

PERSONALS AND OTHERWISE.

Commencement Week.

School closes next week.

The M. K. Boyer place is undergoing repairs.

Low. Bowers was down from Camden this week.

Victor Moore was among the Memorial Day visitors.

Mrs. S. E. Brown visited her mother and other relatives.

Osgood & Co. had a flag raising, Wednesday, on their new pole.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Crawford, of Audubon, were here Thursday.

Mrs. Minnie Maloney came from Atlantic City to spend Sunday in Hammonton.

Wm. G. Rexford and his sister, Miss Mamie, spent Memorial Day in Hammonton.

Mrs. J. C. Biler entertained her brother, Mr. Andrews, of Nazareth, Penna., this week.

Mrs. A. S. Tomlin, of Wildwood, spent part of the week here, with relatives and friends.

Mrs. J. B. Ryan came over from Barnesboro, N. J., to investigate the burning of her house.

Judson A. Whittier and sister, from Atlantic City, were greeted by many friends, on Thursday.

Wm. H. Myers, with his son and daughter, from Camden, celebrated Memorial Day in Hammonton.

John Bourrillion is reported very ill at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Robert McC. Miller, Atlantic City.

Mrs. P. A. Lehman and daughter, Lillian, are spending a week with Mrs. G. W. Fitting, in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Chas. Money and children were guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Twomey, part of this week.

The Senior Class will unveil and dedicate their memorial, on school campus, Tuesday afternoon, at 4 o'clock. The public is invited.

The X. Y. Z. Club were delightfully entertained, Monday evening, by Miss Grace Oaks. She gave the members a "box party" at the movies.

Geo. A. Blake spent Sunday and Monday with his family. He was accompanied by his wife, who had spent a few weeks with him, in Connecticut.

Dr. Tuttle, wife and child, from Philadelphia, visited Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Simpson, relatives, over Sunday. The doctor is connected with the U. of P.

Those who wish pictures of Col. Theodore Roosevelt, taken by the Philadelphia Press artist, at Hammonton Station, can secure them through Frank Applegate.

The Alumni Association has issued invitations to its annual meeting and banquet, to be held next Thursday evening in Bellevue Hall. Those who wish tickets should phone or call on William Doerfel, Treasurer, either to-day or Monday.

School Park has been filled in, tennis courts laid out, and this week grass seed sown and rolled in. It is certainly a pretty plot, with its cement walks, and it is hoped that pupils and others will not trespass on the new grass.

Quite a company of friends aided Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schwartz of Murphy's Crossing in celebrating their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary, on Wednesday evening. Host, hostess and guests had a very enjoyable time. Mr. and Mrs. S. received many tokens of esteem.

William H. Robinson, who was injured by an automobile last week Friday, in Atlantic City, died at 4.45 Saturday afternoon. His remains were brought home to Hammonton on Sunday, and buried in Greenmount Cemetery on Tuesday, funeral services being held at the house. Though a resident here but a few years, Mr. Robinson was well known, having had charge of the Winslow store and farms for a long time. He had many friends in this community, who deplore his sudden demise. A wife and daughter survive him.

To-morrow morning, June 2nd, at 10.30, Rev. W. L. Shaw will deliver the baccalaureate sermon in the M. E. Church, before the graduating class. This will be a union service, with union choir.

Class Day, Wednesday evening, 8 o'clock, in Presbyterian Church. Tickets supplied by members of the Senior Class.

Thursday afternoon, 2.00 to 6.00, exhibition of work of the manual training department.

Thursday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, Eighth Grade exercises, in Baptist Church.

Thursday evening, Alumni Association meeting and banquet, in Bellevue Hall.

Friday evening, Commencement exercises, in Presbyterian Church. Tickets to be obtained from the Board of Education. The list of graduates is as follows:

Helen V. Barger

Leslie Combe

Kathryn A. D'Agnostino

Kathryn E. Eckhardt

F. Elizabeth Hoyle

Peter Lucas

Lillian Mealey

Pauline V. Phillips

Olivia M. Small

Elsie White

Warren A. Wood.

Loan Associations next week.

Independent Fire Company will meet next Wednesday evening.

W. L. Bell and family expect to return to Burlington next week.

Board of Education's regular meeting next Wednesday evening.

E. F. Fry has bought the James Macaulay residence, Egg Harbor Road.

C. S. Newcomb has been entertaining his daughter, Mrs. Phebe Campbell.

Dr. W. B. Peet spent Sunday in Hammonton. He is always a welcome visitor.

Mrs. Morrill and her daughter, Mrs. Emily Shinn, were among this week's visitors.

A sneak-thief picked every ripe strawberry in the Faunce garden patch, the other day.

Mrs. J. Craton Hines has left for Cambridge, Md., where she will spend this month.

Regular meeting of the Civic Club on Tuesday, June 4th, three o'clock, in Firemen's Hall.

A lively thunder storm Friday evening, last week, and a splendid shower Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Clara H. Cunningham spent several days in Steelmanville, as the guest of Miss Etta Steelman.

Daniel E. Houpt, of Norristown, Penna., spent the middle of the week with friends in this vicinity.

Prof. Peterson, of the U. of P., gave Central Schools a lecture, Wednesday, on Rome and Pompeii.

The P. O. S. of A. of Atlantic County are planning a grand field-day, July 4, in Hammonton Park.

It was an enjoyable entertainment, Thursday evening, by the Alumni Association, in Bellevue Hall. The receipts were not what the committee hoped for.

We have received a letter stating that Adolphus Miller Plummer and Edna Elizabeth Lance were married, May 23rd, 1912, in Atlantic City, by Rev. Geo. D. Jones.

Mr. Harvey G. Hatch, director of manual training in Hawthorne School, Philadelphia, spent last Monday visiting our manual training department. He was sent here to observe some of the practical work being done in our shop, and expressed himself in its favor.

An exhibit of the work in Manual Training and Drawing will be given in the shop of the Central Schools on Thursday, June 6th, from 2.00 to 6.00 p.m. Everyone is welcome. In fact, we desire that you come and see the work done along these lines during the year. Our railway, log cabin, various pieces of furniture, doll house, basketry, girls' petticoats, aprons, embroidery, and other sewing, will all be on exhibition. No work will be given to pupils until Friday, when it will all be distributed.

W. J. BRAHMAN.

Presbyterian Church: That all may have part in the baccalaureate services of our High School graduates, we worship for the morning, at 10.30, at the M. E. Church. Sabbath School at noon. C. E. at 6.45. Evening theme, 7.30; "Real heroes." Our motto: "Saved to Serve."

St. Mark's Church, Sunday, June 2nd, Trinity Sunday. Holy Communion at 7.30 and 10.30. Sunday School at noon. Rev. W. H. Davis, Rector.

Mrs. Jos. R. Helm visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert.

People are looking for the street sprinkler.

Baptist Church: In the morning at 10.30, we will unite in the baccalaureate service at the Methodist Church. Bible School and C. E. High School. Evening sermon, at 7.30, "Wash and be clean." We expect to use the new song book, "The Evangel," at the evening service. This is the best book we could find, and we want to make a feature of congregational singing. "The homelike Church."

The "Republican's" primary election returns were posted up for its friends at 1.45 Wednesday morning, including estimates from the County and State.

Strawberries are being shipped.

At the M. E. Church, to-morrow morning, at 10.30, Pastor Shaw will preach the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of our High School. Subject, "The one thing essential; and its source." The Board of Education and the Faculty will also attend. All friends of the Class of 1912, and of higher education, are urged to be present. The pastors and members of the Baptist and Presbyterian congregations will worship with us. Bible School at noon. Junior League at 3 o'clock. Roll call and consecration service by the Epworth League at 6.45; led by the pastor. Public service at 7.45; subject, "An essential of the kingdom."

UNDERWEAR

For Quality,
and Prices that are Reasonable go to Waples' Variety Store.

BANK BROS.

This is a Page full of Shoe News and Straw Hat News. Read on. It is valuable information what this store is doing to help supply your needs on the most economical basis.

SHOES, OXFORDS, and Pumps that combine comfort, style, and quality. An immense big stock to choose from,—high or low heels, broad, medium or narrow toes.

Ladies' Oxfords and Pumps

at $1.95 and $2.50

McKay and Goodyear welt sewed. Dull calf, pat. colt, Russian calf, white nubuck.

Ladies' Oxfords and Pumps at $3 and $3.50.

