Poem by Robert Collyer.

Rev. Robert Collyer read the following poem at a dinner party in response to the toast,"Saxon Grit; which in New England has made a race of men to be honored, feared and respected:" Worn with the battle, by Stamford town, Fighting the Norman by Hastings Bay; Harold, the Saxon's sun, wendown While the acorns were falling one Autumn day.

Then the Norman said, "I am lord of the land

By tenor of conquest here I sit; I will rule you now with the iron hand;" But he had not thought of the Saxon grit. He took the land, and he took the men And burnt the homesteads from Trent to

From the Saxon heart rose a mighty roar, Our life shall not be, by the king's permit, We will fight for the right; we want no more. Then the Norman found out the Saxon grit. For slow and sure as the oaks had grown From the acorns falling that Autumn day, So the Saxon manhood in thorpe and town To a nobler stature grew alway. Winning by inches, holding by clinches, Standing by law and the human right; Many times fail. ag, never once qualling, So the new day came out of the night. Then rising afar in the Western sea A New World stood in the morn of the day, Ready to welcome the brave and free, Who could wrench out the heart, and march nway From the narrow, contracted, dear old land, Where the poor are held by a cruel bit, To ampler spaces for heart and hand; And here was a chance for the Saxon grit. Steadily steering, eagerly peering, Trusting in God, your fathers came, Pligrims and strangers, fronting all dangers, Cool-headed Saxons, with hearts aflame. Bound by the latter, but free from the fetter, And hiding their free iom in Holy Writ, They gave Deuteronomy hints in economy, And made a new Moses of Saxon grit. They whittled, and waded, through fores

Saxon men all of us, may we be one Steady for freedom and strong in her might, Then slow, and sure, as the oaks have grown From the acorns that fell on the old dim day, Bo this new manhood, in city and town, To a nobier stature will grow alway. Winning by inches, holding by clinches, Blow to contention, and slower to quit, Now and then falling but never once qualling Let us thank God for the Saxon grit.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 19, 1880. If-it were possible for the Democratic major ity to be meaner this session than they were during the extra zersion, they would be. But fortunately for the country, the Repul licans are vigilant, and do not fail to expose at once all the Democratic blunders. Their course was one of bold deliance of decency last session, but this time they started in, it sooms, with a cowardly purpose of doing just as contemptible things in a speaking way. Thus, nearly tour months ago they professed great anxiety to provide for the deficiencies in the Departments. and at once drafted what they called an 'Imme dbite deficiency bill " But it s. as not very im-Andiate. It has not yet become a law. In this bill they included the pay for the Marshale sorvice last year, which the Democrats promised to be decent enough to pay, after keeping the oil cials out of it several months. But many excu-es followed each other in quick succession, for delay in this matter until the public have taken notice of it in a way the Democre's despise, and the severe criticisms of such underhanded methods of repeating the starving out policy lave brought the Lourbons to their sorses. It is probable that the Immes diate deficiency bill may become a law in a few days, and justice in part be done to the official who have so long s tored for the money which is hopestly due them.

The warfare in the Democratic ranks over the Springer-Dunnelly matter, and the impossibility of uniting in the Senate for unseating Senatur Kellogg, continues. We are looking on with complacency, in the belief that the Democratic factions are cating each other up as rapidly as possible. All the Republicans have got to do this year, apparently, is to stand by while the Democrats go on beating themselves. Good nominations and a fair amount of work will insure us the next President, and both Houses of Congress. The House has passed the Indian appropriation bill. Once more an effort to remeve the Indian Bureau from the Interior to the War Department was beaten, but an amendment was ad pted abolishing the Indian Commission.

The returns to the Department of Agriculture show an increase in the area sown in wheat last fall, of 13 per cent, as compared with the year provious. Iowa and Nebraska report great disaster from the winter. On the whole the wheat crop, thus far, looks as favorable as in the spring of 1879. The condition for live stock is better than for several years.

