Letter From Cuba.

Quo Modes de Habana,
May 15, 1899.

DEAR FATHER: This is two days later than my last, and I will now write something for Mr. Hoyt's paper, as there are so many of my young friends who would like to hear from me.

We are located in one of the finest parts of the Province of Havana, about three-fourths of a mile from Gen. Lee's headquarters at Buena Vista. The country about here is very hilly, mostly all red loam that sticks worse than thick dough when wet; and also any quantity of lime. You can see lime kilns in any direction you care to look.

In my last from home, you wrote that it was growing quite warm there. What would you do if it were 96 to 100 degrees in the shade from 1 to 4:30 p. m., every day? And yet it does not seem as warm to us as a day of 80 degrees would in the north. In the evening, though, it is quite refreshing, especially if you take a bath, which is always available, as we have three shower baths in our squad room. Just after retreat you will find the camp streets deserted, and every one goes down into the town till quarters is sounded. Along towards morning it is quite cold, so cold that you need two blankets for comfort.

Vegetable growth is very profuse around here, especially palms, pine-apples, and bananas; and another is the good old Jersey sand-burr. So much for the country.

I went on my first guard yesterday, at the Paymaster's Office. All went well until, about 11:30 p. m., I noticed four Cubans sneaking around under the walls, and then a quick, grand charge on me. I think I was pretty well scared for the first instant, but at a shot from my carbine they all took to their heels—"Yamooed," as they call it.

I will have more for another issue, about rations, etc.

The Grand Army Post found their Department Commander and his Assistant Adjutant General two genial comrades, who, without formality, visited and enjoyed the Post meeting last Saturday evening. Under "good of the order" there were addresses by the visitors and members, a song or two, and a general exchange of good wishes.

The Republican.

[Entered as second class matter.]

SATURDAY, MAY 27, 1899

The special school meeting held last Saturday afternoon was "large and respectable,"—that is, the chairman (C. F. Osgood) is large, and he and the rest of us were respectable. David S. Cunningham was elected Secretary. There were nine voters present. The proceedings were entirely harmonious, and occupied ten minutes from calling to order to adjournment. Mr. Adams offered the following resolutions, which were seconded by us scribe, and adopted by a unanimous vote, by ballot:

Resolved, That the Board of Education be authorized to refund $13,000 of school bonds now outstanding, at a lower rate of interest.

The sociable given by the members of Little Hi-Ha Council, No. 27, D. of E., on Monday evening, was well attended, and was a very enjoyable occasion. The entertainment consisted of an organ duet by Mrs. Laura Roberts and Mrs. A. H. Whitmore, recitations and readings by members of Council, and two recitations by Mr. A. T. Trafford, which were well rendered, and enjoyed by all present. There were also a number of selections on the Edison photograph; among the best being the "April Showers" and the "Mocking Bird." This program can be heard at the concert in Union Hall next Tuesday evening. After the entertainment refreshments were served, consisting of cake, lemonade, and fruit. A number from Delco Council, Berlin, drove down to enjoy the good time. K. O. R.

The May's Leading Base Ball Association will open the season at Palestine Park, this (Saturday) afternoon with the Northern Whitesmen, of Philadelphia, as the attraction. The Park has been greatly improved, and the grand stand renovated. Game called at 2 o'clock. Admission to grandstand, 15 cents. On Decoration Day will do battle with the strong colored Eclipse team, of Atlantic City. Saturday afternoon, June 3rd, the Pleasantville team will be there. The association has booked some of the strongest amateur teams in Philadelphia for the season.

Memorial Day is approaching. The orders on first page give the official programme. But others besides the patriotic orders observe the day; the people generally, approving its sentiment, have adopted it, and the memory of departed loved ones is kept green by this annual pilgrimage to the "silent city," and their flower-bedecked graves make their earthly life more real to us who still remain. On Tuesday next, let young and old lay aside, so far as possible, their work and play, and all unite in decorating the resting places of those who have "gone before."

A friend says that if we think wife-beating is the worst form of wrongdoing, we ought to have been within two blocks of Peach Street and the railroad on Monday night, at any time before two o'clock in the morning. A drunken woman is disgusting. In this case her language was filthy, and her racket kept the neighbors awake. Oh, yes, a licensed hotel (?) is a fine institution—in Hades. Hammonton is not accustomed to such gaudy-ness, and will not always submit to them.

A Valuable Publication. On June 1st, the Passenger Department of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will publish the 1899 edition of its 31st Annual Excursion Route Book. This book is designed to provide the public with short descriptive notes of the principal summer resorts of eastern America, with maps for reaching them, and the names of fare. It contains all the principal seashore and mountain resorts of the east, and over fifteen hundred routes or combinations of routes for reaching them. The book has been compiled with the utmost care, and altogether is the most complete and comprehensive handbook of summer travel ever offered to the public.

It is bound in a handsome and striking cover, in colors, and contains several maps, presenting the exact routes over which tickets are sold. It is profusely illustrated with fine half-tone cuts of scenery at the various resorts and about the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad. In the summer months it may be arranged at any Pennsylvania R. R. ticket office, at the nominal price of ten cents, or by application to the general office, Broad Street Station, by mail for 25 cts.

