PEA COAL for summer use, at E. Stockwell's Yard

I have just received a fine lot which I would recommend for Summer burning. It is clean and under shed and dry,—will give equally as good satisfaction after rain as before.

All kinds of coal constantly on hand.
Also, good Oak Wood.

The Water Works Question.

ED. REPUBLICAN:

In conversation with a member of Council I was informed that my article in your last issue was considered as reflecting on its members. I wish to state that I had no such intention, my object being to discuss the matter without allusion to any particular individuals, though I will add that I was surprised when the telephone company mutilated the trees on the road the Councilman in charge, for some reason or other, seemed to befriend the company rather than the people.

As a citizen, having an interest in the matter, I will not be deterred from discussing the water proposition because of any false delicacy, or for the reason that some one may not like it. There is too much of that sort of thing, and if there is reason why the matter should be opposed I propose to endeavor to present it as far as I am able, and care very little who is pleased or displeased thereby.

If all that has been stated in regard to the proposed water works is true the voters of the town should be very careful or they may find that they have paid very dearly for a luxury which may overwhelm them. The following has been given out as the method by which the water works plant is to be secured:

The first step to secure this plant is to file a petition in writing with the Council, signed by the owners of a majority of real estate, according to its assessed value in the year previous. Council shall call a special election not less than thirty days from the filing of the petition.
The Clerk shall give notice of such election at least ten days previous to such election.

The Clerk shall provide two ballots, one containing the words "For the adoption for this town of the provisions of an act entitled 'an act to enable towns and townships in this State to construct water works for the extin-guishment of fires and supplying the inhabitants thereof with pure and wholesome water.'" The other contains the words "Against," etc.

If a majority favor the adoption, Council shall have power to issue bonds not to exceed $75,000 and bearing interest of not more than 5 per cent. A portion of the bonds must be payable each year and the last payable not more than thirty years from the date thereof.
The petition will be filed at next Council meeting, and if adopted work will be commenced in a short time.

Bear in mind that we began the agitation with a plant estimated at about $10,000. Then the committee got the sum up to $25,000. Next, we find that the adoption of the proposition "invests Council with the power to issue bonds not to exceed $75,000." Rest assured, that when you give Council the power to expend $75,000 it will be expended, if not in one way it will be in another, and if not by this Council then by the next, or some other.

More than this it may be claimed that with such a large sum to be disposed of there will be no lack of candidates at the next election, and one or two leaders of some dominant party will select the ones to be elected.

Give the control of this sum to six men, by bonding the town for $75,000, and all the light and water you can get will not repay you for the depreciation of property, as no one will buy in a town having such an indebtedness. It will add nearly $4,000 interest per annum, and if the bonds run thirty years the interest will be nearly $75,000 by the time the principal is paid, or a total of $150,000.

I am for water and light, but if we cannot get such advantages without mortgaging the whole town, and bankrupting every farmer in it, I will travel a little longer by lamp light and continue the use of well water. If a fire occurs it cannot destroy more than $70,000 worth of property and we might as well go to the poor house by one road as another.

We have reached $75,000, and by gradual progression from $10,000.
Perhaps it will be $100,000 in a month more.

So far as I can learn, the only one whom the committee has consulted is a Mr. Dunlap, and as he sells pipe he is interested to that extent, for the larger the pipe and the more of it the greater the sales.

Why is the committee not disposed to keep the people well informed? Why is Mr. Dunlap given the only opportunity in this matter?

The plant can be put in for $13,000 on the same plan as has been proposed for $25,000.

If the voters are disposed to appropriate a sum let them be informed in our local papers fully, from time to time, of what is being done, so that they can know all about the matter before election day arrives. If they vote the money they will then find out that it is "none of your business."

Who knows who will take the water?
Has any effort been made in that direction? Would it not be well to know who wants an article before we proceed to supply it?

I am willing, for one, to take stock in a company to supply water, but I am not ready to turn a bonded town over to any six men in it, (and I do not except myself), as I believe the people can govern themselves and their business as well as others can do it for them.
When the lowest bidder comes along then we can consider what to do.

