morning we all went on a trip up the mountain. Mabel, in short,
and stout boots, Tom carrying her drawing materials. "Thus we made this and
many another delightful expedition,"
said Tom, "and I can assure you there was a radiant and glory about it that I had never dreamed of before. Every day I found fresh reason for admiring
my beautiful companion, and our walks
through the deep valleys and up the
enchanted journeys through a realm of fairies. In this loveliest country in the world, with its most gorgeous scenery, I loved her with the one great love of my life, it seemed to me now that
date from the days of long ago, to be always with me, and to stretch
out into the future to make it transcendently glorious, or a long despair.
The scientific world will await with interest the news of volcanic explosions elsewhere.
Kilauea has been of the great vents,
or breathing places, of the interior fires
of the earth, and experiences unites with science and art, and the one of these
vents is closed, another, in some other locality, will break out into renewed activity, or fresh vents be formed. The existing and known volcanoes widely
scattered in many countries cannot fail
some of them, to be effected by the extinction of the fires of Kilauea. The scientific world will await with interest the news of volcanic explosions elsewhere.
Should the fires of Kilauea remain
cold, the Hawaiian islands will have
lost their chief attraction to tourists,
and especially to scientific
visitors. The ashes of an extinct crater have little fascination. Another
island of the group has a crater—apparently the first in the world, larger than that of Kilauea; the crater of Haleakala, on the island of Maui. Few travelers ever care to visit this grand
crater of former volcanic activity, a crater
where the lava flows, and the
whose oblong bowl would easily hold
the entire city of New York below Central Park. Two chains in the sides of the crater, and many years ago,
great rivers of molten lava, whose
course to the sea is marked to-day by
great black roads upon the green slopes
of the island. But Haleakala, meaning
"the bald head," the "Hawaii of the Sun," is no longer attractive; its cloud-enclosed peak, rising over ten
thousand feet in air, is seen by tourists
up, or come in from the deck of the passing steamer, where the gratification of the tourist is satisfied with an afternoon trip to the dimly visible Punaehoa,
an easy half-hour walk from the hotel in Honolulu. Young trees, in the breeze, and the grass grows strong and sweet for native cattle on the floor of this little crater, which, doubtless, was
fall of business in its day, and kept the native of the island on the anxious
seat most of the time.

HULDY'S PUMPKIN PIES.
As Huldy Brown stood at the kitchen table, her white arms bare to the elbow, and her hands which were somewhat red, employed just then in deftly moulding a scalloped pumpkin pie, she looked on the edge of one of her celebrated pumpkin pies, she looked about as unhappy a girl as you could easily find. I have said her "celebrated pies. Not only were they good, but they were made in first overtures towards a reconciliation, when she heard a somewhat hesitating step outside on the porch; and then, after a moment's hesitation, she called out, "Come in, why, because, a moment after, her grandmother, old Mrs. Clemmer, Deacon Hezekiah Clemmer's wife. And she was not whisked to Huldy as the two sat side by side, holding each other's hands, in the darkened kitchen?
Huldy's position as the guardian of a great trust was recognized in the very way in which she treated the pies.
They were not "Huldy pies," nor the "Brown pies," nor even the "Clemmer pies;" they were the "Jackson pies," for old Mrs. Clemmer had not the right to make pies, and was almost one of the Pilgrims; and this gave an almost religious flavor to the delight of eating them.
No portion of her work was done by Huldy with more care than the making of them. The oven had to be just right; the door must be open at just the proper time. If she did not know when to add "sugar and spice, and all things nice," as the old description of the little girls has it; but they were not only good, but they were

not only good, but they were made in first overtures towards a reconciliation, when she heard a somewhat hesitating step outside on the porch; and then, after a moment's hesitation, she called out, "Come in,
why, because, a moment after, her

Hezekiah Clemmer's wife. And
she was not whisked to Huldy as the two
sat side by side, holding each other's hands, in the darkened kitchen?
Huldy's position as the guardian of a great trust was recognized in the very
way in which she treated the pies.
They were not "Huldy pies," nor the
"Brown pies," nor even the "Clemmer pies;" they were the "Jackson pies," for old Mrs. Clemmer had not the right to make pies, and was almost
one of the Pilgrims; and this gave an almost religious flavor to the delight of eating them.
No portion of her work was done by Huldy with more care than the making of them. The oven had to be just right;
the door must be open at just the proper

SATURDAY, APRIL 17, 1886.

