BONELESS HAM.

Quite a number of our customers know what this article is; but for those who have not used it, we can safely recommend it as the finest article of its kind to be had.

One solid piece of meat,—no bones nor waste, and you're not obliged to purchase a large quantity at one time, being put up in pieces of about 3 pounds each. The price is also quite an item, being 2 cts. per pound less than other ham. We quote at 12 cents, and guarantee every pound to be all we claim. Suitable for boiling whole, or slice for frying.

BUTTER.

Just want to keep you posted concerning the market. We cut 2 cents more from the price, viz: 23 cents.

Needless to say anything concerning quality,—every one knows it is always the finest.

My, how they Go!

We refer to those Peerless Coffee Cakes and Ginger Snaps advertised last week at the snap price of 6 cents per pound. We hold the price the same for the present, and can recommend the goods as being first-class, every way.

Beck's Wheat Flakes still lead as a breakfast dish. We don't wish to appear persistent with these goods, but want you to try them.

Hams.—We still handle the justly popular Quaker City brand. These hams are right in every way, as many of our customers will testify. We sell them to you in any way you wish,—whole, or half, or sliced. Prices are right.

Yielding to numerous demands, we have again put in a stock of Crystal Rice, which for summer use is the very thing. Remember, it requires no cooking,—simply pour milk over it, allow it to stand a few minutes, when it is ready to serve,—5 c. per pound.

Lion Coffee we reduce 1 cent per pound, making it the cheapest coffee, considering the quality, now on the market. It needs no further mention from us, as every user of Lion Coffee knows that the quality is always O. K.

How about Clark's O.N.T. Cotton at 4 c.? Unheard of, you say. Nevertheless, 'tis true,—we give you any and all numbers, white, black, or colors, at 4 cents.

Wire netting is now in demand. We have all widths constantly in stock. Prices lower than ever before known, viz: 2½ cents per square foot. Window Screens, complete with wire, at 25 c. Door Screens complete, any width you desire, at 90 c. Spring Hinges, Door Springs, etc.

Don't forget us when you need Berry Baskets, which we think will be very soon. In sympathy with the times and other goods, we make lower prices this season,—

Quarts, at $3.40

Oval Pints at $3.75

Can furnish any quantity at short notice.

Crate Separators,—a large stock. These are better made than last season, and the price remains the same,—2 cents each. Special price for 100 or more.

This warm weather creates an active demand for our Gasoline. Remember, we handle nothing but the very best article in this line, and sell at prices that defy successful competition.

The platform of the Democratic party at Chicago vigorously denounced the industry of the Sheriff, which, it was claimed, had been fostered by protection. Remembering how busy a time the Sheriff has had since March 4, 1893, it is as well to see how the Democratic performance has agreed with its denunciation of the Sheriff's industry. During 1893 there were 15,560 trade failures in the United States, being 52 per cent. more than in 1892. The liabilities of those who failed in '93 were $400,000,000 as compared with the liabilities of 1892, $108,000,000, an increase of 352,000,000 in a single year. Was there ever such an arrant humbug and fraud as this Chicago denunciation of the Sheriff? It is now time for the people of the U. S. to arise at once and demand the immediate cessation of the policy of prostration which the high Sheriff is thrusting upon the American people, and to "denounce a policy which fosters no industry so much as it does that of the Sheriff."

The Democratic Senators have gone before the people in many campaigns and said: "Only give us, the Democratic party, a whack at the trusts and we'll smash them beyond repair." For the past two months they have been in a position to whack the Democratic sugar trust, which contributes an immense sum of money to the Democratic campaign fund. In that time the market value of sugar certificates has increased $30 a share, or more than $10,000,000 in all, and is still increasing rapidly. That is the kind of a bold smasher of trusts the Democratic party is.

The Assembly committee having charge of the investigation of the election of Wm. J. Thompson to the Legislature will resume its meetings in Camden on June 13th. The members will sit continuously until the work is done. As there is an appropriation of $2000 to the credit of the committee, the search may be thorough. The most interesting part of the probing process has not yet been reached, but will soon be laid bare, when Chairman Storrs and his assistants get down to work.