AUGUST FLOWER.

"It is a surprising fact," says Prof. Houston, "that in my travels in all parts of the world, for the last ten years, I have met more people having used Green's August Flower than any other remedy for dyspepsia, deranged liver and stomach, and for constipation. I find for tourists and salesmen, or for persons filling office positions, where headaches and general bad feelings from irregular habits exist, that Green's August Flower is a grand remedy. It does not injure the system by frequent use, and is excellent for sour stomachs and indigestion." Sample bottles free at Crowell's Pharmacy. Sold by dealers in all civilized countries.

The Board of Education know what they want in the Central school house annex; but State officials require in each room a certain number of cubic feet of space per pupil, and the Board's puzzling problem is to secure all that is demanded without exceeding the sum appropriated for the building—$1200. This will leave $1000 for a heating plant and furniture. Whatever the outcome, our readers may be certain that the Board will secure the best that can be procured for the money.

MARRIED.

HEINER KE-MIEHL. At the Presbyterian parsonage, Hammonton, in the presence of a few friends, on Saturday, May 20, 1899, by Rev. J. H. VanDyke, M. A. Albert Heinicke and Miss Josephine Miel, of Hammonton, N. J.

Commencement.

It was a crowded house that greeted the High School Class of '99, last Friday evening, at their public Commencement in the M. E. Church. Long before the hour set for the programme most of the seats in the main room and the Sunday School room were filled. At the proper time the opening notes of the march chorus, composed of the higher grades, who took their places in the choir seats; then the members of the graduating class filed into their seats on the platform. The invocation by Pastor Atkey, of the Baptist Church, opened the programme.

It was indeed a talented class. The recitations—"Widow Bellotti's Papers," by Grace Thayer; "Following the Advice of a Physician," by Clarence Littlefield; "Napoleon at the Pyramids," by Harry Walther; "My Wife's Husband," by Garfield Kramer; "Reclaimed," by Mary Winchell, and, "The Boy Orator," by Olive DePuy, all showed careful study and correct interpretation of their parts. Some were mirth provoking, while others partook of an oratorical nature.

The "Class History," by Ernest Jackson, and the "Prophecy," by Katie Anderson, were full of laughable comments on the particular excellences or failures of the individual members of the class. William Doerfl's supplement to each, was good.

Alice Barry's essay "Veans" showed preparation and study, as did Goldborough Alcorn's essay on "The Sad Life" (Cowper).

Perhaps the most enjoyable part of the programme, to some, was the singing by the school chorus, and the quartets by four girls of the class,—Olive DePuy, Mary Winchell, Katie Anderson, Grace Thayer. This refocused much credit on the work of the music teacher, Miss Davis, as well as considerable talent on the part of the pupils.

The presentation of Grammar School diplomas, by Supervising Principal N. C. Holdridge, introduced a new feature in the work of the school.

Hon. C. J. Baxter was then introduced, as being at "the head of the educational work in the state." He spoke at first in a general way to the audience, then made an address with good advice to the graduates. He characterized New Jersey as being second to but one state (Massachusetts) in educational work. After this thoughtful address, Mr. Edwin Adams made some remarks to the class, in behalf of the Board of Education, and presented the diplomas. After the singing of the "Class Song" by the Graduates, the programme was brought to a close with the benediction by Rev. E. C. Alcorn.

The work of the class has won much deserved commendation for the efforts of Principal Holdridge and his worthy assistants, Misses Weston and High.

At the surrender of Santiago, an officer of the Rough Riders who had been sent forward on dangerous scouting was at once recalled. He indignantly sought an interview with Col. Roosevelt. He was splashed with mud from head to foot. "Why am I deprived of this chance?" he cried. "What am I to do?" "Well," said Col. Roosevelt, smiling, "the thing I'd advise you to do first is to wash your face."

NEARLY Fifty-Eight Years Old.

It's a long life, but devotion to the true interests and prosperity of the American people has won for it new friends as the years rolled by and the original members of its family passed to their reward, and those admirers are loyal and steadfast to-day, with faith in its teachings, and confidence in the information which it brings to homes and fireplaces. As a natural consequence, it enjoys in its old age all the vitality and vigor of its youth, strengthened and ripened by the experiences of over half a century. It has lived on its merits and on the cordial support of progressive Americans. It is "The New York Weekly Tribune," acknowledged the country over as the leading National Family Newspaper. Recognizing its value to those who desire all the news of the State and Nation, the publisher of the REPUBLICAN has entered into an alliance with "The New York Weekly Tribune" which enables him to furnish you both papers at the trifling cost of $1.25 per year. Every farmer and every villager owes to himself, to his family, and to the community, a cordial support of his local newspaper, as it works constantly and unflinchingly for his interests in every way, brings to his home all the news and happenings of his neighborhood, the doings of his friends, the conditions and prospects for different crops, and is a weekly visitor which should be found in every home. Just think of it! Both of these papers for only $1.25 a year. Send all subscriptions to the REPUBLICAN, Hammonton.