Communicated. Mr. Editor:

It is both gratifying and encouraging to see your correspondent come to the front on the question-of-Individual-Responsibility in regard to the rum traffic. Just so long as men of pretended principle seck to dodge their responsibility, so long will the evil run riot. Suppose, for a moment, that all law-abiding, God fearing people should unite, they could carry any reform they pleased. While there is a lack of unity, the cause will drag slowly, and while the officers of the law to whom we look for their enforcement, shun the responsibility, and bold ly say, "it is the duty of temperance men to enforce the laws against the rum truffic," we may expect laws to become a dead letter.

Of course voters must adhere to party nominations, according to party leaders; and if they think more of party than principal then go it blind. Vote for rum candidates, and growl be cause taxes are too high. But then man is a very inconsistent being, and often seems to prefer to sleep over a volcano, than be warned of danger. If you attack a prevalent evil, look out for the curies to follow you, for being an intermeddler. Instance-preaching against an abominable heresy-a call for orthodox to dispense with their service and go and hear a rejoinder. Only an instance of many inconstr

Robert Toombs in Congress. General Brisbin in The Philadelphia Press.

It was Mr. Wade who originated and brought forward that great measure, the "Homesicad bill," or, as he was pleased to cell it, "land for the landlers." The Southern men at once antagonized this bill with the slavery question, and Mr. Wade, accepting the issue, rushed to the contest with the battle cry of "Lund for the landless against niggers for the niggerless?" The Southern men sought in feat the bill, but Wade made a powerful argument, and for the time completely routed his cnemios. While the bill was under discussion, Mr. Toombs referred to it, with a sneer, as a measure for white paupers, when Mr. Wade immediately arose and said :

"Sir. you sneer at the Homestead bill because it gives land to the landless, do you? What is you pet scheme? Buying Cuha? Stealing niggors for the niggerless? We will go to the country upon it-land for the landless against niggers for the niggerless!"

Wade one day replied to Toombs, and to all appearance used language which would compel Toombs to challenge him. Several friends went to Wade and begged him to desist; but the old man grew more and more violent, until Toombs indicated his intention of calling Wade to uccount for the language he was using, when Wade quietly sat down, seemingly having ac complished his object. The Southern men looked at each other in surprise, and it was manifest to all that Wade had deliborately sought a quarrel with Toombs.

That night a friend of the Southern Senator called on Mr. Wade to know if he would retract the offensive words he had used. "No, I won't take back a d-d word, " was Wade's emphatic roply. "Then," said the friend of Mr. Toombs, "it will be necessary for Mr. Toombs to chall lenge you to mortal nombat." "That is just what I want, and we might have got to the point without all this palaver," said Wade-You surely cannot be in currest, Mr. Wade?' suid the Southerner.

"Why, of course I am. You see, sir, we Northern men don't like to fight. Now, I am opposed to the code, and so are my constituonts, but you fellows have broken Summer's head, and we must spunk up a little or you will break all our boads. The shortest way to end the metter is to kill off a few of you, and I have picked on old Toombs as my man. He will have to challenge me; then, of course, I will have the, choice of weapons, and I'll take my old rill , and d-d me if I don't bring him down at the first crack."

When Toombs heard what Wade said he replied: "I can't challenge him; if I do the old brute will likely kill me.

It appears that Toombs and Wade had been out together shooting with a rifle several times, and while Toombs could shoot well with a pistel he was a poor rifle shot. Wade was an old hunter, and at a distance of a hundred yards could bit a dollar almost every shot. Mr. Wade afterward said to me:

"If old Toombahad challenged me that time, as I expected he would, I would have put a patch on my coat over the heart, and made him do the same thing; then the old fellow would have got demoralized when he saw me drawing a bead on his patch, and would have missed me, white d-d me if I wouldn't have cut his patch the first fire."