Russian calf, dull calf, pat. colt, and white nubuck.

One Special Lot

of Ladies' Mayfair $3 Oxfords at $1.95, in dull calf only, size 2 1/2 to 5 1/2

Discontinued Styles

of Ladies' $3, $3.50 and $4 Pumps and Oxfords at $2.25. Broken sizes.

Ladies' $2 and $2.50 Oxfords, $1.50, in Russian and dull calf, broad toe, low heel. Broken sizes.

Ladies' White Canvas Pumps at $1.20, $1.50, $2, and $2.50,—on the newest toes.

Ladies' white Nubuck Pumps at $2 and $3.

Girls' and Misses' Pumps and Oxfords, 95 cts. to $2.50

Children's Oxfords and Pumps, 85 cts. to $1.20

BANK BROS.

Straw and Panama Hats at unusually low prices.

We are really surprised at it ourselves, coming as it does thus early in the season.

We are not going to take up your time nor our space to tell you how we came to get these values at the opening of the season; what we do want to tell you is that you can come here and get a Straw hat at $1 and $1.50, that is worth two and two fifty.

You can choose from Split Straw, Mackinaw Straw, Senits.

All the latest styles.

Genuine Panama Hats at $3.50.

Do not mistake them for the imitation; they are the genuine Panama Hats. The importer just made us another shipment, so you can still get any style or size you may want. But do not delay too long, as this is the last shipment we will get.

From Custom Tailoring Department.

We succeeded in securing a small lot of Woolens at a big concession in price, and are in a position to make a limited number of suits to order at a saving of five dollars on a suit. We guarantee the cloth to be strictly all wool. We stand back of the workmanship and trimmings that go into every garment, and do not allow any garment to leave our store unless it is perfect in every detail.

Bank Brothers

Bellevue Ave.

Hammonton

THE CROWNED SAVIOUR. —

[illegible]

with a complete absence of detail. It would be a mistake, however, to suppose that our belief in the ascension rests upon such a slender foundation as a two-fold mention by St. Luke (who was probably not a personal disciple of Christ, and therefore not an eye-witness) and an anonymous paragraph appended to the Gospel of St. Mark. The ascension of Christ occupies an important place in the apostolic testimony. It is quite true it is not emphasized as is the fact of the resurrection. But it is presupposed and taken for granted. The resurrection, as the apostles thought of it, involved the ascension. The one, so to speak, was inseparable from the other. Christ to be resurrected must rise simply, but also into a new and exalted life.

[illegible]

into the hands of it, he saw One who was the Son of Man whose eyes were as a flame of fire and His voice as the voice of many waters, and His countenance as the sun shining in His strength, and He said, "I am the first and the last and the living
 One, and I was dead, and behold I am alive for evermore, and I have the keys of death and of Hades," the picture of Jesus which the Apostle gave us in that of One who lived a sinless life, died an atoning death, rose on the third day, and who there-

Conclusion.

The world has now seen the last of Jesus Christ. Such an association, after our ears have been filled with the hymn, "As It is appointed unto men," cannot die, and after vivid descriptions of judgment, no Christ also, leaving the world, could be offered to bear the sin of man; shall appear the second time without sin unto salvation." As He is eternally as for sinful human beings, He will be eternally for the sinless Man, who is the sacrifice for the world's sins, will His judicial return follow His atoning work? Will He be offered to receive the kingdom, to take account of His servants' sins, and to perfect their possession of the salvation which by His incarnation He wrought for the world. Therefore, one sweet face, and one great fact—the face of Christ, the fact of His presence with us—shall be ours all the days—should fill the present and should fill the future—the face of Him that sitteth upon the throne, the face of Him who will come again, and "the face of Him who is seated on the throne." The Great Text of the Bible.

The full list of these dignities last
Duke of Cornwall, Duke of Rothesay,
Duke of Saxony, Prince of Coburg,
and Gotha, Prince of Saxe-Coburg, Earl of Carrick, Baron of Renfrew, Lord of the Isles, Earl of Chester, Duke of Lancaster and Earl of Dublin. All of these titles except the last two are of long standing.
But long as the list appears, it is by no means as long as that of many an ordinary peer of the realm, the Duke of Argyll, for one, easily surpassing it with twenty-seven separate titles.

When one turns to other monarchs to his high position as "lord of the faithful" and "supreme lord of all the followers of the Prophet," "direct and absolute" lieutenant on earth of Mohammed.

The Emperor of Austria, the Pope, the Sultan of Turkey, the King of Spain and the King of Portugal are both "King of Jerusalem." The King of Norway and of Denmark are both "King of the East and of the West." The Emperor of Austria and the King of Spain both call themselves "King of Galicia."

Of Novorogodsk who claims himself the worst offender in the world, the young King of Spain. He is among the "King of the East Indies," "King of the West Indies," "King of the East Coast," "King of the West Indies" and "King of India," the last title he has assumed by the King of Portugal.

GOOD INVESTMENT.

"I am going to marry a shoemaker."
"Why a shoemaker?"
"Because he is the best of men who is generally whole soled and well heeled." Baltimore American.

PEACE HATH HER VICTORIES.

His. No, I can never marry you, but we can always be friends. He. Well that is one of the advantages of not getting married. - Punch.

HYPOCRISY AND SINCERITY

GOLDEN TEXT—Take heed that ye do not despise one of these little ones: for I say unto you, That whosoever despise one of these little ones, he shall despise me, and whosoever despise me, shall despise him that hath sent me. (Matthew 23:12.)

The word hypocrite as we commonly use it signifies a person who pretends to be what he is not. The hypocrite who only puts on piety as a cloak to cover up his sinfulness, is not a hypocrite in a reasonably safe sense that there were very few such hypocrites in the church of Jesus.

But it was not in that sense that Jesus used the word. The Pharisees and Sadducees were hypocrites in that they were intensely religious without any pretense about it. They believed in God, in Jesus, and in the Kingdom of God, and they were sincere in themselves, who knew them intimately; but their testimony to the genuineness of their faith was false. They were sincere hypocrites. They were not hypocrites therefore in the sense of the word as we use it today. They were sincere hypocrites in the sense in which Jesus used the word. A little more of the character of the charges which He brought against them shows clearly enough what He meant by calling them hypocrites. They paid an exaggerated devotion to the minutest details of the law of Moses, and they were sincere in their observance of those laws which had been added to that law without authority, with the result that they were sincere in their

First, that we must "seek first," (denoting chiefly) "the Kingdom of God, and His righteousness." We should always

"All these four lessons are very hard to learn. It is extremely difficult for us to realize that they are in fact the most common sense and in perfect accord with all the teaching of Jesus Christ with His own actions and experiences."

A POSSIBLE DERIVATION.

"Words are terribly funny things. 'I don't think' they said Mrs. Jones. 'Take it easy, I don't think you are on earth.' 'I don't suppose they ever got that?' 'Very simple, my dear,' said Mr. Jones. 'Just look at yourself in the looking glass twice when you get up and then look at a gargoyle, and you'll understand.'"

Harper's Weekly.

the fact that you make your own plan."

"Yes, sir," answered the manager promptly, "we do."

"Will you permit me to offer a suggestion?"

"Certainly, sir, certainly. We would be most happy to hear you."

"Well, then, let someone else make your plan."

Official figures show that New Zealand has nearly 25,000,000 sheep.

Soda will brighten china that has been burned or darkened by long use.

[illegible]

"Let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not. So then, as we have opportunity, let us work that which is good toward all men, and especially toward them that are of the household of faith." (Gal 6: 2, 10.)

"As therefore ye received Christ Jesus the Lord so walk ye in Him" (Eph 4: 13.)

the (many shall) was cold. But the man that endureth to the end, the same shall be saved." (Matt. 24: 11-13).

Some Christians, in their desire to see more light, allow themselves to be deceived by false teachers; and when there are many, and with many different kinds of false teaching. The above warnings against false prophets and against being made fools of are therefore much needed to-day.

A LANDSCAPE IN MINIATURE.

A Japanese landscape garden is purely a work of art, constructed according to a definite scheme and plan, ordered according to fixed conventions, over detail and detail, and is much a matter of prearrangement as the strategy of a military campaign. It is like the Japanese paintings, which are also planned, and the scene is a landscape, and while it is with an expressive, succulent croak. I was killing him. In "Big Game Shoots" in Upper Bruner's Major Events he had been shot by the famous vagabond hunter. My crackers got the trail on the morning, but we so timed our advance as to come up with the beaver on the evening of the day he would be feeding. We bumped him off the creek. The first indication that he had of his presence was a short bark through a patch of thick scrub. He then uttered a series of croaks, but nothing more of the kind till the elephant was killed.

