Our Washington Letter.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 28, 1879.

The Confederate Army bill, chiefly designed to drive the Federal power from the polls, has finally passed and is in the hands of the President. During the last hours of the debate there were admirable opportunities for the Republicans to expose the infamous designs of the rebels, and they took advantage thereof. The brief speech of Senator Windom on an amendment offered by him was one of the neatest efforts to turn the Democratic position into ridicule. Having indicated that they would drive the Federal troops from the polling places, Senator Windom said, he would give them an opportunity to drive all armed men away, and he moved to add a provision that "any person who shall, with intent to hinder, obstruct or prevent the free exercise of the right of suffrage, appear armed with a deadly weapon within a mile of any polling place," etc., he shall be punished by fine or imprisonment.

"The majority has voted," said Senator Windom, "that it should be a criminal offence for any person to bring armed men to the polls, and also vote that it should not be a crime for any person to appear armed at the polls. Are they now ready to vote that it should not be criminal for a person to come armed to the polls with the avowed purpose to hinder and obstruct the free exercise of suffrage? This proposition was unanswerable. The Democrats are in favor of bulwarking, and so voted, without any effort to assail Senator Windom's propositions, by rejecting his amendment. The Senator is entitled to the credit of having exposed the plot of the conspirators, which is nothing more nor less than the overturning of Republican institutions. In proof of this it is only necessary to quote the language of the Confederate orators in Congress, all waiting in the declaration that they are determined to wipe out every vestige of legislation caused by the rebellion. If further evidence were wanted, witness the disloyal spirit which appears to be growing in the South. The late memorial services gave signs of this. At Atlanta the rebel soldiers appeared without a U. S. flag, but the State flag of Georgia adopted by the late State Military Commission was floated, being hung at half mast in memory of the Confederate dead. A despatch says, "The enthusiasm was notably profound. It is thought that the love for the dry is deepening year by year." Rebel General Fitz Hugh Lee delivered an address, and telegrams describe it as follows: "It did not touch national affairs at all, but was a tribute to the honor of the Southern army and the powers of Southern leaders." The following quotation is a key to the speech: "I am going to speak to you to-day as a Confederate soldier, as one who in looking back over the mighty past with its trials and triumphs, and thinking of the record of the South for courageous devotion to principle, finds naught in memory's vase but pride; and who with heartfelt emotion can truthfully exclaim in the glowing words of the Irish patriot, 'Do you ask, my Lords, in my life time I have thought any treason or done any crime which should call to my cheek as I stand alone here, the hot blush of shame or the paleness of fear? Though I stood by my grave to receive my death blow,

Notice!

In the face of everything, Wm. L. Jackson, of Brown increased their great clothing business last year at Oak Hall nearly a quarter of a million dollars, and for 1879 the new plans will make the house more popular and increase the business much more. Fifteen years in the people's service at the old corner of Sixth and Market has taught us how to do the business well.

Notice!

Whatever may be said, no house in the United States sells anything like so much clothing at retail as Oak Hall, and no house in Philadelphia sells more than a quarter as many goods as Mr. Wm. L. Jackson sells in clothing alone. Doing this large business shows the people's regard for our goods, and enables us to buy cheaply and sell at small profits.

Notice!

New patterns have been made this year and new styles introduced through Mr. Robert C. Ogden (formerly partner of the famous firm of Devlin & Co., New York), who is now associated with Oak Hall, and will give his whole energies and valuable experience to improving the manufacture of our Boys' and Men's Clothing. We do not buy clothing like the dealers, but make it expressly for our own sales. The Spring stock is splendid, and no other make of goods, so far, have as much merit, or are sold as cheaply.

Notice!

Impressions have been erroneously given to the effect that Mr. John Wamamaker, who founded Oak Hall, is not interested in the old store, and that it does not have his attention; on the contrary, his ownership of it remains unchanged, and he has lost none of his love for it. Every day finds him supervising all its departments. Mr. William H. Wamamaker spends his entire time on the Oak Hall business.

Fire Insurance Comp ny,

BRIDGETON, N. J.

Conducted on strictly mutual principles, offering a perfectly safe insurance for just what it may cost to pay losses and expenses. The proportion of loss to the amount insured being very small, and expenses much less than usually had, nothing can be offered more favorable to the insured. The cost being about ten cents on the hundred dollars a year to the insured on ordinary risks, and from fifteen to twenty-five cents per year on hazardous properties, which is less than one-third of the lowest rates charged by stock companies, on such risks—the other two-thirds taken by stock companies being a proportion to stockholders, or consumed in expenses of the companies.

The guarantee fund of premium notes being now Three Millions of Dollars.

If an assessment had to be made of five per cent. only, twice within the ten years for which the policy is issued, it would yet be cheaper to the members than any other insurance offered. And that large amount of money is saved to the members and kept at home. No assessment having ever been made, being now more than thirty years, that saving would amount to more than

One Million Five Hundred Thousand Dollar

The Losses by Lightning.

Where the property is not set on fire, being less than one cent per year to each member, are paid without extra charge, and extended so as to cover all policies that are issued and outstanding.