Not only did Mr. Toomos refuse to challenge Wade, but no Southern member of Cougress sculd ever be induced to send him a challenge no matter what he might say Editorial Letter.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 15, '80. When we left Hammonton on the morns ing of the 10th, there was every indication of warmer weather, but in the night the wind shifted to the northwest, and blew a gale, compelling the gallant Captain Riggins-under whose pilotage we were-of the Ericson Line Steamer, Wm. Whilden, to cast anchor under the shadow of Turkey Island, at the head of Chesapeake Bay, where we lay for five hours. This made us late in reaching Baltimore, it being past 10 o'clock, Sunday morning, when the boat reached the wharf at the foot of Light Street. We spent the day in Baltimore, and in the evening, in company with Prof. S. S. Grauer, went to the Reformed Presbyterian Church to hear Rev. Mr. Leyburn, who is the popular preacher of the Monumental City. Prof. Grauer is the organist, and he certainly does his part in attracting people to the church. There are accommodations for about 1,600, and it is filled twice a day. I felt at the close of service as did the Brakeman, that attended church, when be said he had had an hour's pleasant run and a "concert thrown in." The sermon was very practical, appealing, and clothed in the simplest language, and the singing just our idea of what church singing should be, and the music of the organ just heavenly, such as would make any man with any feeling of reverence, feel devotional. No wonder the house is filled.

Sunday night was terribly cold, for the 11th of April. Ice was made, and fears were entertained that the fruit would be badly injured if not entirely destroyed. But we personally examined peach blossoms, and they were entirely uninjured, owing, no doubt, to being perfectly dry. Overcoats, thick and warm, were necessary, and good fires needed as much as in January. On our way to Washington on Monday morning, the cold was bitter, and ice lay on the water in some places, with no apparent intention of being reduced to a iquid state. This is, as we have said before, the paragon of American cities, but when old Boreas swoops down through the streets, the dirt flies fearfully, and you eat dirt breathe dirt, load your clothing with dirt, and every man, woman and child becomes a receptacle of dirt, so that one needs to carry a whisk to use at every stopping place, and should wear an inhaler that his lungs may not become irritated by pulverized stones, mixed with asphalt, wood, hay, straw, etc., etc. Everywhere we go, in the street, in the public buildings, in the halls of Congress, sometimes mad, because they can't have every place filled by rebels. You find them, however, in every department of the Government, filling places that should be filled by loyal men and women. Few, if any of them, tave been reconstructed. Convinced against their will, they are of the same rebel opinion still and hate the North and the Government as they did twenty years ago. Yet the man in the White House, who would have his name go down to posterity as a mediator between traitors and a loyal Government, holds out the premium for traitors, and with the aid of willing assistants, like Secretary Sherman, who, to make votes for himself next fall, is filling important places with traitors-we say traitors for they have never shown any works or words to indicate otherwise-and the chance is better in Sherman's department just now, for a rebel than for a loyal man. Don't let any soldier of the Union, nor any other loyal man, forget it. But as Hayes has undertaken to do what a higher power attempted to do, and gave up in despair, he will most signally fail. Au-"Ethiopean caunot change his skin, nor a leopard his spots,"neither can you change the nature of a Southern rebel, until you make him feel the punishment he justly deserves; starvation, cold, and every other suffering coming from transgression of law. The efforts of the President and bis helpers to sustain and foster them, would be justifiable, if the hands receiving were grateful. This they are, net. They would as soon smite the hand that feeds them as take a drink of whiskey, and whiskey is dearer to them than honor, and their honor is about the value of a bog of sulphuretted hydrogen gas. Few rebels are turned away, if any place can be found for them. Hence they pour into the Capitol, draw on friends for sustenance, or contract bills never to be paid, while waiting for something to turn up. And such is the way the present administration punishes traitors, and rewards loyalty.

