MEMORIAL DAY

Copyright Hart Schaffner & Marx

IN WAR or PEACE, Memorial Day commemorates the heroic valor of the men of this nation. Whatever men may do hereafter in the cause of humanity and in the sacred cause of patriotism, each recurrence of this day should be an occasion for a backward look at past heroisms and a forward look at future consecrations.

In the meanwhile, we are here, doing our accustomed work, living our daily lives; the things we have to do, here and now, may be all the service we shall be called upon to render. Our first duty is to do the things assigned to us as well as we can.

That's why we're trying to do our business of selling Hart Schaffner & Marx clothing,—the best footwear for each and every dollar, and nothing but the most reliable merchandise can find a place on our tables and counters. It may seem a little prosaic, and lacking in heroic elements, but sometimes the finest thing a man can do is to do the commonplace, prosaic thing with a high spirit.

A four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Cotlar discovered the hiding-place of a bottle of arsenic which had been prescribed to be used in one-drop doses, and drank about half the contents, Monday afternoon. Fortunately, he was discovered in time, and after several hours of heroic treatment, Doctor McDevine brought him around. He is apparently none the worse for his experience.

ABOLISH WASH-DAY HORROR
The stooping, straining, lifting, mussy, long-drawn-out weekly event is revolutionized, when you install labor-saving, sanitary, stationary laundry tubs. Wise women count the cost of backache nowadays in dollars and cents. They figure that stationary laundry tubs are a mighty good investment. No water to carry, fewer steps to take, time saved, and—what's the use of saying any more? Stationary laundry tubs cost so little. Get our estimate.