It is a great landscape in miniature, often the mere suggestion, the impression of some famous landscape of the empire, but never the abject copy of any one nature scene. Rather it is an idealization of some happy incident of nature or an improvement on it.

I had gone into the patch a distance of about two hundred yards and with a shriek screamed, the elephant charged at my orderly and myself from a dense cover on the right. He was so close that I saw the foam on his huge brute teeth as we through; but perhaps he but out with his trunk tightly coiled, and I saw him strike me on the head. I almost lay at the base of his trunk and gave him the right barrel at ten yards.

He came lunging and snarling like a bull, but stooping down, I saw to my dismay that the elephant was not yet checked—I had just time to stagger and fall to clear the stone and get him the head of the trunk.

The orderer dodged, caught his foot in a creep, and lay sprawling in front of the charging beast. As the elephant emerged from the dust cover, I gave him another bullet at the same spot as before, and he rolled over to the shot like a rabbit.

In the days of the suffragist movement in America, Mr. Henry A. Thon, the social reformer, had more bitter opponents than Horace Greeley, the famous editor and journalist. One day he was called upon to wind up debates with the concluding remark: "The best woman I know do not want to vote."

New York Constitution was being altered in 1857, Miss A. Thon laid a trap for him, says a biographer. She wrote to Mr. Greeley, asking him to sign a petition herself, but to circulate to some and get three hundred signatures among her acquaintances.

Mr. Greeley, who was then chairman, had listened to the debate and was prepared to introduce to the Convention an adverse proposition. He signed the petition, and he was there when General William Curtis rose.

"Mr. Chairman," said he, "I hold in my hand a petition for the right of 'three hundred' women of New

The chairman's embarrassment could hardly be controlled. He had found that one of the "best women I know" wanted to vote.

To prevent eyeglasses "steaming" in cold weather, rub with vaselin and polish with a silk handkerchief.

To iron embroidery the iron should be applied on the wrong side and thick ironing blanket used.

Topic for June 2, 1912.

SELF-RESTRAINT THE ESSENCE OF MANHOOD.
4 Peter 2: 11, 12.

"Abstain from fleshly lusts, war against the soul." "Fleshly lusts" are the desires that are used to cover all the impulses of our nature when they are allowed to run unchecked. They are the lusts under control. Appetite for instance is a good thing in itself, but when it allows himself to become a degenerate, it is a lust. Lust becomes a force working for evil in life; it tends to destroy his body, his mind, his affection, and his peace. Lust is a force, with as ambition, both capable and necessary impulses, and both capable being used for the enrichment of life, and abundance, and the giving incentives to degradation if kept under control.

Paul includes covetousness in the list of the basest passions, and it is deadly. So it is, unquestionably, yet it is merely the misdirection and abundance of the desire for the giving of a proper impulse. (See 3: 5, 6.)

John classifies these desires—covetousness, the lust of the eyes, and the vain glory for praise.

good things. They are absolutely necessary to the perfection of our physical nature and they add greatly to our capacity for usefulness; you would be far better for a man to have any or all of those necessary members than to allow himself to become defiled by the wrong use of them.

"The flesh (the lower nature) is against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh; for these are contrary the one to the other; that I may not do the things that ye would say. And among the works of the flesh he includes "enmities, strifes, jealousies, wraths, factions, divisions,

"Drive like the devil!" shouted Smith, spring into the taxi, and the car dashed forward and away they went like lightning through the fog. Crash! The tax took off the wheel of a passing car. Ill! Ill! They missed flatfoot on a small child by two-inches of hair. Clang! They upset a milk cart. People along the road caught lamps and hats in their hands as the taxi dashed up one street and down another taking corners on two wheels as threatening every lamp post with attraction.

At last, after half an hour's running, they slowed up in a narrow thoroughfare, and Smith poked head out of the window.

"Are we nearly there?" he asked breathlessly.

The chauffeur turned in his seat and shouted:

SERVED HIM RIGHT.

"I have made all sorts of sacrifices for you," complained the husband, driven to the wall at last. "What have you ever given up for me?"

"What did I ever give up for you?" repeated the exasperated wife. "What I never! Why, you cheap humbug, gave up three or four of the nicest young fellows in this city—the what!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

taken, and B of the city. peninsula, and started the s that on the tect in the ba Fair Oaks, Th between the and early in been sunk by will" Jackson into the Shom with Banks Banks to retroufailing back self. Followi retreating, he laid siege to and on May 31 Confederate s during the n The dispatc loch has not claim of one arrival of Bu from destructio eral Grant an that the advan on the first d cally without and that, witho sent Gen Wat

His failure to p Shiloh. Part o longed to Gran
ing to follow
rived and took did go on after Beauregard had his army and Corinth. Hero in May and c
after a series o eral army at t about 100,000 m ates to someo generals expect le at Corinth.

led soon to the
of the Mississippi supplier for the
The running of below the city hunts will make famous for all fant and darin
New Orleans
tastrophe a ch
across the river sen and St. P haps, of the ch in the time of Mississippi chan
by high we was possible to discharge the o permit passenger Before the a force was mach
several days w
Union men agai mercy at the Confederates pregnability of Orleans was to doing this me-modore Farragut to run past the of boats on either engage them at the Hartford led of the stream.

discovered this

He began his career of victory in the West and against the Indians and then fought in the new frontier against the Mexicans. He was in possession of the Mexican territory of the Rio Grande when McClellan was on the march May 30 Johnston followed him against him in the following month. He was at the battle of Seven Pines in June 1862, where he was defeated. He was then fought at the battle of Antietam in September 1862, where he was defeated. He was then fought at the battle of Fredericksburg in November 1862, where he was defeated. He was then fought at the battle of Chancellorsville in May 1863, where he was defeated. He was then fought at the battle of Gettysburg in July 1863, where he was defeated. He was then fought at the battle of the Wilderness in May 1864, where he was defeated. He was then fought at the battle of Appomattox in April 1865, where he was defeated.

the battle of Williamsburg on May 7, where, General Hancock held the key to the field. As a result of this fight the Confederates were compelled to evacuate Williamsburg and to retreat to Richmond. The Federals followed.

AT REST

Comes a picture as I listen
 Of a soldier starting war
 From afar the echoes come
 And they speak a murmur
 Louder yet the calling thunders
 In a patriotic frenzy at the
 'Tis the call of ancient Tars
 To the hum and the thrum
 Quick another picture hurries
 Where the battery is crashin'
 Till the earth and heaven
 And the rumble and the
 On, the roar of the battle
 In barbaric, iron-loud
 Calling marmys to the death
 Comes the hum and the thrum
 Ah, the horror of the battle
 When the moon in slant pines
 With a tramp, tramp, tramp
 Go the weary stretcher-bear
 All about are shattered beings
 Now their martial song is
 To the hum and the thrum
 Now the peaceful pageant past
 Like the deadly strife of yest
 Feared and feared the foe
 For the quarrel hand long
 On the grave of friend and foe

Sometimes applause signifies application, and, again, it may mean the outlet of a murderous desire to do violence to the performers.

the rhythmic refrain down a shady country lane.
of the old recurring drum,
to him of the trumpe to be wound and his feet exultant bound of the sound.
and, and he marches on to war
of the drum of sixty-one.

and I see the battle reek
and the shrapnel is a shriek rock to the fury of the shock of the caisson and the gun of the above and the below of the devastation swell
in the cannon's bitter breath
of the drum of sixty-one.

when every gun is still looks across the eastern hill through the half deserted can cers, for the bloody work is done which but yesterday were men
ded. They will never march ag of the village street
of the drum of sixty-one.

resses, and the picture of the fray, riders, forever fade away.
of the unforgiving time
red, and the Blue and Green are when we leave the blossoms spread ate sir, and the national salute of twenty-one guns will be fired at 11 a. m. at all posts and stations provided with artillery. At the conclusion of this memorial tribute at noon the flag will be hoisted to the top of the mast and will remain there until sunset. When hoisted to the top of the mast the flag will be saluted by playing one or more appropriate patriotic songs. In this way fitting testimonial will be rendered to the heroic dead and to their patriotic devotion will be appropriately rendered."