Little is doing in either House of Congress. The Geneva Award question has occupied the Senate when we have been present. In the House the Indian question has been the glowing theme for inspiration. The rising star in this chamber is our Hon. Geo. M. Robeson. He is the Samson in intellect, and the man of whom the rebel members have a mortal dread. His blows are like the blows from the hammer of Thor, Garfield has lost his prestige in a great measure. His recent yielding to rebel power has brought curses, not loud, but deep, in the hearts of loyal men in this city. Gen. Hooker, of Mississippi, is the mighty man among the rebel element. He is arrogant, proud, and full of sound and fury, and is a true type of the Southern man-owner. It does certainly fill a loyal man with shame and mortification to see such men as Hampton, Butler, Vance, Hill, Ramsey, Gordon, and many other rampant rebels, occupying seats in the law-making body of a government they so recently rebelled against, and did their best to destroy. Yet who is to blame? None but Republicans. Without remorse for their crimes, without even confession of misdeeds, they were brought back to citizenship by Republican votes, and instead of gratitude for the leniency and kindness shown them, they are insolent, arrogant, impudent and overbearing, and are masters of the situation. According to tradition the Almighty taught man better. He cast Satan over the battlements of heaven, and never allowed him to return. Had the Republicans learned of heaven they would have done better, and allowed no rebel the right of franchise, to say nothing of being made law-maker, under twentyfive years probation. Now restored to citizenship, according to scriptural teaching, they turn to rend those who have been throwing them pearls. And they-Republicans-deserve it. Many of the Democratic Senators deserve well, and are decidedly men of brains. But, few of these are from south of Mason and Dixons line. There they seem to have been selected, not for moral and mental worth, but for the amount of bitterness and the extent of their valor in defending the unsavory carcass of slavery. The more of the devil manifested, the better they suit their constituents. Blaine, Conkling, Thurman, Ingalls, Hoar, Edmunds, Anthony, Bayard and Randolph are the prominent in the hoteis, we find the representatives men of the Senate. Davis reminds us of of Southern chivalry, seedy and ad, and Myron Lawrence, a noted whig politician of the old school, in Massachusetts, whom a reporter of a Democratic paper, in 1840, during the Harrison campaign, described

"A mass of fat, a beastly jelly;
A man in fact that is all belly."

But my letter is getting too long, and I must close, though I have "lots and H. E. B. cords" more to write.

A new cause for a strike was developed in New York on Thursday, the 15th inst., in the office of the Witness, a religious weekly of that city. Two colored compositors were employed on the paper. For a time they had been kept in a separate room, but for very good reasons they were placed in the apartment where eightwhite men were at work. Of these eight six chose to abandon their places rather than work by the side of "niggers." The probability is that they can continue in the exercise of their liberty of choice and that others will be engaged in their places. This, taken in connection with the preiudice proven to exist at West Point, where three hundred students turned their backs on a man nearly but not quite as white as themselves, proves that the color line is still tightly drawn.

Europe's Rich City.

Frankfort-on-the-Main, now containing a population of about 100,000, is reputed to be the richest city of its size in the whole-world. If its wealth were equally divided among its Inhabitants, very man, woman and child would have, it is said, 20,000 marks, or some $5,000 apiece. There are, as may be in the town; but the citizens are, as a whole, in unusually comfortable circumstances, more so probably than the citizens of any other capital in Germany or Europe. It is asserted that there are 100 Frankforters worth from $4,000,000 to $5,000 000 each, and 250 who are worth $3,000,000 and upward. The city is one of the great banking centers of the globe. Its aggregate banking capital is estimated at $200,000,000, more than one-fourth of which the famous Rothschilds, whose original parent house is there, own and control. The annual transactions in bills of exchange are in excess of $100,000,000,000. Its general trade and manufacturing industries have greatly increased since the formation of the German empire, to which Frankfort was originally averse, being a free city and an opponent of Prussia, until coerced in July, 1866, by General Von Falkenstein, who entered it at the head of an army and imposed a fine of 31,000,000 florins for its insubordination.

Splendid for Coarse or Fine Goods, Woolens, Blankets, Flannels, Calico, Fine Fabrics, and Delicate Colors. Marble Fronts.

A Wash that takes a whole forenoon, can be done in a couple of Hours, if you will use Frank Siddalls Soap and follow the directions. The Clothes will smell Sweeter and look nicer on the line, than when washed in any other way and (as they are positively not to be Scalded Cleans Paint, Tins and or Boiled,) there is no heavy Washboiler to lift about, no disagreeable Smell in the house, no Removes Grease Spots steam to spoil the wall-paper or furniture, and and Printers' Ink. the Saving in Fuel along Pays for the Soap.

