[For the South Jersey Republican.] Across the Way.

The sunlight creeps along the busy street,
Lighting the dingy walls of brown and red;
Smiling upon the throng that pass and meet,
Drowning the silence 'neath their noisy tread,
Two downy sparrows 'neath the sheltering eaves,
Flutter and twitter in their noisy play,
Then quickly hide among the ivy leaves
Across the way.

From over yonder marble window-sill,
With curtains draped in clouds of snowy lace,
Where flowers the air with their sweet perfume fill,
Bonded a graceful form, and fair young face,
So fair among the lovely flowers is she—
A very blossom in the month of May—
And two bright eyes look lovingly on me,
Across the way.

Oh neighbor mine, I sit and watch thee here,
Marking each rising blush and dimpling smile,
And all thy ways and actions grow more dear,
While I am watching, wondering all the while
If I shall ever know and love thee more,
If our life paths, perchance, together lay,
If we shall meet upon Life's fairer shore,
Across the way.

One quiet spot within the city's din,
One picture, like a Raphael's bold relief;
One pure and holy face among the sin,
One joyful heart within a world of grief.
The shadows steal along the silent street,
Draping in starry robes the weary day,
May angels watch her slumbers, soft and sweet,
Across the way.

[For the South Jersey Republican.] Reality of Life.

BY MRS. A. V. MUNGER.

Life is not all that I painted,
In the rosy days of youth;
Virtue is with vice so tainted,
Falsehood wears the face of truth.

We who trusted, so believing,
Found our hopes to ashes turned;
Golden dreams our hearts deceiving,
High resolves within us burned.

Paradise seemed just before us,
Almost within our reach of hand;
Now the distance widens to us,
Death divides the promised land.

We have loved, and we have trusted,
Bitter has experience been;
But the lesson fate entrusted,
Plain revealed God's hand within.

We have learned the saddening lesson,
False is earth though fair to view;
Nothing firm our hearts can rest on,
But Jehovah's word is true.

Empire crumble, time doth cover
Monarchs' "neath oblivion's wing;
Jews live, and reigns forever,
Earth the footstool of our King.

We are shadows on earth's dial,
And like shadows fade away;
Struggling hard with self-deceit,
'Till the night shuts out the day.

We shall sleep, but not forever,
We shall wake to life again;
Our immortal souls live ever,
When our bodies sink in pain.

We shall die and be forgotten,
By the busy world around;
But good deeds have good begetting,
When the dead sleep underground.

Better than to live in story,
Or the vain world's praise to win;
Is our Father's crown of glory,
When he bids us "enter in."

Christian brother, do not falter,
Though life seem a mad mistake;
He whose word can never alter,
Thus the "bread of life" doth break.

Much there is in work to cheer us,
We should never faint or tire;
For our Savior ever near us,
Soon will bid us "come up higher!"

Hammoncton, May, 28th, 1879.

Our Washington Letter.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 26, 1879.

The general appropriation bill will go to the President to-day and come back in three or four days to the House with its political features vetoed. This fact has started the Democrats in the face so steadily in the last few days that they have had no rest. They know it is the approach of a crisis where they must decide to back down from a very bad position or go on with the Confederate revolution, and they have lost confidence in the caucus as an adhesive power. If they come to a vote on the question, they are likely to divide, for many of them who want to be re-elected by northern constituents are sick of the contest. There is talk now of a compromise among them, by which the general appropriation bill shall be passed and the Army only "starved." This may go down with the Democrats in Congress, but it will not with the country, and it is probable that should they take this course and adjourn, the President would call another extra session. The Ex-Confederate party cannot in any way dodge the responsibility for the mischief they have inaugurated.

The singular letter of Sec'y Sherman to a friend in New York is creating a good deal of disagreeable talk. Republicans think it a very injudicious thing to do. It is an open declaration of his candidacy for President, and revives the charge that in Missouri and other Southern States the Secretary is using the Treasury patronage to promote his nomination. The thing that is most objected to is his expression of dependence for support upon those who have not heretofore supported the Republican party. The universal verdict is that the Secretary has committed a damaging blunder.

Hon. Wm. E. Chandler, Secretary of the Republican Congressional Committee, has arrived here for the purpose of inaugurating the campaign. Some vigorous work is expected to be done, especially for the States having early elections.

The most important measure before Congress, aside from the appropriation bills which caused the extra session, and perhaps far more important than they, was Mr. Warner's coinage bill. It passed the House on Saturday, but not in the shape in which it was introduced. Its most striking feature, and in the opinion of some its most valuable, and in the opinion of others its most obnoxious feature, was so changed as not to be recognizable. The following is a careful abstract of the bill as it passed the House:

It fixes the weight of the standard silver dollar at 412½ grains; authorizes the owners of silver bullion to deposit the same at any mint to be formed into bars or standard dollars; makes the charges for coining such bullion the difference between its market value in New York and the legal tender value of the coin; makes subsidiary silver coin exchangeable at the Treasury for legal tender money to the amount of $20; makes the standard silver dollar legal tender in all payments at their nominal value; requires the Treasury to pay out silver coin without discrimination the same as gold coin in liquidation of all coin obligation against the Government, and authorizes the issue of certificates to depositors of gold or silver coin or bullion; also authorizes the issue of certificates (representing coin in the Treasury) in payment of interest on the public debt, both classes of certificates to be receivable in payment of duties on imports. The certificates for bullion deposited are to be for its average market value in coin of like metal during the preceding week in New York. The gold and silver bullion deposited is to be coined to the full capacity of the mints (in connection with other coinage) and if the bullion deposited for coinage does not amount to $2,000,000 per month, the Treasury is to purchase sufficient silver bullion to coin that amount. There are influences at work among Democratic Senators which may cause the Senate to pass the bill as it came from the House, but it is most likely that the Senate will amend or kill it.