One little boy, only seven or eight years old, was sitting by his mother and another little one who had been broken as she was plucked from the fallen brickwork of her house. The little boy had scrambled back the tottering walls and debris, had saved both the babies. It was a very little hurt, and took me to "see," I watched them as they went through their ordeal. Gerard de Souza were two other brothers, very refined and sweet, of them hurt, who lay holding it on one mattress the first night in the hospital. When I fed them, insisted on knowing my name; he said, "I have never seen you before," praying for me so sweetly. I tucked them up, and hoped to them again, that on the next morning their people must have fetched away, for they were gone, and not see them again.

A CERTAIN REMEDY

Professor "In China, criminals often sentenced to be kept awake, insanity and death result. Now, do you suppose they keep them falling asleep?"

"Little girl oldest of a small family. I expect they give 'em a baby take care of."

decorated the grave of the slain soldier who had worn the blue and the boy who had worn the gray lying in the very near the town. The Northern soldiers the next day contained a dispatch:

"The women of Columbus animated by nobler sentiment than many of their husbands, have been so deeply impressed by the signs to the memory of the fallen soldiers, that they have strewn flowers alike on the graves of the Confederates and the soldiers of the Union."

It is not to be wondered at this beautiful incident suggested a poem to us in whom there were no military positions. Mr. Mr. Flinch, whose home was in (I think) New York, read the dispatch and was warmed by the fact that the friends of the South were so ready to offer a friendly hand and that there should be some response to this beautiful poem. The Blue at first hesitated, but a personal appeal led to this friendly overture.

Mr. Flinch, then a lawver of forty years of age, had no previous literary experience. He was like to have at least this one poem published. Therefore he sent it to the Atlantic Monthly in Boston.

quiver,
Asleep are the ranks of the Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the judgment day;
Under the one the Blue,
Under the other the Gray.

THE APPLE.

The Crab, or Wild Apple, is in almost every country of Europe America. Its flowers are white, with pink, and grow in such profusion that the young leaves are hidden among them, and the tree appears to be made of blossom. The fruit is common crab-apple.

[illegible]

Maandooms should never be taken away when not needed, as they must be crushed and used to flavor custards, puddings and ice cream.

AT REST

"I expect they give 'em a baby to take care of."

FASHION'S FANCIES

9104. A GOOD HOUSEWORK APRON.

Ladies One Piece Apron (with Pocket) arranged for High or Low Neck. It is much easier to slip on an apron when busy at home than to take out spots on one's skirts and waists. A very practical easily made and comfortable to wear apron here shown. It is closed at the center back and seamed together at the shoulders. The work of sewing on this design does not require much skill or time and the result is pleasing and most satisfactory. The apron may be finished with high neck edge or low "V" opening as illustrated. The pattern is cut in 3 sizes: Small, Medium and Large. It requires 3.5 yards of 36 inch material for the medium size. A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

SPRING MILLINERY.

Never have hats been brighter than they are this spring time, when bouquets of flowers of all kinds are blowing on soft, new, straw, silk, and gauze. For shading favor with straw, hats, both black and colored, are what are known as "material hats." These are of plain and fancy silks, velvets, and gauzes, stretched over blocked foundations, very pretty being a hat of china silk veiled with black gauze, trimmed with a knot of many colored roses taking up the base of the fancy silk beneath. Numerous models of the new season millinery are made with black straw hats and crowns of bright colored straw, and another leading fancy is the hat with crown entirely of flowers. This idea concerns toques as well as the larger headwear. While large hats are everywhere,

It is noticeable also that small hats have come back to fashion, and very chic are the new close fitting helmet models, trimmed simply with one uncurled fantasia plume.

Gold and silver tissues are being made into hats for exclusive wear, and the trimmings of antique gold are very stunning.

Every ornament for evening wear is characterized by the pendant, long, long, slender and of a delicate pattern.

The new legerle waists are trimmed with furs, set up high in the waist and giving the effect of a collar.

DAINTY WORK FOR NIMBLE FINGERS.

Use a flat, single tone for these patterns. The monochrome, red, blue, purple or lilac are used, have a color to harmonize. Brick red, seal brown, teal green, deep purple, white or black may be used. Brown is really the best. Make your dye according to descriptions, dilute with gasoline. Soften the brush with lukewarm water. Apply color evenly, keeping the brush free from moisture. These patterns can be applied to portieres and couch covers.

9105. A CHARMING DESIGN.

Ladies' Waist with Chemise, and with or without Revers Collar. Blue and white striped mesaline silk with green net and green taffeta was used for this model. The model has a set in sleeve, and shaped revers, that extends in collar fashion over the back and left front. The design is suitable for silk and cloth. The pattern is cut in 3 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. It requires 3 1/2 yards of 27 inch material for the medium size. A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

Address all orders to
PATTERN DEPARTMENT
607-609 Sanson Street
PHILADELPHIA

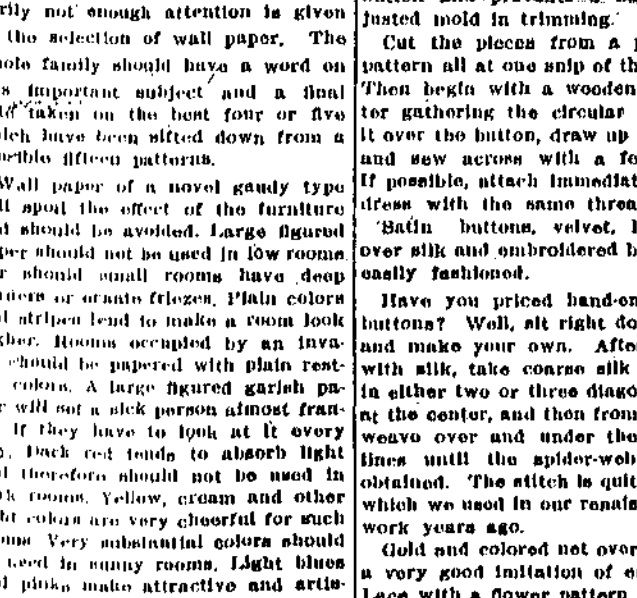

9153. AN ATTRACTIVE PRACTICAL WORK APRON.

For the studio or kitchen, for all household or other duties under which one requires protection for the dress, this model will be found convenient and effective. The left portion extends over the back to the belt, and the skirt portion is full, gingham, chambray, lawn or alpaca may be used for this model. The pattern is cut in three sizes: small, medium and large. It requires 3 1/2 yards of 36 inch material for the medium size. A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

HINTS ON SELECTING WALL PAPER.

As spring approaches housecleaning and wall papering must be considered. Although selecting suitable wall paper is largely a matter of personal taste, many owners of homes make mistakes, but there are certain rules which should not be overlooked. First, the paper should be selected with care, and attention given to the selection of wall paper. The whole family should have a word on this important subject and a final vote taken on the best four or five which have been selected from a possible fifteen patterns.

Wall paper of a novel gaudy type will not do the effect of the furniture and should be avoided. Large floral paper should not be used in low rooms, nor should small rooms have deep blue or orange tints. Plain colors and stripes lead to make a room look brighter. Rooms occupied by an invalid should be papered with plain restful colors. A large figured garish paper will not suit a sick person almost anywhere. If they have to look at it every day, back rest to absorb light and therefore should not be used in sick rooms. Yellow, cream and white light colors are very cheerful for such rooms. Very attractive and artistic color combinations should be used in the room, but fade so easily that they are very expensive. A plain black and white is the desired whole picture as to be hung. Many people build up their own grades of delicate paper which is very expensive and of adult design. As in every thing, style is wall paper also mostly matters of business. One can usually purchase paper of a year-old design at a great reduction in price, and it is obtained in its selection results will be just as satisfactory as if the latest patterns were chosen.

9171. A SIMPLE, COMFORTABLE, NEOLIGEE.

Ladies' Dressing or House Rock, with Long or Shorter Sleeve. The dress is blue and white with facings of white tulle in the bodice. The design is also appropriate for lawn, cotton, crepe, silk, gauze, muslin, or tulle. The pattern is cut in 3 sizes: 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. It requires 2 1/2 yards of 36 inch material for the medium size. A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

KITCHEN WISDOM.

A cheerful cook makes a fine dessert.

Stir a smile into the pudding.

"I forgot" spoiled the broth.

Flavor the salad with the oil of loving kindness.

Plain cooking, handsome children.

Good service is half the dinner.

Guests and ruin the cake.

