Twenty-one Years Old.

One of the social events of recent date, in Hammonton, was a party given to Mr. Harry Thurston by his parents, to celebrate his twenty first birthday, on Saturday even'g, May 1st. The fun began at eight o'clock, and from then on the guests enjoyed themselves with dancing, games and singing. The music was excellent, rendered by Mr. James Morinelli and Miss Klingenberg.

About 11.15 the young folks seated themselves at tables loaded with refreshments, which were enjoyed by all. An enormous birthday cake graced the centre of the table.

The young host received the guests, assisted by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Thurston, and his sister, Miss Grace. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. George Voss, Mr. and Mrs. E. Cossabonne, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Green, Mrs. F. Hopping, Mrs. Earling, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bobst, Mr. Pegu'sse, the Misses Irma Bobst, Helen Burgess, Mildred Berry, Elizabeth Hildebrandt, Ethel Stinger, Susie Earling, Madeline and Gladys Smith, and Maud Shields; Messrs. Geo. Pegu'sse, Raymond Rebel, Chas. Miller, Russell Brown, Wes. Stout and Richard Heller. Out of town guests were the Misses Butterhoff, of Egg Harbor, Miss Clara Wilson, and Mr. F. Smith, from Philadelphia.

All united in pronouncing the party a success, and departed in the small hours of the morning, wishing that the evening were twice as long.

Many happy returns, Harry. AN INVERTED GOSPEL.

Kill Flies Before They Swarm Over The Premises.

THE straight road to safety lies in clearing out all the rubbish and putting it in covered receptacles. To be carted away by the proper authorities. It is of small use to "swat" flies after they have got possession. Prevention is better than cure. To avoid both mosquitoes and flies drain off any stagnant water about the place. Fill up the ground dents where mud can collect in rainy weather. Remove all old pans and pails, boxes and baskets from the back sheds or yard. Do not allow the remnants of meals, peelings or vegetable-offal to remain anywhere near the door. It is necessary not only to clean up the cellars, but to see that the refuse turned out is carted away to the dump heap, to be burned or otherwise destroyed at once, and to shift every vestige of such heap that is within calling distance of home.

Let every citizen tackle his share of this cleaning process and reflect that in doing this work he is really consulting as well his own health and that of his family as the comfort of his neighbors. There may be and are aesthetic reasons for desiring a slightly city and streets free from litter, and civic pride catering for a "city beautiful" is a most laudable aim. But in urging this domestic cleanup the authorities simply get down to the logic of hard facts, and for this reason their appeal should receive the co-operation of all the residents interested in the health of the municipality.

HERE IS AN EXAMPLE FOR ALL CITIES.

WHEN a city has attained to such a standard of cleanliness that it hasn't enough flies to feed its pet chameleons it has made long strides toward the ideal of fly-leanness preached by modern sanitarians. That was Cleveland's case, according to an article in the Survey describing the anti-fly campaign which had been waged in that city. A man who has six of the curious little reptiles has written the fly fighting headquarters this plaintive letter:

"You have brought about a famine in flies. My pets are starving. There are no flies to be had about my house, and my neighbors can't seem to help me out. I'll pay, and pay well, for every live fly your children can bring me.
And he did."
