The Mother and Her Dying Son.

MORRIS.

"Thou art my all; my son, my only hope,
And O, what agony
To see thee fading swiftly from my sight!
Within thine eyes I see the tender light
Of love gleaming for me;
And can I live when that dear light has fled—
When thou, my son, my soul, art dead?"

SON.

"My darling mother, take within thy hand
This wasted one of mine!
O, see how helpless in your clasp I lie,
And think that soon, beyond the starry skies,
This broken reed of thine
Shall stand erect, forever free from pain,
With hands grown strong to welcome thee again."

MORRIS.

"O, can I live and know that thou, my boy,
Within the cruel tomb
Art 'prisoned from my weeping eyes for aye—
O, in my heart grown desolate, no ray
Of light will pierce the gloom,
For I shall only see forevermore,
My shrouded, mould'ring boy those eyes before."

SON.

"O, mother, let not fancies such as these Flit rest within thy brain;
This wasting form will moulder in the tomb,
But I will not be there—beyond the gloom
Of earth I'll live again;
And there, where flowers bloom that never die,
I will await thee, mother, by and by."

"Be brave my mother; short the years that span
This life of pain and care;
A little while and these sad days will end,
And we, through God's eternal, shall joyous wend
Our way together where Bright skies forevermore on us shall smile—
O, bravely still endure a little while."

WM. H. HOPKINS.

Our Washington Letter.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 4, 1878.

President Hayes being interviewed by your correspondent to-day, in regard to his civil service order, admitted the necessity for the Republican party gaining the next House, and said there would not be the slightest objection to government employees individually making voluntary contributions to the campaign fund, speaking on political subjects, writing in the interest of their politics, or sending off documents to aid in the campaign. He conceded their right to do all this.

The effects of the passage of the act authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to employ temporary clerks was very visible at the Treasury Department yesterday. The appointment room and all the corridors leading to it were thronged all day long with an anxious and expectant crowd of office seekers. Between sixty and seventy were given clerkships, the appointments being determined by the quotas of the different States and the capabilities of the different applicants. The faces of these applicants for petty clerkships which will terminate next June at the furthest, were expressive of all the varying phases and transitions from the blackest despair to the most exultant joy. The usual stranger meeting these people as they came out from the appointment office would have been puzzled to determine whether it was a first-class funeral or a variety entertainment that was going on.

It is said that some of our prominent ministers think of arranging for the regular continuance of their pulpits ministrations during their summer vacations in the mountains or at the seashore. They will talk their sermons into a phonograph and having thus imprinted them on sheets of tin-foil, will send the latter by mail to be adjusted to another machine in Washington. This instrument will be placed upon the pulpit desk, and on being set going at the proper hour, will deliver the sermon in the familiar tones of the absent pastor. The opening and closing prayers, the giving out of hymns, and the pronouncing of the benediction can all be arranged for in the same way, and if a full-length portrait of the minister were placed on the wall behind the pulpit, an effect would be produced hardly distinguishable from his bodily presence.

Montgomery Blair is in a bad state of mind on account of the cold shoulder given by leading Democrats to his scheme for ousting Hayes from the Presidency. He has written a wrathful letter in which he says: "Too many of those now holding influential positions in the Democratic party have been demoralized politically; they have no longer any respect for the constitution or faith in the people, and have allied themselves and their localities. This is the secret of their compounding the felony by which Hayes obtained office. As the case now stands before the public, the Democratic party is said to have died with the column of a transaction which may be summed thus:—Tilden, a northern Union man of the Jackson-Benton stripe, who was elected by the people to put down corruption and monopoly and corporate government, was deposited upon fraudulent election returns under a bargain with Hayes and Tom Scott to establish a Southern Credit Mobilier swindle and plunder the treasury with southern claims, the leaders refusing to allow a plate—one of the old thirteen—to question the fraud in the courts of justice. Let this continue and the inevitable result will be the restoration of Grant in 1880 by the rally of the whole north."

A more beautiful city than this in its spring garb does not exist. All the parks and gardens of which Washington boasts more than any other city of the Union, are now at the height of their beauty and freshness. The roses and the snow-balls are in bloom; and also the peonies in the Treasury gardens, and the dogwood and many other trees are blooming in the parks. Yesterday was such a May-day at the poets have described. An effort is now being made to reclaim Lafayette square from the tramps and loafers (chiefly colored) who have so long infested it, excluding by their rowdiness and insolence all respectable people who wished to enjoy it. Ladies and gentlemen are now selecting it for their afternoon walks and hope to crowd out the rowdies in time. The Monument grounds, so long a disgraceful waste, are now being improved in certain portions.