Cleanliness is godliness. Nature is clean.

A merry heart makes light pastry.

Clear hands and white bread.

Order, cleanliness and know how these three and the greatest of these is know how.

The hand that stirs the batter rules the world.

Cooking is an exact science that often gets sidetracked.

It was work, work, work, from morning till night. Old Carlotti was a real housewife, and his mother was a real housewife. He'd flare up in a rage for the least thing, and his arms about and about yards of stuff at you in his own language that no decent person understood.

He'd always fix his little black, beady eyes on you. If you came into the kitchen, he'd stand in your way, and if you went slow he'd row you something horrible. His face got on my nerves from the very start, but I was a girl, and you know, to push your fat up against, only you were afraid of him. Your job it did do so.

One day I was surprised. "Twain!" often I was paid compliments on my "waiter" at table. A gentleman came in—cut above the usual sort we got at Carlotti's. I looked at him, and he was a real housewife. He'd flare up in a rage for the least thing, and his arms about and about yards of stuff at you in his own language that no decent person understood.

He'd always fix his little black, beady eyes on you. If you came into the kitchen, he'd stand in your way, and if you went slow he'd row you something horrible. His face got on my nerves from the very start, but I was a girl, and you know, to push your fat up against, only you were afraid of him. Your job it did do so.

One day I was surprised. "Twain!" often I was paid compliments on my "waiter" at table. A gentleman came in—cut above the usual sort we got at Carlotti's. I looked at him, and he was a real housewife. He'd flare up in a rage for the least thing, and his arms about and about yards of stuff at you in his own language that no decent person understood.

He'd always fix his little black, beady eyes on you. If you came into the kitchen, he'd stand in your way, and if you went slow he'd row you something horrible. His face got on my nerves from the very start, but I was a girl, and you know, to push your fat up against, only you were afraid of him. Your job it did do so.

One day I was surprised. "Twain!" often I was paid compliments on my "waiter" at table. A gentleman came in—cut above the usual sort we got at Carlotti's. I looked at him, and he was a real housewife. He'd flare up in a rage for the least thing, and his arms about and about yards of stuff at you in his own language that no decent person understood.

He'd always fix his little black, beady eyes on you. If you came into the kitchen, he'd stand in your way, and if you went slow he'd row you something horrible. His face got on my nerves from the very start, but I was a girl, and you know, to push your fat up against, only you were afraid of him. Your job it did do so.

One day I was surprised. "Twain!" often I was paid compliments on my "waiter" at table. A gentleman came in—cut above the usual sort we got at Carlotti's. I looked at him, and he was a real housewife. He'd flare up in a rage for the least thing, and his arms about and about yards of stuff at you in his own language that no decent person understood.

He'd always fix his little black, beady eyes on you. If you came into the kitchen, he'd stand in your way, and if you went slow he'd row you something horrible. His face got on my nerves from the very start, but I was a girl, and you know, to push your fat up against, only you were afraid of him. Your job it did do so.

One day I was surprised. "Twain!" often I was paid compliments on my "waiter" at table. A gentleman came in—cut above the usual sort we got at Carlotti's. I looked at him, and he was a real housewife. He'd flare up in a rage for the least thing, and his arms about and about yards of stuff at you in his own language that no decent person understood.

He'd always fix his little black, beady eyes on you. If you came into the kitchen, he'd stand in your way, and if you went slow he'd row you something horrible. His face got on my nerves from the very start, but I was a girl, and you know, to push your fat up against, only you were afraid of him. Your job it did do so.

One day I was surprised. "Twain!" often I was paid compliments on my "waiter" at table. A gentleman came in—cut above the usual sort we got at Carlotti's. I looked at him, and he was a real housewife. He'd flare up in a rage for the least thing, and his arms about and about yards of stuff at you in his own language that no decent person understood.

He'd always fix his little black, beady eyes on you. If you came into the kitchen, he'd stand in your way, and if you went slow he'd row you something horrible. His face got on my nerves from the very start, but I was a girl, and you know, to push your fat up against, only you were afraid of him. Your job it did do so.

One day I was surprised. "Twain!" often I was paid compliments on my "waiter" at table. A gentleman came in—cut above the usual sort we got at Carlotti's. I looked at him, and he was a real housewife. He'd flare up in a rage for the least thing, and his arms about and about yards of stuff at you in his own language that no decent person understood.

He'd always fix his little black, beady eyes on you. If you came into the kitchen, he'd stand in your way, and if you went slow he'd row you something horrible. His face got on my nerves from the very start, but I was a girl, and you know, to push your fat up against, only you were afraid of him. Your job it did do so.

One day I was surprised. "Twain!" often I was paid compliments on my "waiter" at table. A gentleman came in—cut above the usual sort we got at Carlotti's. I looked at him, and he was a real housewife. He'd flare up in a rage for the least thing, and his arms about and about yards of stuff at you in his own language that no decent person understood.

He'd always fix his little black, beady eyes on you. If you came into the kitchen, he'd stand in your way, and if you went slow he'd row you something horrible. His face got on my nerves from the very start, but I was a girl, and you know, to push your fat up against, only you were afraid of him. Your job it did do so.

One day I was surprised. "Twain!" often I was paid compliments on my "waiter" at table. A gentleman came in—cut above the usual sort we got at Carlotti's. I looked at him, and he was a real housewife. He'd flare up in a rage for the least thing, and his arms about and about yards of stuff at you in his own language that no decent person understood.

He'd always fix his little black, beady eyes on you. If you came into the kitchen, he'd stand in your way, and if you went slow he'd row you something horrible. His face got on my nerves from the very start, but I was a girl, and you know, to push your fat up against, only you were afraid of him. Your job it did do so.

One day I was surprised. "Twain!" often I was paid compliments on my "waiter" at table. A gentleman came in—cut above the usual sort we got at Carlotti's. I looked at him, and he was a real housewife. He'd flare up in a rage for the least thing, and his arms about and about yards of stuff at you in his own language that no decent person understood.

He'd always fix his little black, beady eyes on you. If you came into the kitchen, he'd stand in your way, and if you went slow he'd row you something horrible. His face got on my nerves from the very start, but I was a girl, and you know, to push your fat up against, only you were afraid of him. Your job it did do so.

One day I was surprised. "Twain!" often I was paid compliments on my "waiter" at table. A gentleman came in—cut above the usual sort we got at Carlotti's. I looked at him, and he was a real housewife. He'd flare up in a rage for the least thing, and his arms about and about yards of stuff at you in his own language that no decent person understood.

He'd always fix his little black, beady eyes on you. If you came into the kitchen, he'd stand in your way, and if you went slow he'd row you something horrible. His face got on my nerves from the very start, but I was a girl, and you know, to push your fat up against, only you were afraid of him. Your job it did do so.

One day I was surprised. "Twain!" often I was paid compliments on my "waiter" at table. A gentleman came in—cut above the usual sort we got at Carlotti's. I looked at him, and he was a real housewife. He'd flare up in a rage for the least thing, and his arms about and about yards of stuff at you in his own language that no decent person understood.

He'd always fix his little black, beady eyes on you. If you came into the kitchen, he'd stand in your way, and if you went slow he'd row you something horrible. His face got on my nerves from the very start, but I was a girl, and you know, to push your fat up against, only you were afraid of him. Your job it did do so.

One day I was surprised. "Twain!" often I was paid compliments on my "waiter" at table. A gentleman came in—cut above the usual sort we got at Carlotti's. I looked at him, and he was a real housewife. He'd flare up in a rage for the least thing, and his arms about and about yards of stuff at you in his own language that no decent person understood.

He'd always fix his little black, beady eyes on you. If you came into the kitchen, he'd stand in your way, and if you went slow he'd row you something horrible. His face got on my nerves from the very start, but I was a girl, and you know, to push your fat up against, only you were afraid of him. Your job it did do so.

One day I was surprised. "Twain!" often I was paid compliments on my "waiter" at table. A gentleman came in—cut above the usual sort we got at Carlotti's. I looked at him, and he was a real housewife. He'd flare up in a rage for the least thing, and his arms about and about yards of stuff at you in his own language that no decent person understood.

He'd always fix his little black, beady eyes on you. If you came into the kitchen, he'd stand in your way, and if you went slow he'd row you something horrible. His face got on my nerves from the very start, but I was a girl, and you know, to push your fat up against, only you were afraid of him. Your job it did do so.