Follow Miss LESLIE'S Receipt When you use FRANK SIDDALLS SOAP.

In the first place, do not get the Washboiler about on Washday; the Clothes will be Sweet and White without Scalding or Boiling and as enough hot water can be got from a ten-kettle to make the wash-water warm enough to suit the hands, (which is all that is necessary) a wash-boiler is not needed and only makes work for nothing.

Rub the soap over the wet clothes, lightly, so as not to waste it, but dont miss the soiled places, and LET SOAK 20 MINUTES; then wash carefully out of that one suds only, not using any soap, but changing the water if it gets dirty; should a Stain be hard to west out. Soap it again and throw back in the sads for a few minutes;
next wash through ONE rinse water, turning each piece and rubbing lightly on the Wash-board, but not using any soap, then rinse through Blue Water AND HANG UP TO DRY WITHOUT EITHER SCALDING or BOILING. Do not keep the Soap on the washboard while washing: it is not necessary and makes it waste.

IMPORTANT NOTICE: Do not believe statements that FRANK SIDDALLS SOAP. cannot be obtained. Orders are promptly filled and a reasonable profit allowed dealers. Sold by Grocers throughout the United States and Canada.

At Union Hall, on Thursday evening April 29th, at 7.30 P. M., to select delegates to the State Convention, to be held in Trenton, on the 6th day of May, for the purpose of electing delegates to the National Convention to be held in Chicago, on the 2d day of June, next. H. E. Bowles,

Chairman of last Caucus. The Hon, H. B. Smith would like to have the post of Supervisor of the Census. Whether for Utah or New Jersey is not stated .- W. J. Press.

Hon. Chalkley Albertson, of Camder county, died on Tuesday evening. He was a prominent man in the county, and represented his district several terms in the Legislature.

Comptroller Anderson is notifying the county authorities of the amount of the two mill school tax for 1880, based upon the abstract of ratables for 1879, payable before the first of January next. He also makes the gratifying announcement that "no tax for State purposes has been levied this year."

Mr. A. B. Linderman, who has just r turned from a trip through the states of and cities and conferred with leading men, informed us a day or two ago that Sherman stood no show in the south. Grant or Blaine-in some places Grant and in others Blaine-is the man and that the "plumed keight's" chances are as good as those of the ex-President. The negro Republicans in Florida, and elsewhere, months in the President's chair disheartened them.

Hon. J. Howard Pugh. In conversing with Jerseymen in Washington, we found an earnest, unanimous desire to have Dr. Pugh returned to Con Bigh estimation in which he is held for his ability, his knowledge and sound indgment, in public matters, and his puri ty and honesty of purpose. The Jerseymen in Washington feel that our State is perience have but little influence. Dr. Pugh served his District with ability and credit to his constituents, and he now, though out of Congress, has more influence at headquarters than any new member could secure in a term. For the best interests of his District and State, Jersey-men at the National Capital are exceedingly anxious to have him returned to Congress. We hope it may so be.

It seems very unfortunate that, at this Bepublican party, an attack should be made upon one of the leading Republieans of this State. We refer to the severe citicisms—the mildest term we can usewhich several leading Republican papers have been making on Gen. W. J. Sewell, for voting to confirm the nomination of Joel Parker for the Judgeship. We know | Plo's ward not what object Gen. Sewell had in thus voting, but one thing we can be assured of, that he would not do anything, knowingly, that would be a detriment to the party. No truer, firmer, more honest Republican can be found in the State. No one can regret more than many of his friends do that Parker was confirmed, yet they think it no time for party bickering and strife. And it will be hard for the papers attacking him to make his friends believe that he has forsworn his fealty to the party. His friends will adhere to him more closely, for those who know him test, know he is firmly grounded in the principles of Republicanism, and his friends in South Jersey, and they are legion, will stand by him.