The agitation over the use of public school money for sectarian purposes will keep until somebody gets hurt. The people are in no mood to be trifled with on this subject. The public school moneys are too sacred for sectarian or denominational attack. The determination to keep this money free from churchy hands is strong enough to warn the enlightened, but if they will not heed the protest let them take the consequences.

If the people elect a Governor who appoints Prosecutors, why should not the people make Prosecutors at first hands? Why not elect them at the ballot-box? If the Governor can appoint without regard to the pleasure or displeasure of the Senate why not take it out of the hands of a practical dictator and let the people make and unmake Prosecutors.

It begins to look as if the Democratic Senators, seeing that their party is on its last legs, are making a desperate grab for all they can get from the sugar trust with the intention of letting their party ultimately go to the demerit bow-wows.

The proposition to elect our Judges and Prosecutors is too big to be dwarfed or hampered by an advocacy or opposition inspired by merely partisan motives. The people can trust the people—and the politicians had better catch on and do the same.

Two hundred Coxeyites have been sentenced to imprisonment at labor in Idaho for train stealing. The so-called "General" Scheffler gets six months, the privates from thirty to sixty days.

It is not a matter of surprise that poor Senator McPherson is ill. With a speculative son, a wicked servant and a guilty conscience most any one would be sick. Sugar won't cure him.

President Cleveland on Wednesday signed the Sickles' Gettysburg law, and the trolley will now be promptly halted in its evil work of daystating the battlefield.

A POPULAR REMEDY.—The promptness and certainty of its cure have made the Chamberlain Cough Remedy famous. It is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough, and is the most effectual remedy known for these diseases. Mr. C. B. Main, of Union City, Pa., says: "I have a great sale on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I warrant every bottle and have never heard of one failing to give entire satisfaction." 50c. bottles for sale by Cochran, Druggist.

BOLERO JACKET OF BLACK VELVET WITH BRAID TRIMMINGS.
Is tight-fitting, closed at the front by hooks and has short round ruffle. Trimmings are all over the jacket. Sleeves have tight-fitting lining. Material: 32 yards of velvet, 20 to 22 yards of braid.

VOILE DRESS FOR GIRLS OF 11 TO 14 YEARS.

Made of light or dark blue striped voile, interwoven with black stripes. Lined with light blue foulardine. Skirt is 24 yards wide and belt shaped; trimmed at the bottom with two rows of tucked ruffles. Waist goes under the skirt and has a narrow front. Back consists of two parts. The double ruffle arrangement goes from the armholes down to the bottom of the skirt in pointed form, both in the front and at the back. A black moire ribbon around the waist, knotted sideways into a long loop. Puffed sleeves with long cuffs. Material, 6 to 7 yards of voile, 3 yards of ribbon.

SCIENTIFIC AND INDUSTRIAL.

The length of the alimentary canal is about thirty-two feet.

A valuable discovery of a lenticular rock has been made at Harden, New South Wales.

The least distance determined for the fixed stars from the earth runs into billions of miles.

The molten metal in a Bessemer converter is 5000 times faster than the light of the sun.

Sound, traveling in air, from sun to earth, would require about fourteen years to accomplish the journey.

Platinum can now be drawn into wire strands so fine that twenty-seven twisted together can be inserted into the hollow of a hair.

A new lamp has a pair of carbons which meet at a point like the strokes of the letter Y. It is at this point that the light is produced.

A mixture of two parts of powdered ice and one of common salt will reduce the temperature of a body surrounded by it from fifty degrees to 0 degrees.

Professor L. H. Bailey, in his report to the Cornell University, formally establishes the commercial value of electro culture for certain winter crops, and especially for lettuce.

An interesting invention is that of an incandescent lamp in which the plug carrying the incandescent wire is made up of a composition which unites with the glass to make an air-tight joint.