One day I was surprised. "Twain!" often I was paid compliments on my "waiter" at table. A gentleman came in—cut above the usual sort we got at Carlotti's. I looked at him, and he was a real housewife. He'd flare up in a rage for the least thing, and his arms about and about yards of stuff at you in his own language that no decent person understood.

He'd always fix his little black, beady eyes on you. If you came into the kitchen, he'd stand in your way, and if you went slow he'd row you something horrible. His face got on my nerves from the very start, but I was a girl, and you know, to push your fat up against, only you were afraid of him. Your job it did do so.

One day I was surprised. "Twain!" often I was paid compliments on my "waiter" at table. A gentleman came in—cut above the usual sort we got at Carlotti's. I looked at him, and he was a real housewife. He'd flare up in a rage for the least thing, and his arms about and about yards of stuff at you in his own language that no decent person understood.

He'd always fix his little black, beady eyes on you. If you came into the kitchen, he'd stand in your way, and if you went slow he'd row you something horrible. His face got on my nerves from the very start, but I was a girl, and you know, to push your fat up against, only you were afraid of him. Your job it did do so.

One day I was surprised. "Twain!" often I was paid compliments on my "waiter" at table. A gentleman came in—cut above the usual sort we got at Carlotti's. I looked at him, and he was a real housewife. He'd flare up in a rage for the least thing, and his arms about and about yards of stuff at you in his own language that no decent person understood.

He'd always fix his little black, beady eyes on you. If you came into the kitchen, he'd stand in your way, and if you went slow he'd row you something horrible. His face got on my nerves from the very start, but I was a girl, and you know, to push your fat up against, only you were afraid of him. Your job it did do so.

One day I was surprised. "Twain!" often I was paid compliments on my "waiter" at table. A gentleman came in—cut above the usual sort we got at Carlotti's. I looked at him, and he was a real housewife. He'd flare up in a rage for the least thing, and his arms about and about yards of stuff at you in his own language that no decent person understood.

He'd always fix his little black, beady eyes on you. If you came into the kitchen, he'd stand in your way, and if you went slow he'd row you something horrible. His face got on my nerves from the very start, but I was a girl, and you know, to push your fat up against, only you were afraid of him. Your job it did do so.

One day I was surprised. "Twain!" often I was paid compliments on my "waiter" at table. A gentleman came in—cut above the usual sort we got at Carlotti's. I looked at him, and he was a real housewife. He'd flare up in a rage for the least thing, and his arms about and about yards of stuff at you in his own language that no decent person understood.

He'd always fix his little black, beady eyes on you. If you came into the kitchen, he'd stand in your way, and if you went slow he'd row you something horrible. His face got on my nerves from the very start, but I was a girl, and you know, to push your fat up against, only you were afraid of him. Your job it did do so.

One day I was surprised. "Twain!" often I was paid compliments on my "waiter" at table. A gentleman came in—cut above the usual sort we got at Carlotti's. I looked at him, and he was a real housewife. He'd flare up in a rage for the least thing, and his arms about and about yards of stuff at you in his own language that no decent person understood.

He'd always fix his little black, beady eyes on you. If you came into the kitchen, he'd stand in your way, and if you went slow he'd row you something horrible. His face got on my nerves from the very start, but I was a girl, and you know, to push your fat up against, only you were afraid of him. Your job it did do so.

One day I was surprised. "Twain!" often I was paid compliments on my "waiter" at table. A gentleman came in—cut above the usual sort we got at Carlotti's. I looked at him, and he was a real housewife. He'd flare up in a rage for the least thing, and his arms about and about yards of stuff at you in his own language that no decent person understood.

He'd always fix his little black, beady eyes on you. If you came into the kitchen, he'd stand in your way, and if you went slow he'd row you something horrible. His face got on my nerves from the very start, but I was a girl, and you know, to push your fat up against, only you were afraid of him. Your job it did do so.

One day I was surprised. "Twain!" often I was paid compliments on my "waiter" at table. A gentleman came in—cut above the usual sort we got at Carlotti's. I looked at him, and he was a real housewife. He'd flare up in a rage for the least thing, and his arms about and about yards of stuff at you in his own language that no decent person understood.

He'd always fix his little black, beady eyes on you. If you came into the kitchen, he'd stand in your way, and if you went slow he'd row you something horrible. His face got on my nerves from the very start, but I was a girl, and you know, to push your fat up against, only you were afraid of him. Your job it did do so.

One day I was surprised. "Twain!" often I was paid compliments on my "waiter" at table. A gentleman came in—cut above the usual sort we got at Carlotti's. I looked at him, and he was a real housewife. He'd flare up in a rage for the least thing, and his arms about and about yards of stuff at you in his own language that no decent person understood.

He'd always fix his little black, beady eyes on you. If you came into the kitchen, he'd stand in your way, and if you went slow he'd row you something horrible. His face got on my nerves from the very start, but I was a girl, and you know, to push your fat up against, only you were afraid of him. Your job it did do so.

One day I was surprised. "Twain!" often I was paid compliments on my "waiter" at table. A gentleman came in—cut above the usual sort we got at Carlotti's. I looked at him, and he was a real housewife. He'd flare up in a rage for the least thing, and his arms about and about yards of stuff at you in his own language that no decent person understood.

He'd always fix his little black, beady eyes on you. If you came into the kitchen, he'd stand in your way, and if you went slow he'd row you something horrible. His face got on my nerves from the very start, but I was a girl, and you know, to push your fat up against, only you were afraid of him. Your job it did do so.

One day I was surprised. "Twain!" often I was paid compliments on my "waiter" at table. A gentleman came in—cut above the usual sort we got at Carlotti's. I looked at him, and he was a real housewife. He'd flare up in a rage for the least thing, and his arms about and about yards of stuff at you in his own language that no decent person understood.

He'd always fix his little black, beady eyes on you. If you came into the kitchen, he'd stand in your way, and if you went slow he'd row you something horrible. His face got on my nerves from the very start, but I was a girl, and you know, to push your fat up against, only you were afraid of him. Your job it did do so.

One day I was surprised. "Twain!" often I was paid compliments on my "waiter" at table. A gentleman came in—cut above the usual sort we got at Carlotti's. I looked at him, and he was a real housewife. He'd flare up in a rage for the least thing, and his arms about and about yards of stuff at you in his own language that no decent person understood.

He'd always fix his little black, beady eyes on you. If you came into the kitchen, he'd stand in your way, and if you went slow he'd row you something horrible. His face got on my nerves from the very start, but I was a girl, and you know, to push your fat up against, only you were afraid of him. Your job it did do so.

One day I was surprised. "Twain!" often I was paid compliments on my "waiter" at table. A gentleman came in—cut above the usual sort we got at Carlotti's. I looked at him, and he was a real housewife. He'd flare up in a rage for the least thing, and his arms about and about yards of stuff at you in his own language that no decent person understood.

He'd always fix his little black, beady eyes on you. If you came into the kitchen, he'd stand in your way, and if you went slow he'd row you something horrible. His face got on my nerves from the very start, but I was a girl, and you know, to push your fat up against, only you were afraid of him. Your job it did do so.

One day I was surprised. "Twain!" often I was paid compliments on my "waiter" at table. A gentleman came in—cut above the usual sort we got at Carlotti's. I looked at him, and he was a real housewife. He'd flare up in a rage for the least thing, and his arms about and about yards of stuff at you in his own language that no decent person understood.

He'd always fix his little black, beady eyes on you. If you came into the kitchen, he'd stand in your way, and if you went slow he'd row you something horrible. His face got on my nerves from the very start, but I was a girl, and you know, to push your fat up against, only you were afraid of him. Your job it did do so.

One day I was surprised. "Twain!" often I was paid compliments on my "waiter" at table. A gentleman came in—cut above the usual sort we got at Carlotti's. I looked at him, and he was a real housewife. He'd flare up in a rage for the least thing, and his arms about and about yards of stuff at you in his own language that no decent person understood.

He'd always fix his little black, beady eyes on you. If you came into the kitchen, he'd stand in your way, and if you went slow he'd row you something horrible. His face got on my nerves from the very start, but I was a girl, and you know, to push your fat up against, only you were afraid of him. Your job it did do so.

One day I was surprised. "Twain!" often I was paid compliments on my "waiter" at table. A gentleman came in—cut above the usual sort we got at Carlotti's. I looked at him, and he was a real housewife. He'd flare up in a rage for the least thing, and his arms about and about yards of stuff at you in his own language that no decent person understood.