OPENING of Spring and Summer Millinery, at Tomlin & Smith's, Friday at 3 o'clock, and Saturday, April 18th and 17th. All are cordially invited. No cards.

The boys in a Brooklyn school began a "strike" on Monday, demanding a half-hour recess every afternoon, and a half-holiday, Fridays. They compelled the janitor to keep the boys' gate shut, and waylaid every boy who approached the school-house, beating all those who would not either join them or return home. They made some trouble, but a judicious application of switch-rod and slipper-soles persuaded them to resume business at the old rates.

Greec went to haste Turkey, and Turkey in already done brown, in a financial way.

Christian Milmur's prayer before Congress, last Saturday, sounded like a solemn warning to the Almighty against the sin of intemperance.

The Rev. Father Wm. H. McNulty, pastor of St. John's Catholic Church, of Passaic, made one of his peculiar rants on Peterson liquor saloons on Sunday night. He went in the back way, as he saw others do, then he backed himself up against the door so that none could escape. In some cases the crowd rushed through rear windows, taking sash and glass with them. He took down the names of all he knew, and where there was anything on the bar he insisted it so that he could swear that it was not ginger ale. It is expected that a number of complaints will follow.

Burglars who get sent to jail in New York cannot expect to be preserved from bad society. One of them has been obliged to spend a night in the next cell to that occupied by an ex Alderman.

Certain liquor dealers in Athens, Ga., are endeavoring to bring about a compromise with the Prohibitionists, agreeing that if the bill be so amended as to allow them to sell beer they will not draw up a petition to hold another election, or to have the original bill repealed.

Congressmen now speak of frozen t as "innocuous desuetude." To what little use great things are often put.

A little horse put in the water in which scurvy napkins and red bordered towels are to be washed will prevent their fading.

Sancho Panza blessed the man who invented sleep. So I prize the good in venting, whereby every body is provided with somebody who is glad to see him.

THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE
THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE was born the new subscription year with undiminished vitality in the greatest capacity for news, patriotic, intelligent and loyal support during the last year.

THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE remains the principal national exponent of the progressive, democratic and liberal views of the people. It is a strong, aggressive newspaper, uncompromisingly Republican, and faithfully devoted to the home interests of all Americans. The paper labors earnestly for a progressive and secure good war, good food, good clothing and comfortable homes for the people, and itself pays the highest price for its own work in any office in New York City for equal rights and an honest war, North and South, for every practical measure in the interests of morality and temperance; and for upright, dignified, patriotic government.

Republicans Need The Tribune.
Every intelligent citizen every old soldier, every worker and every man of whatever complexion every good wife with family and every citizen who wishes to identify himself with the party of progress, every achievement and morality, needs THE TRIBUNE.

THE TRIBUNE will be good reading after Congress meets, when Evans, Sherman, Logan, and other military leaders begin to ask the Administration questions and to answer.

As an agricultural paper THE TRIBUNE is a constant series of War Stories.
The grandest of the war the Tribune has all been recorded. The Tribune has been the only paper that has given the most complete and accurate account of the war from the beginning to the end. It has been the only paper that has given the most complete and accurate account of the war from the beginning to the end.

SATURDAY, April 17, 1886.
LOCAL MISCELLANY.

Good-Friday, next week.
G. A. P. Post meeting to-night.
To-morrow will be Palm Sunday.

Straw hats have put in an appearance already.
This is Opening Day at Tomlin & Smith's, Call and see.

An Odd Fellow's Lodge is to be instituted at Lead's Point.

William Baker hurt his back, on Wednesday, while lifting.

Council meeting on Saturday evening next, in their new room.

S. E. Brown has been on the sick list recently, but is recovering.

Mr. Bernhouse has a contract for a cottage at Ocean Grove.

Mrs. S. G. Hiller is said to be near her final release from suffering.

Mr. Homer Saxton and wife were among the arrivals on Thursday.

Henry Thayer (son of J. S.) has been seriously ill, but is better.