MAXWELL.

[BY AUTHORITY.] LAWS OF NEW JERSEY.

CHAPTER CXXVII.

A supplement to an act entitled "An act relating to the consolidation of railroads," approved March seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy eight.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That whenever two or more railroad corporations have effected, or are desirous of effecting a consolidation and merger, under or by virtue of the act to which this is a supplement, or otherwise, and the bonded debt of said corporations is unequal in amount, or some or one of said corporations have no bonded debt, it shall be lawful for all or either of the said corporations having the lesser bonded debt or no bonded debt, to receive in the preferred stock of the said consolidated corporation, or in bonds secured by mortgage upon the property and franchises thereof, an amount not exceeding one-half its or their capital stock respectively in lieu of, and in exchange for an equal amount of its or their own capital stock theretofore issued; which capital stock when so received by the said consolidated corporation shall be retired, cancelled and destroyed, the amount of said preferred stock or of bonds secured as aforesaid, so to be issued in exchange for said capital stock shall be fixed and determined by a vote of two-thirds of the stockholders, in amount of the said consolidated corporation, or of the several corporations desirous of effecting such consolidation.

2. And be it enacted, That it shall be lawful for such consolidated corporation and they are hereby authorized to issue their bonds at par, to such an amount as shall be necessary to carry out the purposes of this act, and to secure the same by their indenture of mortgage upon the property and franchises of such consolidated corporation; and it shall also be lawful for such consolidated corporation to create by a vote of two-thirds of the stockholders, in amount, and to issue for the purposes hereinbefore set out a preferred stock, to an amount not exceeding one-half of the authorized capital of the respective corporations so consolidated; the holders of which said preferred stock shall be entitled to receive, and the said consolidated corporation shall be bound to pay thereon a certain fixed half yearly sum or dividend to be expressed in the certificates of such preferred stock, before any dividends shall be set apart or paid to the holders of the general or common stock.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

A local newspaper is a travelling agent, taking its weekly rounds to the families of all its customers. No matter whether trade is brisk or otherwise, no business man can afford to take down his sign, nor withdraw the pleasing influence of a weekly chat with his customers through the newspaper. For a business man to stop advertising would be equivalent to saying, "I have stopped business, and ask no favors of the people."

May returns show an increase in the rates of wages in only six States and territories, Minnesota, Colorado, California, Oregon, New Mexico, and Washington Territory. The decline is greatest in Vermont, 30 per cent.; Maryland, 23 per cent.; Virginia, 18½ per cent. But the cost of living is shown to have declined still more. The cost of living has advanced in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Texas, Colorado, New-Mexico, and Washington Territory.

Notice!

In the face of everything, Wanamaker & Brown increased their great Clothing business last year at Oak Hall nearly a quarter of a million dollars, and for 1879 the new plans will make the house more popular and increase the business much more. Eighteen years in the people's service at the old corner of Sixth and Market has taught us how to do the business well.

Whatever may be said, no house in the United States sells anything like so much Clothing at Retail as Oak Hall, and no house in Philadelphia sells more than a quarter as many goods as Mr. Wanamaker sells in Clothing alone. Doing this large business shows the people's regard for our goods, and enables us to buy cheaply and sell at small profits.

Notice!

New patterns have been made this year and new styles introduced through Mr. Robert C. Ogden, formerly partner of the famous firm of Duvall & Co., New York, who is now associated with Oak Hall, and will give his whole energies and valuable experience to improving the manufacture of our boys' and Men's Clothing. We do not buy Clothing like the dealers, but we express for our own sales. The Spring stock is splendid, and no other make of goods, so far, have as much merit, or are sold as cheaply.

Notice!

Impressions have been erroneously given to the effect that Mr. John Wanamaker, who founded Oak Hall, is not interested in the old store, and that it does not have his attention; on the contrary, his ownership of it remains unchanged, and he has lost none of his love for it. Every day finds him supervising all its departments. Mr. William H. Wanamaker spends his entire time on the Oak Hall business.

Conducted on strictly mutual principles, offering a perfectly safe insurance for just what it may cost to pay losses and expenses. The proportion of loss to the amount insured being very small, and expenses much less than usually had, nothing can be offered more favorable to the insured. The cost being about ten cents on the hundred dollars per year to the insured on ordinary risks, and from fifteen to twenty-five cents per year on hazardous properties, which is less than one-third of the lowest rates charged by stock companies, on such risks—the other two-thirds taken by stock companies being a profit accruing to stockholders, or consumed in expenses of the company.

The guarantee fund of premium notes being now Three Millions of Dollars.

If an assessment had to be made of five per cent, only, twice within the ten years for which the policy is issued, it would yet be cheaper to the members than any other insurance offered. And that large amount of money is saved to the members and kept at home. No assets must have ever been made, being now more than thirty years, that saving would amount to more than