He'd always fix his little black, beady eyes on you. If you came into the kitchen, he'd stand in your way, and if you went slow he'd row you something horrible. His face got on my nerves from the very start, but I was a girl, and you know, to push your fat up against, only you were afraid of him. Your job it did do so.

One day I was surprised. "Twain!" often I was paid compliments on my "waiter" at table. A gentleman came in—cut above the usual sort we got at Carlotti's. I looked at him, and he was a real housewife. He'd flare up in a rage for the least thing, and his arms about and about yards of stuff at you in his own language that no decent person understood.

He'd always fix his little black, beady eyes on you. If you came into the kitchen, he'd stand in your way, and if you went slow he'd row you something horrible. His face got on my nerves from the very start, but I was a girl, and you know, to push your fat up against, only you were afraid of him. Your job it did do so.

One day I was surprised. "Twain!" often I was paid compliments on my "waiter" at table. A gentleman came in—cut above the usual sort we got at Carlotti's. I looked at him, and he was a real housewife. He'd flare up in a rage for the least thing, and his arms about and about yards of stuff at you in his own language that no decent person understood.

He'd always fix his little black, beady eyes on you. If you came into the kitchen, he'd stand in your way, and if you went slow he'd row you something horrible. His face got on my nerves from the very start, but I was a girl, and you know, to push your fat up against, only you were afraid of him. Your job it did do so.

One day I was surprised. "Twain!" often I was paid compliments on my "waiter" at table. A gentleman came in—cut above the usual sort we got at Carlotti's. I looked at him, and he was a real housewife. He'd flare up in a rage for the least thing, and his arms about and about yards of stuff at you in his own language that no decent person understood.

He'd always fix his little black, beady eyes on you. If you came into the kitchen, he'd stand in your way, and if you went slow he'd row you something horrible. His face got on my nerves from the very start, but I was a girl, and you know, to push your fat up against, only you were afraid of him. Your job it did do so.

One day I was surprised. "Twain!" often I was paid compliments on my "waiter" at table. A gentleman came in—cut above the usual sort we got at Carlotti's. I looked at him, and he was a real housewife. He'd flare up in a rage for the least thing, and his arms about and about yards of stuff at you in his own language that no decent person understood.

He'd always fix his little black, beady eyes on you. If you came into the kitchen, he'd stand in your way, and if you went slow he'd row you something horrible. His face got on my nerves from the very start, but I was a girl, and you know, to push your fat up against, only you were afraid of him. Your job it did do so.

One day I was surprised. "Twain!" often I was paid compliments on my "waiter" at table. A gentleman came in—cut above the usual sort we got at Carlotti's. I looked at him, and he was a real housewife. He'd flare up in a rage for the least thing, and his arms about and about yards of stuff at you in his own language that no decent person understood.

He'd always fix his little black, beady eyes on you. If you came into the kitchen, he'd stand in your way, and if you went slow he'd row you something horrible. His face got on my nerves from the very start, but I was a girl, and you know, to push your fat up against, only you were afraid of him. Your job it did do so.

One day I was surprised. "Twain!" often I was paid compliments on my "waiter" at table. A gentleman came in—cut above the usual sort we got at Carlotti's. I looked at him, and he was a real housewife. He'd flare up in a rage for the least thing, and his arms about and about yards of stuff at you in his own language that no decent person understood.

9221. A SIMPLE EFFECTIVE DRESS FOR AFTERNOON OR HOME WEAR.

White cotton corduroy was used for this model with trimming of stitching and buttons. The waist closes at the side under the plait and may be finished with high or low neck and long or shorter sleeve. The skirt has shaped pieces over the hips, that are lengthened by short plaited sections. The waist pattern 9221 is cut in 3 sizes: 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. The skirt in 3 sizes: 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches waist measure. It requires 7 yards of 27 inch material for the entire dress for a medium size.

WINDOW CURTAINS.

Two kinds of curtains at a window are not by any means a necessity, but in almost all cases such an arrangement is extremely attractive. Says the Ladies' Home Journal. Curtains of silk, linen, crepe or madras provide the note of color that is desired in the scheme of decoration in the room, and as a rule supply adequate window furnishings; but thin curtains of net, scrim or muslin next to the panes are always a charming addition and have the added value of preserving uniformity in the appearance of the windows from without. In cases where curtains of scrim or muslin are all that is required for the decoration of a room such curtains should not be used.

The Peoples Bank OF Hammonton, N. J.

Capital, $50,000
Surplus and Undivided
Profits, . . $50,000

Three per cent interest paid on time Deposits.
Two pr. ct. interest allowed on demand accounts having daily balance of $1000 or more.

Safe Deposit Boxes for Rent

M. L. JACKSON, President.
W. J. SMITH, Vice-Pres't.
W. R. TILTON, Cashier.

DIRECTORS

M. L. Jackson J. A. Waas
C. F. Osgood George Elvins
Wm. J. Smith J. C. Anderson
Sam'l Anderson W. R. Tilton
Wm. L. Black

W. H. Bernshouse Fire Insurance

Strongest Companies
Lowest Rates
Conveyancing,
Notary Public,
Commissioner of Deeds.
Hammonton.

John Prash, Jr., Funeral Director and Embalmer

Twelfth St., between railroads.
Local Phone 901. Bell 47-2
Hammonton, N. J.

Walter J. Vernier Sanitary Plumb'r and Gas Fitting Contractor

Local Phone 615

DO YOU NOT KNOW?

If you do not, you can find out by a very little investigation that

The Hammonton Paint

Is the very best paint
that was ever used in Hammonton.
There are scores of buildings that you see every day, painted with the Hammonton Paint eight to twelve years ago, and looking well at the present time.
The Hammonton Paint is sold for less than any other first-class paint. It has no equal, as it works well, covers well, and wears well. Sold by

JOS. I. TAYLOR
House, Sign and Carriage Painter,
Second and Pleasant Sts.,
Hammonton, N. J.

Lakeview GREEN- HOUSE

Central Ave., Hammonton, N. J.

Large assortment of Palms, Ferns, House Plants,
Cut Flowers. Funeral Designs
in Fresh Flowers, Wax, or Metal.

WATKIS & NICHOLSON,
Florists and Landscape Gardeners.
Phone 1-W

"Insight Into Eyesight"

Your Eyes are
Your Most Valuable Possession
Do You Value Them?

J. R. HUNTER
Eye Specialist
214 Market Street
Philadelphia

We have a most excellent clinic in booklet form, for clearing vision.
A postal to Department T will bring you one.

A BOYS' BAND

Plays the Masterpieces of All Countries.

From thirteen to twenty—that is the range of age in Signor Salvatore Ciricillo's Italian Band. From this state-

Wagner, Flotow, Verdi, Donizetti, Bizet, Mascagni, Weber, Gounod, Herbert and Cohan. Every style, you see; classical and popular; from grave to gay, to lively to severe.

This is the sixth year that Signor Ciricillo has conducted this band, and it is now at its highest degree of efficiency. The most interesting member of the organization is probably the smallest boy in it—Angelo Vitale—

ment we except Signor Ciricillo himself, and his nine-year-old understudy, Angelo Vitale. Ciricillo has trained his organization up to a remarkable degree of perfection for any age. And they are all mere boys, twenty-five of them. Their dash, spirit and precision, coupled with an irresistible rhythm, are the most distinguishing features of the organization.

An astonishing variety of selections are rendered by the band, some of the who directs the band during a part of each concert. He is only nine now, but for two years has been flourishing a baton with the ease of a director of many times his years. Such overtures as Rossini's "William Tell" and Wagner's "Tannhauser" are "aunts to him."

Most interesting features of the program are the brass sextette and quartette, directed by this precocious young gentleman, in quite the style of Ciricillo himself.

A Sunday well spent
Brings a week of content,
And rest for the toil of the morrow;
But a Sunday profaned,
What e'er may be gained,
Is a sure fore-runner of sorrow.

99

Reasons

Why it pays to build of Concrete
First, it lasts; Second, it satisfies
Third, it is modern;

The other ninety six reasons you will find if you will examine a house of this kind, or if you will call on the

Hammonton Concrete Co.

Miss BERTHA TWOMEY
Notary Public
Com. of Deeds

Business in these lines properly and promptly attended to.
Bernshouse's office, Hammonton

The Hammont'n Telephone

Gives Best Service
and
Is the Cheapest!