Light, proceeding with 10,000 times the velocity of the earth in its orbit, gives us some idea of distance, when we learn that the light from the sun to our globe occupies rather more than eight minutes.

An excellent method for waterproofing the surface of a wall is to cover it with solution of soap. After twenty-four hours a coat of this solution is applied. This process is repeated several times, and is claimed to make the wall perfectly water-tight.

Sea serpents, flying dragons, birds with teeth, connecting links between birds, fishes and reptiles, animals so large and clumsy that a second brain, located near their tail, was necessary to properly direct their movements, all these have existed in past times, and have left the traces of their bodies in the rocks for our instruction in these latter days.

The water spider, which spends most of its time under water, carries a bubble of air for breathing on the under side of its body; and when this air is exhausted, it comes to the surface for more. It is enabled to carry the air bubble because the under side of its body is covered with fine hairs so close together that the surface film of the water does not pass them.

It is not land vegetation merely that is taken to the Northwest, but the plant life of the sea. Among the school of the British Columbia coast the algae and kelp, which on the Atlantic side of the continent seldom grow to more than six feet long, are found three feet in length, and at the obd and flow of the tide their long, leathery leaves are often seen in parallel along the surface, like exaggerated lily pads.

STREET COSTUME OF GOLD-BROWN VOILE, HIMALAYA AND ROSE-RED STRIPED TAFFETAS.

The tight-fitting waist is closed in the center front by hooks and goes under the skirt, which is cut out in the front in a pointed manner and has under-skirt. Standing collar, covered by a folded bias taffeta piece. Shoulders are also covered by taffeta, which at the back is laid into two long folds and in the front into cross folds, the latter ones being held together by a knot with long loops. The puffed sleeves with tight-fitting lining run down only to the elbows, where they end in long silk cuffs. The underskirt of serge or foulardine is lined with muslin and at the places, where it is apparent, through the skirt, is trimmed with the silk material. At the bottom it is trimmed with silk cloth 7 inches high. Draped overskirt, consisting of two parts, which do not combine in the front.

WRAP OF MOIRE AND LACES.

Round yoke with rather stiff lining, to which the circular or gored ruffle of moire is attached. Three rows of jet and bead embroidery at junction of yoke and ruffle; the same jet and bead embroidery covers the seam at the collar edge and the gored ruffle. The wrap is at the inside also lined with moire. Below the moire ruffle a tucked black Chantilly lace is fastened. From the collar edge, two long moire ends are hanging down, bound by jet embroidery at the sides, and by long bead fringes at the bottom.

THE UNDISCOVERED COUNTRY.

"Could we but know the land that ends our dark, uncertain travel, Where life those happier hills and meads are low— Ah! if beyond the spirits' innocent evil Aught of that country could we surely know, Who would not go? Might we but hear The hovering angels' high imagined choros, Or catch, helms, with wakeful eyes and clear, One radiant vista of the realm before us— With one rapt moment given to see and hear— Ah! who would fear? Were we quite sure To find the peerless friend who left us lone— Or there, by some celestial stream as pure, To gaze in eyes that had been level only— This weary mortal coil, were we quite sure, Who would endure?"

HER ONLY SON.

BY HELEN FORREST GRAVES.

"SHE'S the sweetest girl in the world, mother," said Marcus Wilde. "To see her on the edge of the old claw-leg table, his only brown hair irradiated by the sparkle of sunshine that filtered through the foliage of the scarlet geranium in the window. Mrs. Wilde, in her slowly-moving rocking-chair, shook her plum-colored cap strings. "I've heard young men talk that way before," she observed. "She isn't all to you that a daughter could be," pleaded Marcus. "All that your little Nelly would have been, had she lived!" "Perhaps," said Mrs. Wilde, knitting energetically away, "perhaps not. Makes her livin' meaning lace, don't she?" "Why, yes." "Ain't much of a preparation for up-and-down New England housekeeping," is it?" "No; but she's anxious to learn." "It's beautiful work that she does, mother—Mechlin lace, Point de Venise. The materials look to me like fairy webs in her basket. See, here's her photograph that she sent you, passing his arm carelessly around her shoulder, and holding the picture so that it should gain the best light. But Mrs. Wilde turned her obdurate old face away. "I don't like photographs," said she. "They stare you out of countenance, and they don't never look like people." "But this does look like Alice!" "She would so like to know you, mother."