P. H. JACOBS.

About sixty wheelers were in line in the H. A. A. bicycle run last Saturday evening. The threatening weather prevented a large number from participating. Among the novel features might be mentioned two "niggers" mounted on a curious, antediluvian, tandem tricycle, two more on the now old-fashioned Star and Columbia bikes, "Pat and his wife" on a tandem, followed by "Gentleman George," in costume, in strange contrast to his fine wheel.
Those who repeated the question "Who is that pretty little girl on the bicycle?" might have been interested in watching him play football last season. Miss Lida Crawford won the souvenir spoon for the best decorated wheel, and Parker Treat the silver name plate for the most unique costume.

The weather was rather cool for the lawn party which followed, but it was pretty well attended for all. Dancing on the lawn was indulged in to the music of the Philadelphia orchestra. The S. of V. drill was appreciated, likewise the refreshments.

The Fifteenth International Convention of the Y. P. S. C. E. will be held at Washington, D. C., July 7 to 13, '06, and for that occasion the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell, from July 6 to 8 inclusive, excursion tickets to Washington and return at a single fare for the round trip. These tickets will be good for return passage until July 15 inclusive, but if deposited with the agent at Washington prior to 6:00 p.m., July 14, will be extended to July 31 inclusive. Full information in regard to rates and time of trains can be obtained upon application to ticket agent.

We have it on very good authority that our townman, Wm. Rutherford will be a candidate for Sheriff in the coming campaign. Mr. R. is an old soldier and a free lance with his tongue and pen. We understand he is apposed to the lower part of the county receiving all offices in the gift of the people; and shouldn't be surprised if he would run whether nominated or not, conducting his own campaign. Democrat, of course.

Did You Ever

[Entered as second class matter.]

SATURDAY, MAY 30, 1896.

A. K. Bernshouse has entered for the Irvington-Milburn 25-mile road race, to be held to-day. This is a very popular event, one hundred and eighty-one entries having been received, the largest number known, including a long list of record breakers. Monte Scott, a scratch man, has a record of 1:05:21 for the distance. Bernshouse will ride his new Spalding Special, a beauty, weighing 19 3/4 pounds, all on.

Last Sunday morning, twenty-six members of the Grand Army Post, accompanied by about thirty ladies of the Woman's Relief Corps, and escorted by twenty-four uniformed Sons of Veterans, attended service at St. Mark's Church. The Rev. Dr. A. C. Prescott, gave the services. A cordial welcome, and an excellent sermon from the words,—"Take unto you the whole armor of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having all, to stand."

We had a grand thunder storm on Thursday afternoon, lasting several hours. A vast amount of water fell. The celestial pyrotechnic display was brilliant. Two deaths followed lightning stroke, -pet poultry of Master Arthur Weston's. Mr. W.'s house received a light stroke, slightly affecting some of the inmates, but did no real damage. Fred Seymour received a small charge while holding his hand on the tin water conductor, knocking him backward a foot or two. The rain was welcome.

The anniversary of "Andrew and Philip Brotherhood" was held last Sunday evening, in the M. E. Church. Pastor Bishop preached an appropriate sermon, Secretary reported work of the past year, -cottage prayer meetings held, sick visited, and aid rendered. The idea of this society originated in the P. E. Church, slightly modified, it is extending in the M. E. Church, but is not strictly denominational.

Changes of train time took effect on both railroads yesterday. On the O. & A., trains leave Hammoncton, going up, at 6:05, 7:32, and 8:40 (exp.) a. m. 12:30 and 3:40 p. m. Down at 5:53 and 9:25 a. m., and exp. both 5:43 p. m. On the Reading, up trains at 5:25, 7:06, 7:53 (exp.) 9:00, and 9:37 (exp.) a. m. 5:20 and 6:07 (exp.) p. m. Down, 9:10 a. m., 2:19 (except Saturday), 5:46, 6:42 (exp.), 8:50, and 7:45 p. m.

Although not patronized by as many as was hoped, the "Y. Y." social, held Monday evening, was a very enjoyable affair. An envelope containing a ribbon bow was given to each lady and gentleman, -the young man to trim the hat furnished by the young lady wearing a bow corresponding to his own. Some very tasty styles were originated; Sam'l Newcomb received first prize, and Wm. H. Frazier, the booby prize. "Plum puddings" were served after the contest.