A. J. RIDER,
President and Manager.
Office in Odd Fellows Building.

"If It's Quality You Want"

Ask your Dealer for Peerless
POULTRY FEEDS
Highest Grade on the Market.

A Guber's Guarantee

Ready-to-Wear Suit
Will Look Well,
Wear Well,
And Fit Perfect!
No matter how the prices are. Prices ranging from $10 to $18.

Our Tailoring Department

We have the best assortment in the latest fabrics, and we are making suits to order from $18 and up.
WE GUARANTEE every garment we sell.
All men's clothing bought or made here will be pressed free of charge.

CHARLES GUBER

Olothier and Tailor, Hammonton

License Applications.

The undersigned, at least six citizens and freeholders of the Town of Hammonton, do hereby recommend:
Charles Fox to be granted a license to conduct a wholesale bottling business on his premises; and do certify that he is of good reputation for honesty and temperance.
Dated April 20, 1912. Signed:
James Pinto, Middle Road
Peter J. Heck, Egg Harbor Road
John G. Smith, Twelfth St.
Joe Campiglia,
Frank Jacobs, Main Road
Sullivan Viduarandi, Washington St.
Antonio Capucio, Pratt St.
Joseph Spinello, Grand St.
Conline Tomasco, First Road
Pasquale Valerio, Passmore Ave.
John G. Smith, Twelfth St.
Tony Lenered, Grape St.
Rafaelo Ragusa, Chew Rd.
Joe Pinto, Second St.

Application of Joseph Campiglia for license to keep inn and tavern at Hotel Union, twelve citizens endorsing. Date, April 23, 1912.
Herbert P. Hill, Peach Street
Joseph Pinto, Second St.
Antonio LaFont, Thirteenth St.
Mates G. Gile, Thirteenth St.
Samuel R. Holland, Grand & Orchard
Frank Pina, Thirteenth St.
Giovanni R. Ordine, Thirteenth St.
Pietro Tomascio,
Pado Cal.
Domenico DelRossi, Washington St.
E. Bruno, Thirteenth St.
Louis Rose,
Giovanni Giacobbe, First Road
Santino Tomascio, 15th & Chew Rd.
Bernardo Fazio.

Like application from John G. Smith, at Hotel Columbia, bearing date of April 23, 1912,
and signed as follows:
J. V. Baker, French St.
Chris. Rehmann, Eleventh St.
Wm. H. Murphy, Twelfth St.
F. W. Cotting, Line St.
P. A. Colasurdo, Orchard St.
Horace B. Vassello, N. 3rd St.
Albert J. Rehman, 11th & 2nd Road
Conrad J. Snyder, DeCosta (8th St.)
H. C. Brown, First Road
Adam Heller, Eleventh St.
Santino Tomascio, Main Road
Victor Santoro, 8th St. Rd.
Joseph Roth, Washington St.
Jed. Friedler, 11th Street
William Orloff, Washington

Transfer application from Frank Jacobs, of Fairview Inn, to Francesco Grandinetti, dated April 23rd, 1912, and endorsed by the following:
Antonio M. Capucio, Main Road
D. Campanella, Main Road
Pasquale Petricca, Bush Rd.
Santo D'Agostino, Main Rd.
A. T. D'Agostino, Main Rd.
R. Delmarco, Pine Rd.
G. Delmarco,
Antonio Phila, Fairview Ave.
Antonio Berenato, Main Rd.
Salvatore Berenato, Fairview Ave.
Domenico Scioce,
Antonio D'Agostino, Fairview Ave.
S. G. D'Agostino,
A. Campanella, Middle Road
Frank Tomascio, Pine Road
John L. Luca,
N. Tomascio,
P. J. Capelli,
Pietro Rizzotti,
Antonio Tomascio, Fairview Ave.
Pioello Luca, Main Rd.
Joe Tomascio,
P. T. Ranere.

License Committee will meet in Town Council Room on Wednesday evening, June 6, 1912, to hear protests, remonstrances, or recommendations on above applications.
ANTON FIEZ, Chairman.

NOTICE.

Pursuant to a resolution of the Council of the Borough of Folsom, in the County of Atlantic and State of New Jersey, adopted at a regular meeting held on the 7th day of May, A.D. 1912, of which the following is a true copy:

Whereas, The Delaware and Atlantic Telegraph and Telephone Company, on the 7th day of May, A.D. 1912, filed with and presented to the Council of the Borough of Folsom, in the County of Atlantic and State of New Jersey, a petition of which the following is a true copy:

"The petition of the Delaware and Atlantic Telegraph & Telephone Company respectfully shows and avers—

1. That your petitioner is a corporation under the laws of the State of New Jersey, and possesses the power to erect,
construct, lay and maintain poles, wires,
cables, cross-arms, conduits, manholes and other fixtures and appliances for its lines in, upon, along, over and under any of the public roads, streets and highways of the State of New Jersey.

2. Your petitioner desires that the consent of the Council of the Borough of Folsom, in the County of Atlantic, be granted to erect, construct, lay and maintain all necessary poles, wires, cables cross arms, conduits, manholes and other fixtures and appliances for its lines in, upon, along, over and under each and every of the public roads, streets, alleys and highways within the limits of the Borough of Folsom, for the conduct of its business in accordance with the statute in such case made and provided.

3. The period for which such consent is asked is fifty (50) years.

4. The use desired of such public roads, streets, alleys and highways is to erect,
construct, lay and maintain therein all necessary poles, wires, cables, and cross-arms, conduits, manholes and other fixtures and appliances according to plans showing the location, number and size of such fixtures and apparatus to be approved as may be provided in the consent given pursuant to this petition, including the operation thereof by your petitioner in the conduct of its telephone and telegraph business.

5. It is desired that the consent applied for, as aforesaid, shall confer the right to use said roads, streets, alleys and highways both above, below, and on the surface thereof.

6. Consent is applied for to use each and every of the public roads, streets, alleys and highways within the limits of the Borough of Folsom.

And your petitioner will ever pray, etc.
Dated this 1st day of April, A.D., 1912.

Therefore, be it Resolved, That the 4th day of June, A.D. 1912, at 8:30 o'clock p.m., at the Borough Hall, be and the same are hereby designated as the time and place for the consideration of said application by said Council of the Borough of Folsom aforesaid.

And be it further Resolved, That notice of the time and place fixed for the consideration of said application be given by publication in the "South Jersey Republican," a newspaper printed in the said County of Atlantic and circulated in the Borough of Folsom, once a week for at least two weeks, and by posting said notice in five (5) of the most public places in the said Borough of Folsom, at least fourteen (14) days before the meeting of said Council at which application will be considered.

Notice is hereby given that a meeting of the Council of the Borough of Folsom aforesaid will be held at the Borough Hall in the Borough of Folsom, New Jersey, on the 4th day of June A.D. 1912, at 8:30 o'clock P.M., to consider the application of the Delaware and Atlantic Telegraph and Telephone Company as specified in the said application.

JNO. C. RAY, Borough Clerk.

Yesterday to-day to-morrow
and every day

Your property depreciates in value unless protected by a quality paint. Such a paint has a hard, smooth surface, keeping out the moisture and is a perfect armor against Nature's assaults. It is elastic—expanding and contracting with heat and cold, thus avoiding cracking, peeling and scaling.

A good paint has beauty of color. It does not fade quickly.
It proves the poet's saying, "A thing of beauty is a joy forever."

Lucas
TINTED GLOSS
PAINT

ONCE USED—ALWAYS PREFERRED

is an exponent of the "good paint" doctrine. Every known science, plus 62 years manufacturing skill, gives you a paint that is absolutely right as a protector and a beautifier. The Lucas reputation for quality is back of every can.

ASK ABOUT IT

Sold at Elvins' Store

BEAUTIFY YOUR HOMES WITH

Cyclone Galvanized Ornamental Fence And GATES.

Specially made—fully guaranteed—durable, cheaper than wood.

All sizes and styles. See samples at my office.

JOS. R. IMHOFF - Hammonton.

Start Right

The Commencement Day of Comfort is the first day in Crossett Shoes.

Spunky buttoned shapes with high heels and toes for young men. Conservative designs for older ones. Fit from the try-on.

Crossett Shoe

"MAKES LIFE'S WALK EASY"
TRADE MARK
$4 to $6 everywhere Lewis A. Crossett, Inc., Makers
North Abington, Mass.

For sale at

MONFORT'S SHOE STORE

Hammonton - - - N. J.