The Fature. A figure wanders through my dreams And wears a veil upon its face, Still bending to my breast it seems, Yet ever turns from my embrace. And sometimes, passing from my sight, It lifts the veil us it departs, And eyes flash out with such a light

As nover dawned on waking hearts.

There is no need of sound or speech Or toiling through the troubled years; The rapture of that smile can teach . More than a century of tears, And this I know, it I could move Out of my dreams into my days, One service of unbroken love Should fill and crown my life with praise

Love with no doubts and no domand But generous as a southern June-Vast brotherhood of hearts and hands, Choir of a world in perfect tune-No shallow sunset-films to gild Far summits which we dare not climb, But censeless charms of hope fulfilled, Making a miracle of time.

How sure, how calm, the picture seem How near it comes, behold, possessed It is not only in my dreams I feel that touch upon my breast.

It thrills me through the barren day It holds me in the heart of strife. No phantom grasp that melis away It scoms—it is—the touch of life

We look into the heart of flowers And wonder whence their bloom can rise The secret hope of human hours Is hidden deeper from our eye In helpless tracts of wind and rain And while you ween your weak "In vain,"

We know the lesson: but a cry. Bitter and vast, is in our cars One life of truiless misery Shakes all-our wisdom into tears. Thronged by the clamorous griefs that say, "Behold what is, forget what seems." I can but answer. " Well-a-day: There is that figure in my dreams.

is at once harmless and effectual, for preserving the hair. It restores, with the gloss and freshuess of youth, faded or gray, light, and red hair, to a rich brown, or deep black, as may be desired. By its use thin hair is thickened, and baldness often though not always cured. It checks falling of the hair immediately, and causes a new growth in all cases where the glands are not decayed; while to brashy, weak, or otherwise diseased hair, it imparts vitality and strength, and renders it pliable.

prevents the formation of dandruff; and, by its cooling, stimulating, and soothing properties, it heals most if not all of the humors and diseases peculiar to the scalp, keeping it cool, clean, and soft, under which conditions diseases of the scalp and hair are impossible.

As a Dressing for Ladies' Hair The Vigor is incomparable. It is colorless, contains neither oil nor dye, and will not soil white cambric. It imparts an agreeable and lasting perfume, and as an article for the toilet it is economical and unsurpassed in its excellence.

Home Education. The following rules are worthy of being printed in letters of gold and placed in a conspicuous place in every household:

1. From your children's earliest infancy is culcate the necessity of instant obedience. 2. Unite firmness with gentleness. Let you children understand that you mean what you

3. Never promise them anything unless you are quite sure you can give what you say. 4. If you tell a child to do something, show im how to do it, and see that it is done.

5. Always punish your child for willfully disobeying you, but never punish in anger. 6. Never let them perceive that they vex you or make you lose your self-command. 7. If they give way to petulance or ill-temp wait till they are calm, and then gently reason with them on the impropriety of their conduct. 8. Remember that a little present punish ment, when the occasion arises, is much more effectual than the threatening of a greater pun ishment should the fault be renewed. 9. Never give your children anything because they ory for it. 10. On no account allow them to do at one time what you have forbidden, under the same circumstances, at another. 11. Teach them that the only sure and east way to appear good is to be good. 12. Accustom them to make their little re citals with perfect truth. 13. Never allow tele-bearing.

14. Teach them self-denial, not self-indul gence of an angry and resentful spirit -Ex change.

Lippincott's Magazine for May opens with a copiously illustrated paper on Richfield Springs, which, besides at attractive description of the much frequented watering-place and much in-formation that will be useful to all who think of spending part of the summer there, gives some interesting particulars about Fenimore Cooper and Judge Nelson, whose farms at Cooperatown lie within an easy drive from Richfield. Manhood: How Lost, How Restored I Just published, a new edition of Dr.

CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the Radical Cure (without medicine) of Spermatorrhoes or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriare. etc.; also. Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, induced by selfindulgence or sexual extravagance, &c.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from a thirty year's successful practice, that the slarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife;
pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain,
and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and Radically.
