A word to Farmers.

The Hay crop in this section will be very short. Hay is now scarce and high, and is slowly but steadily becoming scarcer and higher. It would therefore be wise for every farmer to try to raise hay of some sort sufficient for his own use.

COW PEAS

can be sowed up to July 10, at least, for a hay crop, and some people sow them as late as the middle of July. Cow peas are rich in feeding material, can be raised on poor soil, and impoverish the soil less than any other similar crop. Then, the seed is not expensive.

LOVING WORDS.

Loving words will cost but little,
Journeying up the hill of life;
But they make the weak and weary Stronger, braver for the strife.

Do you count them only trifles?
What to earth are sun and rain?
Never was a kind word wasted; Never one was said in vain.

When the cares of life are many,
And its burdens heavy grow,
For the ones who walk beside you,
If you love them, tell them so.

What you count of little value Has an almost magic power, And beneath that cheering sunshine Hearts will blossom like a flower.

So, as up life's hill we journey, Let us scatter all the way Kindly words, to be as sunshine In the dark and cloudy day.

Grudge no loving word, my brother, As along through life you go, To the ones who journey with you;
If you love them, tell them so.

Once, in a country far away, people were dying of thirst. There had been no rain for months, rivers and springs had dried up, plants and flowers had withered and died, the birds were so hoarse they could not sing. The whole land was sad and mournful. One night after the stars had come out, a little girl, with a tin dipper in her hand, crept quietly out of the house and went into a wood near by. Kneeling under a tree, she prayed that God would send rain, if it were only enough to fill her little dipper. She prayed so long that at last she fell asleep. When she woke she was overjoyed to find her dipper full of clear cool water.

Remembering that her mother was ill and dying of thirst, she did not even wait to moisten her parched lips, but, taking her dipper, she hurried home.
In her haste she stumbled, and dropped her precious cup. Just then she felt something move in the grass beside her.
It was a little dog, who, like herself, had almost fainted for water. She lifted her dipper, and what was her surprise to find that not a drop had been spilled.
Pouring a few drops into her hand, she held it out for the dog to lick. He did so, and seemed much revived; but as she poured out the water, the tin dipper had changed to silver. Reaching home she handed the water to the servant to give to her mother, who said, "I will not take it. I shall not live long anyhow. You are younger and stronger than I." As she gave the servant the dipper, it changed into shining gold.
The servant was about to give each one a spoonful of the precious water, when she saw a stranger at the door. He looked sad and weary, and she handed him the dipper. He took it, saying, "Blessed is he that gives a cup of cold water in His name." A radiance shone all about him, and immediately the golden dipper was studded with seven sparkling diamonds. Then it burst forth into a fountain, which supplied the thirsty land with water. The seven diamonds rose higher until they reached the sky, and there changed into bright stars, forming the "Great Dipper," telling the story of an unselfish act.

An interested observer assures us that in order to enjoy the most refreshing sleep one should sleep in the dark.
Light acts upon the brain, and those who sleep with their blinds up will find that in the summer, when so few hours are really dark, their sleep is restless and disturbed. This is often placed to the account of heat, but more often than not it is the light which causes wakefulness, when, as a natural consequence, the body becomes aware of the heat. Night lights should never be come a matter of necessity. A match and candle by the bedside should be sufficient. The wish for artificial light through the night is a depraved taste in the young and healthy, and should not be encouraged.

The heart is the workshop in which are forged secret slanders, and all evil speaking. The mouth is only the outer shop or salesroom, where all the goods that are made within are sold.

Every time a wise man makes a mistake it teaches him something.

The Court of Errors and Appeals, in an opinion by Justice Dixon, Monday afternoon, affirmed the decision of the Supreme Court upholding the constitutionality of the anti-gambling amendment to the constitution. Such hopes, therefore, as the race-track people cherished that the courts would ultimately decide against the amendment, are dashed to the ground. If there shall ever be horseracing in Jersey again, the sport will have to be conducted without book making or pool selling features.

Special talent without perseverance never amounts to much.

Put out your hand before you put up your prayer.

Inspiration, like death, always comes unexpectedly.

Many young men of to-day need guardians, rather than wives.

No poor man can afford to run in debt. If the clothes are faded and torn, fix them up. They will be easier to wear than a faded and torn heart.

Don't cry over spilt milk; up, and Responsibility walks hand in hand with capacity and power.

Discretion is not cowardice, neither is blatant volubility courage.

The extent of our dominions is an indication of the need of broad minded citizens.

Generosity, to deserve the name, comprises both the desire and the effort to benefit others, without reference to self.

He who is forever "standing up for his rights" is perilously near to wrong-ing his brother. The law of selfishness is sure to oppress somebody.

Discovered by a Woman.

Another great discovery has been made, and that, too, by a lady in this country. "Disease fastened its clutches upon her, and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and her death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recover, by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved as taking first dose that she slept all night; and with two bottles has been absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus writes W. O. Hamick & Co., of Chelley, N. C. Trial bottles free at Dr.
Crook's drug store. Regular size 50 c. and $1. Every bottle guaranteed.

What is a Dollar?

The law of the United States gives the definition of a dollar, and it is the only definition authorized. You will find it in Section 3511, Revised Statutes of the United States, passed June 22, 1874. It says:

"The gold coins of the United States shall be a one-dollar piece, which at the standard weight of 25.8 grains, shall be the unit of value." And then the section goes on to enumerate the other gold coins authorized.

This section was modified by the act of Sept. 26, 1890, which ordered the discontinuance of the coins of the one dollar gold piece, but left the definition of the dollar unchanged. As you see, it defines the dollar to be 25.8 grains of "standard" gold,—that is, gold ninety-tenths pure metal, and one-tenth alloy. All nations define their unit coin by weight. Its value it gets only from the market price of the gold it contains.