Court met in adjourned session on Monday morning. The case of Reed for the murder of his wife, was called, but at the urgent request of the attorneys appointed to defend him, was postponed to a special session to be held on Tuesday, July 21st. The case of Yal-lanardo, accused of killing Charles Roler, was then called, and a jury chosen, after both sides had exhausted their challenges. No Hammoncton man was accepted. The evidence was not sufficient to convict and the prisoner was therefor discharged.

This is the programme for this afternoon's exercises, in Tilton's Grove, commencing at two o'clock:

Prayer, Rev. G. F. Bishop Remarks, Post-Commander C. E. Roberts Song, Glee Club
Address, Rev. G. F. Bishop

Benediction, by Rev. Thos. Fragale

The opening bicycle meet of the H. A. A. promises to be the largest ever held in this town. Already a large number of entries have been received, among them some of the fastest riders of Philadelphia and Atlantic City. Applications for entry-plates have been received all the week, -some from Boston, Brooklyn, New York, and Ashbury Park, from such riders as Joe Harrison, the fastest amateur rider in Jersey, C. S. Henshaw, R. W. Cronse, W. H. Owens, and others. Everything points to a grand success on June 6th.

The W. R. C. held its experience meeting last Tuesday evening. An interesting program of music, -vocal and instrumental, -and a recitation by Capt. Cunningham, was given. The experiences of different members in raising the dollar for the piano fund were certainly interesting; washing dishes, working in the field, and dealing in sweets (various kinds) were among methods adopted. Lieut. F. S. Drake related the experience of a (supposed) individual who attended the late Fair, depositing a dollar while the visitor was supposed to have spent at each table, till, on reaching the door a tenth was given for assistance in carrying home his numerous bundles (the money being donated to the W. R. C. by the Sons). Refreshments were served, and a general good time followed.

Prizes offered at the bicycle races next Saturday, June 6th:

Novice.
1. Gold Medal.
2. Silver Medal.
3. Bronze Medal.

Condensed Testimony.
Chas. B. Hood, broker and manufacturer's agent, Columbus, Ohio, certifies that Dr. King's New Discovery has no equal as a cough remedy. J. D. Brown, proprietor St. James hotel, Ft. Wayne, Ind., testifies that he was cured of a cough of two years standing, caused by a gripp, by Dr. King's New Discovery. B. F. Merrill, Baldwinville, Mass., says that he has used and recommended it, and never knew it to fail, and would rather have it than any doctor, because it always cures. Mrs. Hemming, 222 E. 23rd St., Chicago, always keeps it at hand and has no fear of croup, because it instantly relieves. Free trial bottles at Orell's Pharmacy.

day next for a summer vacation in New England.

Hammoncton Council, No. 43, Jr. O. U. A. M., celebrated their 7th anniversary last evening. Neighboring councils were invited, and as the programme included a supper and smoker, the occasion was most enjoyable.

FOR SALE CHEAP, -lot on West Pleasant Street. Address "T," this office.

Hammoncton has never had a cyclone or dangerous storm. Even our so-called blizzards would not have detained a train of cars in New England two hours in a row of five hundred miles. We cannot too highly appreciate our delightful climate.

Gepperts horse and wagon were standing down town, Thursday morning, and the horse decided to start, which he did in a hurried manner. The wagon struck the camp post near the M. E.
Church, shattering the globe and releasing the horse, which was taught on Main Road. No great damage, so far as we can learn.

Some unsightly heaps of manure and ordure, -shells, -and other nuisances have not yet been removed. There is typhoid fever and death in such neglect.
Have we a Board of Health? These pestilence breeders cannot be too strictly looked after. Beside the nauseating stench arising from them, neighboring wells are apt to become more or less contaminated.

The lecture by Rev. Mr. Janney, on "The Jungles of India," in the M.
E. Church, last Tuesday evening, was worthy of a better audience than he had. The lecture was instructive, and the Hindustani songs, and the gods he showed, which had been worshipped in that far-away country, were very interesting.

On Monday, Mrs. Kirk Spear was putting the bridle on her horse, preparing for a drive, when the horse suddenly lunged forward, crowding her violently against the manger. She screamed, and the horse backed, releasing her. A physician was called in, and found her left shoulder blade dislocated, and a small bone in the shoulder broken. It was a painful injury.