The Board of Chosen Freeholders will meet on Tuesday, April 27th.

Miss Della Hill injured her right hand, Monday, giving her an unexpected vacation.

Mrs. Dr. Jennings, of Haddonfield, visited her brother, J. C. Browning, this week.

Mrs. Elmer Stevens and two sons returned home at Stevensville, Penna., yesterday.

The West Jersey Press comes out this week for Senator John J. Gardner for Governor.

The washing of rag carpets is a specialty at the Hammonon Laundry, and they do it well.

Mr. J. C. Browning was very seriously ill, the first of this week, but is reported as recovering.

It's early yet, to be sure, but if any of our readers want berry tarts, we are ready to print them.

The funeral of Mr. B. B. Doughty, a worthy man, a good citizen, was held at Pleasant Mills, last Sunday.

There was a "package party" at the Methodist parsonage, on Wednesday evening—successful, of course.

Miss E. Woolley and family are in town for a visit. Diana is apparently recovering from her tedious illness.

Dr. James North and wife are tendered congratulations on the birth of a daughter,—on Tuesday, April 13th.

Chester Crowell, who is suffering from partial paralysis, last week, is convalescent, and able to ride out.

Captain Smerly will have a very comfortable and convenient house. Jas. Smith and assistants are plastering it.

Although the Narrow Gauge R. R. Co. purchased the right of way over ten years ago, the deeds were never recorded until last week.

The new house just completed for Thos. E. Love came into Mr. Bernhouse's possession last week Friday. On Tuesday he sold it to Dr. Zukow.

Delightful weather, part of this week. The warm sun will drive out all rheumatic and kindred complaints, and cure the worst case of "blues."

Dr. A. Allender will re-open her kindergarten on Monday morning next, from 9 o'clock to 11. It has been closed for some time on account of disagreeable weather.

These improvements to the C. & A. R. R. station building have not yet been commenced, and the lumber brought here for that purpose was removed this week Monday.

Moses Stockwell received a telegram, Thursday, announcing the serious illness of his sister, Mrs. Cole, Friendship, N. J., and started for that place the same day.

This is just the weather for "bacon and greens." They are healthy eating, especially dandelions. We should like to pay somebody a fair price for a peck of them.

Two members of the Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. Church collected the funds and purchased, the week, for their parsonage, a handsome parlor suit and other furniture.

Governor Abbott has appointed next Friday as "Labor Day," when every good Jerseyman—native-born or naturalized—is expected to plant a tree. The schools have made it a sort of holiday, and whole communities have joined in appropriate exercises. Remembering all this, we are surprised that the Governor should name Good Friday for this purpose, favoring the many thousands in the State who hold the day sacred to solemn religious services.

The April term of Court opened on Tuesday morning, his honor, Judge Reed presiding, and a full complement of Associates.

Mark Sog, of Mount Holly, Alfred Hogg and T. E. French, of Camden, were the only visiting attorneys. The County bar was fully represented, including the recent addition of Messrs. Baake and Sully, the Messrs. King being the only absentees.

Grand Jury.—Edw. Wilson, John A. Jeffries, Samuel Tritley, Wm. N. French, Lewis Wills, Chas. Wyatt, Rich'd Turner, Alfred Conover, V. P. Hofmann, George Mueller, J. W. Moore, Frank Steelman, Sam'l B. Scull, Dan'l L. Albertson, John Clark, Sr., John H. Anderson, Lewis Somers, J. T. Irving, Reuben Steelman, Rob't Hogg, J. W. Shim.

Licenses were granted,—except to one applicant at Brigantine, held for further consideration.

Two cases occupied the day, the latter involving the lien law on ocean pier, and which over way decided will probably be carried higher as a test case.

Wednesday.—But one case disposed of. The grand jury returned eleven true bills,—one of which was for "forgery." His estate, occupied by Wm. Galbraith, will still be cheap. Apply at the REPUBLICAN Office. A bargain.

For Sale Cheap.—Five Stocking Machines—2 double-headed and 1 single. Also, Bobbins, Sticking Boards, etc. Inquire of THOS. HARTSTON, N. J.