"Perhaps she would, perhaps not. Give 't' me 'most anything to please their lovers."

FARM NOTES.

WAX CAPS.
This is a good time to prepare the wax caps for use by adding. They are made of light duck or heavy cotton cloth, fifty-four inches wide. The cloth is torn into squares, which make the right size. The raw edges should be hemmed and loops of cord fastened into the corners. These serve to hold the caps fast by means of sharp wooden pegs pushed into the haycock.—New York Times.

REPTILES AND CREAM.

I believe there is nothing so important and yet difficult in producing first-class butter as the process of ripening the cream, says a correspondent. It is impossible almost to have all of the conditions twice alike. Some patrons' cream may have been a little sour, which, when mixed with the rest of course hastens the ripening process. If the butter maker is not aware of this sour cream it will all be ready for the churn before he is ready for it, therefore the quality of the butter must be more or less impaired. This is one of the many instances where the butter maker has to contend with difficulty. If creamery patrons would only co-operate with the butter maker with a difference there would be in the general quality of butter throughout the country.—American Dairyman.

A NEGLECTED FODDER CROP.

Peas are an excellent food for milk cows, or for hogs. Take a piece of fall plowing and harrow it well to make a good seed bed. Sow broadcast two and one-half bushels of the small Canada peas, or three bushels of marrowfat, and plow under four or five inches. The peas are a deep-rooted plant and should be put well down. Sow on top of the ground one bushel of oats to hold the peas up. For hogs they come in as green forage after clover, and may be cut with a scythe, and thrown in to them, or a movable fence may be put around a small portion of the field. Good success has been obtained by putting the peas and oats in the silo. Or they may be cut and cured, and thrown in to them. Try two or three acres as an experiment the coming spring.—American Agriculturist.

THE MOST PROFITABLE HORSE.

While the principal interest in horse raising centers in heavy draft, coach and driving horses there is a class of horses that are more useful to the farmer and still stable at fair prices on the market, namely, the coach or medium weight horse full made in all parts, plenty of bone and muscle, short straight back, good length of neck, intelligent, well rounded head with good action and fair road gait, weighing from 1200 to 1400 pounds. Such horses, if well broke, five years old and good color, are selling readily on the present market at $115 to $150, according to sex and condition, and as a great many of our Western farmers raise horses more for their own work than for the market and think the imported draft breeders too clumsy and the American trotter too small for their use it is very desirable for them to raise a kind that will fill their requirements, and still get a paying price for the surplus stock when they wish to market them.

To produce the "chunk" described requires great care and judgment in selecting sires, as there is no distinct breed in the country possessing all the required qualities, the breeder must try to remedy the faults of the dam through extra developments in the side where the dam is deficient, and vice versa, but by attention does not increase the present oversupply of ungainly, narrow-chested, light-boned, long-necked, slim-waisted plugs by using dams without some good qualities for breeding purposes.—Chicago Sun.

CARE OF LAWN SHRUBS.

In planting shrubs, let the soil be rich and low. Set the plants at about the depth they were grown in the nurseries from which they were procured, and spread the roots out carefully, being sure to give them room enough to take their natural shape. Never crowd them into a little hole, as some of our nurserymen do. If the soil is not fine soil among them, and settle it well by giving the plants occasional jarring. When covered, press down firmly with the hand. When the hole is nearly full, water well. This works the soil down until every crack and crevice is full, and makes it compact about the roots. Then put on the rest of the soil, firming it well about the base of the shrub. Never allow grass to grow close to any shrub if you want it to do well. It is true that shrubs will live for years even when choked with grass; but they never give such fine flowers, and such quantities of them, as they will in a soil kept free from weeds and everything else that extracts their nutriment. In autumn, spread coarse manure about each plant. In spring, dig into the soil. In this way you keep the plants well fed.