Edwin Adams, shipping agent of the Fruit Growers' Union, returned on Thursday from a business trip to Buffalo, Rochester, and other markets.
He reports that Jerseyans should be patient and happy, for farmers in western New York are worse off than we.
Their crops have been literally burned up by drought, and what they have to sell finds poor market and small prices.
For instance, milk sells at 14 cents per quart at the creamery. Many are discouraged, but hold on, looking for relief from the Republican administration which will begin next March.

At the H. A. A. shuffle-board tournament, Thursday night, there were about twenty contestants, and E. A.
Cordery won the championship medal.
It is noteworthy that Ed. has won every championship in any sport he ever entered. Punting, bad, sparring, matches, instrumental and vocal music, added interest to the occasion. The scores were:

Best what?

"A woman who supposes a rooster revolver at her husband's 'for a joke,' He never says it at all.

A Bangor, Me., woman went into a drug store in that town and asked for a bottle of "Monsieur Mordant." Even the children cry for it.

Gotham's latest census shows that there are 1,154 women in New York city who do not know how old they are. Probably there are not so many who will tell.

Lieut. Peary says he "found the Ice landers a cordial and familiar people." Our school geographers had taught us to believe they were cold and distant.

A dispatch from St. Joseph, Mo., says:
"The police are patrolling the communities." That's all right, some of those bustling Westerners have to be watched for awhile after they are dead.

Paderewski has a magnificent touch, there can be no doubt of that. Thirteen thousand five hundred dollars for two matinee recitals! There's nothing the matter with that sort of box office technique.

An Oakland, Cal., paper has far outstripped such defilers of the language as the inventors of "Sunday," "saturday," "enthusiasm," and the numerous others who have so far outstripped that ludicrous word that it has brought back the atrocity, "debutant."

Because his horses could not pull his wagon out of the snow on South Water street, at Chicago, Emil Rasm, the driver, lashed them with a whip. After resting a while he went to the wagon and again, but was compelled to desist by one of his horses, which kicked him into a snow bank and broke his leg.
It is one of the mysteries of the law why some animals, particularly the horses, are not conscious of their strength. If more of them were, and when the opportunity presented itself, would retal-iate in kind, there would be fewer burdler drivers. Mr. Rasm may have a few lessons during his hospital confinement if he is so disposed.

A prominent citizen of Philadelphia, Mr. J. C. Strawbridge, has waked up a realising sense of the fact that that city has no living memorial of Benjamin Franklin, though the old philosopher was so intimately associated with it. Mr. Strawbridge, therefore, has given a commission to the sculptor, John J. Boyle, of the same city, to prepare a model of a bronze statue to be placed in the city hall. The artist responds to the commission. It is gratifying that in this respect Philadelphia is similarly commencing to the cause of Franklin.

Mr. James Ellsworth, of Chicago, an intimate friend of Paderewski, gave him a dinner a short time ago, and each person who came was obliged to perform some feat by which he could earn his living, provided his usual resources were taken away. Paderewski had many odd tricks handy. Theodore Thomas, with his hands tied behind his back, by some miraculous management managed to play the violin and look it off with his hands still tightly fastened.
The guests then asked for autographs, and Mr. Ellsworth remarked: "I have Paderewski's autograph, which he wrote on my shirt front some time ago," and thereupon took out a piece of his garment and showed it to the guests.
The shirt bosom bore the signature of the maestro written across the front.
At once each manly chest was presented, signed his name on the starched linen. As a result, eleven shirts have been permanently retired from circulation, so to speak.

Origin of Windfall.
The origin of the expression "windfall," which is used when one wishes to refer to a streak of good luck, dates back to the time of William the Conqueror. At that time it was a criminal offense to cut timber in the royal forests without royal consent. All that could be gathered for fuel or other purposes was such timber as the wind might happen to break and cast to the ground. On this account the peasants hauled a great windstorm in a forest because it was apt to cut enough of "windfall" for winter firewood. From this old-time forestry custom comes the modern application of the expression.

Hard on Papa.
Johnny Jameson had arrived at his eighty birthday and thought that it would be real nice to write his papa a letter, and this is the way he began:
"My dear Papa—Whenever I am tempted to do wrong, I think of you, and say, 'Get thee behind me, Satan.'" —Our Girls and Boys.