The Democrats are getting suspicious of the Florida business and are proceeding with unusual caution. Blaine predicted the other day that they would blunder so that the "confessions" would finally turn out an advantage to the Republicans, and discreet Democrats like Potter and Wood in the House, and Bayard and Thurman in the Senate, are fearful that Blaine's prediction will be realized. Hence it has been decided to call a caucus of the members of both Houses this evening to determine what course it is best to pursue. In case they decide to re-open the case and institute an investigation, it will be controlled by Potter, Wood and others, instead of by Springer, Knott and Blackburn, who have been chief among the "fraud" howlers. The Republicans have decided to adopt Secretary McCrary's suggestion, and insist if the Democrats want to re-open the whole matter of the Electoral vote for the sake of "vindictive history" as they claim that New York City, Connecticut, Indiana, Mississippi, Cincinnati and other points where the Democratic frauds are known to have been committed, shall be included also in the investigation.

ARNA C. FISHER, REFER TO (John A. Bro. Plymouth, Va.)

Also to John Scullin, Esq., Hammonton, N. J.

A correspondent of the Kingston (Ontario) Waig writes from Washington as follows:—

Shall I write it? I never would if I were the only one who knew it—the dreadful fact that twelve United States Senators were drunk in one night, and that, two while the Senate was in session. In the name of decency, have not these men self-respect enough to keep sober at least while the laws that are to govern the country are becoming such? Or, if they have not, the people at large ought to have better sense than to elect such men to the position of United States Congressmen. Think of it. Twelve drunkards, silly, maudling, vomiting Senators! Are they not honorable? Isn't the sight impressive? A drunken Senator makes as great an ass of himself as a drunken sewer-digger does, and greater. New England and New York, congratulate yourselves! Not one of these twelve came from you. Virginia is not degraded. The South and West can sympathize with each other.

The following from the Bridgton Chronicle are the sentiments of all those who know Gen. Sewell, and his valuable services are acknowledged by honest men of both parties:—

General William J. Sewell is talked of as his own successor as Senator from Camden Co. He has already served two terms—six years, and his course has been very acceptable to his constituents and to the Republican party at large, which he so aptly represents. He is a gentleman of much personal worth, and ranks high among the leading men of all parties. It will be wise for the Republicans of Camden to re-nominate him, for he has served them wisely and well. Moreover the party needs his experience, for he is thoroughly informed in the politics of the State and is without a cool-headed prudent counsellor. That he will be elected, if nominated, and by a handsome majority, there can be no reasonable doubt.

The Syndicate is improving on its own striking success. Another installment of five millions has been called for, anticipating the contract by a month, and it is expected the July subscription will be made next week. Secretary Sherman is succeeding in his measure looking towards specie payments so much better than anybody else expected that he has fairly taken the wind out of his opponents' sails. With gold at 100½ and 100½, to talk about repealing the Resumption Act is too ridiculous even for a Western statesman to propose.

EARTH CLOSETS, their construction and use

The Earth Closet is a modern improvement which takes the place and supersedes the Water Closet in the house, and dispenses with the cess-pool and other repulsive features of the same.
It is perfect in its operations, and not liable to get out of order.

In case of sickness it is invaluable, as it can be used by the sick or any one in the house without inconvenience from bad odors.
For those living in the country, where the out-house
is at a distance from the dwelling, this is indispensable, and no family should be without one if only used in stormy weather, when ladies and children so much dread going out.

We are also Agents for the Fire Insurance Company.

BRIDGETON, N. J.

Conducted on strictly mutual principles, offering a perfectly safe insurance for just what it may cost to pay losses and expenses. The proportion of loss to the amount insured being very small, and expenses much less than usually had, nothing can be offered more favorable to the insured. The cost being about ten cents on the hundred dollar a year to the insured on ordinary risks, and from fifteen to twenty-five cents per year on hazardous properties, which is less than one third of the lowest rates charged by stock companies, on such risks—the other two-thirds taken by stock companies being a profit accruing to stockholders, or consumed in expenses of the companies.

The guarantee fund of premium notes being now Three Millions of Dollars.

If an assessment had to be made of five per cent. only, twice within the ten years for which the policy is issued it would yet be cheaper to the members than any other insurance offered.
And that large amount of money is saved to the members and kept at home. No assessment having ever been made, being now more than thirty years, that saving would amount to more than

One Million Five Hundred Thousand Dollars

The Losses by Lightning.

Where the property is not set on fire, being less than one cent per year to each member,
are paid without extra charge, and extended so as to cover all policies that are issued and outstanding.
