NO. 23

At St. Mark's Church—Trinity Sunday. Holy Communion at 7.30; second celebration and sermon at 10.30. Sunday School at 11.45. Eve's Prayer and sermon at 7.30. Friday evening at 7.30.

Mr. A. W. Nowers, connected with the Boston & Maine R. R., of Boston, Mass., and Mrs. J. Guild, of Stonington, have been welcome visitors at the home of their sister, Mrs. C. Garcelon, this week.

A. J. Smith, Ocean City, was here on Memorial Day. With him were his daughter, Mrs. Frank Huss and her daughter; Elzathan H. Smith and two sons; and Herbert R. Smith and a friend.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Newton expect to start next week for Tacoma, Wash., where their son, Willis, and a daughter, Mrs. John C. Trafford, are living. Having resided in Hammonton since 1865, always highly esteemed, we regret the town's loss.

One of our doctors is attending the following recent injuries: Peter T. Ranero, two bones in left hand broken; Pete Bicardi, fractured knee; Paul Rosenbaum, four fingers nearly severed by buzz saw; Tony Petalli, Cillibitile, injury to hand; Jas. Duffell, foot badly cut with axe; Annie Petalli, leg badly burned.

The Fourth of July Association met on Tuesday evening, in Town Hall. Committees reported progress in various lines, not much having been done, as they wished to see how money is coming in. The committee on finance is hustling, and no doubt will have a good report at next Wednesday's meeting. Several features were discussed, including asking Council to put the Park in shape, various sports, and the advisability of devoting more time to games for the children.

Three enjoyable games of ball were played on Hammonton grounds. Last Saturday, Stratford A. C. pulled off a victory to the tune of 4 to 2. On Monday, two games with the M. W. Taylor team, the scores being in our favor, 4 to 2 and 8 to 2.

A CARD.—We tender sincere thanks to the Masonic brethren, to the singers, and to all who manifested sympathy in our recent affliction.

MRS. H. MCD. LITTLE.
MRS. LAURA E. CHOATE.

Thanks are due many for donations of flowers on Memorial Day, for large numbers of made-up bouquets, the following are especially mentioned: Misses: Emma Adlington, Beatrice Hurst, Abbie Bakley, Mrs. James L. White, and J. Murray Baesett.

MEMORIAL DAY.

The weather this year was all that could be desired,—warm, but not hot, with no rain to mar the solemn ceremonies and the pleasant re-union of friends that contribute to making the day so memorable.

On Sunday, the Grand Army Post with visiting comrades, members of the P. O. S. of A., and Jr. O. U. A. M., attended the Universalist Church in a body. The house was well filled. The choir sang appropriate songs and hymns were in the same line. Pastor Dickey gave us a sermon full of thought and excellent suggestions, based upon words in Prov. xiv, 34: "Righteousness exalteth a nation."—The room was decorated with flags and flowers, and the visitors were heartily welcomed.

On Monday, at 9.30, the Post, led by our excellent band, and accompanied by a company of girls, robed in white, bearing flags, marched into Oakdale Cemetery, where they were met by a vast company of people, old and young, of various nationalities.

Past Post Commander Edwin Adams took charge of the ceremonies. Rev. J. E. Shaw acted as chaplain. The score or more of girls were lined around the selected grave, sang "Tenting to-night" and "Bring beautiful flowers," and in a very impressive manner saluted the dead with their flags and laid bouquets upon his grave. It was a beautiful and touching service, one that we cannot soon forget. Comrade Adams, a born orator, made a memorial address full of interesting passages, historical references, and incentives to the young to make love of country next to love of the Creator.

At eleven o'clock the procession entered Greenmount Cemetery, more than two miles distant, and with the band playing "One sweetly solemn thought," marched up past the soldiers' monument and gathered about one of the prettily kept resting places of the nation's dead. There was an immense throng of people who surrounded the sacred spot and paid interested attention to the exercises, which were the same as in Oakdale Cemetery. Rev. Allan Spidell acted as Chaplain.

It is gratifying to the few survivors of those who more than forty years ago offered their all to preserve the nation, to witness the ever increasing popular interest manifested in Memorial Day. Instituted by the Grand Army of the Republic, observed at first only by them, it has been made a holiday by law. Now, people of all nationalities on that day decorate the graves of their loved ones. Many journey many miles to take part in this memorial. Its originators built more wisely than they knew, for every community, like our own, is better for the ceremonies, the greetings, the memories of this day.

At Pleasant Mills there were wagon loads of children from Elwood, Green Bank, who united with Comrade Tibbault and his associates in decoration ceremonies. They had patriotic songs by the children, the ritual by comrades, and addresses. Then came the dinner—substantial and palatable—which that hospitable community always sets before its visitors. The interest seemed greater and more general there, as elsewhere, than ever before.

The Greatest Fish in Town seems to be the blue crabs. These crabs made at the family kitchen, in the morning, and were watered, packed into crates, and sent to the city. The crabs are so good, and so cheap, that it is surprising to the taste of the most fastidious. These deliciously flavored water crabs baked between long trays, duly called into one shape while warm, filled with ice cream, and passed out to the waiting customer. Try these baked from the family kitchen.

Liquor Sold to Schoolboys.

The story which comes from the city of Burlington, this state, will serve to add more fuel to the excite agitation flames which are warming up public sentiment in favor of better laws or better enforcement of those we have.
In brief, the story is that a number of boys attending the High School and other public schools were recently so incapacitated for study that an examination was made and they were found to be intoxicated.

The boys, whose condition was discovered by their unmanageable conduct and tainted breaths, confessed that they bought liquor in five different hotels. The indignation of their parents is now so hot that the county prosecutor will be asked to take such steps as will bring the guilty parties to justice.

The brewers and saloon keepers are everywhere demanding more liberal laws,— laws that will permit Sunday selling and other innovations. They claim that they want to get out of politics; that they do not, as a rule, sell to minors or to persons already intoxicated. Yet in Burlington they sell to school boys, and in other places they willingly sell to minors whose parents send them to the saloons for beer.

If those who control the saloons and alleged hotels (?) would do what they could to abolish illegal selling of every kind,—to minors, to intoxicated persons, to girls, on Sunday; if they would insist upon all their retail customers obeying the laws, and refused to supply those who failed to do so, such shameful stories as that which comes from Burlington would never be heard of.— Newark Evening News.

A GOOD REASON.

Hammonton People Can Tell You Why It Is So.

Rev. Jos. Traverlet, living on Third St.
Hammonton, N. J., says: "Some time ago I began to suffer from sharp pains through the small of my back directly over my kidney regions. I was unable to find a comfortable position at night and was in a miserable condition. Coming to the conclusion that my kidneys were in a disordered condition, and having a box of Doane's Kidney Pills in the house, I began their use, and was able to walk down town that night. Doane's Kidney Pills are very quick in giving me relief at this annoying trouble, and I can conscientiously recommend them to other persons suffering from kidney trouble. I procured Doane's Kidney Pills at the Red Cross Drug Store."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents.