Each spring, before growth begins, go over your plants and cut out all weak, dead or injured branches. Aim to prune them in such a manner as to keep each specimen symmetrical. This advice is not for the season of pruning, but apply to all I have described, except the lilac. This shrub forms its flower buds the season before they are developed, and spring pruning would destroy the crop of blossoms. Prune lilacs immediately after the flowering season is over.—Demorest's Family Magazine.

One of the most important items with the grower is early seedling. One will

SATURDAY, JUNE 9, 1894.

Albert H. Simons has brought suit, through his attorney, ex-Judge Wescoat, of Camden, against the Fruit Growers' Union and Co-Operative Society, limited, claiming $20,000 for injuries received while in defendant's employ. It will be remembered that Al. and Fred. Luderitz were loading bags of salt on the elevator, lowering them to the cellar, and there storing them away. While thus engaged, a cast-iron wheel, over which the wire cable ran, broke, and a heavy piece struck Albert on the head, inflicting a wound which brought him very close to death's door, with no promise of recovery for many weeks, and from which he is still suffering, though the accident occurred about a year ago. Plaintiff claims that the Union is liable because no protection was provided against such an accident. Defendant disclaims liability because of contributory negligence on the part of plaintiff. This, in brief, is the case. The Union has engaged Gray & Gray, of Camden, for defence. Both parties have the best legal talent obtainable, and the whole matter will be sifted as only shrewd lawyers can sift a case.

When the World's Fair and Carter Harrison were both in existence, a great many people knew there was such a place as Chicago. But it is still on the map?—N. Y. World.

The intimation is good. Had we, as a town, shown more life and enterprise, say in the way of waterworks, electric lights, etc., we would to-day be far ahead of Vineland, or even Lakewood. But said towns had each its "Carter Harrison."

Yesterday morning, at James E. Watkins' place, an Italian child four or five years old was playing about the stove; its clothing caught fire, the mother was frightened and ran away, leaving her child. As we go to press, it is thought the little one is dying.

A POISONER FOR TRAVELERS.—While Mr. T. J. Ribey, of Altoona, Mo., was traveling in Kansas he was taken violently ill with cholera morbus. He called at a drugstore to get some medicine and the druggist recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy so highly he concluded to try it. The result was immediate relief, and few doses cured him completely. It is made for bowel complaint and nothing else. It never fails. For sale by Cochran, druggist.

"Our Special"
$2.50
"Lady's Shoe."

Is made of the finest Kid by high-priced workmen in a Philadelphia shop, where none but the finest goods are manufactured. It is undoubtedly the best shoe that has ever been sold at the price in the place.

This week we make a window display of some of our leading Shoes—our "Ladies' Specials" at $1.50, $2, and $2.50, and Oxfords priced at from 80 c. to $1.50.

Gasoline Stoves.

It isn't our saying so that makes the Quick Meal the leading Gasoline Stove; but it is the fact that it is the most durable, the easiest to understand and operate, and absolutely safe. Probably Q. M. users could give other reasons. Ask any of them.

Trial of Q. M. can be made at your home before you purchase.

That Carriage
Is still unsold. Remember that its purchaser gets the benefit of the special price on the first one sold. Have you looked it over?

Clothing.

We're meeting with considerable success in our Sample Order Department. You can select from a large assortment of stylish materials, get them promptly, and we guarantee a satisfactory fit. Prices will be found very reasonable. Both men's and youths' included.

Mattresses.

$3.75 is the price at which we are selling a new African Fibre or Palm Leaf Mattress, full size, well made of heavy ticking, and with a soft top. Other grades and kinds are from $2.25 upwards for full size; smaller sizes start lower down.

Insure with A. H. Phillips & Co., 1328 Atlantic Ave., Atlantic City.