For Sale or Rent.—In Hammonon, a good light-roomed house, centrally located, with good garden-spot. Plenty of closet-room in the house, pantry, and every convenience. For particulars, call at the REPUBLICAN Office.

Five acres of land for sale, on the Brandywine, Hammonon, opposite the Rice estate, occupied by Wm. Galbraith. Will still be cheap. Apply at the REPUBLICAN Office. A bargain.

For Sale Cheap.—Five Stocking Machines—2 double-headed and 1 single. Also, Bobbins, Sticking Boards, etc. Inquire of THOS. HARTSTON, N. J.

"How's your average?" "Will you pass?" and kindred questions, are popular among the school-children, just now. The annual County examinations began on Wednesday, this week.

Complaint was made, Wednesday, against John Mick, for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, and in default of payment of fine and costs, Justice Atkinson sent him to May's Landing for four days.

Messrs. A. H. Simons & Co. have their great brick oven completed, and will soon solicit patronage. Their store is tastefully fitted, the ice cream room being really elegant, with its artistic paper, hanging lamps, brussels carpet, and neat tables.

There used to be certain parties at Elm who predicted that Geo. A. Rogers would become bankrupt in a few months. Evidently, he dies hard, and keeps adding to his stock and supplying his neighbors with whatever they can pay for. But it may be that his munificent salary as post master has saved him.

An advertiser says, this week, "we sell so cheap that you forget whether you have paid us or not." That must be the trouble with some of our patrons, and we shall be compelled to refresh some few memories never forget? They present their bills with unanimous regularity.

St. Mark's Church, Palm Sunday, April 16th, 1886.—Morning Prayer, Litany, and Celebration Holy Communion, at 10:30 A. M. Sunday School, 2:30 P. M. Evening Prayer and Sermon at 8:30 P. M.

During Holy Week.—Services Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Good Friday, at 4:00 P. M. Thursday and Good Friday, 10:30 A. M., and 7:30 P. M.

The Library Association's concert, last Saturday evening, was all that was promised,—the event of the season, a perfect success, an entertainment worthy of being remembered. We are not competent to criticize music, either vocal or instrumental, but speak of it as pleasing our taste, and commended by many who have the ability to appreciate the artistic in music. The hall was filled, and the hearty applause and repeated encores indicated appreciation.

The Public Library and Reading Room is now permanently located in its own neat rooms, over DePuy's store. The entrance is at the corner of Bellevue and Egg Harbor Roads. Pass right up the stairs, go straight back, through the office, and you'll find a comfortable and quiet place to spend an hour or two, day or evening. Papers and magazines in good variety are there—free to all. Mrs. Oliver has charge of the rooms and the library, and will assist you in the selection of a book, or sell you a pocket-full of confectionery.

Berry Pickers.—Whoever wants any pickers this year can be supplied by me for 25 cents each. Call at my house two weeks before berries are ripe, and let me know how many you want.

FOR SALE.—The Hammonon Steam Laundry,—full line of machinery, including steam engine, etc., complete to carry on the business. Inquire on the premises, or address

DR. JOHN BULL'S Smith's Tonic Syrup FOR THE CURE OF FEVER and ACUE Or CHILLS and FEVER, AND ALL MALARIAL DISEASES.

The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the SAFE, CERTAIN, SPEEDY and PERMANENT cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion that in no case whatever will it fail to cure if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order. Should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of BULL'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient.

THE INDEPENDENT

The Largest, the Ablest, the Best Religious & Literary Weekly. The most influential religious organ in the States.—Spectator, London, Eng.

The Independent is one of the best papers in the world. Its good points are many and striking. They have only to be stated to be appreciated; and for proof of our claims appeal may be taken to any of the fifty-two issues of the year. Any number will show that its contents are marked by ABILITY, VARIETY, and INTEREST.—The great thinkers, the great story-writers, the great poets, men of the highest reputation in all departments of human knowledge, make up its list of contributors. Religion, philosophy, science, literature, art, travels, discoveries, stories, and all commendable topics are embraced in its columns, and everybody, old or young, learned or unlearned, without regard to sex, employment, or condition, will find something of interest in every issue.