This is the only definition of a dollar we have. All others are derivatives. A paper greenback is called a dollar, not because it is a dollar in fact, but because it is a promise to pay a real dollar. A silver dollar is so called, not because it has that value, but because it is accepted by the government as the equivalent in value for a gold dollar, and because the law of 1890 declares the purpose of the government to maintain its parity with the gold dollar, and, as the Secretary of the Treasury said some time ago, he would unhesitatingly redeem silver dollars in gold, did it become necessary to do it in order to maintain its parity.

What intelligent men mean by saying that "money is the creature of the law" is this, that it is the law which selects one material as that of which our basic coin shall be made. But in selecting such a material, the law always chooses something which possesses value in itself; and the reason gold is now in universal use is that it exceeds all other substances ever used as money in these qualities: 1. Great value in small bulk; 2. Less fluctuation in value than any other available material; 3. Protection by all peoples, even the uncivilized; 4. Durability, absence of rust, and with no deterioration by keeping.

By your words you are known. If you use language that is vulgar, low, or full of slang, people will think that your thoughts are low-minded. Slang is used by the uneducated, by those who are careless, and who wish to be with the crowd: by persons who have no high aspirations. Good English is a sign of good breeding. Bad, slangy English is a sign of vulgarity and low mind. To use slang is to degrade yourself in the eyes of respectable people. Even may think it merely a little thought will convince them of the contrary. Good language elevates the mind, for language is the expression of thought. See to it, boys, that you use no slang; make a strong effort to get rid of the habit if you have acquired it.

Patriotism makes statesmen; patriotism politicians.

Summer Outings.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Co. announces the following personally conducted tours for the summer and early autumn of 1899:

To the north, including Niagara Falls, Toronto, Thousand Islands, the St. Lawrence, Montreal, Quebec, Riverview (Lake St. John), the Saguenay, Au Pêche Chateau, Lakes Champlain and George, Saratoga, and a day's ride through the Highlands of the Hudson, July 22 to Aug. 7. Rate $125. August 12 to 25, visiting same points as first tour except Riverview and the Saguenay; rate for the round trip from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington, $100. Proportionate rates from other points.

To Niagara Falls, excursion tickets good to return within ten days will be sold July 27, August 10 and 21, September 7 and 21, October 5 and 19, at a rate of $10 from Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington. These tickets include transportation only, and will permit of stop over within limit at Buffalo, Rochester, Canandaigua and Watkins on the return trip.

For itineraries and other information apply to ticket agents, or address George W. Hay, Assistant Passenger Agent, Philadelphia.

It's rather late in the season to begin, but there is a movement on foot, managed by a hustler, to have a first-class base ball club in Hammonton, with good grounds to play on. It is proposed to buy a plot of ground of sufficient size, near the railroad, to fence it securely, build grand stands, etc., and make the enterprise self-sustaining. Our informant states that arrangements are well under way, with good prospects of success. We hope he's right. Hammonton is behind the times, this year, in the shape of amusements and recreations.

The W. J. & S. R. Co. have done a fine job for Wm. H. Bernhouse. Desiring to do away with the coal dump alongside their track, they have run a siding from the fruit spur into and the whole length of the lumber yard. An idea of the work done may be gained from the fact that forty-eight carloads of gravel were brought from Absecon to grade this spur. Then, from this, a siding turns to the eastward to the coal dump which are to be built at once,—all within the lumber yard limits.

Roscoe Bickford's ice wagon made too quick time, Monday. While standing on Orchard Street, a delivery wagon passed, the driver whipping his horse. Bickford's horses are spirited, took fright at the whip, and started off in a hurry. Trying to turn east on Second Street, ran onto the sidewalk, wrecked J. C. Anderson's fence, upset the ice wagon and broke the tongue and wheels. The team was stopped near Second and Peach, happily without serious injuries.

I find for tourists and salesmen, or for persons filling office positions, where headaches and general bad feelings from irregular habits exist, that Green's August Flower is a grand remedy. That was a most delightful rain, Tuesday night, notwithstanding the terrible lightning and reverberating thunder, and whistling wind. At times, especially about midnight, the rain came down in sheets, making everything hum. And farmers smiled as they heard it.

Word was received this week of the death of Mr. F. P. VanDover, who was a Hammonton business man some twenty years ago. He went to California, had varying fortunes, had two strokes of paralysis, became insane, recovered sufficiently to be brought home by his brother, to Newark, Delaware, gained in health for some months, had another stroke, and died March 11th, last.

Mr. EDSTON.—While out boat-fishing on our Lake a few evenings ago, I passed by the "cove." Some young men and boys were in bathing, and I am sorry to say used language which was not fit for my decent man to hear, much less a lady; and not only was their language vulgar, but was expressed in tones loud enough to be heard plainly at the dam. There is no place within the limits of our town where an evening can be spent with more pleasure than on the Lake, but no right thinking man would want to take his wife or daughters or lady friend out for a row or sail, and make them unwitting listeners to such talk,—or worse yet, the subject of some heinous remark on the part of one of the bathers. All this came under my own personal observation, and I know what I am talking about.

While I would not like to see any one deprived of one lot of pleasure, yet I do think the authorities ought to take the matter in hand and try to put a stop to such nuisance. Any one can enjoy a bath just as well in a quiet, orderly manner, or otherwise, and while doing, allow those who wish to go bathing to do so without fear of being compelled to listen to such unpleasant conversation.

For specific rates and conditions apply to ticket agents.