His Interview.
Bob, an ambitious boy a little more than four years old, has only one wish: to become a newspaper man. The other day he entered the room of his mother, a look of triumph upon his face.
"Well, mother, as I told you, it was Katy who ate the large peach."
"How do you know?"
"Bob (drawing himself up to his full height)—How? Because I have 'interviewed' her."

Beyond Counting.
Two small folk whom I will call Little Sister and Little Brother were disputing in a friendly way as to whether he or she loved mother more. Little Sister's arms were round her neck. Little Brother's were round her waist, and mother was getting a very tight squeeze between the two. "I love you millions," said he. "I love you billions," said she.
"And I love trillions," exclaimed he.
"Quadrillions," declared she. "I love you decillions," he cried triumphantly, and then that was that. Little Sister said that she loved him more than that, and the tears lay somewhere very near. The next instant came a flash of sunshine into her face, and her arms gave a tightening squeeze. "And mother, I love you beyond the count of the counting," and mother drew down the arms and gave a kiss of victory into the glorified little face.—Popular Magazine.

The Spelling Match.
Ten little children, standing in a line,
"C-i-a-l-y, f-i-l-l-y," then there were nine.

Nine puzzled faces, fearful of their fate,
"C-i-l-y, f-i-l-l-y," then there were eight.

Eight pairs of blue eyes, bright as stars of heaven,
"C-a-a-a, b-u-y," then there were seven.

Seven grave heads, shaking in an awful fear,
"L-a-i-d-y, l-a-y," then there were six.

Six eager darlings, determined each to succeed,
"D-u-t-y, d-u-t-y," then there were five.

Five hearts so anxious, beating more and more,
"S-c-h-o-l-a-r, s-c-h-o-l-a-r," then there were four.

Four mouths like roses, on a red rose tree,
"M-e-r-r-y, m-e-r-r-y," then there were but three.

Three pairs of pink ears, listening keen and true,
"O-n-l-y, o-n-l-y," then there were two.

Two sturdy lads, ready both to run,
"T-u-r-n-y, t-u-r-n-y," then there was one.

One head of yellow hair, bright in the sun,
"L-e-t-t-e-r, h-e-r-e," the spelling match was done.

TRUMPET CALLS.

Sam's Horn Sounds a Warning Note to the Unredeemed.

It is impossible to live any higher than we look.

Overcoming a difficulty, changes it into a blessing.

Most troubles will run when we look them squarely in the face.

God is still looking for people who can be trusted with money.

It is hard to find a poorer man than the rich man who never gives.

When sin runs to hide, it forgets that it cannot cover up its tracks.

We cannot pick out the Lord's own by looking over a church register.

Whenever a man gains a victory over himself, the Lord has helped him.

God never made a law without also making a penalty for its violation.

There is hypocrisy in praying for what we are not willing to work for.

No man can give his best service where he has not first given his heart.

We must know God with the heart before we can praise him with the lips.

We are all the time making characters, whether we are doing anything or not.

Christ may be as certainly rejected by indifference, as by crying "Crucify him!"

It takes close acquaintance with many other people, to introduce us to ourselves.

An awful thing about sin is, that it is possible to fall into the pit from heaven's doorsteps.

God should forgive sinners without repentance, there would be war in heaven all the time.

When the bank breaks, some people who have claimed to be Christians, find out their mistake.

Many a man prays every day, who never thinks of worth while to strike at the devil with his vote.

Why Hawley Sold His Cows.

Secretary Morton recently visited Biltmore, N. C., to make a personal investigation of some experiments in arboriculture that have greatly interested him, and while there he made examination of George Vanderbilt's 50, 000-acre farm. Mr. Vanderbilt has recently purchased and shipped to this farm the famous herd of recorded Jersey cattle belonging to Frank W. Hawley, of Pittsford, near Rochester, N. Y.

The cattle number 123, and the herd is the third in value and reputation in the United States.

Mr. Hawley sold his cows because of the recent decision of the New York Court of Appeals confirming the right of the State Board of Health to con-sulate and slaughter animals suspected of tuberculosis, regardless of their value and upon careless and casual examination. He claims that the decision of the Court and the regulations of the Board of Health are too severe and unjust and that their tests are imperfect and unreliable. The Court also defiled the doctrine of aristocracy in cattle. It held that a cow is only a cow; that one is no better than another cow, and that the law does not authorize the payment of a larger sum for a high-bred Jersey than for a condemned and killed than for a cheap cow.