Comprehensiveness.—It is a religious, a literary, an educational, a story, an art, a scientific, an agricultural, a financial, and a political paper combined. BROADTH, DANDY, BARNABESS.—The Independent is tied to no denomination; it is the organ of no clique or party in State or Church. It is free to discuss all questions, and to speak its mind candidly. It is not swayed by fear or favor. It is a vigorous defender of the Evangelical faith. It preaches practical righteousness, earnestly supports all moral reforms, and everybody, old or young, learned or unlearned, without regard to sex, employment, or condition, will find something of interest in every issue.

Specimen Copies Free.
No papers are sent to subscribers after the time paid for has expired. The Independent's Clubbing List will be sent free to any person asking for it. Any one wishing to subscribe for one or more papers or magazines, in connection with the Independent, can save money by ordering from our Club List. Address The Independent, P. O. Box 3787, New York City.

The Alta-California figures out that that part of the United States lying west of the Mississippi river could be carved into 351 states the size of Massachusetts.

The Elizabeth Herald says: "The most prominent names mentioned for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination are Hon. Robert S. Green, of this city, and Andrew Albright, of Newark. Judge Parker has positively refused to become a candidate under any circumstance whatever, and has, we are informed, so told Senator McPherson."

Reports from the Northwest show that the farmers are beginning to seed, and is believed that the next crop of all staples will be an unusually large one. That means cheap bread, which means good times to everybody except financial cranks, who are never happy except when everything is out of everybody's reach.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria, When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria, When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria, When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

A Lecture to Young Men On the Loss of MANHOOD

A lecture on the Nature, Treatment, and Radical cure of Seminal Weakness, or Spermatorrhea, induced by Self-Abuse, Involuntary Emissions, Impotency, Nervous Debility, and Impediments to Marriage generally, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits; Mental and Physical Incapacity, &c.—By ROBERT J. CULVERWELL, M. D., author of the "Green Book," &c.

The world-renowned author, in this admirable Lecture, clearly proves from his own experience that the awful consequences of Self-Abuse may be effectually removed without dangerous surgical operations, blisters, instruments, &c.; and that, by the use of a mode of cure at once certain and effectual, by which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture will prove a boon to thousands and thousands. Sent, under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address on receipt of six cents, or two postage stamps.

MILLVILLE MUTUAL Marine & Fire Ins. Co.

This Company have disposed entirely of all STOCK PLAN BUSINESS, and having been RE-ORGANIZED, has decided to do the future do a Strictly Mutual Home Business. Having succeeded in paying ALL ITS LIABILITIES, and securing an Actual Net Available Surplus of Over $30,000, the Directors feel that they can offer to all who desire insurance not only at LOW RATES and UNQUESTIONABLE SECURITY, but much greater probability of immunity from assessment for years to come, than other Companies. Since this surplus is large enough to pay all probable losses on the policies now in force until their expiration, without any dependence on receipts from new business—a condition of things that can be shown by but very few companies in the State. The present Director pledge to the Policy Holder, an

ECONOMICAL MANAGEMENT and a Careful Supervision of the business.

and will continue in the future, as in the past, to act on the principle of PROMPT PAYMENT without seeking to EVADE them on technical grounds. Hereafter, no notes will be subject to assessment, until they are a year old.

HONEST LOSSES

We would call special attention to our Marine Department, on LOW RATES and FAVORABLE FORMS OF POLICIES.

1842 A PROCLAMATION. 1886

Know Ye! Know Ye All! Men, women and children—the great staff of editors who, headed by Dr. George Thurber, have kept the "American Agriculturist" at the front for twenty-five years, are now re-inforced by Chester P. Dewey, Seth Green, and other writers. We propose to add to the hundreds of thousands of homes, in which the

AMERICAN AGRICULTURIST

is read and revered, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, as an old-time friend and counselor. We are accordingly enlarging the Hearth, Household, and Juvenile Departments, and adding other features, so that it is to be, from this time onward, essentially a Home Periodical, as well as being devoted to Agriculture and Horticulture. Every person who immediately sends us $1.50, the subscription price, and 15 cents for postage—$1.65 in all—will receive the American Agriculturist for 1888, and the American Agricultural Law Book, just published.—A Compendium of every-day Law for Farmers, Mechanics, Business men, Manufacturers, etc., enabling every one to be his own