The School Trustees propose to add a Kindergarten, at Central School, next term, for the youngest children, to be in charge of an experienced teacher.

The J. Newton Jones property — next to the bank — is for sale. Very convenient location, large well built house, elegantly finished. For particulars, inquire at this office.

The special services announced for to-morrow, at the Universalist Ch., are postponed until further notice. Regular service will be held at usual hours, morning and evening.

At the M. E. Church to-morrow, Children's Day service in the morning. — special programme. Evening, Sermon to the children by Pastor Wagg; exercises by the "Daisy Chain."

Henry G. Thayer is at home for a summer vacation, and will give instruction on violin to those who desire. For terms, address him at Hammonton post-office, or call at his residence.

Elvins & Roberts and Monfort Cycle Co. have handed in copy for a change in their advertisements, but the press of work made it impossible for us to make the changes. Watch for them next week.

Have your pictures taken. Bring the babies during this beautiful weather. A chance of a life-time. Pictures taken instantaneously. All work of the very best. Courtright, the photographer.

Leach, Stiles & Co. announce that their eye specialist, who has been coming to Hammonton (at Crozier's Pharmacy) for so long, will hereafter come on Saturday instead of Monday. See advertisement for dates.

I have made arrangements with an honorable young lawyer, who will be pleased to attend to all cases placed in his hands, at reasonable fees. Consultation free, at my office.

W. M. RUTHERFORD.

On Wednesday last occurred the "Commencement" at Crozier Theological Seminary, Chester, Pa. Pastor Killian, of the Baptist Church, and Rev. L. R. Sweet, former pastor, were among the graduates. A number of Hammonton friends attended the exercises.

It is rumored that one of our citizens has fallen heir to a seven million dollar estate. Phew! it's a big story, whether true or not. Wonder who he is. — But he never was a "type-sticker!" Well, we hope his so, and that the lucky fellow will make Hammonton his home.

The Baptists have called a Council of Churches (pastors and delegates) to meet on Tuesday next, to consider the question of ordaining Pastor J. C. Killian. If Council decides favorably, ordination services will be held in the evening, at 7:30, to which the public is invited.

The Lawn Party announced to be given at Hon. R. J. Byrnes' has been postponed on account of unseasonable weather, until June 27th, at the same place. Instead of the proposed party, there will be a "Song Sociable" at Rev. A. C. Prescott's on next Wednesday evening, 13th inst. The young people of the Guild will furnish an entertainment, and light refreshments.

The managers of the Bicycle Club are proposing to give a series of races at the Park on July 4th. They have in mind, — quarter-mile club race; half-mile for 3-minute class; half-mile for 3:40 class; mile, two-mile, and five-mile club races; half-mile free to all; half-mile handicap; half-mile for the ladies; half-mile for boys over 10 yrs.; slow race; and a special prize for the most graceful lady rider.

The census of the Hammonton School District has been completed. Harry Jacobs enumerator. Number of boys between five and eighteen years of age, 425; girls, 379; total, 804, — ten more than last year, which is encouraging, considering that some of our working people have gone away, owing to dull times, and there have been few additions to the number of dwellings. But few names were added from the Camden County portion of Rosedale.

Wine caused much trouble among the Italians, this week, — causing three fights that we know of. Two of them paid Squire Atkinson five dollars and costs each. The third beat his wife, threw his baby out of doors, and acted so much worse than a brute, that the same Justice requested Constable Geo. Bernshouse to escort him to the county jail, to await trial at the September term of Court.

Wm. Rutherford, Commissioner of Deeds, Notary Public, Real Estate and Insurance, Hammonton, N. J.

Mrs. Sarah Frances Black, widow of William Black, died on Wednesday last, June 6th, after an illness of only a few days. Our community feels keenly the loss of one so well and favorably known. Mrs. Black was born at Hallowell, Maine, Oct. 4th, 1832, and came to Hammonton with her husband about 1850. One of the original members of the Universalist Society, her interest in its prosperity never abated, and its members, particularly, feel the loss sustained in her death. A kind neighbor, a sympathizing friend, a good mother, leaves many sorrowing ones besides her three sons. Funeral services at two o'clock this afternoon, at the family residence.

J. Newton Jones and family are to leave on Monday next for Portland, Maine. We regret the departure of so worthy a family. They have resided here for nearly a score of years, have the friendship of all who ever knew them, and will be missed in society and in church circles. A good business prospect induced Mr. Jones to make the change.

D. B. BERRY, for the past two years with one of the best offices of Boston, will be in Hammonton, and vicinity for a short time. People needing glasses, or wishing to have their eyes scientifically examined, should call on him at the store of Mr. E. J. Woolley, on Saturday of each week, or write him a postal card, and he will call at your home.

This office is a decidedly busy place about now every day. We print the daily dispatches for both Union and Association, and with two messenger boys rushing in the telegrams, two or three shipping agents superintending the work, and seven or eight carriers folding the printed sheets, ready to bear the news of the day's berry sales in every market to the growers all over this section, it is indeed a busy place, and the printers feel a sense of relief when each day's edition is out.

CAUTION.—If a dealer offers W. L. Douglas shoes at a reduced price, or says he has them without name stamped on bottom, put him down as a fraud.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE BEST IN THE WORLD.

W. L. DOUGLAS Shoes are stylish, easy fitting, and give better satisfaction at the price advertised than any other make. Try one pair and be convinced. The stamping of W. L. Douglas' name and price on the bottom, which guarantees their value, saves thousands of dollars annually to those who wear them. Dealers who push the sale of W. L. Douglas Shoes gain customers, which helps to increase the sales on their full line of goods. They can afford to sell at a less profit, and we believe you can save money by buying all your footwear of the dealer advertised below.

Catalogue free upon application. Address: W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass. Sold by Fruit Growers' Union.

The sugar trust fixed the Democratic Senate. Now watch the people fix the Democratic party.

Democratic denunciation is vindicating the wisdom of Republican legislation at Trenton.

Will Gov. Werts stand in the way of the popular demand by vetoing the Judgeship bill? The issue is coming; better stand with the people, Governor.

It is coming out that a good many gambled in sugar down at the Federal Capital. It was a capitol idea.

A committee has been appointed by the Senate to hear the various bodies of Coxeyites in Washington.

The Cox amendment for the total repeal of the 10 per cent. tax on State banks was defeated in the House by 102-170.

Lost, strayed or stolen: The fundamental principle of the Democratic party. Last seen of it was at Chicago, June 22, 1892.

Taking things as they come does not wear out as fast as dodging them.

The time has gone by when a bad digestion is a certificate of piety and when a weak body indicates a strong and healthy soul.

Mr. Cleveland may think just as Bill does about some parts of the tariff bill, but all the same he hasn't congratulated Hill for making that speech.

Free will is not the liberty to do what ever one likes, but the power of doing whatever one sees ought to be done, even in the very face of otherwise overwhelming impulse.

The latest Alabama lynchings broke the record. Three victims in forty-five minutes was quick work. The crime was barn burning, and, needless to say, the lynchings were negroes.

When you worry you have ceased to trust.

Trust no secrets to a friend which, if repeated, would bring infamy.

Anger ventilated often hurries toward forgiveness; anger concealed often hardens into revenge.

If your calling is an humble one enable it by the manner in which you discharge your duties, and you will have the respect of all whose good opinion is worth having.

A DAIRYMAN'S OPINION.—There is nothing I have ever used for muscular rheumatism that gives me as much relief as Chamberlain's Pain Balm does. I have been using it for about two years—four bottles in all—as occasion required, and always keep a bottle of it in my home. I believe I know a good thing when I get hold of it, and Pain Balm is the best liniment I have ever met with. W. B. Denny, dairyman, New Lexington, Ohio. 50 cent bottles for sale by Cochran, druggist.