Mr. Hawley was not a little disappointed at the decision of the Court, but he was not willing to work for what he was not willing to work for.

Four mouths like roses, on a red rose
tree,
"M-e-r-r-y, m-e-r-r-y," then there were but three.

and true,
"O-n-l-y, o-n-l-y," then there were two.

Two sturdy lads, ready both to run,
"T-u-r-n-y, t-u-r-n-y," then there was one.

One head of yellow hair, bright in the sun,
done.

A Snake Story.
A strange but true snake story comes from Santa Madre, says Chatterbox. A little girl whose mother resides at that place saw a large snake while she was sitting near the house. Being pleased with its appearance, the child followed it through the grass, trying to get hold of it. Two faithful dogs belonging to the family saw the snake also, and, running after it, got ahead of the little girl.

The Old Rock Spring.

Under the tall green alders That never let the sun shine through,
With a tinkling drip o'er the rock's cool lip.

The water came down like the dew;
And not even the fabled sages That classic poets sing, Did I dream could be as sweet to me As the water in the old rock spring.

Down by the old rock spring,
Where the water-falls dip and swing, There's never a draught, wherever I quaffed, the high way.

Like one from the old rock spring, Down 'mong the running grasses—Gladly I'd study physics From the bay at noon or the noon-hot corn.

Full on my eager face I've hung myself to feast it, And never has anything Since slaked my thirst like the balm that burst.

Fresh from the old rock spring,
Down by the old rock spring,
How a sip from its lips could bring My hyacinth back long the once worn track.

That led to the old rock spring, Tho' I'd bargain on my eldorado, Champagne of the rarest sort, Wines of Moselle and Muscatel And many a point of port.

Yet I never could forget it, Since slaked my thirst like the balm that burst.

BASE BALL.

HAMMONTON VS. DUQUESNE.

'Twas a well seasoned game last Saturday, plenty of ginger and pepper, declared by most of the spectators to have been the best game ever seen in Hammonton. It was a satisfactory game all around, not only because the score stood 7-2 in Hammonton's favor, but the teams were pretty evenly matched. Hammonton did itself credit, and every body was good natured.

First and last, it was a pitcher's game. Gresmer is one of the best pitchers that ever stood before our team, but Lukens went him one better. To be sure, Gresmer gave only one base on balls, while Lukens gave nine, but the latter struck out fifteen to Gresmer's fourteen, and no hits were made from Lukens, while Hammonton connected six times for at least one base during Gresmer's pitching.

When Lukens first stood in the box, he was a disappointment, for he gave three bases on balls in succession. Then the people groaned, but before the game was over they made up their minds that he knew what he was about better than they did. For instance, in the last inning Lukens struck out Gresmer, sent Kennedy and Heron to base on balls, struck out Hudson, gave Cronie his base on balls and Beale came to bat. Soon two strikes and three balls had passed, and the crowd stood breathless. The next ball would decide it. If he made a hit, from one to four runs would be scored. If it were a ball, a runner would be forced in; if a strike, the inning would be over. A twist of the pitcher's body, a swing of his arm, the bat flew across the plate, the voice of the umpire, "three strikes." Hedrick had the ball, and the game was at an end.

The fielders had little to do, though Watt caught Cronie's fly in the fifth, and Griffith in the sixth raised a beauty to center, but Naylor spoiled it after a little run. Bakely did good work on 1st.

Both of the visitors' runs were made on errors. In the first, Beale was given his base on balls, soon forced around and came in on a passed ball. In the fourth Greenfield got his base on balls and came in on a wild pitch.

In the second Geppert knocked a sizzler to right field, Conley sent to short, reaching first on an error, and both came in on Watt's hit to left. In the third Naylor slugged for three bases, but was left on third. In the fifth Brown sent through the second baseman, Hedrick rammed out a home run following Brown in. In the sixth Geppert flew through the left fielder, Holland got his first on Gresmer's fumble, and both came in on Mathis' hit to center. Naylor made the seventh run in seventh inning, winning some commendation for the way he stole bases.

Only seven innings were played, as the visitors had to catch the train.

This is the official score:
